Why do we get this increasing trade all the time? It shows the people appreciate a complete House-furnishing Store where they can save time and money by getting everything they want in one place at

Uniformly Low Prices and then besides we give a liberal Cash Discount on large orders. Many have taken advantage of this. Our trade is especially heavy just now in

BUSINESS MEN'S CARNIVAL.

We have been requested to announce that arrangements are being made by the Parish Improvement Society of St. Mary's church to conduct a Business Men's Carnival in Cheney hall on the evenings of November 30th and 9th, of which ample notices as to details etc. will be forthcoming in due course of time. It will be something out of the usual order in the way of entertainment and will be looked forward to with much expectancy. This preliminary notice is intended in part to merely whet the appetite for more. The appetite will be fully satisfied later. It may answer other purposes as well.

NEW METHOD OF BOOKKEEPING.

Miss Minnie McDonough has resigned her clerkship in the silk mills and has entered the employ of Aaron Johnson as bookkeeper. She began her new duties yesterday. Mr. Johnson has changed his method of keeping accounts, and has introduced a plan of duplicating records in such a manner as to shorten the work very much. He now employs the system of bookkeeping in use at Newton & Roberts' grocery store in Hartford. The new way makes lighter work for the clerks who run the teams and therefore will be greatly appreciated by them, as their regular work on the road gives them all they can swing to.

COB WEB PARTY TONIGHT.

South Manchester Division, No. 43 Sons of Temperance will have a cob web party in Cheney hall this evening under the head of "good of the order." Prizes will be given to those working themselves out of the maze. It will make lots of sport and no doubt entertainments and the same have a abundance of talent in their ranks to furnish it in large measure and of excellent quality. Let every member be present tonight and try to disentangle the web.

HAS TYPHOID FEVER.

August Peterson, who resides in the tenement of Abram Smita which was struck with lightning a few weeks ago, has been suffering with typhoid fever for the past couple of weeks and is still a very sick man. He is under Dr. Bradley's care. Mrs. Peterson had intended to take a trip to his native home in Sweden this fall but in all probability this unexpected illness of her husband will cause her to defer the voyage.

OFFICER HAYES ILL.

The many friends of Officer Almeron G. Hayes of Charter Oak street will be pained to learn that he is seriously ill with cholera and it is feared that no operation may be necessary. He is in the charge of Dr. W. E. Gilliam who has called a Hartford physician in consultation. Mr. Hayes has not been on his feet this week. Andrew Campbell is acting as substitute for Mr. Hayes meanwhile. It is earnestly hoped that Officer Hayes may soon recover and resume his position on the force.

HAS BLOOD POISONING.

Charles Crockett, the sturdy teamster for the Nelson Morris Beef Company, had his right hand cut with a most serious and painful wound ago while handling the heavy sides of beef which he is in the habit of walking off with so easily and as a result of the wound blood poisoning set in. He has been unable to attend to business meanwhile. His daughter, Mrs. L. A. Maria of Jewett City was present.

An anniversary requiem high mass was sung in St. James church last Monday morning for the repose of the soul of the late Mrs. Maria A. Waters, the daughter, Mrs. L. A. Maria of Jewett City was present.

CAPTAIN GARY HERE.

Captain W. H. Cary and wife of the Salvation Army arrived in town last Wednesday and were given a welcome here from Hoosick Falls N. Y. and are taking an active hold of the work. Captain Cary finds the annual harvest festival of the Salvation Army nearly upon him as he enters the 54th here and he has not had an opportunity to get about among the people and make him self acquainted. He requests through these columns that all persons who have been in the habit heretofore of making fancy work, etc. for the festival, do so once, as the festival will open a week from tomorrow night and the time for preparation is very much limited. He will go about in person as soon as practicable and make the collection of such work. He will also solicit and collect produce and other things which persons may choose to contribute for the purpose of this festival. Further particulars on this subject appear elsewhere.

BARBOUR MEDAL SHOOT.

The annual rifle contest for the Barbour medal will take place in Hartford tomorrow and Company G will have a team on the grounds to contest for the honors. Sergeant O'Leary is captain of the team and will have six men ready for the shoot. DIED IN FRANCE.

Paul Marchand, Jr. formerly of this place, died in France recently, as per advices received from the boy's grandmother by A. Moran of this place. He is remembered that the boy's father, Paul Marchand, Sr. had been gardener for K. D. Cheney here a great many years and that he returned to his native home in France several years ago and there died. His wife died while he lived.

MAKING A START.

James Trotter has made a start in the matter of erecting a building for his place on the Middle turnpike, which he recently purchased for the purpose of selling it out as building lots and homes for people here in town. Last Monday ground was broken for a double tenement of ten rooms which Mr. Trotter will have erected there at once. C. H. Bloom has the contract for the building and P. Gorman is doing the mason work. It is expected that a similar character of work may soon follow at that point.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The quarterly election of officers of South Manchester Division, No. 43 Sons of Temperance will take place in Cheney hall on Friday evening, September 28. Worthy Patriarch Leon C. Pinney is endeavoring to start a revival of work among the Sons now that the new members have passed and attendance at the lodge meetings in general is endeavoring to revive and make a showing during the coming quarter that will be a credit to the division and the honor of the Division to the front among the best workers in the district, where she properly belongs.

GONE TO THE HOSPITAL.

Frank Elliot was taken suddenly ill last Saturday night at the residence of his sister, Mrs. David Osborne of School street, and on Sunday morning Dr. Walden was called in. He found that the young man had typhoid fever and on Monday he had taken to the Hartford hospital. Mr. Elliot kept at his work in C. E. House's store until the close of business on Saturday night.

NO SEX!! TO SUCCESS

Woman is a new power and has her place in the commercial world; the more refined and ladylike she is the better are her opportunities. There is no cleaner, nicer or better paying work for women than in the office. We have graduated several hundred young ladies during the past few years, and all of them are in good situations, doing nicely. Some are bookkeepers, some stenographers, some advertisement writers, some private secretaries, and many of them are all-round office workers at very good salaries. Quite a number are residents of South Manchester. We should like to plan a course for you. Office open to visitors every day, and evenings from 7.30 to 9.30 p. m.

WE LOST OUR GRIP. A great many of our readers were disappointed last week because they could not get the News on Friday evening as usual, and we confess that we were not only disappointed ourselves but very much so, for the same reason. The facts in the case are these: When our edition was about half off the gripper attachment on our press refused to work and in spite of our constant efforts it was impossible to overcome the difficulty. In our dilemma we telephoned our esteemed contemporary, E. S. Ellis of The Herald and related to him our woes. He very promptly and courteously invited us to bring our press, paper and operatives to his office and use his press and electric motor for the work; which we gladly did, but could not finish in time to reach our press on Friday afternoon. Such of our readers as secured their papers first served the public as far as their supplies went and came back for more, but not get them. A machinist, Gilbert B. Norton, restored our gripper attachment to its normal condition and now we are happy.

NO MORE FAIRS. Father McGurk stated last Sunday that in looking over the accounts of the late fair he found nearly $1,500 had been realized as a result of the efforts put forth and also observed that there was an actual cash expenditure, in order to bring about this result, of a sum of money nearly equivalent to the amount realized after all bills were paid. He therefore came to the conclusion that this was an unnecessary outlay of money and energy, and made up his mind very thoroughly that the net cash result could be realized in a far more economical, and to his mind satisfactory manner. To this end he made a proposition which he left to the people to think over and let him know the result of their deliberations, and if they agreed with his plan it would be put in operation at the beginning of the twentieth century. He finds that there are about 600 people in the parish and recommends that an additional 50 cents be placed upon the item of pew rentals each quarter. This will realize the sum of $30,000 almost and would have the advantage of distributing the expense to four separate periods during the year, instead of all at once as in the past. In addition to this let five cents additional be taken on the payment for a sitting each Sunday by those who do not rent seats by the year and he is assured that the amount raised in this way will quite equal the sum realized at the fair.

The principal advantage of this method is that every dollar invested in this way will have a direct application on the object to which it is directed, and it will not be necessary to make such a drain of cash and of energy each year to realize the results which have been accomplished in the past three years. The simplicity of the plan and its manifest fairness in lightening the burden and distributing it more evenly than heretofore cannot but appeal to all fair minded persons in the parish. There is therefore but little doubt that the plan of giving fares will be adopted by the people of St. James church, as all who have been actively associated with these events year after year will be delighted to know that they are rid of this very disagreeable task forever.

There is no doubt that as much money can be realized in this way as has ever been done by the fairs and certainly it will be done in a far more agreeable, economical and pleasant fashion. The people of St. James parish have the additional satisfaction of knowing that they are not giving because of any failure to make their fairs a success but simply for the reason that the work can be done much better otherwise, and we believe that the plan will prove highly satisfactory to all concerned as it is a progressive step and fully up to the time in which we live. As the fair just closed was the most successful in the history of the parish, for the number of nights through which it ran, it is a good time to quit, so it can be done with credit and honor to all concerned. A Modern Samson.

BY ROBERT BARR.

A little more and Jean Bratton was to have been a giant. Bratton was as small as a rule, but Jean was an exception. He was a powerful young fellow who, up to the time he went into the army, had been doing his job in dragging heavy nets over the sides of a boat. He knew the Britanny coast, rugged and forested as it is, as well as he knew the road from the little cafe on the square to the dwelling of his father on the hill-side overlooking the sea. He was a man who had been out of sound of the waves. He was a man who, like Herie Riel, might have saved the fleet, but he had not. He was a man who had been out of sound of the waves. He was a man who, like Herie Riel, might have saved the fleet, but he had not.

officer, and Samson was placed under arrest. When the inquiry was held, the officer expressed his astonishment at the fact that Samson had done nothing to do with the boat. He had received, while the culprit had been allowed to go unpunished. "They deserved it," said Samson, "for what they had done before. I could not strike the little man. I should have killed him." The officer called the man "Samson." "You must answer me like that," said the officer. "I shall answer you as I like," said Samson, doggedly.

The officer turned to his feet, with a little rattle cane in his hand, and struck the insolubitate samson twice across the face, each time raising an angry red mark. "The nature of his situation," he said, "has at last dawned upon him. It took a long time to get it into his head that it was his duty to do as he was told. After attaching the bridge and the tail of the kite is complete, and as soon as he has finished the kite, he is to be put in the woman's Home Commission."

"Let me have the glass a moment," said another. "He has made up his mind to do something." The officer did not realize the full significance of what he saw through the glass. In spite of their common fate, the men and women who were persecuted by the same fate, Samson, for a moment, turned his face to the north and raised his hands towards heaven. Whether it was an appeal to saints he believed in, or an invocation to the distant one who was never more to look upon, who can tell.

After a moment's pause he flung himself headlong down the slope towards the section of the regiment which lay on the bank of the river. Over and over he rolled, and in places, under his slow revolved, was carried to his quarters. A soldier might have been seen, but no man had ever dared to climb any of them. The angry little river was fed from a glacier whose blue water was seen in the sunshine to the south, and the stream circled around the little plateau, as if trying to find an outlet for its tossing waters. Jean was terribly lonely in these dreary and unaccustomed solitudes. The white mountains, the little plateau, and the river seemed to him poor compensation for the dignified measured thunder of the waves on the broad sands of the Britanny coast.

An Easy Make Kite. To construct the bow-kite you must first make a spiral roll of heavy wrapping paper 30 inches long and one inch in diameter. Then cut a strip of stiff cardboard 30 inches in length and one inch in width. The center of this cardboard is to be the center of the spiral of the material. 12 inches in length. When dry fasten this with a strong paper band to the top of the spiral.

The nature of his situation," he said, "has at last dawned upon him. It took a long time to get it into his head that it was his duty to do as he was told. After attaching the bridge and the tail of the kite is complete, and as soon as he has finished the kite, he is to be put in the woman's Home Commission."

COL. CHENEY HONORED.

The Hartford Courant of last Monday had the following complimentary notice of Col. F. W. Cheney of this place, relating to his being honored last week with an appointment as major in the 10th regiment of the N. Y. N. H. & H. B. R., all of which we heartily endorse and cheerfully reproduce.

The election of Colonel Frank W. Cheney to the vacant Hartford road is highly satisfactory. Colonel Cheney is one of the foremost citizens of Connecticut. He is at the head of one of our greatest and most successful concerns, the Hartford Electric Light and Power Company, a man of broad and liberal ideas, accustomed to take the large view of affairs, and himself a gentleman of the highest personal character. It is a good sign to have the road which each man for his board and a good thing for the road and the state to have such men in that place. The "Consolidated" road has become the largest commercial interest in the state and it has relations with every other business enterprise in the state. It is directly opposed to the true functions of government.

Let all men who really desire to secure this end vote the solid vote and then unite in a determined effort to enforce the law.

J. I. BARTHOLOMEW. MUST BE STOPPED. Our attention has been called to the fact that the boys in the vicinity of the Ninth District school annoy persons driving by with teams by pelting them with apples, pears, stones and other substances, and that the occurrence is becoming so frequent that the authorities find it necessary to take stringent measures to stop the nuisance. This work is done usually at the noon hour and will require pelting to stop it. Several cases have been mentioned to us as being extremely aggravating and annoying, and we hereby give warning that unless the matter be stopped forthwith, the offenders will meet with condign punishment.

MISSION CIRCLE. The Mission Circle of the South Methodist church will hold their annual meeting, with the report of the year, on Sunday evening at six o'clock. A special missionary program will be given by the young people.

DEATH OF MRS. BLACK. Mrs. Labella Black of Hartford died from the effects of a shock shortly before midnight last Wednesday night. She was 71 years of age. Her funeral is taking place this afternoon from the Episcopal church. Rev. J. A. Biddle is officiating. Burial will be in the East cemetery. She leaves a son, Henry Black, who is in the employ of Ferris Brothers and a daughter, Miss Sarah, who resided with and took care of her mother.

NO-LICENSE.

As the license election approaches the voters of Manchester ought to scan the contents of the license system in its form during the past few years. During the last year of no-license there was so much complaint of violation of liquor laws and illicit selling that many people became discouraged.

Let us compare that worst year of no-license with our present plan. During the last no-license year there were 21 arrests made in the town. During the last full year of license, ending Nov. 1, 1900, there were 192 arrests, not counting the arrests for 25 days of which the records were destroyed in the fire. Of the 71 arrests in the no-license year 50 were for intoxication.

Of the 192 arrests in one year, or eleven months, under license, 97 were for intoxication. That is, the number of drunks, as judged by the arrests, doubled under license. Perhaps there has been more strictness in making arrests of late, but at least these figures show that the number of drunks under license is probably the best measure of the facts within our reach, show badly for license. If no-license will stop one half or even one quarter the drunkenness it is worth having.

In speaking of no-license when, confessedly, the enforcement was not rigid. There is valid ground for believing that we should have better enforcement next year. Recently a Civic League has been organized in our town for the enforcement of the law. It contains men of influence and it means business. Within a few months, under its direction, evidence has been collected before the court and one hotel man and one keeper of a "speakeasy," for violations of the liquor laws. All pleaded guilty and fines were imposed amounting to $425, besides the cost. Now that all other courts are still hanging over our heads, it is possible to convict druggists. Moreover they are liable—I suppose if often convicted they are certain—to have their liquor licenses revoked, and then their places can be filled and evidence against them can be obtained just as against any other places which liquor is reported to be kept for sale.

Enforced no-license would certainly mean a great reduction in all the evils that flow from intemperance. Under the present plan, by common observation and by the court records, these evils are increasing. Gladstone said "It is the business of government to make vice easy and vice difficult." To place saloons in a town makes vice very difficult and vice very easy for some people. It is directly opposed to the true functions of government.

Many towns and cities of the size of Manchester and larger in our neighboring States of Massachusetts have been factories in the hands of the liquor traffic. Why cannot our beautiful town do the same? Industrially this place has a wide reputation as one of the two or three model towns in New England. Why cannot we have a model village in harmony with our beautiful homes and our industrial condition? Let all men who really desire to secure this end vote the solid vote and then unite in a determined effort to enforce the law.

RECEPTION MONDAY EVENING.

Last Monday evening all those who contributed to the success of the St. James festival by canvassing, taking part in the several entertainments, waiting on the booths or in otherwise rendering substantial aid to the project, were invited to the Orford Inn as the guests of the pastor, Rev. W. J. McGark. About 125 persons responded to the invitation. Dancing was enjoyed for which Keating's orchestra furnished music and C. Foley prompted. The ladies brought in cakes and light refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, grapes, peaches, coffee, etc. were served. It was a merry social gathering, in which the young people were the principal figures and they managed to get a great deal of sport out of the opportunities offered. An extra attraction not down on the regular program was the introduction of Mr. Allan McDonald with his Highland pipes, who rendered a number of selections to the unbounded delight of the children and the received generous applause for his voluntary contribution to the festivities of the occasion.

EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY.

The eighth anniversary of the founding of Orford Lodge, No. 28, A. O. U. W. will take place in Cheney hall on Thursday evening, October 11. It is expected that Assistant Supervisor John Faber of Rockville, District Deputy Palms and Grand Guide Bulkley of Hartford will be present. Manchester Lodge of Workmen have been invited and no doubt will take part in the festivities. The following committee have charge of the arrangements: C. P. Montgomery, Robert Brothers, Joseph S. Bynum, Chas. A. Steyer, Fred Gutzmur and Master Workman William Rably. The members of the committee wanted Mr. Rably to act as chairman but he declined the honor. He is an active and enthusiastic member of the committee however and will render all the assistance in his power to make the eighth anniversary the success that its predecessors have been. These annual occurrences are always looked forward to with much pleasurable anticipation by all the members of the lodge and no doubt there will be a large attendance. It is expected that there will be an initiation that evening.

BUILDING NOTES.

Jencks Brothers have erected a new tenement near their lumber yard at the rear and to the northwest of same. It is a six-room building with bath room. The plumbers are now figuring on the job. T. O'Gorman is making extensive alterations and repairs on his building at the rear of his brick block on Charter Oak street. He is converting it from a two tenement house to a single one and will equip it with all modern improvements. When complete it will make a comfortable home. The building will be heated by furnaces, under the new arrangement.

MARRIED.

Engene S. Charter and Miss Mary L. Walsh, both of Stafford Springs, came here last Wednesday and were married at the South Methodist parsonage. Rev. J. I. Bartholomew performed the nuptial ceremony. As Mr. Bartholomew was pastor of the Methodist church in Stafford Springs before coming here the bridal couple honored him by calling here to have him marry them. There was no demonstration of any kind. By this plan they escaped all the rice throwing and other-observances that usually characterize the ceremony in this vicinity.

TOMORROW NIGHT.

Don't forget that the opening social of the Young Men's Club of St. Mary's Church will take place in the Armory tomorrow evening. An enjoyable time will leave no stone unturned to make it one of the most events they have ever undertaken. Bala's orchestra will discuss up-to-date music in their customary finished and catchy style and Foley will direct the dancing. The young men will be glad to welcome all their friends at the Armory tomorrow evening.

STAFFORD SPRINGS FAIR.

The Stafford Springs Fair will be held next week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 2, 3 and 4. As usual the association has prepared a program that will prove popular with all classes of people. There will be a good showing of poultry, cattle and horses. The poultry show is said to be the best in New England. There will be fast trotting and running, races for liberal prizes each day of the show. The vaudeville program, which is always a popular feature, has been carefully looked after and a corps of capable performers will keep the people entertained during each afternoon. In fact, no detail necessary for a successful fair has been neglected by the management.

DIED IN THE HOSPITAL.

Thomas McCormick of 12 Winter street died in the Hartford hospital yesterday morning after a severe struggle of a couple of weeks with typhoid fever. He was a large, strong young man, would weigh about 150 pounds and the very embodiment of health and strength. It does not seem possible that such a fine specimen of young manhood could be stricken down so early into death with disease, in such a short space of time. He was but 22 years of age and leaves a young wife and babe. His remains were brought here yesterday afternoon and as we go to press his funeral is taking place. His wife and relatives have the profound sympathy of a large circle of friends in the deep grief which rests so heavily upon them at this time. Mrs. McCormick is heart broken at the untimely end of her dearly beloved husband.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

The fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of William Mosser and Mrs. Ferris will occur on Saturday, October 6, 1900, and the happy event will be commemorated in a quiet way by the family. The store of Ferris Brothers, of which William Mosser Ferris is the reasonable head and founder, will be closed on the afternoon of that day, so that all may assemble at the festive board and do honor to the aged couple. Mr. Ferris is 75 years of age and his good wife is 69 years. Mr. Ferris has not been feeling at all well lately, although he is stout. On this account his relatives deem it prudent not to make so much demonstration as they otherwise would, did his physical condition warrant it. It is an unusual length of years for man and wife to dwell together in love, affection and harmony; as these good people have done and are still doing, and as their relatives and friends hope they may continue to do for many more years. They were married at Bratton's Bridge, New York and there are but two persons besides Mr. and Mrs. Ferris alive who witnessed the ceremony. These persons were invitations to attend the Golden Wedding. One resides in Michigan and the other in Massachusetts.

DELIGHTED WITH RESULTS.

Rev. W. J. McGark announced last Sunday that the amount realized at the six night festival given by the ladies of St. James church in the Armory recently netted the handsome sum of $145, an amount considerably in advance of his expectations up to the closing of the fair. He stated that his receipts were larger on the closing night than they ever had been before. As a rule the last night of a festival of this sort is so successful already made by the disposition of the favors that money does not come in at a lively rate, but this time was an exception. Although the ladies were tired out from the five nights' effort they had already made, they stuck manfully to their work and surpassed all records of receipts for the last night. The amount secured on Wednesday evening was about $400.

Has always led all other business colleges of Connecticut both in number of students in attendance and in number of good situations found for graduates. Founded in 1865 as a Bryant & Stratton College, it was the first commercial school organized in Connecticut. It took the lead in the start and has never been passed or surpassed in the race for supremacy. Abundant proof of this claim can be found in the State reports of the statistics of private schools, gotten out by Connecticut's Board of Education. ANNUAL TOWN MEETING.

At the business part of the annual town meeting last Monday afternoon Charles E. Hathaway was chosen as presiding officer and the town affairs were gone through with in a very quiet manner, not a single thing occurring to mar the serenity of the occasion.

Nearly every article in the warning was determined without any discussion. It is true that certain explanations had to be made here and there, but nothing of the old time controversy was in evidence.

People generally seemed to be satisfied with town affairs as they have been conducted during the past year, or at least if they were not satisfied they did not avail themselves of the opportunity offered to be heard upon the several clauses of the warning as they were disposed of.

The matter of taxation was the chief feature of the meeting. John S. Cheney had a resolution presented fixing the tax rate for the year at 16 mills on the dollar, but it was strongly opposed by M. S. Chapman, who made a plea to keep the tax rate low and instead of raising the rate to have the town bonded and the property reassessed. The motion of Mr. Cheney was finally assented to 15 mills on the dollar instead and in this amended form was passed.

It was voted to reassess the property consisting of M. S. Chapman, C. W. Cowles, Frank Cheney Jr., John S. Cheney and John S. Hisey was appointed to make a scheme for reassessment and report at an adjourned town meeting to be held in the town hall
