BARBERS PLAY BALL.

The barbers from this place took a pilgrimage to Rockville yesterday afternoon for the purpose of shampooing the Rockville Knights of the Razor in a game of base ball on the Union street grounds, but instead of that the home team was in a position to lather them to the tune of 28 to 14. A large crowd witnessed the sport.

The regular train leaving the Elm street station of the bouth Manchester railroad will also connect at Manchester with the excursion train.

The management wish to impress up on the public the importance of securing tickets this evening, as in the contrast of the sport.

The Rockville barbers had pretty maron suits made for the occasion, with caps to match. The sweaters were embellished with a large letter "B" on each and the boys presented a nice appearance of the company of the present the company of the present the company of the present the company of t was as far as he got around the diamond.

One ball passed over his left shoulder when he held the bat in his right hand and the umpire called it astrike. Jimmie could not stand for any such decision as that and promptly shied the bat at the umpire. That individual happened to be quite nimble-footed however and sidestepped, letting the flying missle waste its fury on the circumambient air and fall harmlessly out on center field.
