Four Strong Points Concerning Huntings' Business College

Of the thirteen teachers employed in the four business colleges in Hartford, eight of them are employed at Huntings'.
Of the 700 people who attended the four business colleges in Hartford last year 500 attended Huntings'. We placed 52 graduates in paying positions in the thirty-eight months ending September 15th. This school makes truthful statements and premises only what it can fulfill.
Our permanent advertisement in the work we do in the schools for our graduates. We take pride in the excellence of the work our graduates do in the business offices. New pupils are entering almost every week and will be a great while before the daily attendance of this school will be 500 people. Call to see the college in session. Real, my next adv.

E. H. HUNT/INGER, HARTFORD, CT.

HUNTSINGERS NEVER GROWING SO RAPIDLY AS NOW.

The new school year at Huntings' is now in its third week. Opening with the largest class in its history, its growth shows no signs of abatement. No day has failed to add to the enrollment. If any were in doubt as to first where to go, they seem to have now reached a decision and a multitude of others are following their lead.

It is the only wise and safe conclusion that Huntings' has the ability, principal, the largest and best equipped corps of teachers, is thoroughly versed in the latest and most approved methods, is able to send secure for its graduates the widest and most favorable opportunities for entering upon a business career. Summed up, it does better and more generously for its pupils than does any other school of the class—everything that a business college can do. And what awake energetic young men and women will not go elsewhere if they can help it.

PRESENTATION LAST MONDAY.

At a meeting of Hose Company No. 10 held in the Hall of Records Building last Monday evening, John G. Trotter was the honored guest of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Trotter returned from their wedding tour last Friday evening, and Hose Company No. 10 wished to respect their appreciation of their fellow member, and also to honor his wedding by giving him a substantial reward for his good fellowship and friendly feeling. To that end the committee had him before the meeting, and W. S. Hutchinson, secretary of the South Manchester Fire Department stepping forward presented Mr. Trotter with a handsome and serviceable Morris reclining chair. He made no presentation speech, voicing the friendly feelings of the members for the newly married brother, wishing him and his bride long life and happiness, and most pleasant hours of comfort to be spent in testing the qualities of the chair. Mr. Trotter responded in suitable terms, thanking his brother firemen for this testimonial of esteem and good fellowship and assuring them that he would always bear them in kindly remembrance for this mark of esteem and fraternal feeling.

Refreshments were served, short addresses were made, the story letters were unfurled and a social time enjoyed. It was the first event of the kind the company had attempted and they did it in excellent form. It is expected that they will have other opportunities of a similar character in the not distant future. If so they will be found equal to the emergency.

A ROUSING GAME.

West Ends of This Place Won Hopewells in Hotly Contested Game of Base Ball.

The South Manchester West Ends defeated the Hopewells last Saturday afternoon on the West street grounds in a very interesting game of base ball by the score of 3 to 1. The score was kept down owing to the inability of either team to hit the ball. Bronki of the West Ends struck out 15 men and Tuckey of the Hopewells struck out 7. Both teams played well in the field. Misplays were very scarce. The West Ends defeated the Hopewells on the latter's grounds two games ago, by a score of 6 to 3. Following is the line-up of the two teams and score by inning.

West Ends	Pos.	Hopewells
H. Mouth	c	J. Connell
E. Bronki	p	P. Truober
B. Bronki	1b	P. Plinger
D. Dixon	2b	D. Cuttrap
F. Behrend	3b	J. Ledger
H. Behrend	lf	A. Newman
P. Hills	rf	J. Foley
W. Carter	cf	J. Kelley
E. Dixon	of	W. Ran

Score by Innings:
1 1 2 4 5 7 8 9
West Ends 10 10 0 0 0 0 0 2

SHOOT POSTPONED.

On account of the lamented death of President McKinley last Saturday, the proposed shoot for the Barbour medal at Hartford was postponed by Colonel Schriber, and will take place on Monday at the same place and time, and under the same conditions as announced in these columns last week. We again wish success to the rifle team of Company G, C. N. G. of this place and trust that their marksmanship may be victorious and that they will win the honor of having the medal in the officers' quarters of the Armory here during the coming year.

CONSECRATED.

NEW ST. JAMES CEMETERY CONSECRATED LAST SUNDAY WITH IMPRESSIVE RITUALISTIC CEREMONIES.

Weather Favorable in Spite of Very Threatening Appearances. Great Turnout of People to Witness Solemn Rites—Successfully Carried Out in Every Particular.

Notwithstanding the fact that lowering skies were in evidence the greater portion of last Sunday and indications were that rain would descend at almost any moment, the fact was that the elements were propitious and favored all persons interested in the consecration of the new St. James cemetery last Sunday afternoon.

The procession of Catholic societies started from St. James church promptly at 8 o'clock and was accompanied by a goodly number of men who are not affiliated with any of the Catholic societies. Women and children in large numbers thronged the sidewalks all along the line of march, which was published in these columns last week, and hundreds marched out to the cemetery along with the procession.

The afternoon was sultry and the streets were very dusty, but nothing daunted the faithful turned out in goodly numbers and attested their respect and veneration for the solemn ceremonies by their presence.

Bishop Tierney and the visiting clergy followed the procession in hacks. Arrived at the base of the hill where the large cross stands in the cemetery, the procession formed in open ranks and permitted the bishop and clergy to pass through, while those in the line were pressed against by uncoversing their heads.

Arrived at the platform directly east of the cross the ceremony began at 2:30 o'clock, Bishop Tierney officiating. A portion of the ritualistic work took place at the platform, where prayers were said by the faithful, during which period they knelt on the ground. The cross bearer, acolyte, censor and taper bearers then headed the procession and were followed by the bishop and clergy, who proceeded to go to the remains of the cemetery, chanting Miserere, while the bishop sprinkled holy water about the grounds and the censor bearer burned incense along the line of march. On returning to the platform the choir sang the "Vest Creator Spiritus" and the sermon of consecration was preached by Father Oliver T. Magnehl, a native of this town. It was an eloquent and instructive discourse and was listened to throughout with the utmost respect and attention. It was remarkable to note the attention and respect which was shown the speaker during his half hour discourse, a synopsis of which appears in another column. A number of distinguished guests, not members of the Catholic church, were present and were interested spectators of the solemn ceremonies.

At the conclusion of Father Magnehl's sermon Father Tierney thanked all who had taken part in the ceremony of consecration, naming the bishop, the clergy, some of whom had, at such inconvenience to themselves, come forward to assist. The reverend speaker drew from Williamianic after an unusually free forenoon's work, during which he had to preach three sermons. Father Tierney also thanked the choir who had marched, the choir who sang and included all persons who had assisted in any way to make the consecration ceremony such a success as it had been.

He stated that he knew of no better thing he could wish them, than that they should have had a country where those present would be compelled to take up their permanent abode in the new St. James cemetery. He would be glad to have them visit the cemetery as will, but not there have become permanent residents there. The choir then sang another hymn and the consecration ceremony came to an end.

FORESTERS FAIR.

CROWDED HOUSES THE ORDER EVERY EVENING—SPLENDID WEATHER AND ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERINGS.
Popularity of the Foresters Ample Attest—Pleasing Entertainments and Dancing Each Evening—The Big Fair an Assured Success.

Court Manchester, Foresters of America, opened their big fair in the Armory last Tuesday evening with a house that filled every available foot of standing room in the building and gave the Foresters a welcome that made their hearts rejoice. A short address of welcome was made by Attorney Harry M. Burks and an amusing farce entitled "A Mock Initiation" was well presented by the local talent, after which dancing ensued until all were satisfied with the evening's sports. Keating's orchestra furnished acceptable music and Prof. Foley presided. The dancing was so much enjoyed by Professor Keating in giving considerable attention to his orchestra this season and proposes to furnish all the up-to-date music of the period. His efforts have been highly satisfactory to the dance-loving patrons of the Foresters' fair. He has some new musicians and the improvement in the work of the orchestra is noticeable.

On Wednesday evening as large a crowd assembled as on the opening night. Professor Alexander will give a pleasing slight-of-hand performance. Last evening a contest between the performers was given with the "musicians" and the "dancers." The small boy managed to get up close to the stage, heard all the jokes and cheered, shouted, clapped hands and stamped his feet so hysterically that scarcely any other could ascertain what the disturbance was all about. This evening the entertainment will consist of a juggling act by Prof. Murphy of Rockville with some musical numbers as the features of the evening.

Saturday evening the program will include the Dexter Brothers, expert whistlers, musical numbers, and an exhibition in magic by Prof. Alexander of Hartford. Prof. Alexander held the attention of a vast, standing audience of Rockville with some musical numbers as the features of the evening.

Monday evening, Charles Osterberg, the courtier who was appointed Thursday evening will give another exhibition and there will be a repetition of "The Awkward Squad." The closing exercises will take place Tuesday evening with the distribution of money awards.

APPEL'S OPERA HOUSE.

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 2, Antonia Joe (Carl Buss) will appear at Appel's opera house with his big dramatic company in his sensational melodrama "The Black Hawks." The company comprises 30 people, including the original Mexican Brass Band and orchestra, and the best known character with the rifle and revolver outside of Buffalo Bill, Cal. Hunter, "Arizona Joe." He will exhibit his marvelous skill with the rifle and also introduce his trained ponies and dogs. During the action of the play will give the realistic scenes of the battle knife duel on horse back and the attack on the mail coach by Indians on the plains. The dramatic effect of the Hundred Cave of the Skeleton will also be given. The house will make a mid-day parade together with the ponies and dogs. This will be the feature and most sensational production that will appear here this season. The engagement is for one night only. You can't afford to miss it. Prices 35c, 75c and 10c.

Call and see the new styles of millinery at Martin's opening next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Floral designs a specialty at the Candy Kitchen.

MILLINERY OPENING

At the regular meeting of Campbell Council No. 573, Knights of Columbus held in Odd Fellows hall last Monday evening four candidates were initiated as follows: John Vaughan, Charles Carter, James Gaffney and John Currier. Two applications for membership were received.

A committee of sixteen persons were appointed to assist the Ladies Catholic Sewing Association in their concert and ball which is to be held in Cheney hall on Thursday evening, October 17. Notice of which has appeared in these columns heretofore. These young men will act as floor directors, aids, ushers, etc. and will do all in their power to help the ladies make a success of their efforts.

The local council Knights of Columbus decided at their meeting last Monday evening to give their first annual ball on Thursday evening, Nov. 14th in Cheney hall and appointed the following committee of five persons to arrange the details: C. S. McNeil, James Hayes, John H. French all the up-to-date music of the period. His efforts have been highly satisfactory to the dance-loving patrons of the Foresters' fair. He has some new musicians and the improvement in the work of the orchestra is noticeable.

The following gentlemen were appointed a press committee, and to them all matters requiring publicity through the press will be referred. For the Foresters' fair will be found in full below.

The second degree will be exemplified by Campbell Council, Knights of Columbus on the evening of Nov. 14th and the third degree on the evening of Nov. 23th. Persons desiring to unite with Campbell Council had better hand in their applications before the next meeting, which will be Oct. 14th. By so doing they will manage to get through the different degrees in short order. The intention is to have as large a membership as possible before the annual election of officers. Those who join will not have time to wait for the election. It usually takes six months to perfect the task, but this time it can be done in about one-third of that period. A word of warning is sufficient. Campbell Council now has 63 members and the prospects are that before the close of the year they will have 100.

A REAL TEST OF NERVE.

BY EDGAR WHITE.

Some years ago an eminent railroad man said: "I will build engines with a heavy train to operate them successfully you'll have to invent something besides flesh and blood."

The tenderfoot who has clung to the machine under his spinning out the miles at that rate will vigorously protest.

But that assertion was made back a yonder in the 19th century. This is the 20th.

The Burlington had completed its eastern cut-off to the Mississippi river, and one locomotive was being run on the new line between Brookfield and St. Louis, 175 miles.

The Northern Pacific express reached the middle of the river and minutes later the engine hauling it was sending aloft a geyser of steam from the safety valve and the boiler.

A helper leaped into the cab as the engineer stepped off, and ran the engine down the line at a snail's pace.

"Jack," he said, "we're nearly an hour late. The president and two of the directors are along, and they want to catch the Iron Mountain at Union station in the morning."

"Well, his mother, who lived down a few miles and was never far from several days, and just before starting the telegraph boy went toward the engine with a telegram. I knew it was a train order because they were all in it."

"That's all right," said the president, "but they'll open the ball valve and let the steam out of the boiler."

"That's all right," said the superintendent, "but they'll open the ball valve and let the steam out of the boiler."

BIRD HUNTING SEASON.

WILL OPEN IN CONNECTICUT ON TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1.

No Quail or Partridge Must Be Sold at Any Time or Place—Penalties for Violation of the Law.

On Tuesday, October 1, the open season when it will be lawful to shoot quail, woodcock, ruffed grouse or partridge, gray squirrel and rabbits will begin and for the birds named and the squirrel the season will be "open" for two months, or until December 1, after which time it will be lawful to shoot the birds during the open season, it will not be lawful to sell them. A law prohibiting the sale of woodcock, quail and partridge for two years was passed at the last session of the General Assembly. This law is very explicit and reads as follows:

Section 1. For a period of two years after the passage of this act, no person shall sell, or have in his possession with intent to sell, or exchange, any ruffed grouse, called partridge, quail or woodcock.

Section 2. The sale, or keeping with intent to sell, of any such birds shall be deemed a separate offense.

Section 3. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be fined not more than $50, or imprisoned not more than twenty days or both.

Under this law it will be illegal for the gunner to dispose of his game by sale or trade and it will of course be illegal for hotels, restaurants, or sporting houses to serve the game birds to their guests. Marketmen also cannot sell to customers. The law is sweeping and was passed in the interest of the protection of the fast decreasing numbers of game birds.

It is also illegal to trap or snare quail or partridges and no person can legally kill or have in his possession more than five partridges in one day or thirty in any one year.

The killing of Mongolian, Chinese or English pheasants is forbidden until June 1, 1902. Hunting on Sunday is forbidden. Every person who violates any of the provisions of the law enumerated above is punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50 and by an additional fine of $10 for each bird or pair of bird taken or possessed in violation of the law.

The law also forbids the use of fire, gunpowder, dynamite or other explosive compound, brimstone or sulphur for the purpose of taking any gray squirrel or rabbit from a burrow, hole or tree. This, however, does not apply to the right to shoot any gray squirrel or rabbit. The use of ferrets for the purpose of taking rabbits is forbidden until Oct. 1, 1902.

To enforce the game laws the fish and game commissioners have appointed county wardens and the wardens are empowered to appoint special protectors to assist them. The law provides that no more than twenty special protectors shall be appointed in one county.

A. C. Collins is the warden for Hartford county and his vigilance under the law will be stringently administered in this county.—COURT.

ENTERTAINMENT NEXT THURSDAY.

OGDEN'S NEW STUDIO.

It Certainly is a Credit to the Town—It is Said To Be One of the Finest Photographic Studios in the New England States.

E. M. Ogden, our well known photographic artist, has covered himself all over with glory in the matter of fitting up a studio in the new Purnell block. It is a credit to the town, and is said to be one of the finest in the New England States. Mr. Ogden has been knocked about considerably for some time past in the matter of waiting for the new Purnell building to be completed so that he might enter and begin business in the manner that he has long contemplated. His troubles have now happily all been brushed aside in this particular however, and today he has a studio of which he is justly proud, and of which every progressive citizen of the town of Manchester may well feel proud.

It is up one flight of stairs and comprises a reception room, a parlor, and one of the best equipped operating rooms in this part of the country.

He has a novelty in the sky light he uses. It is divided into two sections. The lower half is composed of what are known as Lorraine prisms and diffuse a great profusion of soft white light, which surpasses in quality the light obtained from ordinary glass as far as lighting is concerned.

The upper half of the skylight is composed of hammered plate glass. This admits a white light, but not of the brilliancy of that shed by the prisms. It is the intention to use this very materially in getting those artistic effects of light and shadow which are so desirable in all photographic work.

The view up and down Main street is unexcelled and everything in and about the studio is up to date and arranged in a most comfortable and convenient manner. The studio is decidedly refreshing and restful.

Photographer Ogden is certainly to be congratulated upon the superb surroundings he has arranged for his patrons and the public will no doubt be quick to show their appreciation of same, as soon as it comes to their knowledge that such a superior photographic studio can be found in South Manchester.

NO-LICENSE CAMPAIGN.

Energic Measures Now on Foot to Carry This Town to No License.

A vigorous no-license campaign is now in progress here and is gaining in strength day by day. Prominent employment of labor has been decided. It is in this matter and are determined that in one way or another the tide of temperance in this town must be set. They realize that in order to succeed the best results in their respective works sober men must be had, and they are determined to have such in as far as possible. To this end they are making every effort to carry this town to no license.

The several ministers too are lending their aid with will and the combined forces that are now at work are sure to produce a decided change in some way. It is becoming a serious matter to these gentlemen and are thoroughly in earnest. They are bound to make their influence felt.

On Sunday evening next a no-license meeting will be held in Cheney hall at 7:45 o'clock, and ringing addresses will be given by prominent citizens of this town.

Some evening next week Rev. Major Pratt of Hartford will address an open air meeting in front of the House of Hale block. The Salvation Army Brass Band will furnish music.

On Saturday evening of next week, Rev. J. J. Burrell will address an open air meeting at the same place and the Salvation Army Brass Band will again furnish music.

FATHER DOYLE COMING.
On Sunday evening, October 8, Father Doyle of New York, one of the Pacific Fathers will deliver an address on temperance. Father Doyle is the secretary of the National Catholic Temperance Union of the United States, is a man who makes a specialty of temperance work, is a ripe scholar and a gentleman who is as well informed on this topic as any man in the United States. He comes here as the friend and guest of Rev. W. J. McGuire, pastor of St. James Roman Catholic church of this place. He will deliver the closing argument on the day before the town meeting, when the voters will be called upon to decide by ballot whether this town is to be in the no-license or license column during the coming year.

CAUCUS LAST NIGHT.

REPUBLICANS OUT IN FORCE—UNEXPECTEDLY LARGE GATHERING.

What Seemed to be a Very Mild and Unassuming Gathering of Republicans at the Start Developed into a Boisterous and Stormy Meeting Towards the Middle of the Proceedings.

A large and enthusiastic gathering assembled in the Town hall last evening at the Republican caucus. This was rather unexpected, as to a outward appearance there was no disturbing element in sight before the caucus began doing business. It developed however that there was considerable feeling in the matter of constables, and the particular target of the opposition seemed to be Benjamin Cowles, superintendent for the local Tramway Company, and at present a town constable, as well as a railway policeman.

Nominations were being made by acclamation and proceeded smoothly enough until the matter of constables arose. David Crockett and John Johnson were nominated without a whisper of opposition, in as far as was audible, but when it was proposed to nominate Benjamin Cowles in like manner, Leonard Proctor arose in his place on the floor and upon being recognized by the chair delivered the following succinct speech: "This man, Mr. Cowles ought to be out of this town."

This seemed to touch the spot and liberated a mountain of applause that descended upon the meeting like an avalanche. It went up and up and rumbled again and again. Finally it subsided and after much wrangling, in which Harry M. Burke and Maro S. Chapman delivered some rather pointed remarks, a ballot was agreed upon and Mr. Cowles was found to be in the minority. Consequently his name does not appear on the list of candidates as constables as printed below.

Laywer Burke and Chairman Hathaway had some rather animated discussions on points of parliamentary law, while seemed to please the large assembly amazingly, and they cheered and hurraed at their hearts' content. No serious damage was done however by the collision of these two legal luminaries and the crowd was entertained to slight degree by the conflict of legal opinions.

On this is evident in all this hub-bub, and that is this: Never mind how nicely candidates for town offices may have conducted themselves throughout the year, it will not do hereafter to try to nominate them in a Republican caucus in the Town of Manchester by acclamation. This has been tried several times during the past few years and the result has been a decided opposition. It only needs a leader to give expression to the feelings of post-up opposition and the strength of these feelings express themselves in the most effective manner.

The common people want to vote by ballot for the men who are to receive nominations for town offices in the Republican caucus, and it is the only place they have a choice.

The town is so strongly Republican that in most cases a nomination is equivalent to an election. It is the only place where the attempt to nominate candidates for town offices in the Republican caucus here by acclamation is interpreted by the rank and file to mean an attempt to stifle full and untrammeled expression of the public will, and those who attempt it are likely to find that there will be trouble on hand every time they try it.

All the important offices were filled by acclamation, but some of the minor ones had to be balloted for, including free wardens and constables. About 300 voters were present. C. E. Hathaway was chairman and F. E. Watkins clerk. The officers chosen were as follows: Town clerk, Sanford M. Benton; Free wardens, constables, Charles H. Crockett, John Johnson, Charles Olson, George H. Hall; board of relief, Henry A. Slater, George W. Fitch; jurors, Harry G. Cheney, John S. Shewry; Assessors, constables, John S. Crockett, John Johnson, Charles Olson, George H. Hall; board of relief, Henry A. Slater, George W. Fitch; jurors, Harry G. Cheney, John S. Shewry; Assessors, constables, John S.
