WASHINGTON, D. C.—In this discourse br. Talmage depicts the struggle of a man who desires liberation from the enthallment of evil and shows how he may be set free; text, Proverbs xxiii, 35:

"When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again."

With an insight into human nature wind and soul an encouragement that was just what you needed? The prodigal, wishing to get into good man without much sense greets him by saying: "Why are you here? You are about the last person that I expected to see in a prayer meeting. Well, the dying thief was saved, and there is hope for you." You do not know anything about this, unless you have learned that when a man tries to return from evil courses of conduct he runs against repulsions in man.

HALLOWED MEMORIES.

ROBERT N. STANLEY.

As one day some old time letters. That for long, long years had lain In a box up in the attic, I was looking o'er again; Some I found were from my mother

Which, when opened, brought to me Such a flood of practions mem'ries, That at once I seemed to be Back again in happy childhood, In the dear old home once more. With the loved ones all about me, As in pleasant days of yore.

How the mem'ries thronged upon me, Of our little trundle-bed. Into which our mother tucked us. After we our prayers had said; And I seemed again to see her, Hear her voice, in sweetest tone, elling us the welcome stories.

When with her we were alone. Sack through mem'ry came the stories,-Which we never liked to miss .-And the precious recollection Of our mother's good-night kiss.

Then I seemed to hear her singing. As of old on Sabbath days, Come, thou fount of every blessing Tune my heart to sing thy grace." How those hymns she loved and ch erished. How they lifted her above, As she sang with faith and spirit Of her heavenly Father's love;

I have called thee Abba, Father I have stayed my heart on The Storms may howl, and clouds may gather All must work for good to me." Thus she sang, and ever trusted. Lived a life of faith, 'midst care, Posching us that we should carry Everything to God in prayer." Oh, those precious, hallowed mem'ries, Of my mother's levely life. as they come with all their sweetness Calming me 'midst care and strife; May they ever linger with me, Till I reach my home above, And we sing the songs together Which on earth she used to love.

FUN AT APEL'S.

Fitz & Webster's "A Breezy Time" appeared in Apel's opera house last Monday evening and played to a rather small andience. They put up a good show however, and pleased those who were there amazingly. They have a much better company this season than the one that appeared in the Armory opera house a year ago last March. We learn that Fitz & Webster have three companies on the road with this play. The people who played in Apel's last Monday evening certainly were clever ties. Billy Williams had the tramp act down to perfection. The young ladies 00 were capable performers and all were heartily applauded for their efforts. The play was well worthy of a large

With many millions of families Surms of Fire has been deposited. With many millions of families Syrup of Figs has become the ideal home laxative. The combination is a simple and wholesome one, and the method of manufacture by the California Fig Syrup Company ensures that perfect purity and uniformity of product, which have commended it to the favorable consideration of the most eminent physicians and to the intelligent appreciation of all who are well informed in reference to medicinal agents.

Syrup of Figs has truly a laxative effect and acts gently without in any way disturbing the natural functions and with perfect freedom from any unpleasant after effects. In the process of manufacturing, figs are used, as they are
