HOW TO SECURE A SITUATION

Is a question that confronts every boy and girl who must earn a living. In a short time many want to go into business.

Properly, they should get a business training first, so that they can do the things rapidly and well which must be quickly done in business.

Huntington's Business College gives this training.

The selection of a school for such training is important, as superior business training insures the best business success.

E. M. HUNTINGTON, 65 SOUTH ST., MANCHESTER.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Henry B. and Mrs. Haling Surprised Thirty Three Years of Happy Wedded Life—Presented With Golden Oak Extension Table.

A surprise party was given Henry B. Haling and Mrs. Haling at their residence on Charter Oak street last evening, the occasion being the 33rd anniversary of their wedding.

The guests came well supplied with an abundance of choice edibles, took possession of the residences of Mr. and Mrs. Haling, and proceeded to do as they saw fit in the matter of preparing the feast which was served in due season and heartily enjoyed by all.

As a testimonial of the esteem in which these good people are held, their friends presented them with a golden oak extension table, of generous proportions, ornamental design and substantial build.

Mr. Haling was so much overcome with surprise and joy that he could scarcely command language for the moment in which to express his gratitude. He rallied however and thanked the givers for their thoughtfulness and expression of good will.

BASE BALL THIS AFTERNOON.

First Game of the Season on The Hollister Grounds—The Strong East Hampton, Mass. Team is Here and a Lively Tussle is Assured.

The opening game of base ball here will take place this afternoon on the Hollister lot on Main street, where the citizens used to hold forth, on the line of the local tramway.

The preliminary game will be between the East of Boston and the Pirates of South Manchester. This game will begin at 2 o'clock. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to all, and ladies will be admitted for 10 cents.

WEDDING TOMORROW.

Gottfrid J. Bjorkman and Miss Julia M. Rylander the Happy Couple—Sore-mony Will Take Place at Residence of William Sandin.

Tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock, Gottfrid J. Bjorkman and Miss Julia M. Rylander, will be married at the residence of William Sandin on School street.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. W. P. Anderson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church. The bride and groom will be Miss Vanda Bjorkman, a sister of the groom, and Miss Frida Larson. The best men will be John Swanson and Albert Anderson.

The parlors will be suitably decorated with flowers and green leaves and will be made very attractive for the occasion. It is intended to have the wedding ceremony performed beneath a floral arch.

Miss Rylander is sister to Mrs. William Sandin, who was employed as waitress at Teachers hall for several years, and has served in a similar capacity at the residence of James W. Cheney.

PLAY AND DANCE TONIGHT.

The play of this place will be well taken care of in the matter of entertainment this evening, because of the fact that the local Camp Modern Woodmen of America will present its clearing Western romantic drama in four acts entitled The Miner's Daughter, and at the conclusion of the play will have the floor cleared for dancing, which will continue until one o'clock in the morning.

The preliminary game will be between the East of Boston and the Pirates of South Manchester. This game will begin at 2 o'clock. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to all, and ladies will be admitted for 10 cents.

Providing it is found that the public will give suitable support to the game the management proposes to furnish a strong team and give good ball through out the season.

The lineup of the South Manchesters will be as follows: W. Aspinall; Rogers; Chase; E. M. Kelly; R. J. C. Aspinall; Holland; Duff; G. Moynihan.

AGRETTES.

Of the many kinds of feathers and plumes which have been worn as hat trimmings, very few remained in favor as long as the delicate and graceful plumes known as agrettes, but of the thousands of women who have worn them, only a small proportion probably have any idea where they come from, what kind of a bird furnishes them or how they are obtained.

Agrettes are produced by several kinds of white Herons or Egrets which were formerly very abundant in Florida and some of the other Southern States, and have been occasionally found as far North as New England. Owing to the demand for their plumes, the birds are now very rare and in danger of complete extermination, not only in the United States, but even in the remote parts of Central and South America where the plume hunters have followed them since their almost complete destruction within the limits of this country.

Many women who have scrupled against wearing birds on their hats, have had a change of heart, and are now purchasing these plumes, though it is a fact that far more cruelty is practiced in obtaining them than in the case of herons and other birds which are used as hat trimmings, and much more than in shooting game pigeons for sport, which the state of New York has lately forbidden, largely through the efforts of women.

The agrettes or plumes are the breeding dross of the heron, and are worn by concealing themselves near the nesting places and killing the birds when they return to their nests or bring food to their young. In this way not only are the parent birds killed, but the young in the nests inevitably die of starvation. It is unfortunately the habit of some sportsmen to breed in large colonies or communities many nests often being placed in a single tree, and it is therefore an easy matter to destroy such a colony almost to the root and to locate the birds in their location. Having shot the birds, the plumes, of which each bird produces a small bunch, are removed with a pair of small, and after careful drying and packing are ready for shipment to the agents of the wholesale dealers in feathers and military supplies.

RUTHLESS OVATION TO HANNA.

There is probably no hat-trick spot in Ohio where we could find a more enthusiastic ovation to Hanna than that which we are now witnessing. Hanna, who is a native of this state, is being hailed as a hero and a savior. The ovation is a result of his recent visit to the state, during which he was met by thousands of people who were eager to see him. His visit was a success, and he was met with the warmest of welcomes.

WAIT A MINUTE.

As we were saying, if a trial of Smith's Green Mountain Renovator does not benefit any case of Rheumatism, bad blood, worn out nerves, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Indigestion or Liver and Kidney trouble, we will give back every dollar you have paid us for this great medicine. You run no risk. Is that fair? The Renovator is made wholly from pure herbs of wonderful medicinal value; is pleasant to take, gentle and soothing in its action and does its work quickly and permanently.

WHOOPING COUGH.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and our other two children were very ill. I had heard of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use it. I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and it cured our children. EAST GREENWICH ACADEMY

Centennial.

The East Greenwich Academy is preparing to celebrate next June the centennial of its founding.

It is one hundred years since several citizens of East Greenwich, R. I., who were "anxious to promote the happiness of posterity and to secure the blessings of a free and equal government," as the original compact reads, and who believing "that well conducted seminaries of learning in which youth may acquire knowledge, and be instructed in the duties of citizenship, would be of great benefit to the community, obtained a charter, purchased land, erected a building and opened a school which without the interruption of a single year has continued to the present time.

From the first the Academy has been under the influence of more or less directly of the Methodist Episcopal church which obtained a foothold in East Greenwich as early as 1792. In 1841 the school was New England Southern Conference. It was conducted by a board of Conference trustees until 1884 when it was transferred again to a corporation.

It is the oldest classical seminary under the patronage of the church and in the one hundred years of its history not less than fifteen thousand young men and women have entered its halls as students.

Among the graduates and students is a long list of well known and honorable names. Bishop Mallon was a student in the Academy from 1851 to 1853 and was afterwards actively interested in its success. Dr. Upham of Drew Theological Seminary, President Warren of Boston University, Senator Aldrich, Chief Justice Taft, and many others might be mentioned.

The centennial anniversary exercises will begin Sunday, June 8, and continue until Thursday, June 12. The following outlines the principal features of the program: Sunday, June 8—Sermons by Rev. E. M. Taylor, D. D., field secretary of the Missionary Society, and Bishop W. F. Mallon, D. D. Monday, June 9—Annual meeting of the Corporation and Board of Directors. In the evening, recitations of the literary societies with address by Rev. W. F. McDowell, D. D., secretary of the Board of Education. Tuesday, June 10—Prize giving. Morning session of the Corporation and Board of Directors. In the evening, recitations of the literary societies with address by Rev. W. F. McDowell, D. D., secretary of the Board of Education. Wednesday, June 11—Prize giving. Morning session of the Corporation and Board of Directors. In the evening, recitations of the literary societies with address by Rev. W. F. McDowell, D. D., secretary of the Board of Education. Thursday, June 12—Prize giving. Morning session of the Corporation and Board of Directors. In the evening, recitations of the literary societies with address by Rev. W. F. McDowell, D. D., secretary of the Board of Education.

From time to time it became necessary to call attention to the fact that persons sending names of news to this office through the mails, or otherwise, should give their names. Because they do not want their names to appear in the paper, it is asked simply to let the publisher know the source from which the news emanates. A moment's reflection should reveal the reasonableness of this request. We trust, therefore, that persons wishing to have items appear in these columns will comply with this simple requirement. If they do not want their names to appear, they can state at the foot of the notice, and their wishes will be considered. We believe that the reason this injunction is so often overlooked is because of forgetfulness or oversight. When you do not sign items sent in to this office for publication, you need not be surprised if they do not appear in print.

A NEW BOOK.

Mrs. Helen L. Montgomery, wife of Charles P. Montgomery of this place has issued a book entitled, "Evangeline, or Lost and Found." It is issued by the Ames Press, 114 Fifth Avenue, New York City, in hard cover, and sells for 50 cents. The following outline of the work is furnished by the publishers: One beautiful morning while at play in the flower garden, she was taken away by a bad man, a choragus, who bewitched about the country. The man expected to make a good deal of money out of the child and to give her a prominent part in his show. She was the means of leading him to better things and when an accident occurred that ended his life, he died a Christian with the hope of meeting little Eva again.

AGAINST COAL MONOPOLY.

Petition to Congressmen to Use His Influence for Relief.

The following petition is being circulated for signers throughout this Congressional district:

To the Honorable E. Stevens Henry, M. C. Whereas we the people of Connecticut are in common with all the people throughout the country, are again called upon to submit to the extortionate demands of the coal mine owners, who place the price of that commodity beyond the reach of the common people.

Therefore, we the undersigned citizens and constituents of your Congressional district, do hereby respectfully petition that you use all means at your command to secure such legislation as will bring speedy relief from this intolerable condition. Believing there exists a tendency on the part of mine owners to limit the amount of coal mining we hold that Congress should take such measures as will prevent further abuse of the people by this great monopoly.

If you want anything in the cemetery line call on me and I will give you good South and reasonable prices. William Adams, 118 S. 118 S.

John Chambers Jr. and Miss Lucinda Trotter were quietly married at the Episcopal rectory by Rev. J. A. Bidde at Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The ceremony was witnessed by Alexander Hunniford and his sister, Miss Minnie Hunniford. The bride came from Warr. Mass. where the parents are. The groom is a native of East Greenwich, R. I. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trotter and her mother wishes her to remain with her. Mr. Chambers, the groom, is the president of the St. Mary's Young Men's Club. He was determined that the boys should not discover his secret until after the wedding. He is a very modest young man and feared that the boys might rail him previous to the occurrence of this all important event. He will be better prepared to receive the jibes on his return, and will make the most of the situation. There is no doubt that the Young Men's Club will be heard from after the bride and groom return. They are both very popular and have many friends here. The bride is a Sunday school teacher in St. Mary's church.

Had the members of the club known what their president was to do last Wednesday morning, they would have been on hand to bid him good speed and to take him in a good natured and pleasant way. In this they were outwitted, and the bride and groom had the laugh on the club. However, the club will have their smile coming down the pike later, and it is said that the man who laughs last is usually satisfied with his part of the play.

LADIES HAIR DRESSING PARLORS.

Miss C. J. McGinn of Maple street will open ladies hair dressing parlors in the new Ferris block next week Tuesday, and will then be prepared to do shampooing, scalp treatment, manicuring and other branches to her taste. She has been giving considerable study to these several lines of work and is well equipped to perform them. She will have cozy and attractive parlors, up one flight of stairs and will endeavor to meet the requirements of the trade and the patron. Her parlors are centrally located and should be found a great accommodation to the ladies of South Manchester and vicinity.

LAUREL PARK OPENING.

The annual opening of Laurel Park will occur today and the management have planned a pleasing program for their patrons.

Hatch's full military band will give a concert, and Beaman and Hatch's orchestra will furnish music for the dancing. The band will also play for the round dances. In this way music and dancing will be continuous.

The park has been cleaned and placed in apple pie order for the opening.

Charles O. Treat of this place has the catering privilege, and as usual will provide for the needs of the public in that particular. The manager will be assisted by a number of English swans, West Indian coconuts and cranberries, Virginia deer, a tribe of monkeys, and a cassowary, or large bird of the tropic type. The concert will begin at 10 o'clock. Half hourly trains will be used on every trip in the afternoon.

Every effort will be made to furnish the best of facilities. Given fair weather, there will surely be a large outpouring of people from all directions hereabout.

ROSE TEMPERANCE.

Rev. Fred E. Britton, popularly known as Michigan's Prohibition Apostle, discussed the question of temperance on Dimock hill last Sunday afternoon for about one hour, and held the attention of a fairly large audience. The Salvation Army music was at that place and time to hold their regular meeting, and Mr. Britton was given the right of way for the afternoon.

He was introduced by E. L. G. Hoar, and after a vigorous argument in favor of gospel temperance, he held the attention of a fairly large audience, and whether one agreed with him or not, one could not help but admire his ability as a debater, and his magnetic and eloquent personality which he possesses. It seemed to be perfectly easy for him to speak outdoors, and he held the attention of a fairly large audience, and whether one agreed with him or not, one could not help but admire his ability as a debater, and his magnetic and eloquent personality which he possesses.

After explaining the meaning of gospel temperance and what it implied in its widest sense, he made an earnest plea for the prohibition party, and urged his listeners to vote for that party at the ballot box hereafter.

He designated the present party in control of the national government as a rym party, and classed all persons who are in sympathy with a rym party as being in collusion with the saloon.

He emphasized the importance of having preachers of the gospel introduce gospel temperance into their pulpits, and he urged a vigorous campaign by all preachers and others who do not vote for the prohibition party.

CHILDREN'S DAY PROGRAM.

The Children's Day program, "The Conquering Christ," prepared by Rev. J. A. Bidde, pastor of the South Methodist church of this place, is receiving much complimentary press notices, as can be seen by the following which we clip:

The Christian Advocate, N. Y., says of it: "Inspiring and stately, a splendid review of the victories of the Master, a thrilling look backward, and a triumphant look forward."

The Boston Herald, Boston, characterizes it as "vigilant, impressive and inspiring."

The Christian Student, New York, says it is "the best program ever issued by the Board."

The Epworth Herald, Chicago and New York call attention to the fact that the "Children's Day program is heard from after the bride and groom return. They are both very popular and have many friends here. The bride is a Sunday school teacher in St. Mary's church."

Had the members of the club known what their president was to do last Wednesday morning, they would have been on hand to bid him good speed and to take him in a good natured and pleasant way. In this they were outwitted, and the bride and groom had the laugh on the club. However, the club will have their smile coming down the pike later, and it is said that the man who laughs last is usually satisfied with his part of the play.

LADIES HAIR DRESSING PARLORS.

Miss C. J. McGinn of Maple street will open ladies hair dressing parlors in the new Ferris block next week Tuesday, and will then be prepared to do shampooing, scalp treatment, manicuring and other branches to her taste. She has been giving considerable study to these several lines of work and is well equipped to perform them. She will have cozy and attractive parlors, up one flight of stairs and will endeavor to meet the requirements of the trade and the patron. Her parlors are centrally located and should be found a great accommodation to the ladies of South Manchester and vicinity.

HOW TO SECURE A SITUATION

Is a question that confronts every boy and girl who must earn a living. In a short time many of the scholars from the Grammar and High Schools must think about going into business.

Huntbinger's Business College gives this training. The selection of a school for such training is important, as superior business training insures the best business success.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENT.

FIRST BANQUET OF THE YOUNG MEN'S LITERARY AND SOCIAL CLUB OF THE S. M. METHODIST CHURCH. A FINE SUCCESS.

Entertained Persons in Cheney Hall Who Took Part in Recent Production of "The Deedrick Skates" Beside a Few Invited Guests—Pleasant Social Time Enjoyed—Turkey Supper Under Supervision of William Raby Chief Feature—Short Addresses, Singing and Recitations Given.

The young men's literary and social club entertained those who took part in the recent performance of the Deedrick Skates, by giving a banquet in their honor at Cheney hall last Monday evening.

The feast was prepared under the direction of William Raby, a veteran in the business, who understands all the good points in the game thoroughly.

The party assembled in the upper hall while the preparations for the banquet were in progress downstairs.

Roast Turkey With Dressing, Lobster Salad, Chicken Salad, Potato Salad, Stuffed Ham.

Hot Coffee, Rolls, Fruit, Ice Cream, Assorted Cakes, Rev. T. J. Everett, pastor of the South Methodist Episcopal church presided at the banquet.

It was 10.30 o'clock by the time the exercises were concluded at the festive banquet, and then Toastmaster Everett invited the party to the upper hall where a literary and musical program was to be rendered.

William Raby, president of the club, presided at the banquet, and the following numbers: "Night," Fred Kendall and Noah C. Ingalls Solo, "The King of the Mains," Recitation, "The Inventor's Wife," Solo, "A Love Symphony," William Raby Solo, "A Son of the Desert Air,"

As an encore Mr. Raby recited "The Ball," Mr. Kendall sang as a second solo, "Happy Love Song." Mr. Nichols closed the exercises of the evening with a few remarks.

Timely humor has turned unpleasant thoughts of large excursions and a Congress House of Representatives and even Parliament into the most pleasant relations when they seemed entirely out of harmony.

Even sarcastic remarks thrown by an enemy lose their sharpness when met with a humorous reply. Every one has a strain of humor, then, as has been proven. The most conservative men make use of it. If it has not been generally known by the public, it is known and valued by their intimate friends and after their death it is given us by biographers and we find ourselves quoting their humorous sayings and thus keeping them alive among us.

Thus we see humor is a talent that we must cultivate as it will help us defeat trick Skates children, as young men are maidens out of and over many difficulties.

Miss Brainard closed with two verses of Felix G. Pryme's "It is as Easy to Smile as to Frown."

Robert Cadman pleaded for the amateur musician. He discerned this individual in the following who through everything he finds into his mouth, whether it is his own or that of the broom handle, and plays it a tune thereon.

He discovered the amateur musician in the barefooted and ragged urchin whose musical(?) voice and harmonious(?) yells bring terror to the nerves of many. He recognized him in the callow and love sick youth who sings the sweetest melody to the idol of his heart, and on down through the seven ages of man he traced the well known lines of the amateur musician.

He differentiated between the amateur musician and the professional. By describing the latter as one who devotes his entire time to playing the instrument, as his bread—if nothing more, there by, namely the organ grinder, and the average street musician, and the weight of his influence on the side of the amateur in preference to such professional.

He made an earnest plea for the amateur musician, that his playing be not overdone, but with praise for questionable performances, but rather that his character be pointed out to him in a friendly manner.

LADIES AUXILIARY.

FIRST AND SECOND DEGREES WORKED IN Full Regalia and According to the New Ritual.

At the regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H. held in Cheney hall last Tuesday the new degree team had for its candidates, as well as in some of their finer work on a class of victims, and in spite of the stormy weather made matters interesting for all concerned, and especially so for the candidates. That was the first time they worked those degrees under the new ritual, and with the handsome new regalia. The new work will add greatly to the interest of the meetings, and it is apt to increase the membership of the division as well. There is more of a glamour about it under the new ritual than heretofore. The general tendency of modern societies, and in some of the lodges, who understand all the date methods in initiations, and thus add to the attractiveness and interest of the work. The new regalia are certainly attractive, as well as quaint, and have a flavor of the ancient which is charming.

When the degree team becomes more proficient in the new ritual work, the members of the A. O. H. will be permitted to witness the conferring of the first and second degrees.

Whether the men will ever be permitted to pass the portals when the third and fourth degrees are to be exemplified, is a question which we will not attempt to answer at this writing. Perhaps the wisdom of future ages may bring back a suitable reply. For the present we must maintain a sphinx like silence on this important topic.

Tickets for the strawberry festival and dance which the Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H. are to give in Cheney hall on Thursday evening, June 13th, will be placed in the hands of the members last Tuesday evening and are now being sold.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Presented With Gold Ring Set With Opals and Pearls, as Well as Other Gifts.

About forty of the young friends of Miss Nellie Cadman assembled at her residence on Pine View Hill last Wednesday evening, to help celebrate her sixteenth birthday. They brought her a handsome gold ring set with opals and pearls also opened a music box.

These articles were contributed by her young friends, and the presentation speech was made by William Sault. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cakes and confections were served.

Miss Nellie Cadman was served a present which was a great fun producer. This was won by Mantle Ferris and Miss Annie Cadman. Several hands of whist were played. Mr. Sault favored with a recitation and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Taken as a whole it was a most enjoyable event and all the young people will remember it with pleasure. Miss Cadman was delighted with the unexpected generosity of her young friends and prizes their gifts very highly.

HIGH SCHOOL BASE BALL.

The Williamantic High school base ball team will play a game of base ball with the South Manchester high school team this forenoon at 10.30 o'clock, on the Nubo grounds, for which an admission fee of ten cents will be charged. Members of the local high school will attend the game bearing flags of red and white, the high school colors, and the several classes will wear their class colors. They will be on hand to cheer and encourage the South Manchester high school players, and urge them to victory. The public are cordially invited to attend the game and give the High school boys a royal welcome. It is expected that good ball will be played.

VEITCH IS PLAYING BALL.

The many friends of James R. Veitch of Wesleyan University will be pleased to learn hereby that by playing successful ball on the Wesleyan nine, as can be seen by the following press notice which we find in the Middletown Tribune of last Monday:

Wesleyan defeated West Point Saturday at West Point in a brilliant game by the score of 8 to 6. Two earned runs in the ninth won the game for the Wesleyan boys. Veitch's batting was the feature of the game.

Veitch received his first base ball lessons in South Manchester, which place he is still proud to call his home.

SMALL POX AGAIN.

FOUR FULLY DEVELOPED CASES AND TEN PERSONS QUARANTINED.

Eighteen Persons Are Known to Have Been Exposed—Stringent Measures Called For to Prevent Further Spread of the Vile and Highly Contagious Disease.

After a lapse of three months, small pox has again made its appearance in this town, and there are now known to be at least four patients suffering with the foul and highly dangerous and contagious disease. They are as follows: Miss Gertrude Abbey and her father, Frank Abbey, and Mrs. Ernest Bush, all of Charter Oak Street corner of Spruce, and Miss Ethel M. Brainard of Broadland place.

Both houses are quarantined and guards are placed there to see to it that the quarantine be strictly maintained. Dr. W. P. S. Keating is in charge of the patients.

They are kept in their respective homes for the present, because of the fact that Mrs. Bush and Miss Brainard are so ill that their removal is considered to be unadvisable at present.

As soon as they recover sufficiently, in the judgment of their physician, to warrant it, they will all take to the isolation house. Meanwhile every known precaution will be employed to protect the public.

The officials are at more or less of a disadvantage in trying to cope with the present cases, because of the fact that it is not practicable now to group them in one building outside of the thickly settled portions of the community.

The experience gained last winter in fighting the scourge, will serve considerably at this time, and, unless the exposure has been too great, the authorities should be able to confine the contagion within a limited area.

In as far as can be traced at the present time, eighteen persons have been exposed.

There is this advantage however at the present time. Many persons were vaccinated last winter, and therefore are more or less immune from attack. Furthermore, persons who were not vaccinated last winter, are more aware of the importance of this timely precaution, and are being vaccinated now.

It seems to take a great deal to fully awake the public as a whole to an impending danger, but it is formidable as it may. The present case is a striking instance of this undeniable fact.

It is quite suggestive that the four persons who are now suffering with small pox here, were not vaccinated last winter.

Mr. Abbey is an anti-vaccinationist, and refused to be vaccinated himself, or to allow any members of his family to take this great, and generally acknowledged precaution.

In the Abbey house the following persons are quarantined: Gertrude Abbey, her father and mother, Mrs. Ernest Bush and her husband, and Miss Flora Ufford. The three latter are tenants.

In the Brainard house all taken to the M. Brainard, Mrs. Brainard and Miss Adelaide and Miss Clara. The latter is a freshman in the South Manchester High school.

We are informed that Mr. Abbey stoutly protests that he has no small pox, and that there is not any of that disease in his household.

The physicians however, differ from Mr. Abbey's opinion, and believe that the disease is small pox, has been so diagnosed, and will be treated accordingly.

Miss Gertrude Abbey has been more or less ill for three weeks, and Doctor Moore attended her. Last Monday Doctor Weldon was called in and found evidence that aroused his suspicions as to small pox being there. He communicated his opinion to the authorities, and a consultation of doctors was called, including Health Officer, M. S. Bradley, M. D., Doctor Charles Stern of Hartford, and Doctor T. H. Weldon of this place.

These gentlemen agreed unanimously that the disease was small pox.

Doctor Stern has had considerable experience with small pox in Cuba, and is an acknowledged authority on the disease.

He was brought here by Selectman Watkins in order that there might be no doubt as to the character of the disease. Luckily for the town Dr. W. P. S. Keating was induced to give his services for this undesirable task. He is employing every known precaution to protect the public. On entering either of the infected houses, he puts on a specially made robe which covers him all over, and uses all known disinfectants to kill the disease. Before leaving one house to reach the other he employs aseptic solutions to safeguard the public, and to disinfect his person as much as possible.

We learn that the rash is out to a
