has made history. It started with three pupils and now has an actual attendance of over 500. It started with two teachers; now it employs eight. It started with two small rooms; now it occupies three floors. It is not in the nature of things to have Huntsinger's stand still—it is intensely progressive. It has trained over 6,000 people to take care of themselves and placed over 1,000 graduates in situations in sixty-eight months. If you are interested, send for Booklet 17. Read my next adv. E. M. ON TO DENVER.

Trip to Niagara Falls and the Rocky Mountains—National Assembly of Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H. Mrs. Eleanor McCann of this place, state president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H. in Connecticut, left town last Wednesday afternoon for New York, accompanied by Miss Mary E. O'Donnell of Meriden, state treasurer of the order. They go to attend the National Assembly of that body in Denver, Colorado, which will open next week Tuesday and continue in session at least one week. There is much important business to come before the meeting, and it is not known at this writing whether it can all be disposed of in one week or not. Yesterday they left the Pennsylvania station of the Lehigh Valley Railroad in Jersey City for Niagara Falls, where they will spend all day today seeing the sights. They will be joined by the other New England delegations and tonight at 10 o'clock will set forth for Chicago. At the Windy City a special train will be made up exclusively of delegates to the convention. The trip will be arranged so as to give them as much daylight as possible in passing through the Rocky Mountain region, so that they may have a good opportunity to view the wonders of nature in those majestic mountains and their vicinity. They expect to arrive in Denver at 4 p. m. Sunday and will establish their headquarters at the Albany hotel, where all communications may be addressed to them.

On their arrival in Denver they will be met by a committee of the Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H., who will have a band of music, escort them about the city, and show them the beauties of that attractive metropolis near the Rocky Mountains. On Tuesday the meeting will be opened by the mayor of the city, who will deliver the address of welcome, and will also present the Governor of the State of Colorado, who is booked for an address. Members of the order from all parts of the United States will be present at this National Assembly. It will be the most important gathering of the ladies of that order that has ever assembled in the world. It will make history for the organization.

We are glad to record the fact that South Manchester has been represented in that body. Mrs. McCann has been state president of the order since it first formed a state organization in Connecticut, and has filled the office to the satisfaction of the members. Her deliberate manner and executive ability, coupled with sound judgment, and a capacity for work have rendered her services of inestimable value to the order.

Her many friends here sincerely trust that she may have an enjoyable time during her tour to the land of many majestic mountains and much gold and other valuable metals, and that she may return to the land of steady habits rich in acquired knowledge and experience, and full of bodily and mental vigor to continue the good work in which she is engaged.

ANOTHER OPERATION.

Ralph Watkins, son of Selectman and Mrs. Watkins had a second operation performed upon him at the Hartford hospital last Monday, and for about two days his life seemed to tremble in its balance. He had as close a call for his life as was possible, and not succumb. His fine physical condition served him royally in this case and landed him on what is now deemed to be safe ground. He has a long and painful road to travel yet before full recovery, but his parents and relatives are full of hope that he will surmount all the difficulties which beset him. A gland in the lower part of the groin on the left, became inflamed, and generated pus, which had to be removed, necessitating the second operation. It will be remembered that he underwent an operation for appendicitis a few weeks ago and came through all right. That wound had to be reopened in order to carry out the second operation.

FORESTERS' HO!

An important meeting of Court Manchester Foresters of America will be held in Masonic hall this Friday evening, at which officers will be installed and other matters of an urgent nature will be attended to. The meeting is known as a memorial meeting for non-attendance at which a fine of 25 cents is allowed by the laws of the order. This will be the first meeting in Masonic hall since the change of location, went into effect. It is expected that there will be a large turnout of Foresters tonight.

WOODHOUSE PLACE SOLD.

The Charles S. Woodhouse place on Spruce street was sold at auction by John M. Williams, auctioneer, yesterday afternoon. E. O. Brown was the purchaser, and the sum paid was $4,500. The property consists of four houses and about three quarters of an acre of land. There is one 2-story house, one 1 1/2-story house and two single houses in the group. The property was appraised at $5,000.

GEORGE W. SMITH, NEW CHENEY BLOCK, SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN.

IS AT DEERCLIFF.

William J. White, who for the past three years has served here as superintendent of the hackney farm for H. O. Cheney, has been ordered to leave the place before the end of the year. He moved his family away from here July first, after working out a four-weeks' notice for the Messrs Cheney. The Rlys are located at Deercliff, Conn. where they have a summer residence in the mountains near Avon, and Mr. White and his family are with them. He has secured a good situation and his many friends here will be pleased to learn that he is doing so well. He is succeeded at the hackney farm by Will Carr of this place, who formerly held the position.

SALVATION ARMY NOTES.

Eugene Taylor informs The News this morning that he has just received orders from headquarters commanding the order previously given directing his removal to Providence, R. I., and that he is now commanded to remain in South Manchester for another period. This all probability means that he may not leave before perhaps the end of the year. General change among Salvation Army officers do not occur often than twice a year, as a rule. Therefore it is reasonable to suppose that he and Mrs. Taylor and their family will be with us for the next six months, at least. The rank and file of the local corps are delighted with this new order, as they are well pleased with the services being rendered and the motto "Labor Omnia Vincit." Having this motto constantly in mind they purport to labor for their own enlightenment and advancement, and will struggle by constant application along the lines laid down above, to fit themselves for better and more exalted and exciting positions in life. If they only persevere to the end they cannot fail. There is no possible chance for failure in his matter, where faithfulness, industry, energy and intelligence are applied.

"THE MINERVA CLUB."

Under the above caption a number of boys and girls have banded themselves together here for the purpose of study, recreation and sociability. They meet once a week at the residence of a member, and for the present study under the tuition of Miss Ruth Ruddle, who is a Normal student. They have readings, recitations, grammar and spelling lessons, and thus spend an hour at each meeting in profitable employment. They intend to keep the organization together, and have adopted the ancient but truthful and encouraging motto "Labor Omnia Vincit." Having this motto constantly in mind they purport to labor for their own enlightenment and advancement, and will struggle by constant application along the lines laid down above, to fit themselves for better and more exalted and exciting positions in life. If they only persevere to the end they cannot fail. There is no possible chance for failure in his matter, where faithfulness, industry, energy and intelligence are applied.

PROHIBITION ALLIANCE.

A public meeting will be held by Manchester Prohibition Alliance, No. 3, at Dimock hill grove on Main street, Monday evening, July 14th. A short program will be given by local talent consisting of music, vocal and instrumental, interspersed by short speeches. Everybody is invited to come. Should stormy weather prevail, the meeting will be held at the home of Frank Ladd, instead of at the grove. Mrs. E. Holmstead, Sec.

SWEDISH SUMMER SCHOOL.

A school for the children of the Swedish Lutheran church was opened in the church parlors last Monday. Daily sessions will be held during the summer, and the pupils will be taught the common branches in the Swedish language, also Swedish Bible history and catechism. August Pearson, a student from Upsala College, Orange, N. J., is the instructor. The pupils are separated into two divisions, and one attends school during the morning, and the other at the afternoon sessions. This school consists of sixty pupils. This method of conducting a summer school for instruction in the Swedish tongue has been in vogue here for several years, and has been well patronized at all times, and proves highly successful and satisfactory to all concerned. Those receiving tuition pay the expenses of the school. The schoolroom is furnished free.

GIVING AWAY COFFEE.

In our advertising columns Aaron Johnson calls your attention to the fact that he is giving away coffee, and mentions the conditions under which you may be a partaker in the benefits of the plan. This offer will stand good only until tomorrow night when it will be withdrawn. This is done in order to introduce a new blend, for which Mr. Johnson is sole agent for Manchester and vicinity. A half pound of coffee secured free is certainly as good as a half pound of the same grade for which you pay your coin. Enter with the throng and get yours.

CARD THANKS.

I wish to heartily express my sincere thanks to the kind neighbors and friends who so cheerfully assisted me during the illness and at the death of my dear son, Paul Frederick, and would also recognize the kindly offices of the King's Daughters, in his hour of sorrow. Mrs. LOUIS SCHENDEL.

Isaac Proctor's closing out sale of shoes is still on and this week he is offering attractive prices on shoes for women, and milners, as can be seen by his advertisement on page one of this paper.

STRIKE NUMBER TWO.

WEAVERS ARE OUT ON STRIKE AGAIN—LOOMS BROUGHT TO A STANDSTILL YESTERDAY MORNING AT NINE O'CLOCK.

The two-loom bugaboo comes to the surface once more—Men Given Choice to Either Operate the Velvet Looms or Accept Discharge—Result of Conference of Strikers' Committee and Cheney Brothers. It is with feelings of regret that we find it incumbent upon us to chronicle the fact that there is another strike of velvet weavers in this place, and that it will involve the entire velvet department, as all the weavers left in a body yesterday morning at nine o'clock. The two-loom bugaboo has been resurrected, and for the second time caused labor troubles in our pretty village, the end of which no man can foresee. It will be only a matter of a few days when all the allied branches which cooperate with the velvet weaving will be caught up, and then, in all probability there will be some 700 persons displaced. Many will be forced out with out any action of their own, simply because there will be no work for them to do. We had hoped and believed that the so-called two-loom system would not be introduced here again, at least for the present, and, in as far as we can learn, this was the hope, the belief, and the expectation of the majority of the business people, as well as others here. The first strike began Tuesday morning, March 25th, and closed Wednesday morning, May 14th. Strikers number two began Thursday morning, July 17th, and the Lord alone knows when it will end. The operatives had been at work just nine weeks when strike number two began. Many had not yet recovered from the financial set-back caused by the first trouble. We learn that all who went out voluntarily on strike, are discharged, and will not be restored to their jobs. In nearly all instances they have called for their time and received their pay. This means that they are through. Alexander Trotter, Arthur Swanson and Charles Johnson, who were sworn in as loom fixers, were asked on Tuesday to operate two looms each. They stated that individually as loom fixers, it did not make any difference to them what they did, as long as they received their regular day's pay, but that as the entire body of velvet weavers resolutely opposed testing the two-loom system, they would not undertake the task and bring down the opprobrium of their fellow workmen on their heads. They were informed that they could take their choice, either to operate two looms each, or accept their discharge. They promptly accepted the latter and were discharged forthwith. On Wednesday Edward Pollard, Fred Bunell, William McHale and George Mandock all velvet weavers, were asked to operate two looms each, and all refused. They too were discharged. All these men were active in the late strike, and were recognized, more or less, as leaders. Story meetings of velvet weavers were held in the Town hall on Tuesday and on Wednesday evenings, to discuss the situation. At the Tuesday evening meeting the shop committee was authorized to consult the heads of the firm, and see if the matter could be adjusted. The following velvet weavers comprise that committee: John F. Gray, chairman, David Seaco, Arthur Brown, Nelson, John Roselle, Oscar Lind and Edward Newell. At 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, these men presented themselves at Cheney Brothers office and asked an audience with the firm. Their request was granted and the following members of the firm were present: Frank W. Cheney, John S. Cheney, Harry G. Cheney and Frank Cheney Jr. The committee stated that they were authorized to ask that the men who had been discharged be reinstated, and that the two-loom system, so-called, be abolished, in as far as asking the body of velvet weavers then in Cheney Brothers employ to operate such two looms was concerned. Replying to the committee Harry G. Cheney stated in substance that the request was plump and plain. Frank W. Cheney answered in part that it was more a matter of principle with Cheney Brothers than the experiment of operating two looms, that it was the men's privilege to strike if they saw fit, that the firm could get along without the profit made upon the labor of the weavers better than the weavers could get along without their earnings. He expressed the belief that the velvet weavers generally did not share the opinions of the committee, that they would not back them up, and, (Continued on Page 1.)

SPECIAL!

This afternoon the velvet finishers were called out by the velvet weavers and responded to the invitation, joining the strikers. We are informed that about forty velvet finishers are in the party and that there are about seven left.

GOING IT ALONE.

Benson & Keith Well Known Furniture Dealers Disappear—Mr. Benson is Employee of Mr. Keith—Remarkable Progress of Young Firm. By mutual consent the partnership heretofore existing between Messrs. Benson & Keith, the well known furniture dealers, has been dissolved, and George E. Keith, the junior member, assumes the entire business alone. Mr. Benson continues in Mr. Keith's employ. The business relations between these gentlemen have been of the most cordial kind, as is evidenced by the fact that Mr. Benson continues to work there. The firm was organized in Oct. 1899, and began business in the Stancher building on Eldridge street in a very modest way. By hard work, perseverance, good management, and giving the closest personal attention to the details of their business they pushed manfully and determinedly forward, making rapid strides, until today the store is a large one, and takes rank among the best business houses in town. Messrs. Benson & Keith are entitled to a great deal of credit for the manner in which they have pushed to the front, in such a comparatively short period of time. Mr. Benson has taken the agency for a line of pianos, which he will sell as a side line, and keep samples at his residence. Mr. Keith is in New York and Philadelphia this week on a business tour. He was in Boston last week and is making preparations for an active business.

APPOINTED MAIL CARRIER.

Henry Keeney has been appointed as mail carrier for the free rural delivery system which is to be introduced at the South Manchester post office August first, two weeks from today. It starts on Friday. Henry is a good man for the business. He is a native of this town, is well acquainted, is a faithful and intelligent man and no doubt will fill the bill to the satisfaction of Uncle Sam, and also of all the people along the route. Particulars of the system and routes have been published in these columns.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Trampwaymen's Mutual Benefit Association met at their club rooms last Monday evening and re-elected as officers the men who served them so faithfully last year. They are as follows: Henry Simmons, president; Henry Bissell, vice president; Samuel Gordon, recording secretary; Lawrence J. O'Dowd, financial secretary; Carl Brink, treasurer. These officers will be duly installed at their next meeting, which will occur on the second Monday of August. On that occasion the Trampwaymen will make merry. They will have a banquet, entertain the officers of the H. M. & E. Trampway Company, together with a few invited guests, and will, as usual, make the occasion of a very pleasant and enjoyable gathering. There is considerable talent among the Trampwaymen and they are never short of material for furnishing an entertaining program.

MRS. AND MR. BUSH RELEASED.

Mrs. Ernest Bush is entirely cured of small pox, and is at her home on Spruce street corner of Charter Oak, in the Frank Abbey tenement. Her husband, who nursed her faithfully through the trying ordeal, has also been released. It is believed that it will be about three weeks yet before Miss Ethel M. Brainard can be set free. Her case was the worst, and a longer period is required to restore her to perfect health.

STRIKE SETTLED.

Last Monday morning through a misunderstanding the thirteen painters then employed by A. Hausman, the Charter Oak street painter and decorator, quit work, because Mr. Hausman put on a man who was not a member of the local painters union. It was subsequently learned that the man was willing to enter the union, and as a matter of fact had paid his initiation fee. When the necessary explanations were made the matter was adjusted in a manner agreeable to all concerned, and this morning the men returned to their work. Mr. Hausman has plenty of business and will keep the boys heading right along. He put on 19 men today.

STRIKE NUMBER TWO.

that if the order to strike should be given the men would desert the committee.

John S. Cheney is reported to have advised that the graving would be permitted to grow on Elm street before Cheney Brothers would give in to the strikers.

At the meeting of the velvet weavers held on Wednesday evening the committee reported the interview they had with members of the firm of Cheney Brothers, and the velvet weavers voted to strike at nine o'clock on Thursday morning, unless Cheney Brothers receded from the position they had taken on Wednesday, and complied with the terms asked for by the velvet weavers Wednesday morning.

The committee was authorized to see Cheney Brothers on Thursday morning and make the report, as stated above.

This did so, were granted an audience, and at the meeting held on Thursday morning Frank W. Cheney, Harry G. Cheney, John S. Cheney, Frank Cheney Jr., Robert Cheney and James W. Cheney were present.

The committee stated their business briefly, as named above, and their request was denied. The interview was short.

The committee went to the mills, passed the work along the line and promptly on the strike of nine, by the mill clock, every velvet loom was stopped, and the entire body of weavers marched out of the mill, mostly all of them bringing their own tools.

They formed in procession and marched through Forest street to Main up Main to the Town hall, where a meeting was held at 8 o'clock.

The above statement regarding the meeting of the committee with Cheney Brothers, and the statements made were brought to the office of John P. Clay, chairman of the committee.

Last evening, at about 8:30 o'clock, the striking velvet weavers formed in procession on Main street in the vicinity of the post office, and with drum, horns, red fire, hooks and yellow march down Main street to Hartford road.

The residence of Superintendent R. J. Mooney, on the corner of Main and Hartford roads, was the first to be reached, and the strikers, who were led by John P. Clay, and followed by a large number of strikers, entered the residence, and blew their horns and raised pandemonium generally, remaining there for perhaps ten minutes. The lights were extinguished, and the strikers, with the exception of one in a northwest chamber, front, where a female stood in the window, complacently viewing the scene below.

Some boys in the gathering threw stones on the veranda of the residence of Superintendent Mooney, but in as far as we know did no special harm.

The procession moved on to the residence of Mr. May, and paid their compliments to him.

Returning, they marched back to Main street and started down South Main to the residence of a workman who has fallen from favor with the weavers, but at the urgent request of Clifford Cheney and David Cheney they did not carry out that part of the program. They then quietly dispersed.

There is always that danger attending demonstrations of this kind, that some person, or persons will perform some overt act which will bring the strikers into disrepute.

It is very much better not to have exhibitions of that sort.

The strike is a good purpose and may be maintained to the satisfaction.

While the crowd was grouped at the Mommer's residence Colonel Frank W. Cheney stepped into their midst and endeavored to disperse them, but his efforts were of no avail, and some of the younger members of the Cheney drew him aside and away from the throng.

The numbers of men, women and children that took part in the strike were estimated at 100.

It was fortunate that nothing more serious occurred and we trust that a display of this kind may not be repeated.

At some time, at some other will come.

STRIKE NUMBER TWO.

that if the order to strike should be given the men would desert the committee.

John S. Cheney is reported to have advised that the graving would be permitted to grow on Elm street before Cheney Brothers would give in to the strikers.

At the meeting of the velvet weavers held on Wednesday evening the committee reported the interview they had with members of the firm of Cheney Brothers, and the velvet weavers voted to strike at nine o'clock on Thursday morning, unless Cheney Brothers receded from the position they had taken on Wednesday, and complied with the terms asked for by the velvet weavers Wednesday morning.

The committee was authorized to see Cheney Brothers on Thursday morning and make the report, as stated above.

This did so, were granted an audience, and at the meeting held on Thursday morning Frank W. Cheney, Harry G. Cheney, John S. Cheney, Frank Cheney Jr., Robert Cheney and James W. Cheney were present.

The committee stated their business briefly, as named above, and their request was denied. The interview was short.

The committee went to the mills, passed the work along the line and promptly on the strike of nine, by the mill clock, every velvet loom was stopped, and the entire body of weavers marched out of the mill, mostly all of them bringing their own tools.

They formed in procession and marched through Forest street to Main up Main to the Town hall, where a meeting was held at 8 o'clock.

The above statement regarding the meeting of the committee with Cheney Brothers, and the statements made were brought to the office of John P. Clay, chairman of the committee.

Last evening, at about 8:30 o'clock, the striking velvet weavers formed in procession on Main street in the vicinity of the post office, and with drum, horns, red fire, hooks and yellow march down Main street to Hartford road.

The residence of Superintendent R. J. Mooney, on the corner of Main and Hartford roads, was the first to be reached, and the strikers, who were led by John P. Clay, and followed by a large number of strikers, entered the residence, and blew their horns and raised pandemonium generally, remaining there for perhaps ten minutes. The lights were extinguished, and the strikers, with the exception of one in a northwest chamber, front, where a female stood in the window, complacently viewing the scene below.

Some boys in the gathering threw stones on the veranda of the residence of Superintendent Mooney, but in as far as we know did no special harm.

The procession moved on to the residence of Mr. May, and paid their compliments to him.

Returning, they marched back to Main street and started down South Main to the residence of a workman who has fallen from favor with the weavers, but at the urgent request of Clifford Cheney and David Cheney they did not carry out that part of the program. They then quietly dispersed.

There is always that danger attending demonstrations of this kind, that some person, or persons will perform some overt act which will bring the strikers into disrepute.

It is very much better not to have exhibitions of that sort.

The strike is a good purpose and may be maintained to the satisfaction.

While the crowd was grouped at the Mommer's residence Colonel Frank W. Cheney stepped into their midst and endeavored to disperse them, but his efforts were of no avail, and some of the younger members of the Cheney drew him aside and away from the throng.

The numbers of men, women and children that took part in the strike were estimated at 100.

It was fortunate that nothing more serious occurred and we trust that a display of this kind may not be repeated.

At some time, at some other will come.

Or at the most fair and most dear.

And as she fills up her heart and her home.

I wish him that day, all days the most.

But that sweetest heart is here - her's my heart.

SOCIETY IS PLEASED.

St. James Ambassador and His Wife, and a Social Welcoming at Washington.

Usual interest is manifested in diplomatic official and social circles of Washington in the prospective arrival of the new British ambassador, Mr. Michael Henry Herbert, and his American wife, the daughter of Mr. Richard T. Wilson, of New York.

It is not yet definitely known when they will arrive here and take possession of the embassy on Connecticut avenue, but the impression prevails that they will arrive here in a few days.

If you are among that number say nothing but get to work and walk. Take a walk every day, give up your street car habit unless you have some real riding to do or time is an object, and every day walk a little farther.

An excellent time to exercise and if you do not find walking agreeable you then take to the gymnasium.

USEFUL TOILET DEVICE.

It Enables Madam or Miss to View the Back of Her Head as the Twists Her Hair.

No newer little convenience has been designed whereby lovely woman may view the back of her head as she twists and loops her hair into a modicum of coiffure.

This device leaves both hands perfectly free for the putting of the hair pompadour and gathering all stray locks into a very neat twist, while the effect of the front as well as the back may be seen by the aid of the double mirror—a decided advantage when one has no maid to rely upon.

When treating the face the mirror is also an excellent accessory. By standing at the window sill or casing, the best possible light is thrown on the skin, so that blemishes and disfigurements are clearly shown up.

Altogether, this adjustable mirror will be found decidedly useful among my lady's up-to-date toilet articles.

Since a woman's hair is so important a part of her personal adornment, it is not surprising that she should be so particular in its treatment.

The Standard Business and Shorthand Courses of The Huntsinger College.

Have Stood the severest test in the business offices for fourteen years for over 6,000 students who attended the school. This training is a stepping-stone to business success.

The real difference in schools is the actual difference in the course of training, and the thoroughness of the teaching, and NOT THE FURNITURE. We do the best work, tell the white truth about it, stand or fall by the training we give. Our discipline promotes the best interests of all the pupils, and eight teachers give individual instruction adapted to the needs of each student.

This is the only school of Hartford teaching ACTUAL BUSINESS PRACTICE FROM START TO FINISH. Our attendance is always more than twice as large as that of any other business school of Hartford. Passenger elevator. No text-books to buy. One entire floor full of roll-top office desks for students. First-class typewriting machines. Call or write for new "Journal." Mr. Huntsinger is in his office daily to see callers. Read my next ad.

OCEAN BEACH SELECTED.

Manchester Business Men's Association and their Families, Their Clerks and Friends Will Go on an Excursion to New London and Ocean Beach Thursday, July 24th.

The committee appointed by the Manchester Business Men's Association to select a place for the excursion of that body, have chosen Ocean Beach for that purpose, a place located on the coast near New London, and on Thursday of next week, July 24th, will go there with their wives, their families, their clerks and such guests as they see fit to invite. The special train will leave Manchester for New London as early as 7 o'clock in the morning as the railroad company choose to make it, so as not to conflict with the regular train. On the return trip the special train will leave New London at 6 p. m. The number of tickets is limited to 400. The price for round trip tickets for adults is $1.45; for children 75 cents. These tickets can be purchased from members of the committee, or at F. W. Miller's store. Persons wishing to go to Ocean Beach by boat can do so, as the steamer Gray leaves New London at that point at 9.30 a. m. and the fare is ten cents each way.

The round trip tickets do not include anything but the steam-railway transportation.

Ocean Beach can be reached by trolley from New London, cars running every ten minutes. If necessary, special trolley cars will be provided. The trolley fare is but five cents.

Shore dinner tickets will be issued and can also be procured from the committee. These are 75 cents each. The committee request persons wishing shore dinner tickets give orders for same to the committee early, so that they may notify the proprietor of the hotel at Ocean Beach as to the number of guests the party will bring him. It can readily be seen that if say two or three hundred guests were to suddenly make their appearance at the hotel for a shore dinner, without having previously notified the proprietor of their coming, it would be impossible to accommodate them with only the regular force of cooks and waiters.

The committee had dinner there last week and assure us that the fare furnished is of a superior grade, and everything is neat, clean and attractive, and that while the price is somewhat in advance of the ordinary shore dinner, so called, it is well worth what it costs. The best Gray will carry the party to Ocean Beach and Norwich, stopping at intermediate points.

The special tickets now on sale will be exchanged on the train for regular tickets.

The committee report that there is a good beach there, excellent facilities for bathing, and that taken altogether Ocean Beach is a delightful place for an outing.

A game of ball will be arranged between sides selected from the association. F. T. Blish and F. E. Watkins are the committee on sports, and persons wishing to secure a position on the nine should report to these gentlemen forthwith.

It is expected that the business places in town will be closed all day next week Thursday, so that clerks as well as proprietors may go out and enjoy themselves.

APPENDIX REMOVED.

Last Monday Principal F. A. Verplank went to Dr. Taff's sanitarium in Hartford and was operated upon for appendicitis. The operation was successful, the appendix was found to be inflamed and was removed, and Mr. Verplank is getting along quite comfortably. He had a slight attack a few days ago and on Saturday morning, after returning from a trip to Saratoga, he found that he was being troubled again. On consultation with Dr. M. S. Bradley it was decided to have the operation performed at once. It is expected that he will be about again in about two weeks. The case was taken in time and no serious consequences are now anticipated.

DEATH OF JOHN MITCHELL.

John Mitchell, who resided west of Keeney street, just over the Glastonbury line, died last Monday morning from a complication of diseases. He was 73 years of age. He had been feeble for some time. His funeral took place yesterday afternoon. Burial was in the East cemetery. He leaves three sons, John Herbert and William, and a daughter, Mrs. Willard Perkins. He made his home with his son Herbert. His wife died a number of years ago. His residence in Glastonbury the greater part of his life and was a farmer by occupation.

WRINGING FOR WATER POWER.

Work was started last Tuesday on the placing of feed wires from the power house over north to Chesney Brothers mills in this place. Poles and overhead wires will be used. It is considerable a piece of work. When completed Chesney Brothers will for the first time get the benefit of the splendid water power of the Union mill property which they purchased some months since. They have erected one of the most complete power houses in the country, have made fine arrangements to carry the water, a substantial dam which should last for ages, and all needed appliances for the great mechanical convulsion. This will reduce their coal bills materially and give them power much cheaper than before.

GARDY OF THANKS.

I wish to hereby tender my sincere thanks to my neighbors and friends for their many kindly acts during the illness of Mrs. Oliver L. Wickes. His illness and the death of my dear husband, Ludwig Borowski, and would mention in an especial manner the shopkeepers and others who presented such an abundance of lovely flowers.

Mrs. Ludwig Borowski.

Miss To-morrow A Dialogue of To-day

By J. A. FLYNN.

"I SHOULD'NT try to write any more, dear. If I were you, I'd give up the pen for good. You'll feel better to-morrow." I was still weak after my illness. "I must do something," I protested. "Go to sleep and dream of a new character," said she, shaking up the pillows. "I shall be pleased to see your wife went out, and I lay watching the cut flowers on the lampshade, and thinking of nothing in particular, and then I went to sleep. I woke up at the soft rustle of a dress, and saw a girl with a willfully curved mouth, and big, dark eyes, leaning back in the easy-chair and smiling at me. It was obvious that she was one of my heroines, because they always have willful mouths, and dark eyes—and smile."

"Good evening," I said. "Er—my wife will be in shortly. I thought I best to avoid any misunderstanding. You see, my heroines are rather inclined to be sentimental."

"Good evening," she replied, in the low, rich voice which my heroines always have. "I shall be pleased to see your wife went out, and I lay watching the cut flowers on the lampshade, and thinking of nothing in particular, and then I went to sleep. I woke up at the soft rustle of a dress, and saw a girl with a willfully curved mouth, and big, dark eyes, leaning back in the easy-chair and smiling at me. It was obvious that she was one of my heroines, because they always have willful mouths, and dark eyes—and smile."

"I suppose," I said thoughtfully, "the fault is in Miss To-day?"

"She stamped her foot. 'I won't have you run down my sister. She has quite enough to put up with, with things going wrong in the absurd way they do. The fault isn't in us at all.'"

"I don't you?" said she, with surprise. "Why, it's because—well, I have a son about it, so, if you don't mind, I'll sing."

Beyond the duty road afar
Hope sees a fertile plain
Beyond the ways that start there are
The ways that start there are
Beyond the sun the skies;
Beyond the skies there stand
With merriness in her eyes.

Suppose the road should never end,
The ways should never part to land;
Suppose the stars should radiantly
It would never, never
I to leave our fancies will
I know my heart and was silent, because of many fancies in the past.

"Some of them came true," she said softly.

"Real many of the best?"

"Ah!" She leaped forward eagerly. "That is just it. They can't all come true. They are too many things to do."

"I see. I ought to make you plain and simple. I'll try to live up to it."

"Very well, my little Miss To-morrow," I said. "I will; but I hope that you will be more satisfactory than has been lately."

"She shook her head and laughed. 'Now,' she said, 'for just once, I'll give you a genuine forecast.' She stooped and gave me a quick little kiss that made my heart leap and my veins tingle."

"You'll be better to-morrow," she cried.

"I woke with a start, and found my wife bending over me—Black and White."

"I wonder," I said, indignantly,

BUSINESS MEN'S OUTING.

TRIP TO OCEAN BEACH YESTERDAY BY WAY OF NEW LONDON.—SHORE DINER, BASE BALL GAME AND A GENERAL JOLLY TIME.

Places of Business Closed and Town Seemed Practically Deserted in the Business Sections.—Everything Passed off Pleasantly and Successfully.—Tickets Enough Sold to Cover Guarantee.

The first outing of the Manchester Business Men's Association took place yesterday, the destination being Ocean Beach, a shore resort a short distance below New London. Four cars were furnished and a special train carried the party from Manchester to New London, going by the way of Williamantic. On reaching New London some of the excursionists went to Ocean Beach by trolley and others by boat. There were 300 persons in the party, which covered the guarantee the committee had made to the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Company, for $318. There were a number of ladies and some children in the party.

A baseball game in the forenoon between the business men and their clerks was the feature of the day and was won by the business men with a score of 9 to 2. Following was the lineup:

Clerks, Gordon, pitcher; McGuire, catcher; Dwyer, short stop; Gorman, first base; Strandahl, second base; Burke, third base; Grant, right field; Gould, center field; Spruth, left field. Six innings played and the way that the business men walloped the boys was exasperating.

The feature of the game was the splendid record made by Ward Grant in the matter of errors. Ward bagged 11 nice ones and has a beautiful string of them to show as a souvenir of the game and occasion.

For a man of limited experience in base ball playing, they say that Will, Burke was a good second Ward Grant. Both made some lovely wild throws and it is to be inferred that the clerks had all the glory in the making of errors. While they made a good average, the business men were not wholly behind the times in this particular.

The boys are now anxious to play the business men a return game, same to take place at Hollister park some Thursday afternoon. They think that they can even up the honors, and give their seniors a better run for their money next time.

There were no accidents throughout the day. The weather was delightful. The afternoon was particularly pleasant and quite hot. A good number took a dip in the sea. A shore dinner was served. A number went in a launch and inspected the United States Battleship, Indiana, that was anchored in the offing about two miles from port. The party reached home about 7 o'clock.

JURORS SELECTED.

The jury commissioners, Frank C. Sumner of Hartford, and A. J. Sloper of New Britain, yesterday filed with the superior court the list of jurors chosen to serve in Hartford county during 1902-1903. Those named from this town are: Joseph Albiston, William E. Alvord, Charles I. Balch, James C. Bidwell, Alvin L. Brown, Frank N. Buckland, Charles E. Bunce, John M. Carney, William C. Cheney, Arthur Cook, George W. Ferris, De Witt C. Hall, Albert W. Hollister, Martin G. Hooper, Arthur B. Keeney, Charles B. Loomis, Walter E. Lydall, Frederick W. Pitkin, Rollin M. Rood, George B. Slater, Dwight Spenser, James H. Stannard, Robert N. Strong, Clifton Williams, George W. Woodbridge.

NOT ON SALE IN THE EAST.

Mail Carrier Henry Kenney will start his mail route August first, as previously mentioned in these columns, but will not be able to have his regular equipment ready by that date. Wagons suitable for carrying the mail are not manufactured nearer to this place than Ohio or Indiana, and cannot be purchased in the East as there are no depots where these conveyances are kept. Mr. Kenney will go out and perform the duties of the office however with a team, until the proper vehicles can be secured. He is placed under $500 bonds, for the faithful performance of his duties, and Uncle Sam requires that an additional surety be given, in order to secure, in case the payment of the bond, in case it should be forfeited.

Latest and most popular drinks can be found only at Cook's confectionery. Malted strawberry, kola cherry, gold.

SETTLING THE LULL ESTATE.

Probabilities are that it will be in New Hands Soon and That Business Will Be Resumed.

Attorney Harry M. Burke is making commendable progress in the matter of settling up the affairs of the insolvent estate of Benjamin Lull & Son, and the prospects now are that within a few days the entire business will be cleared up, every man to whom the estate owed a dollar will be paid in full, and there will be some cash left.

Negotiations are now on foot looking to the transfer to Charles Thiel and Charles Lachat, two young men presently in the employ of Frank Goetz. Mr. Thiel is boss baker for Mr. Goetz, and Mr. Lachat drives one of the baker wagons. They have agreed to purchase the property for $40,000, and have posted a forfeit of $100 to bind the bargain. The details of the transfer will in all probability be perfected forthwith. The purchase includes the residence, the bakery building, outbuildings, real estate, one horse, two business wagons, three baker wagons, two runabouts and one buggy.

In the bakery building there is a leasehold in the basement a store on the first floor and a tenement upstairs.

The real estate comprises a parcel of land having a frontage on Laurel street of 50 feet and the other sides are 300 and 100 feet respectively. It is a nice property in the residential part of South Manchester, and on the whole is a valuable acquisition.

By the transaction of Messrs Thiel & Lachat to take possession as soon as the legal technicalities are concluded, and to plunge into business forthwith. They bring to their new undertaking ample experience, youth, energy, brains, and some capital. Their financial standing is good, both are practical workmen, and their prospects for doing a thriving business are bright.

Persons having claims against the estate will be pleased to know that they will be paid in full.

Mr. Burke was appointed trustee of the estate June 30th, and placed the estate in July 1st, and expects to close the entire matter up now within a few days. This is commendable bustling and certainly a most successful result.

Since the above was set up in type, the transaction to which it refers has been consummated. This morning the money changed hands, the deeds have been made out and transferred, and the new proprietors are in charge. Thiel & Lachat are now starting in on their own account to try their fortunes as business men, rather than as employees.

STRIKE NOTES.

It is estimated that about one hundred of the striking velvet weavers have left town, and others are preparing to do so at once. They are seeking employment wherever it can be found, and at what wages they can get it most liberally.

Owing to the excitement caused by the parade of the striking velvet weavers last week, the town authorities have increased the police force by placing Constable Johnson and Campbell, and special officer William Madden on duty in the vicinity of the silk mills throughout each night, since that there was to be a parade of the strikers with a band of music last Saturday evening, and as a result the streets were thronged with persons along the business section.

On Tuesday afternoon the strikers marched in a body to the silk mills and received their pay. They formed at the Town hall and marched through Chestnut street to the Hartford road to Main, and up Main to the Town hall, where they had a meeting. On the return trip they shouted all along the line of march, how tin horns, and re-echoed their cry of "No Loans!" also shouted repeatedly "No Loans or no Loans!" There was a large turnout of strikers.

Members of the executive committee of the National Board of American Federation of Labor were here last Friday evening, and addressed a meeting of the strikers in the Town hall. They also visited Chesney Brothers Saturday morning in order to receive their share of the trouble, direct. They were received courteously and such information as they could be imparted. They then returned to the Town hall and addressed a meeting of the strikers, in executive session.

Printed notices were posted in the neighborhood of the silk mills, advising strikers of the strike, asking them to not attempt to fill the places vacated by the strikers.

We understand that these notices will be sent wherever it is thought they will do the most good.
