1049 Graduates Placed in Situations by The Huntsinger College

In seventy months and two weeks ending September 19th. This shows that we remain interested in our graduates after they finish the course.

School started off with a rush, and new pupils entering every day. There are thirteen teachers employed in the four business colleges of Hartford, and eight of these teach at Huntsinger's. The school occupies three floors of 30 Asylum Street. One floor is furnished with roll-top desks for pupils. Forty-one first-class typewriting machines for students to learn touch typewriting. Passenger elevator; note-books to buy.

The cost per student last year, tuition and stationery included was $11.90 per month.

Now is the time to enter and get the inspiration incident to beginning at the first of the term. Call to see the school in session—it is worth seeing.

Take elevator just inside the entrance door.

E. M. HUNTJINGER, 25 ASYLUM STREET, HARTFORD.

NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR.

Honor Comes to Robert N. Stanley of Highland Park—Sketch of the Candidate.

The prohibition nomination for governor comes to Manchester after all, although it was R. N. Stanley who was named instead of E. L. G. Hohenbhal, who was prominently spoken of. Mr. Hohenbhal is doing effective work as chairman of the state central committee, and it was thought prudent to keep him in that position for another term. Therefore R. N. Stanley was given first place on the ticket in the convention at New Britain, Wednesday.

Mr. Stanley has been associated with Cass Brothers, paper manufacturers, in their office at Highland Park, since 1876, when he first came to Manchester. He was born in East Thompson, this state, in 1847. He received his early business training in a wholesale home in Providence, R. I., serving ten years as bookkeeper and confidential clerk. He traces his ancestry back to the days of the Revolution, and is a descendant of reformers. His father was a member of the first Free Soil convention held in this state, and earnestly advocated the freedom of the slave during his career as a minister in the Methodist church. Mr. Stanley is an active worker in the South Methodist church, and takes a leading part in the Sunday school and social affairs. He has been the party nominee for various offices, including secretary of state for two years.—Times.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The democratic caucus for the election of delegates to the convention was held in the town hall last Wednesday evening. It was a short and quiet affair. The caucus opened at 8 o'clock and closed soon after 8 1/2. Several persons who were not registered appeared and were allowed to attend but not to vote.

Thomas J. Smith was moderator and John P. Smith was clerk. The following delegates were chosen:

State—C. W. Cowles, John S. Risley, Daniel J. Garin, John P. Smith, T. R. King.

Congressional—J. F. Sheridan, Albert Spencer, C. S. McLaile, James Doyle, W. W. Cowles.

County—Thomas J. Smith, John F. Sheridan, M. O'Connell, William H. Schiedler, Robert Hurley.

Senatorial—Thomas F. Sheridan, Thomas F. Mortarty, John Lennon, Daniel Aitkin, J. P. Wheeler.

SWEDISH LECTURE.

Notice is hereby given that Rev. A. G. Olson of Millville, Mass., will deliver a temperance lecture at Masonic hall on Wednesday evening, September 24th, at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Swedish Temperance Society. English. The discourse will be in the Swedish language. All the Swedish people, men and women, are cordially invited to attend.

Rev. Mr. Olson was for several years pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church here. He is an eloquent speaker. No doubt there will be a large number of his former parishioners on hand to greet him, as well as many who were not here when Mr. Olson resided in this place. Singing and other local talent will be furnished.

PARISH IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY.

The Parish Improvement Society of St. Mary's church will give an entertainment in the Parish hall next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. A pleasing farce entitled Bob and Cox will be given by Robert Cushman, James Harrison and Miss Minnie Marley.

The admission will be ten cents and refreshments will be served at the close of the entertainment. The society has been working hard during the past year to raise enough money to finish off the lower room, which has been done this summer while the Sunday school was having a vacation. It is hoped that a large audience will be present to enjoy some ice cream in the newly finished dining room. The orchestra will render several selections and there will be vocal music introduced.

"RIP VAN WINKLE"

A commendable desire on the part of Manager E. F. Vanrenselaar to give to "Rip Van Winkle" a more complete scenic and mechanical representation than has usually been accorded to that wonderful fortune maker has led to his securing an exceptionally capable company of players who will add to the scenic environment, electrical and mechanical effects such as would be a credit to any metropolitan production ever given of the legend of the Catskills. Numerous high class vaudeville specialties will be introduced between the acts next Tuesday night, September 16, when it is to be presented here at the Armory opera house.

PICTURES OF CORONATION.

Remember that L. W. Robertson's Moving Pictures will be seen in the Armory opera house tomorrow evening.

They promise an entirely new and elaborate set of pictures, some of which were intended to be shown last week. Since that time the management have informed us that Mr. Robertson has just received a set of elaborate pictures illustrating the gorgeous pageant at the coronation of King Edward VII, and which were taken especially for Mr. Robertson, and are not exhibited by any other show on the road. This feature indicates how thoroughly up-to-date Mr. Robertson is in his work, and to what expense he goes to furnish the latest, the best and most attractive moving picture exhibition in the United States. Tickets are now on sale at Watkins Brothers.

PICKANINNIES.

The Charleston, S. C. Concert Company gave a concert in the Armory opera house last Wednesday evening and played to light business. The performers were pupils of the Perkins Institute, and travel through the country during vacation giving concerts for the benefit of the institution. They usually travel in their own private car, which they use as a hotel in the different places where they perform. While giving an entertainment in New York state this week, their car, which stood on a side track, was collided with and wrecked. Therefore they had no place to put up here, and persons about town, at the request of the management on the night of the performance, took the pickaninies to their homes and gave them food and shelter. Besides the admission fee, many persons on request, presented, a check for $10,000 or $15,000 worth at a time. Among such customers the best are said to be—Mrs. Carnegie, Schwab and Vandebilt.

IN THE JEWELRY LINE.

What are olivines? Why nothing but green garnets—the jewelry king.

A lovely gem metal watch has a peculiar dial with crystal inlaid panels and gilt figures and borders.

For the hair are enamelled wreaths sparkling with an occasional diamond. Like a drop of dew in among the leaves.

Fresh water pearls are wrought into dainty brooches, representing marguerites, chrysantheums, roses, lilies and other flowers.

The low rhinogen is revived for cuff-links and is confined with a net of gold or platinum links, garnished with diamonds, pearls, turquoise or rubies. Rather costly, but beautiful.

Others are coming into vogue but one doesn't need to have the ears pierced to wear them, for here is a pair of the two picture lockets that are on the best is said to be the French clasp which closes with a snap fastening.

The Carmen bracelet is one of the most popular shown by the shops. It is adjustable, will fit any wrist and is made of a large jewel—emerald, ruby, amethyst, turquoise and other gemstone matrix being the most popular.

Family lockets are among the new things. Each locket holds four pictures, the center is a hole, and the back and front each holds a picture, and get when closed it is as thin as the two picture locket. These lockets are made in Roman gold, and in bright finish, with plain raised design and brilliant set designs.

FRESH FROM FRANCE.

Paris has double the number of automobiles, and 50 more engines than London.

Parisian butchers who sell horse meat intimate the fact of catching a glided horse head on their shop fronts.

The French Academy of Medicine has refused to adopt a recommendation to the government to prohibit the sale of absinthe in France.

France makes annually 143,000,000 pounds of chocolate and bonbons. In this respect she stands second only to Great Britain. Germany ranks third.

Some of the students in Paris, when perusing ancient books in the National library, protect themselves with muskets. This is done to prevent the inhalation of dangerous microbes said to infest old volumes.

IN THE FATHERLAND.

Sunstroke frequently affects dogs in Germany, where they are still used to draw wagons.

Germany employs 427,122 people on her railroads—that is nearly one per cent. of her entire population. There is but a very small margin.

HOME AGAIN.

NOT PERMITTED TO LOCATE IN SOUTH AFRICA. Experience of Two Young Men From South Manchester in Their Efforts to Inevitably the New El Dorado—Disgusted With Treatment Received From British Officers in London—Eventual Success in Africa—Do Nothing For These Americans.

Some idle lights are thrown on the difficulties which surround young Americans who attempt to enter the gold and diamond fields of South Africa. It is the experience which Thomas Trotter of this place has just had. It will be remembered that he and Robert Olney started from here four weeks ago to seek their fortunes in South Africa, and yesterday Mr. Trotter returned to his home here, and re- Mr. Olney would not be allowed to take up their abode in that country, nor they could produce a certificate setting forth the business in which they were engaged, the name of the person or firm by whom they were to be employed, and must further show that they had one hundred pounds sterling in their possession.

They were met with even more sternness, and but little heed was paid to their case by the British officials. In their extremity they turned to the American consul at London. This gentleman very courteously informed them that he was powerless in the matter, that the laws were such now that residence in South Africa could be acquired only in accordance with the requirements prescribed, that military rule there was very strict, and that they had a little while to go on their own. Mr. Olney has an uncle in Cape Town, South Africa, and he hopes that this relative may be able to help him get a foothold there. He has gone on to that country, and is going to take his chances. Failing in this he will have to await his turn and may be shipped out of the country by the British government.

The cheapest transportation from New York to Liverpool is $30. It will therefore be seen that the trip is an expensive one. There was a young man from Buckland named Leo who returned from an effort to reach South Africa, and also a young man named Anderson from this place. They came back on one steamer in advance of Mr. Trotter. It will therefore be seen that the British government is protecting its new possessions in the matter of strict immigration laws.

Mr. Trotter returned on the Oceanic of the White Star line, and the vessel carried over 2,500 persons to the United States, to the land of the free, and the expression of the efforts put forth to be only passport required was that they be in good health, that they be physically able to earn their own living, that they have money enough about them to prevent them from becoming burdens upon the body politic at once, and that they be not criminals or imbeciles. Every steamer crowding the Atlantic bears a similar freight and these people from the ends of the earth are being constantly absorbed and are becoming a portion of the greatest republic the world ever knew.

It would therefore seem from Mr. Trotter's story that South Africa is a good place to keep away from. Such a story as the above seems very harsh and unusual to the free people of the United States, and should add to our devotion to the Stars and Stripes.

MOVING PICTURES.

There will be an exhibition of moving pictures in St. James church on Sunday evening, October 5th to which an admission fee of 35 cents will be charged for the first two people of each family, and 15 cents for children. The proceeds are for the benefit of St. James church. One hundred beautifully colored pictures illustrative of Catholic doctrine and dogma will be shown. These will be accompanied by an explanatory lecture. The Creed, the Ten Commandments, the Seven Deadly Sins, Purgatory, Heaven etc. will be among them in Masonic hall on Wednesday evening, September 24, at 8 o'clock. The pictures shown on Wednesday evening, September 24, at 8 o'clock, will be among them in Masonic hall on Wednesday evening, September 24, at 8 o'clock.
