NOMINATED FOR SENATOR.

The many friends of Christopher S. McHale of this place are delighted to learn that he has been honored by receiving the Democratic nomination for state senator of the second senatorial district.

Mr. McHale's friends will doubtless put up a strong fight in this town for the success of our fellow townsman. Were the contest for a purely local office there is little doubt that Mr. McHale would win out, as he is very popular here, and as Manchester goes, so goes the senatorial district.

WORKINGMEN'S CHOICE.

ALEXANDER ARNOTT and THOMAS P. ATKIN SELECTED AS STANDARD BEARERS OF WORKINGMEN FOR NOMINATIONS AS REPRESENTATIVES

These Men Are the Unanimous Choice of Organized Labor and an Effort Will Be Made to Secure Their Nominations for the Town Hall Next Monday Evening.

Representatives of organized labor in this town have unanimously agreed that their choice for candidates for nomination as representatives at the Republican caucus next Monday evening be Alexander Arnott and Thomas P. Atkin.

They are the chosen standard bearers of the workingmen of this town, and their friends will endeavor to the best of their ability to land them in office.

Mr. Arnott has spent practically all his life in South Manchester. He entered the High school here in 1863 and was graduated with the class of '86.

Thomas P. Atkin is the well known state dealer whose place of business is at 14 Main street.

He has served two terms as chairman of the eighth district school committee. His fellow citizens regard him as a man of integrity, firm convictions and sound judgment.

A time-honored custom has been to choose one representative from each end of the town, and this custom will be observed this time.

ENDORING MR. BURKE.

ALL LABOR UNIONS IN TOWN TAKING OFFICIAL ACTION IN NAMING HARRY M. BURKE AS THEIR CHOICE FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE.

Mr. Burke will come down the Pike with SolidBacking of Organized Labor--indications Now Point Strongly to His Election--Carriage of Unfriendly Critics Unable to Prevent Action of Endorsement--Workingmen Voluntarily Pledge Themselves to Support Him at the Polls.

At a meeting of the local Papermakers' Union held in Apol's opera house last Sunday the candidacy of Harry M. Burke for judge of probate of the town of Manchester was unanimously endorsed.

The Silk Weavers' Union took similar action at their meeting held in the Town hall last Tuesday evening.

The Velvet Weavers Union endorsed the candidacy of Mr. Burke at their meeting held in the Town hall last Wednesday evening.

It will thus be seen that Mr. Burke will come down the Pike with a single exception of Selectmen Waldon and Corbin, and beyond any question would, at this stage of the game, seem strongly probable to result in Mr. Burke's election.

When 700 voters in the ranks of organized labor will sink party preferences in order to elect the man of their choice for an office, it certainly is significant, and demonstrates the fact that the workingmen of this town are determined to stand together firmly and loyally at the ballot box, in spite of the carpings of unfriendly critics, and land their chosen representative in official business the greater part of that time.

Several ministers who were formerly stationed here attended the conference and were cordially greeted by their present colleagues. He pointed out the need of a new social order, and the need of a new system of education. He also discussed the question of the distribution of wealth, and the need of a new system of taxation.

SWEDISH WEDDINGS.

Some of our Swedish young people are evidently not deterred by the high prices of fuel and other commodities that enter into the domestic economy, and with faith in the future venture bravely into the matrimonial state. As a result of the wedding ceremonies, the following couples were united in wedlock: Mrs. M. J. Anderson and Miss Anna Swanson were married at the church on Saturday evening last. The bride was attended by her mother, Mrs. M. J. Anderson, and her sisters, Mrs. A. M. Anderson and Mrs. J. M. Anderson. The groom was attended by his father, Mr. M. J. Weak and Tired.

"Do you suppose your Vinol would do me any good?" said a woman coming the other day. "I just drag round. My work seems an awful burden." "I think Vinol will help you," said our clerk. "Our folks at home use it. We have such faith in it that we will pay you money back if it doesn't help you." She took a bottle of Vinol home and has since bought another bottle. Vinol was sold last year on the same guarantee. How many "refunds" were there, do you think? Less than two per cent. In other words, Vinol did successful work in ninety-eight cases out of 100.

OFFICIAL ACTION.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY LOCAL TRADES UNIONS ENDORSING CANDIDACY OF HARRY M. BURKE AS JUDGE OF PROBATE.

Some are now being distributed in Pamphlet Form and City of the Press for Publications—Strong Appeal for Votes Accompanying Resolutions.

The following appeal and resolutions favoring the candidacy of Harry M. Burke are issued in pamphlet form by the Labor Union of this town, and are also given to the press for publication.

The climax in Manchester's political fight is the contest for Judge of Probate. The working people of the town have spoken out for their candidate in a manner in which they have never spoken before, and that candidate for whom they speak is Harry M. Burke.

Mr. Burke has the support of the labor people—the people who elected Dr. Weldon first selectman. Mr. Burke has the antagonism of those who opposed Dr. Weldon for first selectman.

It is simply a case of the same old fight of the politicians and machine agents against the will of the people. The people triumphed in the October election for selectman, and it is for the people to say whether or not they will triumph now in the judge of probate contest.

Men of Manchester, the eyes of the state are upon you! In your last town election, by your sweeping conquest, you have won the greatest victory for labor that a Connecticut town has won in fifty years.

Harry M. Burke, for judge of probate. No man has ever entered a political contest in the history of the town with such a solid backing of the people.

Have you any doubts left in your mind whether the labor men want Mr. Burke elected? If you have just read the following resolutions on his candidacy passed by the labor and trades unions of the town.

LABOR UNIONS' RESOLUTIONS ENDORSING MR. BURKE.

Resolved, That in the opinion of organized labor, the local political contest this fall has been and still is a political fight in which the friends of organized labor are arrayed on one side and the opponents of organized labor are arrayed on the other side.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AND HARMONIOUS ACTION THROUGHOUT.

Alexander Arnott and Thomas P. Atkin nominated by Acclamation—Conservative Opponents Offer No Resistance to Choice of Workingmen For Representatives—Justices of the Peace Also Nominated.

Alexander Arnott and Thomas P. Atkin, labor candidates for representatives, were nominated as such at the Republican caucus held in the Town Hall here last Monday evening.

The check list was at the door and none but registered electors were admitted. There were about 300 voters present.

The nominations for representatives and justices of the peace were made by acclamation, and the caucus was most harmonious throughout. It lasted 12 minutes.

Alexander Arnott, chairman of the Republican Town committee called the meeting to order shortly after 8 o'clock, and asked for nominations for chairman. John Joyce nominated Mr. Arnott and M. S. Chapman put the vote to the house.

Mr. Arnott was unanimously nominated as presiding officer. No other name was presented. Gratia Collins, Harry M. Burke, William E. Keith, was nominated by acclamation as clerk, but one voice crying "no." The chairman called the clerk to read the call for the caucus, which he did, and the chair called for nominations for representatives. Alexander Rogers nominated Mr. Arnott.

In nominating Mr. Arnott Mr. Rogers spoke as follows: Mr. Chairman add fellow citizens: I have a name to place before you, one whom I think is qualified in every way to be the very best person of representative of the town of Manchester.

I have known the gentleman from his youth up and can assure you he comes of good, honest stock. He has not sought the office, but his many friends have sought him. I believe you will all agree with me in regard to his qualifications—first he is a graduate of the South Manchester High school, next he is a graduate of the University of Connecticut with the degree of B. A. He then entered Yale Law school, and studied for two years when he was admitted to the bar. Without doubt he has the ability to represent the town with due credit to himself, if you see fit to send him. I am now present to you the name of Alexander Arnott.

Mr. Arnott asked Harry M. Burke to take the chair pending the nomination for first representative. Mr. Burke called for other nominations. John S. Cheney arose and seconded the nomination of Mr. Arnott, requesting at the same time that the nomination be put by acclamation. It was done even so, and went through without a single voice.

Resolved, That in the opinion of organized labor, the local political contest this fall has been and still is a political fight in which the friends of organized labor are arrayed on one side and the opponents of organized labor are arrayed on the other side.

EIGHT TEACHERS GIVE INDIVIDUAL TRAINING

The Huntsinger College

It is the best training, because it encourages different pupils, enables rapid workers to get along as their push enables them to, and brings out all the good qualities of every pupil.

We will not pour the pupils into a hopper and grind them out like coffee, regardless of individual capacities, previous educational advantages and differences in temperament.

Tuition, stationery, supplies and all incidental expenses of every description averaged per pupil only $11.90 per month last year. Placed 1073 graduates in situations in the twenty-one months and three weeks ending Oct. 16th.

If interested, call to see the college, taking the elevator just inside the entrance door. New pupils enter every week. E. H. HUNTJINGER, Hartford.

Morgan E. White Passes Away at His Home.

Morgan E. White, one of Manchester's oldest and most respected citizens, died suddenly yesterday morning. He had been ill only a few days and some of his friends believed his condition to be serious. He was a member of one of the town's oldest families and had been a resident of the community over fifty years.

He was well known out of town because of his service for twenty years as postal clerk in the United States mail service on the railroads of the east. He ran between New York and Boston, and later between Boston and Hartford.

Mr. White was 72 years old. He was taken ill Friday and gave up his daily routine which consisted chiefly of light work at the Box Mail company. One of the peculiar features of his illness was continuous brightening for almost a week. Death was due to a complication of diseases, in which congestion of the brain and kidney trouble figured prominently.

The deceased was born in Wapping, and was the son of Henry and Jerusha White. At the age of twenty he came to this town, and was employed by the millwright under the late Leonard Brown, father of A. L. Brown of this place. He was a nephew of the well known White brothers, whose names appear among the list of earliest settlers in this neighborhood. The brothers were Horace, Miner, Chester and Willard. The streets known as Miner, Hudson and William were named after members of the White family. A wife and a daughter, the latter Miss Mattie White, survive.

Mr. White was a member of the local lodge of Masons for thirty years. Masonic funeral services will be held at the County cemetery where the remains will be interred.

The operators here, without doubt violated the anti-trust laws. Mr. B. Thackeray stated, "and yet they claimed to be in business."
