Several people about town had their ears, their feet and their fingers frozen during the dreadful freeze of this week. Innumerable water pipes and steam pile burst, several kitchen ranges were wrecked, and unteld quantities of potatoes and other yegetables, spples, unusual visitation of Mr. Jack Frost ost us much pain, much trouble and great expense. It benefitted plumbers, tove dealers and coal and wood mer. chants. Mr. Frost was an expensive guest this week. He invaded many a cellar and many a larder where he was not expected, and was not wanted, and wrought general destruction.
