The introduction of the silk overjacket of contrasting shade for evening frocks is the revival of a caprice of our grandmothers. It is worn with a gown of chiffon or illusion, preferably white, the jacket being of some light color. This was a fashion formerly associated with the Grecian Bend. But we have now the beauty of the mode without its extreme. Last season we touched upon the military. This year we have "arrived." But it is the picturesque military. The directoire is the favored style. The high girdle, the flaring revers and the socalled coat sleeve, which is large and loose with deep cuff, strapped with gold, which lessens the length of arm.
