Clare, and a number of other distinguished places in other counties of Ireland.

The Holloway & McDonald Company have been highly endorsed by press and public in cities where they have appeared.

Holloway & McDonald's Come Back to Erio Company gave an entertainment recently in Hartford of which the entire press of the city spoke in most compilmentary terms. The following short extract is taken from the Hartford Times: "The company's title is cerpritoring to their distinguished places in other counties of Ireland.

The thirty-sixth annual concert and call given by the Mancheer Rifles, Company G, First Infantry, C. N. G.. will take place at Cheney Hall, Thoraday evening, January 30th.

The Beeman & Hatch Orchestra, comprising 12 pieces, will furnish the usual delightful music for both concert and dancing. Concert will begin at eight o'clock and last until nine, the grand march will form at 9.15. Dancing will be continued until 2 a. m. DLIVER MAGNELL and F W. MILLS Our city has advertised for bids for its electric light plant. Our plant was an old one when it was taken over by the city, and considerable money had to be spent to get it into fair running shape. This was eight years ago Since then we have not been able to make it a paying investment, as we found the cost of running the plant has exceeded what the cost of lighting our city would be if the light was pur chased from a private plant, and it has been deemed advisable to sell it if a satisfactory bid can be had. This is our main reason for disposing of it. plant, in my opinion, cannot be made a success in cities of this size."

Voting in the New York Herald Anglo-American Competition Begins Next Sunday

Cash Prizes Awarded Every Week

The New York Herald Anglo-American Competition between Max Pemberton, of England, and Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, of America, begins next Sunday, January 19, 1908. Each of these famous authors has written for the Herald a novel that is a masterpiece of fascinating fiction. Which is the better?

You can help decide this important question, and at the same time enjoy $10,000 worth of literary entertainment, and win some part of the $1,000 cash prizes.

The conditions are easy.

Simply read the stories as they appear in the New York Sunday Herald and send in a vote and a criticism for each installment.

Every week seven cash prizes will be awarded for the best criticisms, and these criticisms will be published in the Herald.

You may win a prize every week during

The Herald will also pay a large cash prize to the winning author, so your votes will aid in determining whether this prize will go to England or

SUNDAY NIGHT.

Every Sunday the Herald provides its readers with high-class entertainment to which the greatest writers and artists of the world contribute, supplementing the news of the day with timely chronicles of the genial side of life, and the progress of civilization.

The Herald's Sunday Magazine Section is a remarkably striking example of modern journalism. It is all that any magazine should be, and it's more than any monthly magazine can be.

That is, it not only contains the best work of the best writers and artists, but it also has a timeliness impossible with a monthly.

Every article in the Herald's Sunday Magazine is of special interest and value when it is published, whether it be a political discussion, a romance of real life, or fashion news direct from the Herald's Paris headquarters.

And you get everything in the Herald's Magazine-the biggest thing in human achievement, the newest wonders of the world, the latest stories by great authors, pictures in profusion, good things for all the family down to its tiniest member.

Then there's the Herald's Comic Section, famous the world over as the home of "Little Nemo," "Buster Brown" and "The Tiny Tads"-

And the News Section, with the doings of the whole world described by cable, telegraph and telephoneabout 100 pages all together-and all for

Don't lose any time placing your order for next Sunday's Herald. You'll want to read the great competing novels even if you don't try for prizes.

Tune: "AULD LANG SYNE"

Come let us all unite and sing On this most happy night; When business cares are thrown aside And the festive board's in sight;

Let one and all join in our song Of progress easily seen, Of the busy work on the trolley line Not yet running to the Green

Then give three cheers for Manager B. Then whoop her up, Hooray! He'll tell us why Will Alvord walks From the Green 'most every day.

We indigestion all have had And sports are sick and sore; When the thoughts of summer time draw near And the Rockvilles play no more;

They left the field when in a huff The color line they drew; But the reason they won't play us now, Is One Hundred and Seventy-two.

They admit that they were in the wrong, They shouldn't have left the field; But need the money so very bad, Its hard for them to vield.

October last our votes we cast, The result you all well know; And if you're looking for the booze From town you have to go:

The town is now quite tight and dry, The bars look cold and drear; The wind no longer wafts the smell of Schlitz Milwaukee beer.

Now Emil wears a happy smile, We've noticed it of late: He says Connecticut soon will be A Prohibition state.

Tune: "WAIT TILL THE SUNSHINES NELLIE"

Wait 'till the spring comes Billy, And the clouds go drifting by; You'll take a trip then Billy, Don't you sigh; We'll have a treat then Billy On a southern bride; Then you'll get a welcome Billy, With a bride by your side

Tune: "WALTZ ME AROUND AGAIN WILLIE"

Pass the glass 'round again Farrar, Around, around, around; This music I'm thinking will drive me to drinking, I'm dry so I can't make a sound;
There isn't a spoonful of drink in my cup,
I wish that some fellow would yell, "Set 'em up!" Then pass the glass 'round again Farrar, Around, around, around.

Tune; "WAITING AT THE CHURCH"

Here we are, waiting for the car, Waiting for the car, waiting for the car; Olin R. Wood is down upon the card, Lor', how we want to hear him! "By and by he'll have something to tell, How the boys will yell, whoop her up like-well; He'll have to stay, he can't go home today, The boys won't let him.

Tune: "EVERYBODY WORKS BUT FATHER"

Every morning at nine o'clock, going down to work; Full of business as can be, he will never shirk; All his work we would gladly do, wouldn't care a rap;
If some day we could get next to; Dick Rich's snap.

Everybody works but Dick Rich, and he rides around all day; Looking up his policies and making people pay; His sister runs the office, the very best she can; Everybody works but Dick Rich, the insurance man,

Tune: "IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME"

In the good old summer time, In the good old summer time; We'll go down to Savin Rock, With all the bunch in line; For Charfie Sweet will surely go, And that's a jolly good sign; For he will ride the Jackass In the good old summer time.

Because one sheep, the leader of the flock slipped and fell over a precipice and was dashed to death out in the Cascade Mountains the other day, we are told that eleven thousand other sheep followed their leader over the precipice to death. Poor sheep, poorer Cicero, poorest followers!

It costs centuries of struggle to secure recognition of the rights of the individnal from his fellow men and require the triumphe of civil and religious liberty to emancipate the worker from the thraldom of Church Sate and task master and protect and honor him in his nalienable right of doing. But doing is not all joy. There are sorrows of doing, mistakes, crimes, and fisasters. The sorrows of some are the joys of others.

The speaker here illustrated his proposition by parrating several anecdotes. In his own sphere, every man is an nventor, explorer and conqueror. There is something within him which wants to rule: give him a chance and he will rule. Some men will try to rule anyway: and some men there are that no man can rule. This love of conquest is voted to it, and its discussion was the NEARLY 240 the active principle of the joy of doing. joy of his maturer years.
