

W. J. FLOOD, Publisher. GONE OUT OF BUSINESS. The Mayor of Lowell, Ind., is authority for the statement that the municipal electric light plant was sold early in September to parties who will install a new plant.

FOR SALE. Copyright, 1896, by Honor Brough. There were little red shaded candles on the piano. They threw the girl's regular profile into relief and lighted soft the waves of her brown hair.

SOLD AT LARGE LOSSES. Four Towns Find Municipal Plants Are Sold at Large Losses. In Iuka, Miss., an electric light plant was installed in 1900 at a cost of $7,000.

NOT A MILITARY HERO WORSHIPER. When the English-American war came on Milton Forester was a lieutenant in the national guard. He received a captaincy in the volunteers and marched away with his regiment amid the plaudits of the throngs who lined the streets there was one face at an upper window which absorbed all the young soldier's attention.

PARLOR HEATERS AT COST. I have a nice line of parlor heaters that are first-class goods, fully up-to-date in every particular, including the famous Magee and other makes, that will be sold at large reductions in order to close them out.

SUCCESSFUL SALE STATIONS ALL TAKEN.

At German Concordia Church last Tuesday.

The Young People's Society of the German Lutheran Concordia church on Winter street had a sale of fancy articles, etc., last Tuesday evening, which was well attended, and proved highly satisfactory to those having it in charge.

The young women of the church had books out in advance of this event and gathered in a great deal of money on certain articles that were disposed of Tuesday night.

Rev. G. A. Von Nicolli, the pastor, contributed a beautiful picture showing interior and exterior views of the church together with his own portrait. This was awarded to Mrs. C. S. Smith. A velvet sofa pillow presented by Martin Hansmann was given to Louise Kandel. Frances Volkers donated a very pretty sofa pillow which came into the possession of A. E. Gibson last Tuesday night. A nice centerpiece was made by Emma Borowski and this became the property of Louise Volker.

At the conclusion of the sale refreshments were served and social hour enjoyed. All concerned are highly pleased with the fine success achieved.

SKIN DISEASE IN TWENTY YEARS' STANDING CURE.

I want you to know how much Chamberlain's Salve has done for me. It has cured my face of a skin disease of almost twenty years' standing. I have been treated by several as most physicians here in this country and they did me no good, but two boxes of this salve has cured me.—Mrs. Fannie Griffin, Troy, Ala.

For sale by Rapsley's Drug Store, South Manchester, and Balch & Brown's Drug Store, Manchester.

WHAT TO DO WHEN BILIOUS.

The right thing to do when you feel bilious is to take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will cleanse the stomach, and regulate the liver and bowels. Try it. Price, 25 cents. Sample free at Rapsley's Drug Store, So. Manchester, and Balch & Brown's Drug Store, Manchester.

WAR HORSE SOLD.

Win. Taylor of 41 Wells street, the war horse of Curtis, Manchester, No. 107, Foresters of America, Inc. has been on the sick list for the past ten days, suffering with a cold and other annoying conditions. Concerning Women.

A Cheap Way of Seeing the World—Tact Better Than Erudition In Booming a Cause—The Husband Beating Wife.

If you want to see the world and haven't the money, don't be discouraged. Two newspaper women from New York who started two years ago to make the grand tour have not only seen the world, but one of them has secured a handsome and adoring husband. It was this way: Miss Anna Finch, on the staff of a metropolitan journal, grew tired of the ceaseless round of parties, dinners, and philanthropic projects. Said she to her colleague, Miss Conley: "I'm tired of this. Let's go abroad." "Let's," assented Miss Conley, "but how?" "I'll write you my way around the world," said Miss Conley. "I'll write you my way around the world," said Miss Conley. "I'll write you my way around the world," said Miss Conley.

It is expected that at least 100 regular authorized delegates will attend this convention, besides speakers of national note and distinguished prohibitionists from various parts of the United States. It will unquestionably be a notable gathering and a distinguished list of speakers is being prepared. This will doubtless be our best opportunity to see the world and to see the world in a way that is not only interesting but also profitable. It will be a chance to see the world in a way that is not only interesting but also profitable.

CURRENT FASHIONS.

The Tailored Jacket and Skirt still in popular favor. The lady suit in the illustration shows the skirt tucked, tight fitting in the back and straight in front. The material in this stylish suit is of rough English tweed, with the yoke and cuffs of a shade lighter in the same material. The tweed is a mixture of light and dark brown and closely interwoven that it becomes one fine shade, with something characteristic of each. The olive in front gives a slight more stylish effect. The kind of buttons, and the straps across the shoulders add to the general effect. The skirt is cut very cleverly in a circular form, so that while it is closely around the hips it swings clear and ample at the foot. A flat band of the same on the front, held in place by one or two buttons, is attached but once around finishes the bottom of the skirt.

Few skirts now have the placket in the back, where the woman was sure the fastenings were solid, but they will open at the left side. Some are arranged by means of buttons and a flap in front that they can be unbuttoned to pass the skirt on over the head. One I saw recently had on both sides a scalloped flap, the outer was suitable for the weather than the fine and dainty fabric and the other things usually seen in the summer. The height of the season. Every year the best shops begin early in January to display white goods, laced and ruffled skirts and all sorts of new and dainty things. The lovely thin ribbons, after which the general public is permitted to behold their glories. This season there is an entire new style of skirt, and it is the lovely thin ribbons, after which the general public is permitted to behold their glories. STRICTLY TAILORED SUIT.

shows silver stripes and plaids and also through trail beautiful and delicately tinted flowers. These thin ribbons are particularly striking, and the flowers really look as if they might be hand painted to perfect they are. Pale blue, often in several shades in the same design, pale pink and lilac are the prettiest, the fargestones being almost perfect. A very fancy design is shown, but most of the patterns are as artistic as the designers could achieve.

I saw recently three lovely patterns, given for summer wear—for be known that early in January the makers of fashions begin on the summer attire—and one of the most artistic and beautiful of the designs shown. There were four narrow bouffants of the usual, each edged with a full ruffle of lace, which gave it all a lightness scarcely to be imagined. A bit of ribbon, barely to be imagined. A bit of ribbon, barely to be imagined. A bit of ribbon, barely to be imagined.

All's Fair In Love.

By Constance Mary Mackay. Copyright, 1908, by P. C. Eastman.

On the veranda of a trim cottage facing the sea Robert Aldrich, tall, fair haired and athletic, sat and gazed at Miss Hildegard...

"What right has he to come down here and butt in like this? It just seems to me an infernal boomerang."

"He's only been here three days," murmured Miss Farney.

"I don't care if he's here for a month, but I don't like to see him monopolize most of the time."

"Before he came you'd almost promised to marry me."

"Oh, Hildegard," Aldrich groaned. "We've had such jolly times together all summer and now—"

"I don't care if you want to go on against the porch rail. Hang on, I can see his attractions as good as you."

"Bobby," she breathed, "forgive me! There never was and never will be any one but you."

"Aldrich's hand closed over hers hard. "I'll bring round the car at 8!"

"I don't care if you want to go on against the porch rail. Hang on, I can see his attractions as good as you."

An Artist's Search.

Mark Hammond, American artist in Paris, was leaning over a table in his studio before breakfast in his day's work.

"What a lovely picture," said the artist, looking at the picture on the wall. "It is a masterpiece."

Work of Dog Warden.

WITHOUT MUCH FLURRIUS OF TRIM.

PETS FRANK C. STRANT HAS BEEN STEADILY ON TRAIL.

Appointment of Officer Makes for Better Supervision of Registration Law.

Up to Feb. 1, 1908, Dog Warden Frank C. Strant has done his work steadily and efficiently.

Up to the present time there have been 806 dogs registered during the past year.

That twenty-four out of thirty dog owners paid for the dogs that were captured by the dog warden indicates their estimate of the value of their dogs.

Hammond left the two to send their dogs to New York and settled down again to his work.

One day the teacher came along and looked over his shoulder and saw four or five ciphers in the result.

"Why, Bobby," she cried, "what have you been learning this perfect copy?"

"I just been asking Miss Farney about you," drawled Percy Graham.

"Aldrich glared at him cheerfully. "Thanks. Always glad to hear my name mentioned. Ah, good afternoon, Miss Farney."

"I don't care if you want to go on against the porch rail. Hang on, I can see his attractions as good as you."

ANNOUNCEMENT

This is to inform the public of South Manchester and vicinity that I have vacated the store on School street and that I will conduct a work shop at my home, 13 Maple street.

It is my purpose to continue the plumbing, steam fitting and hot air heating, roofing, copper and sheet iron working and general jobbing the same as heretofore, and in these lines of work I respectfully solicit public patronage.

Being free from the care of a store I can and will now give my entire attention to the mechanical end of the business.

I have built a shop, having all necessary equipments for carrying on work and will be pleased to receive orders by telephone or otherwise. My house call is 157-12. You will find it in the directory.

Yours for business, George R. Wright. Plumbing and Heating Contractor, 13 Maple St. South Manchester.

SAVE YOUR PROPERTY TO SELL OR DO YOU WANT TO BUY?

If you should consult me before you go any further. I have a long list of people waiting for desirable property and especially small farms.

I have a fine double tenement on Garden street that must be sold. It's handy, and the price is the most attractive part about it.

Also a fine single tenement near Manchester depot. Also several good farms that can be exchanged for property in or near Manchester.

Building lots in all sections of the town at all prices. When in need of real estate and fire insurance consult E. J. HOLL.

Room 2, Post Office Building, Telephone 111-4. South Manchester.

The first of the New Year is an opportune time to start that new bank account with

"General, we bring you a spy. While at work on the beach the enemy made a discovery. We discovered a spy."

"I never heard of such a thing," she said. "What could I cook?"

"Well, Brunnwicker stew is fine. It's got squirrels and corn and onions and tomatoes. You just do me show you."

"Ah, ha!" exclaimed the general. "Take him to the parapet and hang him in view of the prince who sent him."

"The night was dark. The sentry who had been on duty for a long time was dozing when he saw a shadowy figure slip past him."

"It doth amaze me," muttered the sentry, "how long these cavaliers wear their hoods and their cloaks."

"Encouraged by the thought, he gave the corpse a shove with his pike. As it swung back toward him he thought he heard a low moan."

"The next week I must go," she told the little man when he came that evening. He looked at her calmly.

"Because I can't get along without you," she said. "I'm a little girl."

"How did you know my first name?" Miss Frasier demanded.

"I see it in the corner books," he said. "And it's a mighty pretty name."

"Then he reached out and took her hands in his. 'You're such a lonely little girl,' he said. 'I'll be with you without you.'

"With a little impulsive movement, she slipped on her knees beside his chair and buried her face in his coat."

"And the meaning of this was that she was a good girl. The ghost was a child. Now it has the meaning of affection."

"The little man helped her up the path and landed her on her own doorstep safely. In spite of the biting air he jerked his cap off as he bade her goodnight."

"Come in," she urged. "Oh, please come in. I don't think I can stand it to face the paddy cat all alone."

"His kindly blue eyes smiled at her. 'It's all right, come in. I'll be with you without you.'

"The little room was cheerless enough. Miss Frasier's ginger jars and Mellie's hat had been her only ornaments."

Crossing The Divide.

By ARLE ADYL. Copyright, 1908, by Jeanie Morgan.

The stagecoach rattled over the hills of the divide at a quick clip on a muggy December evening. The driver swung his six horses with great flourish and crackling of whip through the rough but level road of the divide street and out at the north end of the town.

FORESTERS OF AMERICA. CLANS OF COURT MANCHESTER DALLYING FOR ELEVENTH ANNUAL BALL AT CHENEY HALL BEFORE LENT.

Last Night's Note of Foresters' Trumpet Before Anniversary of Lent is—Eminent Committee Energetically at Work in Effort to Make Event Magnificent Triumph—Popularity of Foresters.

The eleventh annual ball of Court Manchester, No. 107, Foresters of America, loc. will be held at Cheney Hall Tuesday evening, March 3d.

The large membership of Court Manchester, which at the present time is about 250, calls for the distribution of a great deal of money each year.

To that end these public functions are arranged and carried out with constant success. Efficient and experienced committees are appointed to manage these different affairs and they are always that their patrons are well cared for, that every facility is provided for them.

The popularity of Court Manchester is proverbial and exceedingly well established in this place. For the last eleven years it has brought aid and comfort to many distressed members and its program have been lauded far and wide by those who have been its beneficiaries.

It is to inform the public that the Matchett Blacksmithshop on South Main Street near Mt. Nebo avenue will be continued the same as heretofore, and that there are two first class blacksmiths employed there now.

HUNGARIAN PARTRIDGE DROWNED IN LAKE.

Body of Joseph Calland Jr. Found After Three Months' Search. The following dispatch from Winsted appeared in the Hartford Courant yesterday, and is of interest to people here where the boy resided.

"A report which later proved to be true reached here today to the effect that Joseph Calland, the 13-year-old son of Joseph Calland of South Manchester, who disappeared from the school for timbering in Lakewille last October, was drowned in Lake Waconagan, the lifeless body being found three months later by two boys from the school. The case was hushed up and nothing has ever appeared in the newspapers regarding it so far as known.

"In his report to Coroner R. T. Higgins of this place Medical Examiner W. B. Hissell of Salisbury said: 'The boy's father had had him home for a visit and brought him back October 20, the 24 October he ran away. He was searched for over a month, but no trace could be obtained until he was found in a speck on the shore of the lake January 20.'
