AN HONORABLE RECORD

Last Tuesday the Huntingdon Business School rounded up 20 years of successful work in the city of Hartford and has given to thousands of young people with a radius of twenty miles thereof practical training, fitting them for the work of office assistants and in many cases laying a foundation for a successful business career on their own account.

Appropriate Exercises Close a Most Prosperous Year

The Morse Business College closed its forty-eighth year by appropriate graduation exercises Monday and celebrated its annual reunion at Compoose Lake Tuesday.

The class history was read by William Hickey of Hartford. The class poem was read by Miss Ruby Keesey of Buckland, and the class philosophy by Miss Flora Curtis of Simsbury.

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATIONS

William F. Davis, Jr., son of Rev. W. F. Davis, pastor of the South Methodist church was informed last Tuesday by the secretary of the faculty of Wesleyan that he had passed the preliminary examinations for entrance to Wesleyan next year, with one condition.

WOMANLY WISDOM

You don't want to go to heaven to find any. You may find them on almost any farm, sweet woods, second-hand coat store, at the wash-tub, at the ironing table, flitting about everywhere, ministering to the wants of their loved ones—sweet Martha, the angels that before a thing is done, look at it.

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

Ex-Senator John F. Dryden was well within the bounds of moderation, when he said that William H. Taft is one of the best equipped men who ever sought the presidency.

TAFT, in the first place, is a man of great natural talent. By way of developing it he has always been a hard worker and holds a high place for legal scholarship. He ranked high as a judge, and his opinions on questions of constitutional and international law are respected by the best legal minds.

CLOSED IN

Second of Group of Mill Which Chesney Brothers Are Erecting

The second of the handsome new mill which Chesney Brothers have in course of construction in this place at the present time has just been closed in and the work of the brick masons is practically ended accordingly.

The sprinkler system will be installed and the necessary machinery put in place in due course of time.

When suitable arrangements are made the business which Chesney Brothers are conducting on Morgan street, Hartford, in the manufacture of silk ribbons will be transferred to this place, and thus the entire mechanism will be concentrated in South Manchester.

It is quite pleasing to note the fact that while many places in the United States are more or less depressed because of the general dullness of trade, Chesney Brothers are looking confidently forward to the future and constructing large modern mills here in the hope and expectation of being able to manipulate the market.

BASE BALL

TEAM PLAYING UNDER NAME OF MANCHESTERS GO OUT OF BUSINESS. FOR WANT OF PATRONAGE.

People Here Have Cultivated Taste For Superior Quality of Base Ball and Refuse Patronage to Any Fellow Standard-Less of Base Ball Park. Express This Season.

The team that has been playing Base Ball here this season under the name of the Manchesters has gone out of business, as it was found that the public had no desire to support a quality of base ball that was not up to the standard furnished in the preceding four years.

The lease of Base Ball Park which is held by the Manchester Base Ball Corporation will expire this year, and at present it is quite problematical what will become of the property of the corporation.

It is understood that even if desired, the grounds could not be hired for base ball purposes another season, as some of the land owners are desirous of converting the premises again and breaking up their portion of the park into building lots.

THE MANCHESTER BASE BALL CORPORATION had a lease of the grounds for five years at a rental of $300 each year, making the cost for that period $1,500, bringing a total for equipment and ground rental up to $4,000. When the salaries of players are considered, the cost of the team is estimated to have a net sitting with a very celebrated pitcher who claimed to be able to read the mind of his batsmen.

When games were played here with regularity, as they have been during past four years, much pleasure, enjoyable and healthful outdoor recreation was furnished to the public. Usually in the summer time the mills here close for the Saturday half holiday and employees have simple opportunity to attend the ball games on Saturday afternoon. Games played on other days during the week were generally put on about four o'clock in the afternoon so that if employees of the mills desired to attend they had to lose but a quarter of a day in order to enjoy the game.

THE QUESTION OF WHAT IS TO BECOME OF THE PROPERTY OF THE BASE BALL CORPORATION when the present arrives for re-opening it from its present location is one that has to be adjusted in the near future.

A DISCARDED THRONE.

Louis Napoleon's State Chair, Which Was Not Used.

On the eve of the Franco-German war when the Emperor Louis Napoleon entered upon the conflict which ended so disastrously to himself and his countrymen, a state chair was prepared at a German town. They brought with them a large packing case, which on their arrival was carried to a hotel. Here the unknown visitors remained some time and eventually disappeared without paying their bill, which amounted to a considerable sum.

The landlady, whose curiosity had been aroused with reference to the possible contents of the case, at last determined to open it, and on doing so found a handsomely designed and richly upholstered state chair.

It is supposed that the throne-formerly used by Louis Napoleon was in the event of success attending the French army was to have been used by the emperor at Berlin after the capture of the city.

NEEDED THE BRUSH.

The Finishing Touch to Eli Whitney's Cotton Gin.

Eli Whitney, who so long venerated his soul over his first and mightiest invention, the cotton gin, was aided in his success by the quick wit and insight of a woman, in "Old Paths and Legends of the New England Border" Miss Katherine M. Abbott gives the story.

A recognized head of the house the brilliant Indian wife is much more likely to think her comparatively young husband than he is to ill use her.

It was a morning when the miniature was resolved into hindrance, and the cotton wool was successfully accomplished, but after a little the saws clogged with lint, the wheel stopped, and poor Whitney was in despair.

"Here's what you need!" exclaimed Mrs. Greene. She seized a clothes-brush and held it frantically to the teeth of the saws.

"Madam," said Whitney, overcome with emotion and speaking with the exaggeration of gratitude, "you have perfected my invention."

BOLIVIAN INDIANS.

The Majority Are Semi-Indo-European From the Cradle to the Grave.

The Indian women of Bolivia are usually superior to their male counterparts in intelligence; also in age, as a rule. They carry the larger share of their household "driving" and take the lead in most things.

A recognized head of the house the brilliant Indian wife is much more likely to think her comparatively young husband than he is to ill use her.

HIS COAT OF ARMS.

It Was Fairly Earned Since He Descended From a King.

A man applied to the college of heraldry for a coat of arms, says a writer in the Cornhill Magazine, and was asked if any of his ancestors had been rewarded for any singular achievement.

THE PERSONAL EQUATION. It plays a Very Large Part in Success in Business. If you stop for a moment to analyze success in business you will see it comes through contact with people. It is all things upon the manner of your contact. On every side you are surrounded by a multitude of people. In every one of them there exists a potential force that may be made active at one time or another, to add to your success. The officer you cause that force to be exerted through your business will grow. You can attract these individual forces if you choose and get the most from them, or you can repel them and suffer actual damage from having come in contact with them, or you may take a middle course, as many business men do, and drift along in a purely negative manner.

THE NINTH SCHOOL DISTRICT

Concluded From Page One. was made instead of $75.00, which has been the estimate in past years. During the coming summer slight changes will be made whereby an unnecessary waste of the exhaust steam from the engine is prevented, and it is hoped that this will have a material effect in the economy of heating the new building. The amount for this item for the past year was about $200.00.

During a part of the year I have known those to spend a part of each day digging among potato hills in the adjoining fields and to return to the mountain at nightfall, passing a farm which was almost covered with young poultry out for grasshoppers. From an experience of about ten years in a locality where fowls abound I am convinced that this animal destroys but few, if any, chickens. Our trouble there was, first of all, hawks, then skunks, and finally raccoons. The fox broke up the sitting turkey out at the base of the mountain. Of course in winter he may sometimes trap grouse in the snow at night, but who has ever seen a fox actually catch a grouse? Come, now, brothers of the forest, be honest and own up. It would be glad to learn how the fox does the trick, if any one has seen it done. Forest and Stream.

THE PERSONAL EQUATION

It plays a Very Large Part in Success in Business. If you stop for a moment to analyze success in business you will see it comes through contact with people. It is all things upon the manner of your contact. On every side you are surrounded by a multitude of people. In every one of them there exists a potential force that may be made active at one time or another, to add to your success. The officer you cause that force to be exerted through your business will grow. You can attract these individual forces if you choose and get the most from them, or you can repel them and suffer actual damage from having come in contact with them, or you may take a middle course, as many business men do, and drift along in a purely negative manner.

Local Paragraphs

Paul Keating, who is studying for the priesthood at Brighton Seminary, Brighton, Mass., is at his home on Elm Terrace for the summer vacation. The town has been accustomed to make an appropriation for text books and supplies separate from the appropriation for general school expenses. For the present year the appropriation was $5,000.00. The cost has been $4,873.35, which is $126.65 less than appropriation. This is also less than last year's cost by about the same amount. All classes in the school have been supplied with text books. There are practically no books left whose parents have supplied them with their own books. This item can now be pretty accurately estimated at about not to exceed $1.75 per pupil at an average attendance.

ENUMERATION, REGISTRATION AND AVERAGE ATTENDANCE. The enumeration of all children of school age residing within the district was 1709, which is an increase of 25 over last year, or less than 2 per cent. The average registration of equal number of names on the rolls was 1100 against 1075 for the year 1907, an increase of 25 or about 2 per cent. The number of pupils in average attendance for the year was 1112 against 1067 for the year 1907, an increase of 45 or 4.14 per cent over the year 1907. The ratio of the pupils actually in attendance to total registration was 80.7 per cent which is better by 4.10 of 1 per cent than the remarkable showing of last year. The cost per pupil has increased from $4.56, which was the average for the two preceding years, to $2.17. This increase is largely due to growing proportions of children who are taught by permanent teachers.

AN EASTERN MAGICIAN

The Fast & Ceylon Fakir is Said to Have Performed. This curious picture of an eastern magician is from Caroline Corner's "Ceylon, the Paradise of Adam's" the Fakir forthwith commenced to make the burden on his back, the principal item being a bamboo framework or scaffolding. This he held with his right hand, while he mounted step by step of bamboo. At the summit, a bright perhaps of eleven feet he passed, with arms extended, to effect a balance. For some reason or other the framework remained perfectly steady and perpendicular, while the fakir stretched himself out like a spider on its web. At intervals on the bamboo were forty nails, rusty, but sharp at the point. These nails distinctly penetrated the man's mahogany colored back when he stretched himself out on it. "This he remained, a hideous wound made by each nail, from which the purple blood flowed, lying there for some time. He was one of a diva who was an old maid or a business woman she might have obeyed orders issued by the general superintendent of the road, in which he owned a controlling interest. He knew every foot of its details. His other fad was that his daughter Edith, having finished her school days, should retreat herself in the P. and O. room, in which he owned a controlling interest. He knew every foot of its details. He stretched himself out on it. "This he remained, a hideous wound made by each nail, from which the purple blood flowed, lying there for some time. NEW FIRE APPARATUS

HOSE AND LADDER COMPANY NO. ONE STILL FURTHER IMPROVING THEIR EQUIPMENT.

Business Delegation in Title of New Apparatus—Three Streams of Water May be Directed Through Single Nozzle as Directed by Means of This Invention—The hose and nozzle through a single nozzle.

The patented device is known as the Eastman Delegation Set, and consists of a nozzle containing three waterways. The apparatus is made of aluminum, and is very light, is easily managed, and is very effective in extinguishing fires.

Experiments made with the new apparatus demonstrate that the single stream of water can be directed to a distance of 210 feet. It is also able to throw a stream higher than the highest church spire in town.

The apparatus is the latest invention known at the present time, and is another strong feature to the already great efficiency of the mechanical equipment of Hose and Ladder Company No. One.

The experiments were made under the direction of Frank Chesney, Jr., president of the South Manchester Fire District, who is also General Foreman I. H. Holman, of Hose and Ladder Co. No. 1, and superintendent of the South Manchester fire alarm telephone.

The Perfection Holder has a hook which may be attached to the ladder and help steady the nozzle, or may be employed to fasten on a window sill, or roof eave, to hold the ladder steady.

THE HIPPOCRATIC OATH.

What Every Conscientious Physician Undertakes to Do. "First and last, day and night, he who has given himself to the cause of medicine owes the most sacred, the most terrifying, the most pitiful, side of humanity, says a writer in Appleton's Magazine. "His training is in the slum, where the elements of life may flourish even the lowest and basest. His eyes are dimmed in sickness and pain, and his final act, as irrevocably as the rising of the sun, is to close the eyes forever of others, even perhaps those whom he brought into the world. He is the possessor of secrets, the repository of sorrow.

"I guess it had better be from Mrs. Drake, because she's right next door, and the Bennington boy is much handsomer."

Business Men Meet. AT ODD FELLOWS PARLORS LAST EVENING AND ENGAGE IN TIMELY DISCUSSIONS.

James W. Chesney Takes Optimistic View of Business Conditions in General and in South Manchester in Particular—Large W. W. Millard also present.

The regular meeting of the Manchester Business Men's Association was held at Odd Fellows parlors last evening; the report of the committee on the mid-summer outing of the association was read, also the report of the Industrial Committee.

In the absence of Chairman J. W. Hale, Vice President B. S. Carrier occupied the chair, and as Secretary P. W. Millard was also present, Nathan B. Richards recorded the proceedings.

It is believed that the public will appreciate the kindness and generosity of those who seek to entertain them in this manner free of cost, and that they will show by their conduct that the managers shall be justified in continuing the series to a finish during the hot summer evenings.

W. B. Richards strenuously sought to revive action by the committee on delinquent debtors, and to this end it was voted that the committee be instructed to report their doings at the next meeting of the association.

The matter of "Booming Manchester" was introduced by R. L. Motte Russell, who suggested that in the near future the association take necessary steps to bring the many advantages possessed by the town of Manchester to the attention of prospective manufacturers who are seeking for locations.

G. E. Willis brought up the much mooted question of the delay in completing the Manchester Green trolley line and a vote was passed requesting the committee having this matter in charge to inform themselves as to the real reasons for the delay in getting the line into operation and report their findings at the next meeting of the association.

Optimistic Review. In the general discussions which followed these several propositions James W. Chesney advanced the information that the town of Manchester, O. F. Brothers looked very bright at the present time.

Regarding velvet, shipments have been unusually heavy, especially towards the close of June. Mr. Chesney also stated it is proposed to soon transfer the business from the Morgan street mill in Hartford to the new mill in this place, and that this meant an influx of employees here forthwith.

By invitation of the Manchester Post-Office Association the Third Annual Field Meeting of the Connecticut Post-Office Association will be held at Center Springs Grove in this place, Wednesday, July 22nd.

People are delighted with the results of the new school in Hartford. The new school is a great success. Above will pay ten per cent on money invested. Two weeks 6 minutes walk of the mile at $1,000 each, renting for $400 per year and always rented.

Attendance over twice as large as last year. The Best Life Insurance Company is the one to understand our slipping away. But we will surely come back, time, I understand, is not in the hands of the English violinist, is to be next with you.

Her Good Answer. Tom—And when you proposed to me, I said, "I don't like you." Dick—No, she said, "I don't like you." Tom—No, she said, "I don't like you."
