It is with pleasure that we are able to announce the agreeable fact that meats are decidedly lower in price. They are on a level with a poor man's mouth and as a result he can feel that good, fresh, tender lamb and beef are purchasable products for his table, and not prohibitive because of high prices as they have been. It has always been our practice to sell at the lowest possible margin of profit and this we intend to continue. We desire to make our patrons our friends.

A study of the following schedule of prices on the very best strictly Spring Lamb and choice cuts of Beef will bear out the statement at the head of this advertisement.

Back around 1820, says the American Vehicle, in explaining it, when the transportation of goods, wares and merchandise was almost entirely by wagon, a Dr. Buck, who for many years afterward was the military storekeeper at Washington, was in charge of military stores en route to army posts in the southwest.

In east Tennessee much difficulty was experienced by reason of the rough roads, and there were frequent mishaps, mostly from the wagons over-Dr. Buck overhauled the outfit, and, abandoning the wagon bodies, long boards were set directly on the axles or hung below, and the stores were loaded in such a manner that there were no further delays from breakdowns, and the stores safely reached their destinations.
