NOTICE

Annual Town Meeting

Notice is hereby given to all the legal voters of the Town of Manchester, Connecticut, that the annual town meeting of said town will be held in the Town Hall in said Town of Manchester, on Monday the 9th day of October, A. D. 1908, at six o'clock in the forenoon for the following purposes, to wit:

1. For choice of the following officers:
2. To see if the town will authorize the Selectmen to borrow sufficient funds for the use of the town for the ensuing year, and give the note or notes of the town therefor.
3. To lay a tax for the payment of the State and County taxes, the support of Common Schools, and all other current expenses of the town for the next ensuing year, and to act upon the reports of the Selectmen, Treasurer, Library Directors and School Visitors for the past year.
4. To take action relative to appropriating a reasonable sum for the observance of Decoration Day to be expended under the direction of the selectmen.
5. To see if the town will provide for the repairs of its highways for the year next ensuing.
6. To see if the town will make an appropriation for the care of cemeteries for the year next ensuing.
7. To see if the town will authorize its Selectmen to appoint a probitor and make a specific appropriation therefor.
8. To see if the town will make a specific appropriation for the lighting of the highways of said town or any of them.
9. To determine by ballot whether any person shall be licensed to sell spirituous and intoxicating liquors in said town for the next year ensuing from and after the first Monday of November 1908.
10. To determine if the said town will authorize its Selectmen to negotiate, pay or exchange any present or future loan to the town, and give a note or notes in the name of the town for the same for such time not exceeding ten years, as in their opinions may be necessary.
11. Those if the town will authorize its selectmen to borrow a sum of money not exceed thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars for a period not to exceed ten years for the purpose of refunding outstanding notes of the town and to give the obligations of the town therefor.
12. To see if the town will authorize its treasurer to pay the principal and the interest of its outstanding bonds, as they become due, at the First National Bank in the City of Boston, Mass., notwithstanding that the bonds and coupons are by their tenor payable in the town of Manchester.
13. To see if the town will accept the Selectmen's layout of Henry street.
14. To see if the town will accept the Selectmen's layout of Hemlock street.
15. To see if the town will accept the Selectmen's layout of Lilly street.
16. To see if the town will place lights on Ridgewood street.
17. To see if the town will place lights on Wetherell street between Bridge street and Bidwell street and on Bidwell street between Wetherell and Kenney street and on Kenney street from Kenney street from Bidwell street to Hackmatack street.
18. To see what action the town will take upon the application of the owners of the land at the north

TAFT AS A SPEAKER.

His Talks to the People Winning Many Votes.

DOESN'T POSE AS AN ORATOR.

Word Pictures Not Needed to State Facts Plainly—Republican Candidate's Clearness and Sincerity Carry Conviction.

From being decidedly apprehensive as to the outcome of Judge Taft's speaking tour Republican leaders are now confident that the plainness and directness of the campaign was the decision to let the Republican candidate visit as many sections of the country as possible between now and election day and talk to as many voters as the time will permit. When speaking tours for Taft were first discussed the opinion of the plainness of his speech was the point on which the opposition was most strongly expressed. It was pointed out that as an orator Taft cannot be compared to Bryan. They argued that Taft, who makes no pretense of appearing on the stump against the gifted Nebraskan. But Judge Taft himself has cleared the problem and cleared the whole situation with one sentence in his recent speech at Sandusky, O.

"I cannot dwell in the cerebral bubble, but have to deal with facts," he declared. It is this dealing with facts in a clear, dispassionate manner that he is, that will cause him to gain strength every time he appears in public. Taft's best friends cannot claim for him that he is an orator. But he can tell the truth and does tell it. He will not have to paint beautiful word pictures to win his audience. He will not have to plead with silver eloquence for the alleged downtrodden nor call on "the masses" to rise up and save the country from the ruin which Bryan has been predicting and finding various penances for during the past twelve years.

What Taft has to do is to state cold, clear facts, to tell the truth about himself, to give to his audience a clear and unmistakable idea of what Taft the man is and what he stands for. And this he can do, and do well. By nature he is frank and open. It would be difficult for him to dissemble if he wished to do so.

Already Taft has begun making serious impressions on his auditors. Bryan never fails to tickle his auditors. In most instances he arouses enthusiasm, but it is an enthusiasm which rarely lasts. These who hear him and applaud go away and forget. With the Taft auditors it is different. By the clearness of his explanation and the absolute sincerity of his manner he carries conviction. His auditors are soon impressed by two things—Taft's ability and Taft's sincerity.

"That man means what he says," is a comment frequently heard after Taft has spoken. Another Taft characteristic is that he is winning many votes for the Republican candidate among those who knew nothing of him before they saw and heard him in his great country. He says what he thinks, and says it in such a way that it remains fixed in the minds of those who hear him. At Athens, O. he was addressing 400 union coal miners. He told them about having issued injunctions. "I issued them," he said, "because the rights of the plaintiffs demanded it. When I am on the bench I enforce the law. And I have no apology to make."

For a minute there was absolute silence, dramatic in its intensity. Then the 400 miners broke not merely into applause, but into enthusiastic cheering. After the meeting they were heard expressing their views.

"That man is on the level," said one. "He doesn't bend out any 'corn' talk. He knows where he stands and is not afraid to come straight out with a thing. He sits on the bridge during the parade, by the Hartford members. They will meet their Hartford brethren at Bliss hall, corner of Main and Pratt streets, who will entertain the visiting members. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

Joseph McLean, Commander.

The License Question

Whenever you cast your vote on the license question next Monday, there can be but one vote in justice to yourself to vote upon the ever present question of what means to buy and where to buy them.

The fine variety of choice meats to be found at the public market and the alluring prices which we quote below will settle beyond the shadow of a doubt the most question for every housekeeper who will read this advertisement and take advantage of the opportunity which is presented.

Week after week we are searching the meat market carefully to find the right quality of meat and to purchase them at prices which enable us to sell at the very low figures shown in our advertisements.

In this manner we make the public share in our efforts and in our experience and thus prove ourselves to be of great value to prudent housekeepers.

We hereby cordially invite all to come and share in the money saving offerings presented below.

Mary Lester Circle No. 322. Companions of the Forest of America will give a social and dance at Chesey hall Tuesday evening, October 27th. The Peerless orchestra will furnish music. Professor C. Foley will prompt. Admission will be twenty five cents. Tickets will be placed on sale next week, of which the members will have an ample supply and will endeavor to convert them into cash at their earliest convenience. The following committee have the arrangements in their charge: E. Alice O'Connor, chairman; Joseph Haisworth, secretary; John F. Campbell, Alice Quish, Sarah Grithow, Sarah Curran, Annie Thayer, Agnes Donahue, Mrs. Ellen Beckus, Rose Carter.

The circle has a membership of approximately 230 members, each of whom, under the law, is holder for one ticket. It will therefore readily be seen that with so many women purchasing the sale of tickets the circle is assured of a goodly sum of money from this social. They are also reasonably assured of a large gathering at their July event on the 27th inst. They make it a point to cater carefully to the social requirements of their friends on these occasions and a very enjoyable event is sure to ensue.

IF YOU ARE A JUDGE OF GOOD SHOES

This advertisement will not be necessary to inform you that the Boston Shoe Store is prepared to supply the people of Manchester with Fall and Winter Shoes such as have never been offered in this place before and at prices which by far undermine the prices of any city store. But to those of you who are not judges of up-to-date and durable shoes let us call your attention to our line.

During the past summer we visited the largest and best equipped shoe factories in the country with the intention of supplying this store with an unequalled line of shoes; and think we have fulfilled our purpose.

A mere glance at our window should prove to you beyond a doubt that those who wish to purchase up-to-date shoes at economical prices will patronize this store.

Our stock ascends to the top of the ladder as far as appearances and wear are concerned, but descends lower than any other store as far as prices are concerned.

We also pay car fare on every purchase of $3.00 or more.

Carefully inspect our window display and be convinced.

A Great Showing of Cotton Felt Mattresses

Our show windows this week should prove both interesting and instructive, in view of the widespread and growing use of cotton felt mattresses.

In three big piles we show every grade of cotton felt mattresses representing all the well known makes, while in the back ground and scattered about the floor may be seen bits of the white cotton right in the shell.

An ordinary cotton mattress you know is made by stuffing a tick full of loose cotton.

A cotton felt mattress is made by spinning out the cotton into webs the size of the mattress, forty webs to a layer, nine layers to a mattress.

Cotton felt mattresses vary in price according to the quality of the cotton and ticking.

Bent's "Georgia," "Rosefell" etc. are $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $11.00 and 212.00.

Stearns & Foster mattresses are $10.50 to $22.50.

Ostermoor $15.00, $16.50, $18.00 and upwards as high as $55.00.

BRIDGE CELEBRATION

THE CHENEY DISPLAY.

The first division ended with the engine float, and the Cheney Brothers regiment of men, numbering 1,000, then came in view with a file of Cheney leading line procession. After the South Manchester Military Band the Cheney interests having also the Philharmonic Band of New Britain and the Buckland Drum Corps. What a body of men they were, too, white blouses they wore with shades of red or yellow, and white caps. Their line was excellent and they closely pressed the Underwood works for first place in the number of men in line. It was known that the Cheneys expected to bring in 1,000 men on a special train and as they are men of their word it was assumed that they would do it, but few realized what a showing a thousand men in the prime of life make is a parade.

Then there was the float, of which even the horses that drew it seemed proud. The float consisted of a pyramid of silk, velvet and brocade of wonderful shades of color which shone in the sunlight and which attracted the attention of every woman within sight and that of not a few men as well. It was brilliant and was a thing which could not be reproduced elsewhere in New England if indeed it could in the United States. It was watched by Connecticut Grand Jurors and the stinging by the musical societies at the bridge. These exercises took place in the forenoon.

In the afternoon the military parade and the unveiling of the tablet on the bridge occupied the attention of the most respectable and in the evening the display of fireworks and river illumination was the one great brilliant feature of the magnificent celebration. Nothing so gorgeous or striking in the way of fireworks had ever been seen in New England.

The weather during the three days was all that could be expected. It was calm and fair, and during part of the day even hot. Not a drop of rain fell during the entire celebration and sunshine and happy air abounded considerably during the time. The traffic by train and trolley was abnormally heavy. In spite of this fact the multitudes were carried with safety and with reasonable dispatch. No considerable train or trolley accident was recorded.

SKILLFULLY MANAGED.

The athletic celebration was planned and executed in an admirable manner. Every detail was carefully anticipated and provided for. The gentleman in charge of the colossal festivities displayed magnificent administrative and executive powers and are certainly to be highly complimented upon the grand success which crowned their efforts. It was a celebration that was in every way admirable, and established a record for itself that has never been equalled in New England.

Hon. Morgan G. Bulkeley was the prime mover in this prodigious undertaking and was ably assisted by the gentlemen whom he gathered about him as advisers and co-workers. All are to be congratulated upon the magnificent results achieved.

Wednesday was the day of the Industrial parade and Manchester sent one thousand marchers into the city to swell the ranks. Colonel John Hickey was in command, assisted by Captain Philip Cheney and John T. Robertson as majors, and forty captains. The mills were closed as were also the stores and practically everybody left town that day.

Regarding the part Manchester took in the Industrial Parade, the Courant had the following:

The float consisted of a pyramid of silk, velvet and brocade of wonderful shades of color which shone in the sunlight and which attracted the attention of every woman within sight and that of not a few men as well. It was brilliant and was a thing which could not be reproduced elsewhere in New England if indeed it could in the United States. It was watched by Connecticut Grand Jurors and the stinging by the musical societies at the bridge. These exercises took place in the forenoon.

In the afternoon the military parade and the unveiling of the tablet on the bridge occupied the attention of the most respectable and in the evening the display of fireworks and river illumination was the one great brilliant feature of the magnificent celebration. Nothing so gorgeous or striking in the way of fireworks had ever been seen in New England.

The weather during the three days was all that could be expected. It was calm and fair, and during part of the day even hot. Not a drop of rain fell during the entire celebration and sunshine and happy air abounded considerably during the time. The traffic by train and trolley was abnormally heavy. In spite of this fact the multitudes were carried with safety and with reasonable dispatch. No considerable train or trolley accident was recorded.

SKILLFULLY MANAGED.

The athletic celebration was planned and executed in an admirable manner. Every detail was carefully anticipated and provided for. The gentleman in charge of the colossal festivities displayed magnificent administrative and executive powers and are certainly to be highly complimented upon the grand success which crowned their efforts. It was a celebration that was in every way admirable, and established a record for itself that has never been equalled in New England.

Hon. Morgan G. Bulkeley was the prime mover in this prodigious undertaking and was ably assisted by the gentlemen whom he gathered about him as advisers and co-workers. All are to be congratulated upon the magnificent results achieved.

Wednesday was the day of the Industrial parade and Manchester sent one thousand marchers into the city to swell the ranks. Colonel John Hickey was in command, assisted by Captain Philip Cheney and John T. Robertson as majors, and forty captains. The mills were closed as were also the stores and practically everybody left town that day.

Regarding the part Manchester took in the Industrial Parade, the Courant had the following:

The Cheney display.

The first division ended with the engine float, and the Cheney Brothers regiment of men, numbering 1,000, then came in view with a file of Cheney leading line procession. After the South Manchester Military Band the Cheney interests having also the Philharmonic Band of New Britain and the Buckland Drum Corps. What a body of men they were, too, white blouses they wore with shades of red or yellow, and white caps. Their line was excellent and they closely pressed the Underwood works for first place in the number of men in line. It was known that the Cheneys expected to bring in 1,000 men on a special train and as they are men of their word it was assumed that they would do it, but few realized what a showing a thousand men in the prime of life make is a parade.

Then there was the float, of which even the horses that drew it seemed proud. The float consisted of a pyramid of silk, velvet and brocade of wonderful shades of color which shone in the sunlight and which attracted the attention of every woman within sight and that of not a few men as well. It was brilliant and was a thing which could not be reproduced elsewhere in New England if indeed it could in the United States. DEMOCRAT ADVOCATES NEGRO DISFRANCHISEMENT.

National Committee Atwood, Bryan's Close Friend, Openly Favors Taking Vote From Colored Men of Kansas.

Disfranchisement of its many colored voters as demanded by John H. Atwood, Democratic national committee man from Kansas, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Democratic national committee, one of Bryan's closest friends and a man who it is said, Mr. Bryan intends to make attorney general if he should be elected president.

Disfranchisement of the colored men of Kansas was advocated by Mr. Atwood in the following letter published in the Kansas City Post of Kansas City, Kan., May 7, 1908:

Letter Urging Disfranchisement. Resolved in 1882, the dominant force in the Bryan campaign is the voice of the parrot. It is just as shrewd, just as tactful and just as astute as it was twenty years ago and is bound to become quite as astute to the public.

There was a time when the negro vote was not a consideration in the Bryan campaign. It was not until the late '80s that the influx of negroes from the south, the rapid multiplication of those native to Kansas and the fact that the negro vote had not been for the negro but for the white man.

TOWN ELECTION

DETAILED FIGURES OF VOTES CAST FOR REPUBLICANS, DEMOCRATS AND PROHIBITIONISTS

Republicans Show Up Strong in Large Vote Driven Out by Opponents on License Question—Chartering Weather Office—Democracy Held Expressive Over Prohibitionists.

The annual town election took place last Monday and was the first under new and improved form of town government for Manchester.

The only contest of the day was that on the question of license or no license and the "license" forces won out after a spirited struggle by a majority of 52 out of a total of 1692 votes cast on that question.

Antos and teams were employed by both sides in the effort for supremacy, and much personal and earnest effort was expended by both bodies of faithful workers.

During the past year the Town of Manchester has been in the no-license column, and temperance workers sought by a vigorous campaign to see that the no-license majority of the citizens of this town determined otherwise by their vote at the polls last Monday, and so it shall be during the coming license year beginning November second.

The total number of names checked on the voting list was 1908, of which 1382 were counted.

The Republicans had 877 straight ballots, the Democrats 406, and the Prohibitionists 306. The split ballots were Republican, 287, Democratic, 65 and Prohibitionist, 4. The straight Republican votes was 1300, the Democratic 474, and the Prohibitionist, 304.

There isn't any doubt as to how the Manchester Republican vote will be rolled up at the November election. The vote was an unusually large one for a town election, and the R-publicans were decidedly in the running, as may be noted above.

The Prohibitionists sought to overthrow the Democrats in the struggle for dominance as a party of the second part, but in this they were not successful. There are many persons here who vote license—who are not Prohibitionists.

MAKING VOTERS In another column of today's News will be found the official announcement of the selectmen and town clerk designating the time and place where they will convene to make voters. Persons desiring to be made for the coming election will do well to post themselves on this important matter and govern themselves accordingly.

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

HELD LAST MONDAY. BUSINESS SESSION LASTED NEARLY THREE HOURS.

Resolute Business Transacted Without Appearances Debaits—Hairtons Left to Incoming Board of Seven Selectmen—Better Things Expected Under New Form of Town Government.

It took almost three hours last Monday afternoon to transact the town's business meeting, over which E. L. G. Hohenbald presided, under appointment by the moderator, W. S. Hyde. Town Clerk Sanford M. Boston recorded the proceedings. A class in civics from the South Manchester High School were present to take notes and study the forms of procedure conducted by the business session of an annual town meeting in action.

The fact is that the town of Manchester is entering up an experiment of the few forms of town government, where in seven selectmen are chosen instead of three, where the seven selectmen are largely shorn of the duties usually devolving upon the first selectmen, and where the business of the town is to be conducted in a large way by committees appointed by the selectmen for that purpose.

The selectmen's layout of Henry, Hemlock and Liberty streets were approved. It was also decided that there is a street named Henry over North and objection was made to having a street at the South end of the same name. After discussion it was agreed to have the street named Henry.

The matter of compensating Manchester Lodge of Masons for alleged encroachments on their property at the corner was left to the incoming board of selectmen for adjustment. John S. Cheney as representing the Masonic body claimed that damages of five hundred dollars had been done to the lodge's property at that point.

Under the new form of town government the selectmen are to hold public meetings at least once a month through the press, and the business of the town is to be transacted in open meetings, at which meetings any citizen may present themselves for the board of selectmen under the present form of town government.

The spirit of close rivalry which has been in recent years one of the features of the annual town meeting was almost wholly lacking last Monday afternoon. The twenty-one sections of the warrant for the annual town meeting were gone through with as expeditiously as might be, and there was marked absence of debate, criticism, or fault finding.

The last year's rate of ten mills was laid for the coming year. John S. Cheney urged a higher rate, but the meeting refused to vote it.

One hundred dollars were appropriated for the rentable observation of Memorial Day.

The selectmen were authorized to borrow seventy-five thousand dollars at the current expense of the town and to give the town's notes for same, said notes to be not renewed. This was also voted.

The selectmen were authorized to provide for the present floating debt of the town by the issuance of notes for thirty thousand dollars payable in ten years.

The reports of the selectmen, treasurer, library directors, and school visitors were read and accepted without debate.

The one change being made was that of the names of the town officers. The town officers and their reports of all town officers appearing in the town report. This addition was called for on motion of E. L. G. Hohenbald and granted.

It was voted to leave the care of the town's affairs in the hands of the selectmen for the ensuing year in order that they might appoint a commissioner of highways and bridges to manage same in accordance with the new form of town government under which Manchester is to act during the coming year.

The care of the several cemeteries was left in charge of the same committee which was selected last year, and appropriate action was taken on the part of the selectmen for the coming year.

It was voted that the selectmen may be authorized to appoint five regular policemen instead of four and also three supernumeraries, same to be called upon when required for the enforcement of law and order in town. Chief Sheridan was appointed to appoint the policemen which has comprised but four policemen heretofore, and the town was understood that the supernumeraries are to be called upon for the enforcement of law and order in town.

Chief Sheridan, at the time had his rifle half cooked and in running past a tree the rifle was accidentally struck and discharged, the bullet entering the back of Harry Warren's head and lodging in the base of the brain. The lad fell to the ground and never spoke. Dr. Gilliam was summoned and responding to the call carried the Warren boy to the residence of J. B. Quigg. Seeing that the lad could not live Dr. Gilliam notified Medical Examiner Dr. W. R. Tucker, but before the latter could arrive the boy was dead. The funeral took place at a funeral home, Rev. Dr. George W. Reynolds officiating. Burial was at the West cemetery, and Mrs. Warren was in Hartford at the time of the funeral.

It was voted to appropriate not to exceed eight thousand dollars to cover the cost of street lighting during the coming year. The appropriation of $7,000 made last year was all used, and a number of new streets are to be lighted this year. It was deemed proper to appropriate five hundred dollars more which will give fifty additional lights as the moonlight service given here costs ten dollars the light per annum.

Walter W. Cowles criticized the electric street lighting service given over North and Liberty streets, and it was not given value for the money expended in righting that part of the town. Mr. Cowles claimed that there were six or eight wires in the past year down which period the North End had no lights. On motion it was voted to leave the matter of street lighting in the hands of the incoming board of selectmen, they to use their best judgment in the interests of the town.

It was voted to authorize the town treasurer to pay the principal and interest of the town's bonds as they become due at the First National Bank, the party whose past needs had been at the bank in this town, as originally agreed.

It was voted to appropriate not to exceed eight thousand dollars to cover the cost of street lighting during the coming year.

THE PARTY OF YOUTH

Why Young Men Vote the Republican Ticket.

IT STANDS FOR PROGRESS.

New Voters Proud to Ally Themselves with the Party of Lincoln in the Past Performance Promise a Still More Glorious Future.

It is not without significance that young men who have just attained their majority are found, as a rule, voting the Republican ticket. The reason is plain.

Those young men look back upon the Party of Lincoln in the Past Performance Promise a Still More Glorious Future.

It is not without significance that young men who have just attained their majority are found, as a rule, voting the Republican ticket.

The Republican party is eminently the party of youth. With Republicans the memory of the glorious past is but an incentive to make the future still more glorious. To the Democracy is left the congenial occupation of fomenting in the young men the type of chaotic vagaries, turned on by some new and delusive 'off-the-wall' to the vagaries of quadrangular failure.

The youth have deduced from his message that his thoughts ran something like this: 'That's a hard climb, and that hole looks smaller than my body, but these fellows don't believe that I can climb up that ladder and get through the hole. I believe I can. I'm going to try it.'

Before he was asked Mr. Taft had half sealed the ladder. Ambassador O'Brien and Judge Burke, despite their holds, were a prospect for his own advancement, because in building up the nation as a whole it offers fresh opportunities to the young man, because under Republican administration there is a fair field for every one, and every citizen is protected in the enjoyment of that which he has right fully acquired.

The new voter who takes his place in the Republican ranks and who is content for the satisfaction not only of sharing in the Republican victory, but also of the various programs which are to be carried out for the benefit of the country at large and an immeasurably better chance in life for himself and those in whom he is interested.

When the circumstances of his birth came into conjunction with the contentment of the hole it was a leap-up for a minute which would win. But Mr. Taft proved that he had a slender chance to get through the hole. It was a struggle. He stuck to it grimly and doggedly. The lifting of 285 pounds of iron by the muscles of the arm is a task that would tax the strength of a far lighter man. A fund of energy was expended in the hole and fought it out for an hour rather than retreat. That is Taft.

NEGRO AND DEMOCRACY.

Would He Succeed For Colored Men to One of the Best For Bryan.

One of the greatest reasons the race has known, a leader of his time and the honored candidate of President Grant and Secretary of War, said: "It would be suicidal for colored men to vote for Bryan. They have nothing to hope for from the Democratic party, which has disfranchised them in the south and which professes to regard them as units for the ballot anywhere."

In view of the fact that Bryan himself approved negro disfranchisement in the south there can be no doubt of his attitude should he be elected to the presidency, while the southern Democrats would regard northern negro votes for their candidates as an endorsement by the negro race of southern treatment of the negro.

It is impossible to believe that any negro who has studied intelligently the history of his race will go into the voting booth and cast a ballot in favor of Bryan and against Taft and Sherman, the Republican candidates—the candidates of the party which opened the door of hope to the colored man, which gave him the ballot and safeguards him in his use in every state in which Republicans rule.

Democracy Divided. Thomas J. Higin, local candidate for the presidency, looks for the election of Taft and then a new alignment of political parties. Mr. Higin says: "The Democratic party will disintegrate. The Republicans will get more of these former Democrats, and the Independence League will get more of them. The campaign of 1912 will be fought only by a different set of political parties from those now in the field."

Bryan's grand handicap in running for the presidency is that he cannot run away from his record.

MR. TAFT DOES THINGS.

One Incident That Shows the Quality of the Man.

This incident affords perhaps as good an insight into the psychology of Mr. Taft as any that could be cited. It illustrates the way Mr. Taft does things, the way he works and the way he plays, for when he plays he plays as hard and seriously as he works.

With him the thing is to do it. Accomplishment is ever his aim. It happened while Mr. Taft was in the boat bound for Manila to over the Philippine assembly. The narrator watched the proceedings at close hand. Three boats stood between docks on the steamship, away up in the eyes of the ship, and contemplated a hole ten feet above their heads, narrow from ladder led perpendicularly to the deck. The circumference of the hole seemed to approximate that of a sugar barrel. The proximity of that of a sugar barrel. The circumference of the hole seemed to approximate that of a sugar barrel.

For a moment the three turned aside to examine something to the right. Unprepared, Mr. Taft stepped to the foot of the ladder and observed it contemplatively. One thought occurred to him. He looked like this: "That's a hard climb, and that hole looks smaller than my body, but these fellows don't believe that I can climb up that ladder and get through the hole. I believe I can. I'm going to try it."

Before he was asked Mr. Taft had half sealed the ladder. Ambassador O'Brien and Judge Burke, despite their holds, were a prospect for his own advancement, because in building up the nation as a whole it offers fresh opportunities to the young man, because under Republican administration there is a fair field for every one, and every citizen is protected in the enjoyment of that which he has right fully acquired.

NOW FOR BUSINESS

Everybody hereabouts has been so busy for the past three days attending the various features of the great Hartford Bridge Dedication, that it was impossible to interest them in anything that could possibly be deferred.

Now that the festivities are happily over, that all have drunk deep and satisfyingly out of Plummer's cup, it becomes proper that prudent housekeepers should cast about and see wherein they may make the best and most economic purchases. To that end The Public Market Company having set forth the following alluring meat offerings:

- Large Smoked Shoulders 8c
Fancy Pot Roast 12c
Prime Rib Roast Beef 12-16c
Good Oven Roasts 14c

ASSESSORS' NOTICE!

The inhabitants of the town of Manchester liable to pay taxes, are hereby notified and required to return to the assessors on or before the 2nd day of November next, a list of all property owned by them on the first day of October 1938, and the assessors will then make the list for the purpose of receiving their lists at the Hall of Records, Monday, Oct. 16th to Saturday, Oct. 24th, inclusive, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday, Oct. 26 to Monday, Nov. 2, inclusive, from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m.

Meeting meetings are for the convenience of those who cannot come to the day sessions. Taxpayers are requested to come in the daytime if possible and not crowd the evening sessions. Persons owning pianos are urged to have them tuned to save the 10 per cent addition. Please note change of hours of meetings of first seven days at Hall of Records. Please note that all meetings will be held at the Hall of Records.

All lists of REAL ESTATE must give the BOUNDARIES of the land, as by law required, or they will not be ACCEPTED. Persons neglecting to attend to their lists on or before the second day of November, will have ten per cent. added to same. All persons liable to give in lists of taxable property are urged to appear before the assessors.

COLLIDED WITH AUTO

Edward Schreiber narrowly escapes death this afternoon. Edward Schreiber the twelve year-old son of Gustave and Mrs. Schreiber of West Center street had the misfortune to collide with E. T. Carrier's auto at the corner of Main and Charter Oak streets, this afternoon shortly after one o'clock, while on his way to school. Mr. Carrier was coming down Main street and turning around Charter Oak street to his home. The boy came up Hartford Road and swinging around into Main street collided with the auto, as noted above. The bicycle sustained the greater part of the shock in the impact with the auto, but the boy fell on his head to the ground and lay there unconscious. A number of carriages were assembled at the corner waiting to take persons from the trolleys to the funeral of A. Wells Case. The vehicles obstructed the view from either direction and had something to do with causing the accident.

The boy was picked up by Robert K. Anderson and carried to the office of Dr. Sloan where his wounds were dressed. They found a scalp wound on the top of the boy's head and his left hand was injured somewhat. Fortunately no bones were broken and the doctor thinks the boy will not be permanently injured. He narrowly escaped death and is to be congratulated accordingly.

ANOTHER SUB-STATION

This One To Be Located on West Center Street. Word received from Washington this morning by Postmaster W. R. Chasney of the South Manchester Post Office brings the information that another sub-station is to be added to the South Manchester service, namely in the store of the Palace Furniture Company on West Center street, with Washington as Postmaster. The Washington address state that the new sub-station will in all probability be in operation by November 2nd.

A canvas made of the district which the new sub-station will accommodate reveals the fact that there are many people within a radius around the station from the railroad bridge on West Center street to the East Cemetery, north to and including Pearl street, north to Middle turnpike, and West across Main street to the tracks of the South Manchester railroad.

WITH THE HUNTERS

Local Men Getting Their Share of the Game Hereabouts. August Senkell of School street seems to be getting his share of game these days. Tuesday night he went out hunting and in a couple of hours bagged a couple of yearlings whose weight tipped the scales at twenty-seven pounds. Thursday morning, in company with a friend, a grey squirrel and four partridges were brought down. A game wiper is surely in order at Mr. Senkell's!

REV. MR. ROGERS HERE

Rev. George H. Rogers of Franklin, Mass., is the guest of James Vetch and family of Church street. Mr. Rogers came to town Wednesday to attend the ordination ceremony in Hartford and intends to remain here over Sunday, where he will visit friends and renew acquaintances. It will be remembered that Rev. Mr. Rogers formerly resided here, where he is well and favorably known. He still retains a friendly interest in South Manchester and in its people. He is being cordially greeted on every hand.

A. WELLS CASE

DEATH OF WELL KNOWN PAPER MANUFACTURER OF HIGHLAND PARK LAST TUESDAY. Serial This Afternoon—Life Long Resident of Town—Public Spirited Citizen—Well Known Inventor—Successful Capitalist of Industry—Family of Paper Makers. Alfred Wells Case died at his home in Highland Park Tuesday morning after a short illness with several complications including uremia, which terminated his existence. His funeral is taking place this afternoon as we go to press, services being held at the residence in Highland Park, Rev. W. F. Davis, pastor of the South Methodist church of this place officiating, and Rev. Julius I. Wadsworth of Brookton, Mass., speaking in the funeral. Burial will be in the East Cemetery.

Mr. Case was a successful paper manufacturer in this town where he spent all his life and devoted his talents and energies to the building up of a successful and prosperous business. He was a public spirited citizen as well, and did much to beautify his surroundings in Highland Park, where he laid out a charming park which is free to the public, and turned the Highlands generally to a great extent into a place of unusual beauty.

He took a keen interest in public affairs, was well known, honored and respected by his fellow citizens in this town, and his passing away brings deep regrets to many, and heartfelt sympathy with those of his family who remain. Mr. Case was the third of our well known and long established and successful paper manufacturers who have passed away from the scene of their activities within the last two years, the other two being Henry E. Rogers and F. Dwight Hale. It will be remembered that Mr. Rogers died some two years ago and Mr. Hale a few months ago.

A. WELLS CASE

land Park. Mr. Case was the son of Charles and Mary (Clough) Case and was born October 30, 1850, in the western part of Manchester, receiving his education in the public schools. At the age of 17 he entered the employ of Messrs. W. & E. Bruce, paper manufacturers. When 21 he left home and engaged in mercantile pursuits, later associating himself with his twin brother, Albert Willard Case, in paper manufacturing, under the firm name of Case Brothers. He was an inventor of some note, having taken out several patents, the most noted of which was the Case propeller wheel. He was an ardent lover of nature, and for many years spent much time and money in developing the natural beauties at Highland Park, near his home, and at the time of his sickness was actively engaged in building a new road through his property, bordering the reservoir.

In politics Mr. Case was a republican and represented Manchester in the legislature of 1880. He was held in high esteem by his townsmen as an honorable and useful citizen. He was devoted to his family and greatly missed the companionship of his wife, who died about three years ago.

Mr. Case is survived by two children, a son, Lawrence Wells, and a daughter, Carol Maude, both of whom lived with him at Highland Park; also three brothers, Henry F. Case and Albert Willard Case of Highland Park, and Fred L. Case of Andover.

SELECTION TO ORGANIZE

A meeting of the newly elected board of seven selectmen will be held at the Hall of Records tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock for the purpose of organization. Because of the hurry-hurry incident to the Hartford Bridge Celebration of the past three days it has not been feasible for the selectmen to meet heretofore. Now that the bridge has been properly dedicated the new order of business will be taken up.

IF YOU ARE A JUDGE OF GOOD SHOES

This advertisement will not be necessary to inform you that the Boston Shoe Store is prepared to supply the people of Manchester with Fall and Winter Shoes such as have never been offered in this place before and at prices which by far undermine the prices of any city store. But to those of you who are not judges of up-to-date and durable shoes let us call your attention to our line.

During the past summer we visited the largest and best equipped shoe factories in the country with the intention of supplying this store with an unequalled line of shoes; and think we have fulfilled our purpose. A mere glance at our window should prove to you beyond a doubt that those who wish to purchase up-to-date shoes at economical prices will patronize this store.

Our stock ascends to the top of the ladder as far as appearances and wear are concerned, but descends lower than any other store as far as prices are concerned. We also pay car fare on every purchase of $3.00 or more.

Carefully inspect our window display and be convinced.

THE CARE OF FISH

is a very simple matter and the fish should live for years if properly taken care of. A ten-cent box of food which we sell will feed two fish over a year making the expense practically nothing. They are only fed once a day and then with a piece of water about 1-16 of an inch square. WHAT KILLS GOLD FISH IS OVER FEEDING. THEY LIVE FOR YEARS WITH PROPER CARE.

TO-NIGHT and TOMORROW Only 15c Small Size and 75c Large Size. GET YOURS BEFORE THEY ARE ALL SOLD.

MET LAST NIGHT

THIRD SESSION OF SELECTMEN DURING FIRST WEEK IN OFFICE. ARE SURELY EARNING SALARIES. William F. Madden and Samuel S. Gordon Appointed as New Pollicemen—Will Be on Duty November First—Several Important Questions Discussed—Pleas of Business.

The third meeting of the new board of selectmen to be held this week took place last evening at the Hall of Records, the session opening at eight o'clock and closing at 11:25. All members of the board were present.

The bills which had been accumulating against the town were ordered paid. Charles Richetts asked to have the street lines established on Hudson street, in order that he might know just where to build his proposed sidewalk. This question was referred to S-lectman Williams for investigation and report, not only regarding this particular case, but all others in town. An offer was received to furnish the $30,000 necessary to cover the present indebtedness of the town by taking the town's note for same for ten years at four per cent. Other offers regarding this matter are expected, and therefore the question is held in abeyance.

Superintendent George Murdock of the town farm reported that under their present conditions Dwight Chaffee and Leroy Matson could not be properly cared for at the town farm and requested that they be provided for elsewhere. The matter was referred to Selectman Krosney.

On request of Chairman Horace B. Chasney, Chief Sheldon presented a code of by-laws for the government of the police department. These are to be studied by the selectmen and action taken thereon later. On the recommendation of Chief Sheldon, Officer William G. Gossney was reappointed as policeman, and Samuel G. Gordon and William F. Madden were appointed as policemen. The new appointments are to begin their duties November 1st, 1938. Charles Johnson was not reappointed as policeman. The matter of appointing an extra policeman to serve in the vicinity of the Center was deferred. No action was taken with reference to appointing supernumeraries.

The following transient officers were appointed: F. A. Verplanck, Thomas Gray, William E. Gossney, C. W. M. Blanchard and Thomas J. Smith. William E. Hibbard was appointed as a member of weights and measures.

Thomas Gray was given power to rent the town hall at reasonable prices for proper purposes at $2 the night, with the restriction that no intoxicating liquors be allowed in the hall or on the premises.

The question of definitely locating the hall owned by the Town of Manchester at the north base of Center Hill, which has been used for a pound was referred to Selectman Williams for investigation and report.

George Murdock was continued temporarily in charge of the town farm until such time as the board could make an appointment of a charity commissioner. It was explained that the charity commissioner would have entire charge of the outdoor aims as well as the town farm and the inmates thereof. The new board of selectmen have certainly had a strenuous week for a beginning, and are abundantly earning their salaries.

BUILDING GREEN HOUSES

Henry A. Nettleton and Dr. North are building two green houses 30 x 65 feet each for the production of vegetables under glass. The green houses are constructed on Mr. Nettleton's property on Huntington street. Thomas M. Trotter, the main street plumber, is installing a steam heating plant for the green houses and also for the Nettleton residence, a portion of which is occupied by Dr. North.
