SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL

GIVEN BY HOSE & LADDER COMPANY NUMBER ONE AT CHENEY HALL THANKSGIVING EVE

Large and Merry Family Gathering—Delightful Music—Excellent Entertainment of Children in Party—List of Those Who Received Favors—Admission Tickets To Be Returned and Kept for Reference.

The annual Thanksgiving Eve dance given at Cheney Hall by Hose & Ladder Company No. 1, South Manchester Fire Department Wednesday evening was a fine success in every particular and will doubtless net a larger sum for the company than any of its predecessors.

The dance itself was admirably conducted. The best of order was maintained throughout and it was a large and altogether delightful social gathering. The children were there in goodly numbers and enjoyed the event most heartily.

The prize winners and prizes were as follows: Alexander Shields, two pairs of brown leggings; John Tanner, one pair of brown leggings; H. Carroll Burdette, one pair of white Peking ducks; Robert Turkington, roasting pig; St. O. Cheney, Jr. won the large goose, but returned his ticket and on the second effort Mrs. Rachel Chambers was the winner; P. A. Brink, pair of Buff Orpingtons; Jean Craig (who was married last week) 80-pound turkey; Jess Porterfield, pair of bench carriages; L. H. Lewis, New Haven, bushel of potatoes; George Robinson, bushel of onions; Mrs. Ella Horan, East Hartford, bushel of apples; Annie Abrahamson, bunch bananas; George W. House, meerschaum pipe; Thomas R. Babby, box of cigars.

Chief of Police John F. Sheridan has been appointed agent of the Connecticut Humane Society for this town. Walter E. Luettgens gave a game supper to a number of his friends on Thanksgiving Day. Partridge and quail were the chief game features but the necessary accompaniments were not lacking.

Rev. William J. McGark, pastor of St. James Catholic church here will offer prayer at the opening of the December term of the superior court in Hartford, Tuesday afternoon of next week at 10 o'clock. Judge William S. Case will be on the bench. The class plays for the class of '10 South Manchester High School have been received and are being proudly worn by members.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

THE GOVERNOR'S THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION READ AT ALL MASSSES LAST SUNDAY

In Directing Attention to Observance of Day and Heartily Commending Custom Father McGark Points Out Some Special Reasons Why Catholics Should Be Thankful and Grateful.

At St. James church Sunday Father McGark read the Governor's proclamation and made it a text for a sermon on the Christian duty of thanksgiving. Gratitude was extolled as something to be cultivated, something pleasing alike to God and man; it keeps us in mind of our obligations to the great Provider of all that we have and safeguards us against sin, which is ever a mark of ingratitude.

St. Polycarp the Martyr, refused to blaspheme against God because of God's goodness to him during his long life, and Job could not be tempted to despair because despite his present severe trials God had always blessed him and the memory of those blessings overshadowed all his miseries and made him to say "though He slay me yet will I trust him." With us too gratitude should so fill the soul as to hide the passing misfortunes of life and give us the strength to say no matter how bitter the sorrow "thy will be done." And if our thanksgiving should be in proportion to the blessings we have received, surely the Catholic Church in these new lands has ample reason to thank God for a century of marvelous prosperity.

This year New York and Boston celebrated the centenary of their establishment as separate dioceses. One hundred years there was one Catholic Church in all New England, one bishop, two priests, and perhaps a few hundred souls scattered all over this wide territory. Now there are eight bishops, one thousand churches, two thousand priests, and a Catholic population of nearly three million souls. And this in the face of the native antipathy to everything that bore the name of Catholicism. The Puritan pronounced sentence of extermination against himself and someone else must possess the land. It seems the irony of fate that the Catholic who was so cordially hated in New England should seem destined to predominate. Bigotry, which was only misunderstanding, has given way to mutual good will.

Perhaps a better sign of the times could be cited than the open letters of President Roosevelt and President-elect Taft rebuking the intolerant spirit of those who would discriminate against a man because he was a Catholic.

These are signs of a new era of liberty, and the Catholic for the first time is unhampered by his religion in the race for success with his fellow. No one who has seen the devotion of the members of this church to the flag of our country can doubt the sincerity of his loyalty, or question his patriotism. Moreover, the better his Catholicism the better his patriotism, the more faithful to his country.

Thanksgiving then for the manifold blessings that the God of nations has showered upon America has a special meaning for the Catholic; it remains for him to prove his gratitude by a faithful spirit of obedience to the laws of God and the laws of his country, proving anew that being a good Catholic he must be a good American.

Why We Wear Glasses.

Man's eyes at rest are far focused—will make no effort when seeing the moon or earthy objects. Birds and fishes' eyes at rest are near focused—will make no effort when looking at nearby worms and minnows.

Man's eyes are under constant straining compression. Imagine a rubber ball of fattened convex lenslike shape laid in between two disks of canvas and the uniting edges of these disks stretched to a ring. They would flatten the rubber, and if relaxed it would thicken by its own elasticity.

The thicker the lens the shorter its focus. For reading or threading a needle we relax the tension on the lens by contracting the rubber, and by rounding each lens and then wait for the lenses to thicken through their elasticity. In fish the lens is set against the cornea (approximately), short focus, and when it wants to see whether the shadowy object some feet away is a shark or a log it pulls the entire round lens toward the retina and gets as clear a vision as possible.

Now we see why so many human eyes need "spectacles" as they grow old—the elasticity of the lenses is gradually lost, just as it is in rubber.—Harper's.

The Finger Nail.

In days when superstitious was more prevalent than it is now the shape and appearance of the finger nails were considered to have reference to one's destiny. To learn the message of the finger nails it was necessary to rub them over with a compound of wax and ointment and to hold them so that the sunlight fell fully on them.

There had been no rain for several days, and on the other hand the breeze had been blowing from the east, the tent shone early morning. The flames would run to the geyser, and when these gave way the crowd would be enveloped in a mass of flame. There was no time to signal before the blazing field flying over the crowd below and the tinderlike tent.

SHOT NEN HAWK

Albert C. Ball, who resides in the south part of the town, saw a large hen hawk making off with one of his hens last Saturday afternoon and brought the thief to ground with the aid of his shot gun. The hawk was a good specimen and measured three and one-half feet from tip to tip. Mr. Ball intends to have it stuffed and keep it as a souvenir.

THE SUBMARINE CABLE

The first cable successfully laid extended from Valentia island, off the coast of Ireland, to Heart's Content, Newfoundland, about 2000 miles. The cable was landed on the American side on Aug. 5, 1905, but was not ready for use till Aug. 16. About 700 short messages were sent through it, but it entirely failed within a month. The fact was a serious one. Several other failures in that part of the town have been bothered considerably of late by hawks taking away their chickens.

U. S. SENATORSHIP

The opinion of Congressman E. J. Hill held in New York financial circles is voiced by the following editorial from the New York Evening Post of November 18, on Mr. Hill's candidacy for the United States senatorship.

"Congressman Hill has an opportunity to put a statement of high rank in the Senate of the United States. Congressman E. J. Hill, who has announced his candidacy, has been in the House consecutively since 1898, and has grown in public esteem during all the years that have intervened since he became a member of the House.

A RARE PERSONALITY

Theman in the political line is not always—perhaps not often—the most useful citizen. We have heard much of late about many candidates, who at the human program. But the public seldom hears anything concerning such a unique, strong, energetic and admirable character as George T. Angell, the veteran publisher of our Dumb Animals.

George T. Angell has been a friend of the animal world for many years. He has written a book on the subject, and he has actually lived with the animals for many years.

AN AMUSING CUSTOM.

Spaniards Trick Themselves into Wanting a Glass of Water. Writing of experiences with Spanish hospitality, Ellen Maury Hayden in the Century says:

The cafes were always crowded to suffocation, and yet we lingered past the small hours, the men smoking dozens of cigars and the women slipping bits of water into chocolate as securely as if they had the right instead of the day before them.

It is always amusing to see these most temperate people tricking themselves into wanting a glass of water. They recommend certain dishes and enjoy their eternal chocolate chiefly because "it makes one so thirsty."

JUGGLERS OF INDIA.

One of the Wonderful Feats They Are Said to Perform. Two men one old and emaciated, carrying a native drum; the other young and well fed, fantastically gowned with an overskirt of colored handkerchiefs and a multitude of bells which jangle noisily at his slightest movement, long ragged hair, altogether a hideous figure.

The drummer begins a weird tomtomming and the other man an incantation. Then he extends a "supra," a bamboo tray used by all natives, on which any one who pleases places a large handful of rice and the same which jangle noisily at his slightest movement, long ragged hair, altogether a hideous figure.

Now the fantastic man with his tray begins. He turns round slowly, gradually quickening his pace the drummer also keeping time, faster and faster in a giddy vortex, the tray at times almost out of his hands, yet so cleverly handled that not a grain falls out. It is very trying to watch, but in a couple of minutes both stop simultaneously, and the man shows to the wondering spectators two little heaps, one of rice and the other grain, at different ends of the tray, which in his sickening gyrations he has been able to separate by some extraordinary manipulation.—Pearson's Weekly.

The annual roll call and harvest supper entertainment given by the Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H. took place in Cheney Hall Monday evening and was a fine success in every particular. About one hundred persons were present and enjoyed the hospitalities and pleasure of the occasion.

After a short business session President Miss Margaret Murphy opened the meeting for recreation and entertainment. Short impromptu remarks were made by some of the invited guests, other than members. Mrs. Henry C. Phelan favored with a piano solo. Come Back To Erin, with beautiful variations. Henry C. Phelan sang Phelan's Good Night Beloved. The Misses Elliott, Hanson and Lillian Dalton gave piano duets and solos. Miss Annie Cotter played and sang The Wearing of the Green, with chorus accompaniment by Miss Johanna Keating, Miss Margaret Murphy, Miss Helen V. Price and Miss Elizabeth Price. Miss Margaret Murphy and Miss Johanna Keating sang The Hazy That Once Through Tara's Halls, and Mrs. W. J. Tomlin of Hartford sang God Save Ireland, the entire body standing and joining in the chorus.

The members of the Auxiliary had brought an abundance of squash pies, mince pies, pumpkin pies, home made cakes, apples, bananas, grapes, hot coffee and pickles, all of which were heartily

The customary harvest time decorations, pumpkins, corn, etc. were in evidence on the tables, the whole presenting an attractive appearance. Altogether, the meeting was a very fine success and the officers and committees in charge of the work feel very heartily encouraged by the good results achieved by their roll call and harvest supper. The officers of the local division of Iiberians accepted the invitation and joined in the festivities of the harvest festival.

Beaton, and in order to see them and Lillian Dalton gave piano duets and solos. Miss Annie Cotter played and sang The Wearing of the Green, with chorus accompaniment by Miss Johanna Keating, Miss Margaret Murphy, Miss Helen V. Price and Miss Elizabeth Price. # Bridging The Chasm

There are times in the life of everyone when nature becomes exhausted and when under the assault of mental and physical disorders, disease finds an easy entrance.

Consumption starts with an ordinary cold, the most simple nerve affections develop nervous prostration and weakness which at first seem trivial but result in general debility and collapse.

Rexall Solution of Hypophosphites bridges the chasm of weakness, nervous strain and physical disorders until the patient revitalized and strengthened has regained his foothold upon the smooth road to health.

Rexall Hypophosphites rebuild the system, imparting elasticity and life to the relaxed muscular organism, at the same time strengthening the nerves and increasing the capacity for mental work.

EDWARD J. WALL GUEST OF FRIENDS AT ORFORD INN LAST MONDAY EVENING.

Presented With Gold Signet Ring Bearing His Monogram—Also Leather Traveling Bag—Goespiped Dinner, Utensils and Complimentary Remarks By Gifts of Intimate Friends.

Edward J. Wall of 33 Main street, who left town Tuesday to accept a new position in Boston, was the guest of his friends at a Goldspiced dinner at the Orford Inn where Lansford W. C. Tupper had covered laid for 22 persons. A beautiful feast was satisfactorily served and heartily enjoyed.

When the cigars were lighted Edward J. Murphy of Manchester stood up in his place and in a few complimentary words presented Mr. Wall with a gold signet ring suitably inscribed with his monogram, and also gave him a modern leather traveling bag, the gift of the assembled friends. Mr. Murphy assured Mr. Wall of the good will which those present felt toward him and acting as their spokesman he said they wished him all manner of success and prosperity in his new undertaking, and trusted that he would measure up to the broader standards in the enlarged field of effort now opening up so auspiciously before him.

The details of the event had been carefully and secretly guarded from Mr. Wall's advance knowledge and therefore he was taken by surprise by the events that were transpiring about him. Recovering his customary equanimity he responded fittingly to the expressions of good will and friendship manifested by his friends and thanked them heartily accordingly.

Robert E. Carney, the local correspondent for the HARTFORD COURANT, acted as toastmaster for the occasion and gave everybody present an opportunity to be heard. The session opened at 8:30 and closed at 11 p. m. Mr. Wall bearing with him the heartiest wishes of his assembled friends for his good health and general success, prosperity and happiness.

Mr. Carney was the man to originate the idea of having this testimonial prepared for Mr. Wall and was ably seconded in his efforts by E. J. Murphy of the North End. Both are energetic young business men and in the short time at their disposal, from Friday evening until Monday evening, had a very nice testimonial and Goldspiced gathering assembled for Mr. Wall.

In our notice of Mr. Wall, which appeared in our issue of last week, we did not mention the fact that for a number of years he has been engaged in newspaper work, as a side line from his regular business. His latest endeavor in the newspaper field has been as correspondent for the Hartford Sunday Globe, a position which he has filled with ability and success for several years past.

As mentioned in our notice of last week Mr. Wall has gone to Boston, Mass., to take a position as business manager of the New England Branch of the Rambler Automobile Company whose headquarters are at Kenosha, Wisconsin. We understand that Mr. Wall starts at a greatly increased salary with prospects for even further advance along that line. His many friends here sincerely trust that he may be able to come up to the expectations of his new employer.

The following persons comprised the party: Edward J. Wall, Robert E. Carney, Edward J. Murphy, Harry M. Burke, Edward F. Taylor, William Taylor, William McGuire, P. G. Hayes, William Murray, James Tilly, Walter Buckley, John H. Gill, James Campbell, Edward Dwyer, Matthew Mraz, J. F. Limerick, Thomas Ward, Fred Charter, Edward Hickey, John H. Hackett, John J. Dwyer, all of this place, and M. D. Sullivan of South Windsor and John P. Shea of Newport, R. I.

PARSONS THEATER

THE MERRY WIDOW

The Merry Widow, which will be seen tonight and twice tomorrow at the Parsons Theater, has probably attained as much fame as any musical composition ever achieved. The waltz from it was heard in almost every cafe in every important city in Europe within a few weeks after the first production of the opera in Vienna and now this alluring melody is known all over the world. The music which Franz Lehár has written into the Merry Widow is admirably the best light opera music which has been written within the last twenty-five years. The elegance with which it has been received by theatergoers, especially in the United States, is a tribute to those critics who have declared that the scene of musical appreciation is dying out.

A MAN AND HIS MATE

A Man and His Mate, a tale of the Southwest, written by Harold R. Darrat of Waterbury, will be presented at the Parsons next Monday evening. The scene of the play is in New Mexico and the characters with but few exceptions are Southwestern. The hero, however, is an Eastern man who is introduced into the play in an original manner. The gradual transition of the highly bred heroine from a life of scientific study to the woman who loves with the passionate intensity of a savage is an interesting study. Hilda Spang, one of the most distinguished English actresses who have come to this country, will appear in the principal role.

Employees of the Adams Express Company have received their new regulation service coats and are now wearing same.

Mrs. James Marley of Eldridge street is the guest of her son William in Litchfield, where she went for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Louis Gould withdrew his application for a liquor license in the Hartman block on North Main street. Consequently the hearing which was to have been held on same before the county commissioners last Monday did not take place.

The Ninth District schools closed last Wednesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving vacation and will reopen next Tuesday morning.

Rev. A. S. Brown, formerly of this place, is at the Manchester railroad station but at present a Methodist clergyman in Massachusetts is critically ill and fears are entertained that he cannot survive.

PLENTY OF EXERCISE NECESSARY

Pleaty of regular exercise must be taken in order to keep the body in a healthy condition. Any excessive muscular exertion, however, is sure to cause stiffness and soreness of the muscles and joints.

To counteract this effect there is nothing better than Sloan's Liniment. Lay it on lightly where the muscles have been strained; it requires no rubbing for its penetration to the bone, relieves and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

Sloan's Liniment is a great boon to athletes, for it not only relieves pain and stiffness but it is an excellent remedy for sprains, cuts, bruises and cramps.

Mr. J. S. Price of Tusculum, Ala., writes:—"I am an engineer on the Southwestern Road from Chattanooga to Memphis, Tenn. The continued elevation of my arm upon the throttle gives it a sore feeling when on a long journey, and it is nothing that will take the soreness out like Sloan's Liniment, and I keep a bottle in my grip always."

Joseph O'Gorman of Holy Cross College, is spending his Thanksgiving vacation at home with his parents, Thomas and Mrs. O'Gorman of Charter Oak street.

The public schools outside of the Ninth District schools will re-open next Monday after the Thanksgiving vacation.

BIG BARN DANCE

TO BE GIVEN BY MODERN WOODMEN OF AMERICA DEGREE TEAM AT ARMOY NEXT MONTH

Silent Axe Drill of One Hundred Movements and Fancy Formations To Be Given By Degree Team in Their New and Showy Uniforms at Intermission—Large and Enthusiastic Gathering Expected.

The degree team comprising 19 members of South Manchester Camp No. 928, Modern Woodmen of America will give a barn dance at the Armoey Opera House Saturday evening, December 12th.

In order to stimulate interest in the barn dance the Woodmen have put up a five-dollar gold piece for which they have issued numbered tickets including admission to the dance. These tickets are on sale at the present time at 25 cents each and are in active demand. The Army and will present the appearance of a well kept lawn with its usual collection of hay, straw, corn, harnesse, farm implements, barn lanterns, etc.

A novel feature of the occasion and one never witnessed east of the Mississippi River will be the work done by the degree team who will appear in public for the first time wearing their new full dress uniforms. They will execute ten fancy fox movements which they challenge any 19 men in the East to duplicate. The Woodmen's silent axe drill which consists of one hundred movements will also be introduced here for the first time in the East and will be given without any commands. The drills will be put on during intermission and will be well worth the price of admission alone.

Members of the degree team have for a considerable time been preparing themselves for this public appearance under the direction of Chief Forester Henry C. Phelan. The boys have all entered into the work with a great deal of enthusiasm and will ungrudgingly give a good account of themselves on this occasion.

The dance program will consist of fifteen numbers, music for which will be furnished by the Peeries Orchestra, enlarged for the occasion. The program will include four barn dances, and lovers of this new form of dancing will have ample opportunity to enter into this sport to their hearts' content. Members of the orchestra and an announcer Professor C. Foley will appear in costumes suitable to the occasion. At intermission pumpkin pie and birch beer will be on sale. Announcement will be made during intermission of the person who will be presented with the five-dollar gold piece.

It will be seen by the above that the Woodmen are preparing an unusual treat for the pleasure loving people of the degree of efficiency shown by the Modern Woodmen of America surpassed anything that they had ever seen anywhere. Their official rating is 95.25 per cent, which was said to be the highest of any military organization in the world. The contests included all the points upon which special inspections are made in the regular military service of the United States. The axe are used in lieu of rifle and the same movements are employed in both cases.

The next official contest of the Modern Woodmen of America is to be made in Buffalo, N. Y., in June, 1911, at which another $500 will be put up. It is expected that the South Manchester Camp, No. 928, Modern Woodmen of America degree team will enter the contest at Buffalo in 1911, and to that end the boys will continue their drills in the effort to carry away the prize.

PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS

It is also their purpose to make public exhibitions in halls, theaters, etc. about the New England states. They also propose sending the summer to put on their drills at various show resorts, in parks and such like. It is expected that some of the highest officials of the order from Hartford, Conn., will be here in the near future to inspect the work of the local degree team.

In these various ways that the degree team will make about the country all their expenses will be paid and they will receive as recompense whatever remains over and above the actual cost of maintenance. It will therefore be seen that there is considerable at stake and that the interest of the degree team can readily be kept at a high pitch in order to place them upon a footing with the best degree teams in the United States.

THE DEGREE TEAM

The personnel of the degree team of South Manchester Camp Modern Woodmen of America is as follows: Henry C. Phelan, chief forester; John Pfeiffer, assistant chief forester; Penion N. Parter, treasurer; Charles E. Bissell, secretary; John H. Bissell, Thomas Moore, Thomas Heritage, August Muske, Gus Fritz, Albert Chapin, Harry B. Kenney, Martin Koppach, Patrick E. McVeigh, Edward Balfe, Ralph Cone, James McCaw, Robert Martin, Edward Holmberg and James Muske.

ARNOTT-CARRIER

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Carrier on Charter Oak street, Tuesday evening, when their daughter, Frances Mae was united in marriage to Alexander Arnott.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Julian S. Wadsworth of Brooklyn, Mass., formerly pastor of the South Methodist church here.

The room in which the ceremony took place was festooned with white ribbons and garlands of flowers. The bride and groom were accompanied by the bride's parents and a large number of guests. The bride wore a gown of white tulle and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Promptly at seven o'clock, and at the first strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March the happy Mr. William McNeill of New York, Mr. Karl Morha of Hartford, Dr. Robert G. Collins of Bridgeport, and Mr. Louis A. Allen of Hartford came from a side door and advanced to the bower taking the ribbons from the new couple and forming an aisle through which came the officiating clergyman, followed by the groom and his best man, Mr. E. J. Hill of this place. The aisle was continued through another room and down the stairs came the bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Arnott, sister of the groom, and Miss Jennie E. Bliss of Middletown, cousin of the bride, followed by the matron of honor, Mrs. William McNeill, sister of the bride.

The ceremony was then performed during which soft strains of music were heard from an orchestra in an adjoining room and was witnessed by about fifty relatives and intimate friends.

The bride wore a directors gown of ivory white French mesaline trimmed with Duchesse and Brussels point lace and carried a bouquet of blue and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Arnott wore pink French mesaline trimmed with white lace and carried white chrysanthemums.

Miss Bliss wore pale green French mesaline trimmed with white lace and carried white chrysanthemums.

The bride's gifts to her attendants were insured and will be replaced by the coming company to her in the second time. This particular window has been broken in the last few months. It is an evidence of the need of police in the vicinity of the center.

By vote of Hoss & Laddler Company No. 1, South Manchester Fire Department the office of general foreman is hereafter to be known as that of captain, and of assistant general foreman as lieutenant. L. N. Heberer and Thomas Benson hold these offices, respectively.

Frank Abbey of Charter Oak street took a trip to Dalton and Pittsfield, Mass. last Sunday.

All the saloon keepers in town have been furnished with a list of names of those who are now in charge of the provision office and accompanying list. The list is being sent to the police in order to sell drink to the probationers during their period of probation.

MILITARY INSPECTION

General Schultze will inspect Company G, First Infantry, C. N. G., at the Army in this place Monday evening, December 25. The commanding officer is ordered to have the organization formed and ready for inspection at 7:45 p. m. on the date specified.

The ceremony will be held in the parlors of the church and will be witnessed by about fifty relatives and intimate friends.

A BOY'S CARELESSNESS

Last Saturday a little lad in the vicinity of the Palace Furniture Company's store threw a stone at a companion whose name he missed, but the stone hit one of the large plate glass windows of the store with so much force that a piece of the glass flew within, breaking the fancy globe of a large lamp that stood on a sidewalk a trifle feet away from the window. It was an unfortunate prank of boyish thoughtlessness, and naturally any friendliness which he formed. The deep sympathy of the community goes out freely to the afflicted person in their present severe loss. The young people of South Manchester took upon the death of Chester W. Hill as a personal bereavement.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

Mrs. Preater of 6 West street was run down by an automobile in Hartford Wednesday morning. The auto was owned by L. W. Dwyer and was driven by L. W. Whitcomb. Mrs. Preater was taken to St. Francis hospital where it was found she had three ribs broken, several scapular wounds, numerous bruises and was badly stunned. For a considerable time the situation appeared serious as Mrs. Preater is about 60 years of age and had but recently recovered from an attack of typhoid fever.

The chauffeur was placed under arrest and was released under $250 bail furnished by Police Commissioner Fowler. It is believed that Mrs. Preater will recover from the injuries received. She was employed as a housekeeper for D. A. Clark at the number given above. She formerly lived in New Britain and has a son living there.

A requiem mass was celebrated in St. Francis hospital this morning for the deceased members of the Young Ladies' Aid Society at the Center Congregational church.

THE SWISS PENION.

Particular mention of the beautiful Swiss Table d'Hôte.

The distinctive thing about a Swiss penion is the table d'hôte. The table d'hôte has its own set of conventions. You can always tell an old penionaire by the way he spatters when he eats his soup, by the way he stabs a piece of beef from the brood basket with his knife and by the way he looks for his fork for the best place of meat. By some mysterious system, known only to the maid, she always pours the milk and takes over every seductively placed in the smallest, poorest portion. Your skilled penionaire is never caught by this trick. He always reaches the fork from the place indicated and takes over every thing still he finds the best. This is not impolite—in a penion. It is the conventional thing.

In order to prevent any undue advantage the maid has a system of rotation. First she begins at the head of the table and works down the right side. With the next course she begins at the foot and works up the left side. If she forgets where she stopped and begins wrong there is an immediate howl from those who are getting cheated. This causes many bitter and angry arguments—Albert Edwards in Outlook.

Equalize the Occasion.

Michelot, the famous comedian, suffered a great deal from the spite of his colleagues and found it necessary to be on the alert at every performance. On a certain occasion he had to recede a servant in one of Moliere's plays, when the servant, which had been bribed by his rival, began to hiss and jeer. Michelot was by no means disconcerted. Giving the servant a couple of blows on the ear, not included in the part, he attempted as follows: "You're very recumbent of a variety, there's nothing you ought of. There you stand quietly listening to the vermin squeaking in the house and never trouble yourself to get the rest of the party." The effect of this rally was striking. The audience broke out in loud applause, and no subsequent attempt was made to hiss the actor.

Helping Him On.

The somewhat elderly but still handsome and well preserved bachelor had long been an admirer of the young lady, but never had dared to tell her so. At last, however, he mustered courage to say: "Miss Jessie, I wish I were twenty years younger."

"Why not?" she asked.

"Because then I should be bold enough perhaps to ask you to marry me."

With a charming smile she shook her head.

"I should have to tell you so, Mr. Baxter," she said. "If you were twenty years younger you would be—a great deal too young for me."

He took her hand and a little while later the young lady too.

Missed the Combination.

He is one of those gushing old beams who think mastery the key to favor with the girl. He has been making a great deal of fuss about being with her at a reception with his wife, and they met the handsome Miss Blank at whom he fired a whole battery of compliments. Then, turning to his wife, he said, "It's a good thing I didn't meet her before I married you, my dear."

"Indeed it is," she smiled sweetly—for her husband congratulated Miss Blank—Exchange.

Art of "Dressing."

The art of consummating dress is not the gift of God or even the mastery of mankind. One who possesses this gift knows all the subtleties of angles, from the style and tilt of his hat to the exact width of the point of his shoe—Outfitter.

At the Foot.

"Father (sigh)—I don't know what to do with that girl. He's been two years in the medical college and still keeps at the foot of his class. Perhaps (promptly)—Make a chiropodist of him."

The Reassembling.

"The buckwheat cakes at my boarder's house always remind me of a ham-bone soup."

"How so?"

"The butter doesn't always make it hit."—Puck.
