OPENS TODAY

BIG SALE BY WATKINS BROTHERS DURING WHICH ATTRACTIVE OFFERINGS WILL PREVAIL.

Will Commemorate Thirty-fifth Anniversary of Their Co-operation in Commerce as a Business Firm in This Community and Make Event One That Will Redound To Great Benefit of Public.

Watkins Brothers, our well known furniture dealers, have been 35 years in business in this place and beginning today have opened a big sale in commemoration of this event. The prices which they are giving during that sale will long be remembered by the frugal housewives and others here as marking a money saving opportunity seldom if ever witnessed in South Manchester.

The fact that Watkins Brothers have such a large and varied stock that they can suit the purse of the rich as well as those of the more humble circumstances in life, makes this anniversary sale one of unusual interest to all in their large advertisement which will be found on page 5 of this issue they have some account of the importance of this sale by quoting for your information some of the great price reductions they are offering. People here are fully aware of the fact that when Watkins Brothers make an announcement of a price cutting sale their word is as good as their bond and that the statements made in their advertisements will be fully sustained by the facts.

The program that Watkins Brothers have made in the mercantile world here during the 35 continuous years of their partnership is certainly one to which they may point with pardonable pride. They have built up a business which has surpassed even their most sanguine expectations.

In addition to the large furniture and home furnishing stock with which their own large building here is filled, including three large floors and basement, they have opened a piano store at 277 Asylum street, Hartford, where they have already developed a trade of considerable size and importance. This branch of the business is in charge of County Commissioner F. Ernest Watkins who gave back and forth from this place to the city every business day.

They have also during the present year opened a music store in William-street, where they are having considerable success in the sale of pianos, etc., and are thus steadily widening their commercial sphere and reaching larger lines of patrons.

Bank President Clarence G. Watkins and his son, C. Elmore, may be found in their store every business day giving their personal attention to the requirements of their large and ever growing group of customers.

In addition to the lines carried above they have established a large and successful undertaking in Boston, in which both are experts.

Besides building up such a prosperous business here the Messrs. Watkins have figured prominently in the political life of the community. Both are active Republicans, for many years have taken a front rank in the politics of the community and have been equally successful in that field.

For many years Clarence G. Watkins was first selectman of the Town of Manchester and has just closed a year as a member of the new board of seven selectmen who installed and put into practical working, a new and vastly improved form of government for the Town of Manchester. Mr. Watkins refused to stand for reelection as selectman, although earnestly urged to do so. He is at this time president of the Manchester Trust and Safe Deposit Company and his public life has been elected for the fifth consecutive time, and was the president of the first bank in the Town of Manchester.

F. Ernest Watkins has served as representative in the State Legislature and is now a county commissioner having been re-elected by the present State Legislature for the second term, which this time will cover a period of four years.

It will therefore be seen by these presents that Watkins Brothers have won the esteem of their fellow men in the business and also in the political world and that they have been and now are honored accordingly.

NEW STORE IN TOWN

Louis L. Kleiman and Bernard H. Elman of Hartford are the proprietors of The New York Store which is preparing to open its doors to the public on Saturday morning, October 16th.

The New York Store is located in Aaron Johnson's new brick block on Main street near the corner of Bissell, and will carry dry goods, notions, fancy goods, children's wear, women's, men's, children's and men's furnishings, etc. The advertisement of the new firm appears in another column of this issue, and from week to week they will make known to residents of the News the various offerings they will have to present for public approval.

Mrs. August Pearson of 251 South Main street spent the week-end in Boston visiting with friends. She was accompanied by Miss Hannah Ericson of Hartford. It is 30 years since Mrs. Pearson has been so far away from South Manchester.

NEW BOARD OF SELECTMEN

Take Oath of Office, Organize and Make Appointments

The newly elected board of selectmen took the oath of office Tuesday and organized by choosing Horace B. Cheney as chairman and John M. Williams as secretary. W. Lloyl Ulrich was re-appointed superintendent of roads; John S. Riley superintendent of charities; John F. Sheridan chief of police; F. A. Verplack, Thomas Gray, Thomas J. Smith and J. Channing Brown, town officers. Selectmen Alvord, Williams and Cowles were made members of the joint board of selectmen and school visitors to determine the sum needed for the maintenance of the schools of the town.

All the appointments named are for the period of one year, unless vacated may occur by resignation, death, removal for cause, or other reasons not specially mentioned. Practically all of them are re-appointments. Resignations in these positions rarely occur.

It was decided to hold a special town meeting Tuesday, November 3, 1909, for the purpose of permitting the voters of the town to determine by ballot whether they will accept or reject the amendments passed by the present legislature amending the special act by which the Town of Manchester is doing business at the present time.

This question is to be settled by ballot, the polls to be open for the reception of ballots from nine o'clock in the forenoon until eight o'clock in the afternoon of the day and date indicated above.

MALE'S MILLINERY OPENING

J. W. Hale of the Boston Store has been endeavoring for several weeks past to have the proposed addition to his store in readiness for his millinery opening, but because of the scarcity of carpenters the work could not be done in time to permit the carrying out of his original plans. Therefore, the time for his millinery opening having arrived, and having his large stock on hand he has determined to hold the opening at all events, and do the best he can in his present limited quarters. The opening will consequently take place tomorrow, and he will have attractive offerings that will be pleasing to the ladies. In his advertisement appearing in another column he invites the ladies of South Manchester and vicinity to call and be delighted with the nice millinery exhibit he has prepared for their approval.

LATEST MOVING PICTURES

The regular moving picture show in the Armory had to give way to the big A. O. H. fair which opened in that place last Tuesday evening. The pictures shown will be resumed next Tuesday evening and some of the very latest films will be shown. John Conlon will have some new illustrated songs that are bound to win approval, and all in all it will be a good place to go to spend a pleasant evening. The prices are only 10 cents and 15 cents.

While playing with some of his companions last Monday, Paul, son of Jeffrey and Mrs. Mottley of School street, fell and dislocated his right elbow, and broke both bone close to the elbow joint. Dr. Gillam set the broken bone and the little fellow was afterwards removed to the St. Francis hospital where the X-ray was put on the broken member. It was found to be a clean break and the joints are expected to knit together in good shape.

A meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the South Methodist church next Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Helen Brothers has notified the agency for the March month oracles.

CARS ON BOULEVARD.

The State street entrance into and exit from the City of Hartford by way of the Connecticut boulevard was opened up by the Connecticut Company Monday morning. There was little formal ceremony in connection with opening this new "rolly" route, as it happened pretty early in the morning. The first car was the Glasborough car which was sent over the way at 4:45 o'clock to get the shop people. The schedule from that hour was maintained without mishap, all of the cars falling into the spirit of the occasion without balking, just as if they had been in the habit of running over this way for some time. This boulevard route will greatly relieve the traffic on Main street and around City Hall. The Manchester cars go up Main street to Morgan and down Morgan to the Connecticut River Bridge.

The Conquest of the Pole

WE awoke off Cape Robertson and went ashore before breakfast. The coast here rises suddenly to an altitude of 2,000 feet and is crowned with an ice cap. It is picturesque enough. Large bays, blue glacial walls and prominent headlands offer a pleasing variety, but it is much like the coast of all Greenland.

It had, however, the tremendous advantages of a southern exposure and rocks, providing a resting place for the little auk in millions. These little birds darted from the cliff to the sea.
Neither gray gull nor also offered an oasis for the arctic hare, while the blue fox found life easy here, for he could fill his winter den with fat feathered crevices.

As we approached the shore 10 men, 9 women, 21 children and 100 dogs came out to meet us. I could not distinguish the faces, for they were equally important in Eskimo economy. The latter are by far the most important to the average (Anasian) in the arctic.
Only small game had fallen to the Eskimos' lot, but they were eager to venture out with us after big game.
At last Mr. Bradley had found a suitable refuge of native guides, and we were not long in arranging a compact.

For passage, the good graces of the cook and knife cut were to be their joy. A caribou hunt was not sufficiently novel to merit a return to Dirk's Bay, where intelligent effort is always rewarded, but it might get a hunt at Kivokan, near the head of Robertson Bay.

Setting Sail For Etah.
This venture, however, failed, though it gave us an interesting chase about dangerous waters in a violent gale.
We returned to the ice to do homing, and our Eskimo guides, made presents to their women and children and set sail for Etah.

Clothing weather after the storm afforded a delightful change. A fairly strong offshore wind blew the big wings of canvas. The cool air was bracing, while the bright sun threw glittering trails of light into the sky. The sea was calm, and the seaman forward sang the delights of fiber folk.

A photograph sent music, classical and otherwise, into the arctic air from the cabin. At table there was a kind of continuous performance with the Eskimo. The Eskimo, however, did not appear to be particularly interested.
During two days of stormy discumper several important meals had been willingly missed. That in the arctic food accounts must be squared as quickly as possible.

On the following morning we passed Cape Alexander and entered Smith sound. Half a mile from the sea, and we entered Foulie lake. The town of Etah was composed of four trees, which for this season had been planted beside a small stream just inside of the first projecting point on the shore.

Inside this point there was sheltered water to land the Eskimo's kayaks.
It also made a good harbor for the yacht. It is possible in favorable seasons to push through Smith sound.

Conditions Right For Dash.
Here was the chance. Here was everything necessary conveniently placed within the polar gateway. The problem was discussed with my colleagues. Mr. Bradley, naturally volunteered to land from the yacht the food, fuel and other supplies we had provided for local use. There was abundant trading material to serve as money.

My own equipment aboard for sledge traveling could be made to serve every purpose in the enterprise.
The possible combination left absolutely nothing to be desired to insure success.

Only good health, endurable weather and workable ice were necessary.
The expenditure of a million dollars could not have placed an expedition at a better advantage. The opportunity was too good to be lost. We therefore started for Etah to prepare for the quest.

Strong efforts had been made to reach the pole from every available quarter. Only the angle between Alaska and Greenland had been left untried. In our prospective venture we aimed to pierce this area of the globe.

If we failed in our main effort we would at least make a track over a blank spot. With the resources for transportation which the Eskimos offered I hoped to carry ample supplies over hills of ice and along the wind coast of the game land.

There was reason to suppose that we would avoid the troublesome pack agitated by the Greenland currents.
The Eskimos were willing to trust the good resources of this region to feed and fire the expedition en route to the land's end.

CHARLES CHERRY in "THE BACHELOR" at the Hartford Theater in the First Half of Next Week.

PARSONS THEATER.
C. P. Huxley and Julia Sanderson the Stars in Kitty Grey

The real novelty of the week will be the appearance of G. P. Huxley, London's popular comedian, and the London musical comedy company at Parsons theater tonight and twice tomorrow in the musical play, Kitty Grey.
Prominent in Mr. Huxley's support and the only American member of the cast is Miss Julia Sanderson, who made a decided hit in London, and who plays the main part in Kitty Grey.

Mr. Huxley has made his reputation in musical comedy chiefly as the creator of the good natured happy go lucky silly sea type of man about town and it is just as he calls upon to interpret in Kitty Grey the musical play in which he has achieved his most brilliant success. Mr. Huxley first visited America with the Kendallites, the latest American appearance previous to last season was several years ago when he appeared as Lord Chery, at Daly's theater in Three Little Maids.
He was the original Mr. Hook in Miss Hook of Holland which ran for fifteen months at the Prince of Wales theater.
He has also been identified with musical plays at Hix's theater.

Kitty Grey is a musical comedy in three acts adapted from the French by J. W. Pigott, music with introductions by Paul Rubens. The songs are laid at the Hotel Royal, Biarritz, in Kitty Grey's dressing room, the Pinacote room in the Savoy hotel, London, and the Duplay restaurant, London. Mr.
Huxley is seen as the Earl of Delston, a big blundering happy go lucky fellow, joked by every one. He has a general disposition but a rapidly diminishing account at his banker. His visits Biarritz in search of an American heiress. He finds her, but greatly to his surprise, the heiress refuses his offer of marriage. Then Delston becomes one of the most devoted followers of Kitty Grey, the brilliant particular star of the Kitty Grey widow company.

Kitty Grey is well supplied with musical music and many of the numbers are sure to be recalled here.
G. P. Huxley, the best comedian that England has ever sent to the country, will be seen in the musical comedy, Kitty Grey. The American production is being by Charles Fox, a grant-ee that it is elaborate in every detail, and in addition to Mr.
Huxley and an entire company of

HEART OF ALASKA
In Jack London's Call of the Wild he describes a man in a remarkable manner who is a man, under certain conditions, will completely throw off the effects of generations of civilization and hark back to the remote time when man was not far removed from swinging from limb to limb and throwing coconuts at his enemies.

The invasion of the last American frontier, Alaska, by men gave the world wonderful examples of how short a fall it is from the polished gentleman to the passion swayed animal man alone on a snow covered trail, struggling on his dog team and fighting for mere existence. Alaska produced a type of strong, animal, many men and settling women equal to the conditions that life in Alaska forced them to meet, and it is from these men and women that the characters in the Heart of Alaska were taken.

Henry D. Carver, the author, is in his latest play, is said to have introduced a type of men and women absolutely new to the stage. These characters placed in the atmosphere of The Heart of Alaska present a phase of life as interesting as it is new. From the time the curtain rises on the first act until the final curtain, one is struck by the daring of this young actor-entertainer in breaking entirely new ground and presenting pieces and characters hitherto unknown to the American stage. The Heart of Alaska will be presented at The Hartford Theater tonight and twice tomorrow.

THE BACHELOR

Charles Cherry's first appearance here as a star will occur at The Hartford Theater Monday evening, October 18th, the engagement being for three nights and a matinee Wednesday.

When the Shuberts present him in Clyde Hick's latest comedy The Bachelor, Mr. Cherry is an Englishman and a graduate of Oxford. He came to America about ten years ago, playing his first engagement in a Ray of Sunshine. He then appeared successfully with Heartie Crossman, Mary Manning and Elsie de Wolfe. With Maxine Elliott he played in Her Own Way. Her Great Match and Under the Greenwood Tree. Mr. Cherry has also played London engagements with Ethel Barrymore, Maxine Elliott and Forbes Robertson. The Shuberts admired his work in Girls so much that they decided to advance him to a stellar position.

The original cast, which sent The Bachelor to success in New York, by the way, will be seen at The Hartford.

ARMORY OPERA HOUSE

BILLY, THE KID

One of the important productions of the early season is that of a new melodramatic play, Billy, the Kid, by Joseph Stanley and Walter Woods. There are four acts in the play and the scenes are all laid in New Mexico. Dramatic authors have been known to place the action of their plays and that the public appreciate these localities is evinced by the overwhelming success, which has been accorded such plays as The Squaw Man, The Virginian, Arizona and others of the like. The story told in Billy, the Kid is said to be an exceptionally interesting one, the author having been fortunate enough to retain much of the atmosphere of the locality. Types there are plenty, and strong dramatic situations and climaxes with a deal of comedy relief. This is one of the biggest and most complete melodramatic productions ever presented here. Frank Dickson has the leading juvenile role and is supported, by a strong company of talented and experienced performers. Seats at Johnson Brothers store, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Foley will be the announcer. The members of the band are looking forward to the public to help them out at this time in order that they may keep up their membership, maintain a musical organization of this sort in town, sustain interest in the work among members by being in a position to purchase music, pay for instruction, and meet the running expenses incident to the maintenance of such a body of musicians. Heartly support of their concert and dance next Tuesday evening, will further their work along these lines and be highly pleasing to them. The following choice music will be rendered for the occasion.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Where Take Fourth Degree—Columbus Day Observed

Frank G. Balkar, Robert E. Carey, P. J. O'Leary and Frank Doyle left here last Monday for New Haven and that afternoon were excited to the rank of fourth degree members of that order, and are now qualified to enter the councils of the highest and most distinguished group of men in the order of the Knights of Columbus anywhere on earth. At the conclusion of the initiatory work the large body of fourth degree members enjoyed a banquet.

On Tuesday, Columbus Day, a considerable number of the members of Campbell Council Knights of Columbus of this place went down to New Haven and took part in the state parade of the order held in "The City of Elms" that afternoon. At the time agreed upon for the start from here to New Haven, 7 o'clock that morning, a copious rain fell which prevented a large turnout as was originally contemplated. As the storm passed along on its way and was followed by sun, shade and summer weather the boys sallied forth and took part in the Columbus Day celebration.

Bible services will be held as follows: 10.30 a. m., 8 and 7.30 p. m. At the Battle Front is a song that takes greatly at the meetings. All are cordially invited to attend any or all of these meetings. Rev. A. Hart, pastor.
