rational resources, street franchises, etc.
The development will begin with mun'cilities, cities inclined to the conservative form of government, those taken up by the States, and finally by the nation. By these organs the assessors mentioned in article 22 will be appointed, the tax collectors will be sworn and taxes collected, public works of all kinds carried out, contracts made, and all salaries, including government officers and other moneys paid.
All socialistic schemes should be referred to the sovereign organ, all public works proposita should originate with the sovereign organ in the believingly possible to government for permission authorization and power, if necessary in any case, and then go back to the sovereign organ. So all jobs will be needed out of government, and government officers will make no contracts, carry out no public work, handle no money but personal salaries, and will be tied down to the making, the interpreting and the execution of the laws, that is to the protection of rights.
Unable to get a hold of any money, bribe, graft or jobbery, and required to be specialists in the protection of rights (function, where does the spoils politician as government officer holder come in)?
Chambers of Commerce, business men's associations, and statesmen generally, having in mind to reform city charter in the commission direction, are hereby cautioned against the old section with new emphasis and advised to organize out, in their own interest, a sovereign in government altogether. The matter will be further discussed in the article.

has prepared blank forms to be filled out by town clerks to give the results of the quarterly inventories it tells what of such property is owned by the state, by the county, by the town, the federal government, etc. The classes are: Public school, private school, theological seminaries, etc., ecclesiastical societies, cemeteries, benevolent and charitable societies, libraries, etc., scientific societies, etc., sailors, blind, etc., apparatus and buildings of fire departments, tree plantations,

It was noted that very few young men appeared in masquerade apparel but the young women were out in goodly numbers and in quite charming costume and to their credit they were practically all home-made. They manifested a considerable amount of skill and ingenuity in the making of their gowns.

AS TO BONFIRES

The new law that outlawed bonfires is having one effect that was probably not anticipated. It gives one more grip on the job of who has been in the habit of compiling and kindling fires wherever he will.

TO MAKE MAIL DELIVERY EASY

Bill Pending to Compel Some Kind of Receipt for Mail.

If the pending Weeks bill goes through the government will refuse to deliver your mail to you unless you provide some kind of receipt for it. It has been found that carriers were much valuable times by waiting for tardy housewives to respond to doorbell summons. The government has figured it out at that great savings of time and money can be effected if postmen were not required to delay at the doors of patrons until the inmates find it convenient to appear and receive their mail. Consequently Chairman Weeks put a paragraph in the post office bill that mail should not be delivered except to houses equipped with devices to receive the letters. This provision immediately excited the interest of the makers of the mail boxes. They saw an enormous profit in the manufacture of a mail box for every family. It looked like a wonderful money-making scheme for some one with a cheap letter box and a strong political pull.

The paragraph was stricken out, however. Now Mr. Weeks has dressed up the same idea in a special bill. He has disappointed the mail box manufacturers, however, by requiring that houses shall not necessarily be provided with mail boxes. A single bill in the door will answer—Leader, Rockville.

SUB-STATION REPORTS

FUNERAL OF JOHN HUGHES

The funeral of John Hughes, late gardener at the C. J. Frank W. Cheney household took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the St. James church in this place. Burial was at the Mt. St. Benedict cemetery, Hartford. Nephew of Mr. Hughes acted as bearer.

Mr. Hughes was a native of Hartford and was 69 years old and lived in South Manchester for the last 33 years. During all that period he served as gardener for the late Colonel Frank W. Cheney whose recent passing away distressed Mr. Hughes very much as he was unusually devoted to him and gave the last years of his life to the care of Mr. Hughes was a skillful and enthusiastic gardener, took great pride in his work and devoted his entire time, energy, and talent to the duties devolving upon him. The care of the flower gardens, shrubbery and such like tasks at the Cheney household was a very great pleasure to him. He always resided with alacrity and cheerfulness to the duties that devolved upon him and was an entirely dependable and all-around man. His faithfulness and integrity were remarkable. No burden was too great for him to assume when it was required for the service of his master, for the good and welfare of the family or the benefit of a neighbor or friend in distress.

Mr. Hughes was an enthusiastic member of the local division of the Knights and also a member of Jewell Council, Knights of Columbus of Hartford. He was well known and highly respected in this community and had a large circle of admiring friends who deeply regret his untimely taking away. He was a man who was blessed through life with abundant good health and his breaking down at this time was a very great surprise as he was always known to be very rugged and sturdy. Mr. Hughes is survived by a widow.

Mr. Hughes was born on Christmas day in 1840, the year of the California gold craze. His father was John Hughes, Jr., and his mother, Maria Clafey. He was married to Annie D. Babus October 8, 1870, at St. Peter's church, Hartford. They had no children. He joined the Knights of Columbus 30 years ago.

Home Course In Domestic Science. XII.—Hints on Home Laundering. By EDITH G. CHARLTON, In Charge of Domestic Economy, Iowa State College. Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association. TO many women the laundry is the most interesting part of the house, and often the weekly work most dreaded by the entire family. In fact, in many homes they prove to be the one unaccountable task, and because no other solution is found for the problem the washing is sent to the laundry or is done in any way and by any one so long as it is taken out of the house. Why the washing and ironing should prove such unpleasant work to do is always been a mystery to me. I can explain only by the natural supposition that neither knows how to do it well and that the possibilities for doing the work quickly, easily and thoroughly are few in most homes. The trouble is not that a properly equipped laundry is among the last things to be added to the house and that in the majority of cases a wash tub or tub, perching a washing machine of possible merit and occasionally a wringer comprise the average washing outfit in private homes of moderate means. And, small as that equipment is, it can be made to give very satisfactory results if a little knowledge and intelligence are brought to the task. The trouble is most women do not like to wash because they have not been taught to do it properly and because they make extremely hard work of it. They appropriate to some degree fine fabrics and dainty clothing, but they do not, as a rule, appreciate these to the extent that makes them desirous of preserving materials and colors. While it is difficult at any time and in almost any locality to obtain well trained helpers for housework, it often an easier task to get a good cook or housemaid than it is to find a first class laundress. Because of this it is all the more necessary that the mistress of the house should be familiar with fabrics and how to cleanse them. The laundress, however, should be a separate apartment in even small houses. It may be located in the basement or on a side porch or kitchen; but, wherever it is, the room should be well lighted and well ventilated and should have a good hood and hand finished with a sink. The floor should be so soft or porous material used in the laundry to absorb moisture. For a small home laundry the following list of furnishings will be found sufficient: Three or four tubs, stationary if possible, made of soapstone, enamel or porcelain; a good washing machine; clothes wringer, clothes stick, clothes boiler, tin or copper; zinc or glass washboard, clothespins (kept in box or basket); water pail, clothes basket, scrubbing brush, large granite soap, galvanized iron clothesline, skirt, sieve and boson boards for ironing; ironing blanket, mangle and several good irons of different weights. An electric or even a good gasoline iron is such a valuable labor saving device that its first cost should seldom be considered, because it very soon more than repays it. Besides this amount of furnishing a number of common substances for removing stains of various kinds should always be on hand. Among those most frequently needed may be mentioned borax, ammonia, salt, vinegar, stum, naphtha, muriatic and oxalic acid. These should be kept in a closed box and out of the reach of children, as some of them are poisonous. Wax, bluing, starch, French chalk and javelle water are also often needed in the laundry, and if a supply of these is kept on hand time and effort may be saved on washing day. A valuable addition to this equipment would be an electric or water motor with which to run the washing machine, wringer and mangle. With such an addition it is possible for one woman to finish a large washing with comparatively little outlay of strength. Removing Ordinary Stains. Thousands who suffer from backache and kidney complaint have tried one remedy after another finding only temporary relief. This is because there is one special kidney medicine that cures permanently and thoroughly of proof rights here in South Manchester. Here is the testimony of one who used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and found relief. "I was in a bad way when I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the spring of 1906. I was subject to backache and kidney complaint and I could not get any relief from any other medicine. I was told by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I did so. I found that they cured me of my backache and kidney complaint and I have not had any return since. I can say that I have had little need of any other medicine since. I always keep a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on hand and would not be without them under any circumstances."

Fire at Lydallville. Sparks from a freight engine which passed through Lydallville yesterday afternoon set fire to a freight car filled with paper stock standing on the side track near the William Foullis Paper Company mill, and before it was checked had spread to the mill. The plant is equipped with its own fire high the apparatus and the men were turned out to fight the fire. It had been a very serious and considerable business and for over an hour they fought the fire. The freight car was badly burned and most of the stock was either burned or damaged by water. Three cars down at the north side of the mill were burned out and it was the fire at this place that caused the greater damage. The room in the mill where the fire spread was filled with finished paper stock, their being about twenty cars ready to deliver. This was damaged by fire and water and the loss on this will be $1,000 alone, while the damage to the building will be small. How About That Dog? The dog house expires the first of May. Over 700 were registered last year. The dog tag, including registration and tag, is $1.25 but after the first of May it will cost $2.50. The dog tag amount to $1,023.84 last year. It will be just high jinks for the dog warden if nine-tenths of the dogs in town are permitted to go without the new license tags. Should such a thing come to pass he would trap a golden harvest gathering in the "creators" for impending and immolation, or subsequent punishment by the owners. Successful Bazar. Center Rose No. 2 will net about $400 as a result of its five nights' bazaar in the armory which closed Saturday night.
