Home Course in Health Culture

This is a new and special feature prepared with the utmost care by Dr. Eugene L. Fisk and consisting of eighteen articles that are to appear in these columns week after week beginning with our issue of October 29

These articles are written in plain language so that they may be readily understood by anyone able to read the English Language.

The articles will be found to be interesting, instructive and helpful. If carefully studied and their teachings put into practice they will do much to preserve health and ward off disease.

They are not intended to cure so much as to point the way how to prevent sickness and maintain vigor and strength.

Dr. Fisk in his series explains about fresh air and its low cost and high value, pure water in the home and pure food.

He jars you a bit by explaining that it is a bad scheme to have cats and dogs in the home, [for they carry germs, and he proves his case.

The frying pan has no business in good society, Dr. Fisk declares.

Many other points are considered in the series and all are valuable and deserving of your best thought.

We would recommend to our readers the advisability of saving this series for future reference. It will be worth money to you and save you many times the cost of the annual subscription to THE NEWS

Call the attention of your friends and neighbors to this series of articles on Health Culture in the Home. Discuss its features with them and put the instructions into practice. They contain startling facts and constitute a valuable feature of this publication.

Some people are satisfied to trail through life on little or nothing-they have no ambition or energy-and some are never satisfied unless they are continuously forging ahead and accomplishing things. The same thing applies to a store. Some stores continue in the same old rut year in and year out, gaining a little maybe, but such a VERY little that the are really doing nothing more than holding their own, and some stores never stop striving or never leave off in their efforts to be the BEST. The "Wise Smith" store is one of the never stop kind. We do things here every hour, every day and every year. It's a case of climb, climb. We are not satisfied with ordinary achievements, and the greater we become the greater we WANT to become and we mean to keep up the same vigorous pace in the future. The rise of this store from a very small beginning to its present commanding proportions is the logical outcome of HIGH BUSINESS IDEALS—ENERGY. HONESTY AND LIBERALITY. Once a year we stop on the anniversary of the opening of the store to measure what the preceding twelve months have meant to us—and no other year has brought us so continuous and unbroken a measure of success and remarkable growth as the past twelve months and in keeping with this, our thirteenth birthday celebration shall be the BEST MERCHANDISE EVENT EVER HELD in Connecticut.

On every anniversary, since the opening of our store thirteen years ago, we've been deeply appreciative for the progress made, and we've more reason than ever to be proud on this

Truly, no woman should pass by the worderful advantages that the Anniversary Sale brings them in our allied Cloak, Suit and Fur departments. Ours is by far the largest garment department in Connecticut. No Connecticut store is doing the garment business so thoroughly and well. No store has won so large a patronage, and at no other store is there anniversary, for the year 1910 has seen might strides forward as shown in the immense increase of the volume of our business, the great numbers of new patrons and friends and also the present and potential vast increase in the size of our establishment, made possible by our real estate transactions. This spring we bought the Corning property adjoining our main building on the south, and only last week wy started extensive alterations that are now being vigorously pushed to completion which will give us 18,000 additional square feet in the rear of our central building. And, so we say, indeed we have cause to be grateful, and how can we more fittingly celebrate than by an anniversary sale treming with values such as even
