A DEED OF DARING. Twenty-seven Lives Baved by One

Man In a Shipwreck, A historic case of daring and endurance rarely equaled in life saving annals was that of the rescue of twentyseven souls by one man in 1867. The fishing schooner Sea Clipper was driven by the tempest against a reef near the Spotted islands on that coast and speedily went to pieces. Captain William Jackman, in charge of a fishing crew at these islands, had wandered in a direction he had never been before as if by inspiration and suddenly saw the whole tragedy enacted before his eyes. Hurrying his one companion back to the fishing station to summon help, he plunged into the howling swirl himself and eleven times swam to the ship Each time he took back splendidly against wind and tide.

Our Methods

HE idea of this advertisement is to bring home to you in a forceful way the advantages our customers receive in buying of us. This organization is not the result of accident, but is founded on the most solid principle of business, that of buying in large quantities. We are clothing specialists. We have neither schemes nor bait to attract trade. We try to attract and hold it by good value, low prices and fair treatment. Clothing is our business, and our entire time is devoted to that ousiness only, therefore the results are satisfaction and values for our customers. The principles that have worked out our success are absolute honesty, strict integrity, generous treatment, satisfaction guaranteed to all. We do our best to satisfy every individual who favors us by opening an account. The number of customers we serve is shown somewhat by the number of stores we have (46) and the total population shown here-

  Have begun to talk about the bargains obtainable in rubber goods at this store and only vesterday a woman entered i and said. "Is it true that you are selling rubbers at last year's prices?" When you stop to think that every wholsesale rubber dealer in the country is asking decidedly higher prices for rubber goods than we asked last year you will join the others in being surprised at our rare offer. But we foresaw the increase in the price of rubber and when the price was comparatively low we stored several thousand dollar's worth of rubbers in our basement. Now, when practically every shoe store in the country has raised the prices on rubber goods, we tell you that while our present stock lasts we will give you the benefit of our foresightedness. Judging from the way we have sold rubbers during the past few days our stock, enormous as it was, will soon disappear, so the diplomatic shoppers will buy their rubbers NOW Our lines of fall shoes in all styles and sizes with prices to suit all cannot be beaten.

A GASTRONOMIC JOY.

English Recipe For the Famous 'Illustrated London Cookery Book," by Frederick Bishop, late cuisiner to St. James' palace, Earl Grey, the Marquis of Stafford, Baron Rothschild, Earl Norbury, Captain Dunof Great Britain (1852), we find this recipe for soupe a la Crecy:

"Cut half a pound of lean ham in dice, three onions, four turnips, twelve carrots (the outer side red only), a head f celery, a fagot of sweet herbs, two blades of mace, six cloves, a bay leaf and half a pound of salt butter. Fry all down in a stewpan until they get a little brown; then add some second stock and stew until all the roots are quite tender; then rub it through a tammy sieve or tammy cloth with two long spoons. If very thick add more stock. Season with cayenne and black pepper and salt and a good bit of sugar. Send up on a napkin some nice sounds and is, indeed, in the main the recognized recipe for the royal soup. The spice is, if anything, a trifle overdone, and the carrots want to be well chosen, as the slightest stringiness destroys the homogeneity of the compound. The bread dice are important and should be fried in the very best butter or superlatively good olive oil -Pall Mall Gazette.

CORDITE.

Made of Two Powerful Explosives Kneaded Into Paste.

Cordite is the outcome of the strange paradox that if you mix together two powerful explosives the result is a smokeless slow burning powder. Ni troglycerin and gun cotton mixed to gether with a little petroleum jelly make cordity. It is curious to see the two deadly explosives being kneaded together into a paste by women with the same unconcern as dough is kneaded for bread. Indeed, machines similar to those used in bakeries take up the work and knead the buff colored cordite paste for seven hours. Then it is forced through molds and issues in long cords-bence the name corditethe thickness of which is varied according to the weapon in which it is to be used

For big guns cordite is half an inch thick and cut into lengths of thirtyseven inches. Rather more than a thousand of these cordite sticks packed in two bundles make up the cartridge for a twelve inch gun. For the rifle cordite is pressed into a very thir string, like the finest macaroni, and sixty of these strands one inch and a half long make the neat little bundle which lies inside the cartridge case. For some European armies cordite is made in flat thin strips like whalebone. Kept away from fire, cordite can be handled with impunity.-Lon-
