PERAMBULATING THEATER FRANCE'S LATEST SCHEME.

Travel by Automobile and Seat 1,500 Persons.

A perambulating theater fitted with ing 1,500 persons will take the road in France. As in the days of Moliere. performances will be given wherever there is a favored spot, but instead of the charlots and horses there will be a train of eight automobiles, drawing twenty-one cars.

The idea originated with Firmin Gemier, a well known Parisian theater director, and it became public through the fine arts report of Deputy Paul Goncourt. The following details of the scheme were announced:

"Local and provincial theaters usually are insufficient for fine dramatic productions. Moreover, many communities have no theaters. The whole idea is based on decentralization and the wish to carry culture to the provinces. I intend to give the classics and the best modern plays. When I arrive at a fown I shall creet a tent with a stage, boxes, orchestra seats. drops, wings, scenery-everything complete, including a central lighting and heating plant. Thanks to a new system, the lighting will be as good as in the best theaters.

"Special new scenery will be prepared for every play. There will be twenty actors, directed by myself, and I shall employ forty machinists. We shall sell seats from 20 to 60 cents apiece and will spare no pains to make the productions perfect in every way. We cannot travel fast-perhaps only six miles an hour-but we shall at least travel surely. We expect a great success "

Kapurthala, Paris, it is said, is to lose one of her chief ornaments. The modern Beau Brummet of France, the most exquisite of twentieth century dandies, the spoiled arbiter of the Paris drawing room and the country house, is about to leave the scenes of his triumphs. M. Andre Fouquieres, to whom this inadequate description applies, has succumbed to the blandishments of the maharaja of Kapurthala.

Not long ago the maharaja robbed Europe of one of her most beautiful daughters in the person of a Spanish dancer whom he placed high among his wives. And now he is going to centricities of dress and above all he the management of a cotillion defied competition. The maharaja has said to him, so rumor has it:

"You have nothing more to do in this Parisian rabble of society that has lost all respect for hierarchy and for delicacles of tone. You are much too disinguished and refined for France, and ask you to come with me to preside over and organize the fetes that will be given at the marriage of my daugh-

NEVER SAW A BETTER PALT NEVER READ A BETTER STORY

Two mighty strong statements-but true-every word of it true.

When old staid theater goers go to see the same play a dozen times, and hundreds of New Yorkers have done this, then the play must be good.

When a man who gains his daily bread by reading manuscripts, reads the same story three times on his own time, just because he enjoys it, then that must be a good story.

> This is What That Marvelous Play and Story

ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE

Will Do For You

The king of short story writers, O. Henry, wrote "A Retrieved Reformation" and it was a masterpiece in short stories. Paul Armstrong, one of our foremost playwrights, read the story and turned it into the greatest sensation and as popular a play as was ever produced in New York. For two years it has played at Wallacks theater in New York, and it is now starting out on Frederick R. Toombs, author of many successful serial stories, has novelized Mr. Armstrong's play. With all due credit to Mr. Toombs, the play is so good that it is a story that writes itself.

You grip your seat as you see the play, you rush through the pages of the story, wondering what is going to happen next.
