Critically Ill

Margaret White, daughter of James and Mrs. White of Charter Oak street was operated upon for appendicitis at the Hartford Hospital at noon Wednesday. Miss White is 15 years old. She is a student in the South Manchester High School and attended her class Monday. She was taken ill Sunday and local applications were employed which brought her relief. She was admitted to her studies and desisted of keeping up her class work and therefore, attended school Monday although not feeling by any means fit. When this day was over it was found that she was becoming very ill and medical skill was summoned. The case developed rapidly and a consultation of doctors was called with the result that it was deemed advisable to send her to the hospital for treatment forthwith. An ambulance was summoned from Hartford and the transfer made as expeditiously as possible. She was operated upon at noon Wednesday and it was found that a great deal of pus had accumulated because of the diseased condition of the appendix. Miss White is young and strong and otherwise sound and healthy and it is believed that these conditions will bring her safely out of her present very dangerous predicament.

Quick Work

The Ancient Order of United Workmen are to be congratulated upon the quick work accomplished in paying the death claim to the estate of the late F. W. Mills. It will be recalled that Mr. Mills died on St. Valentine's Day, February 14th. The papers establishing the claim to the death benefits were forwarded to the Workmen's headquarters Wednesday, February 22nd and a draft for $2,000 arrived here by mail Saturday evening. Judge Alexander represented the Mills estate in managing this matter and the draft was addressed to him. It so happened that Mr. Arrott was in New York at that time and didn't arrive home until Tuesday evening. The check was promptly paid over to the estate and the incident closed. This certainly was very prompt and satisfactory work in the matter of settling this death claim.

Alumni Ball

The Alumni Ball of the South Manchester High School is to be given at Assembly hall Monday evening, April 17th. Hatch's Orchestra will furnish music, refreshments will be served all evening with ice-cream at intermission.

The house was equipped with a furnace supplying steam heat and the furnace was kept in operation right along. It is presumed that in some unaccountable way the fire started from the furnace chimney.

Miss Bridget Rogan of Highland Park chanced to be passing the real estate and saw a light within. This unusual occurrence attracted her attention and knowing that Mr. Maguire lived there alone she advanced to the window and looked in to the front room where she saw the blaze. She gave the alarm to the nearest residence, that of John H. Cheney, the door of which she opened and she ran down town at the time but Joseph Sullivan who works for Hove Company No. 2 S. M. F. D. to send out their chemical engines.

N. B. Richards and some other members of the Company hastened forth with to the scene of the burning. There is a fire hydrant within 200 feet west of the Maguire homestead and water turned on this hydrant was practically no one around at the early stages of the burning it was impossible to save the contents. As the matter of fact nearly everything in the main building was burned.

overhead. A kitchen stove had been placed in the woodshed for use during the summer months and some very light furnishings were in the upper part of the ell. Outside of this practically everything else was totally destroyed. The only things in the way of clothing Mr. Maguire had left were what he wore on his body when he went to starford. A strong wind swept from the north which in this case changed to be a fortunate circumstance. Had it been from the east the large barn near at hand on the west would surely have been destroyed also. The main building had four large rooms on the ground floor and five chambers on the second floor. Mr. Maguire estimated his loss at practically $5,000. He carried insurance to approximately one-third of this amount. It was well he hadn't paid the taxes on the building. The tax collector would have been after it soon had the fire not occurred. Mr. Maguire will find some small consolation in this fact.

HOUSE BURNED

Residence of M. J. Maguire With Contents Destroyed

Tuesday afternoon the residence of Michael J. Maguire of Porter street was practically destroyed by fire together with its contents. Mr. Maguire was in Hartford at the time of the burning, having left here on the 12:37 trolley. He attended the hearing before the judicial committee at the Capitol where President Charles S. Mollen of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. Co. made a defense of his measure for "A Court of Commerce" as a substitute for the "Public Utilities Measure" which is pending before the legislature. Mr. Maguire arrived in town about four o'clock and when he reached his home the work of destruction was practically completed.

The house was equipped with a furnace supplying steam heat and the furnace was kept in operation right along. It is presumed that in some unaccountable way the fire started from the furnace chimney.

Measuring the Drugs

A prescription is as important as attention to their quality. A few grains too much or too little may make all the difference in the world.

We Make it a Rule to check each measurement of drugs in even the simplest prescription. To permit carelessness in dispensing would be to permit carelessness in more important cases. Underlying accuracy is therefore our rule.

TEN-CENT FARE SILVER JUBILEE

FROM MANCHESTER TO HARTFORD DISCUSSED BEFORE COMMITTEE

Ample and Strong Arguments Presented by Manchester Representatives and Citizens and by Senator Penn. Opposition Questions Speakers.

A hearing on the ten cent trolley fare bill from Manchester to Hartford was had before the Railroad Committee yesterday afternoon.

Representative W. S. Hyde of this place was in charge of the hearing for the Manchester interest and Vice-President E. G. Bookland represented the Connecticut Company.

Mr. Hyde made a strong argument for the bill as did also Representative Aaron Johnson, 8-motor Fenn of this district opened the discussion in behalf of the bill at a brief review of one of the reasons why the people of Manchester asked for this concession.

The following period from 1904 places also up to the favor of the bill. John S. Halsey, R. L. Merce Russell, C. E. House, John Cyrus H. O. Bowes, C. R. Barlow, F. Ernest Watkins, R. W. Pitkin and W. J. Flood.

The representatives of the Connecticut Company endeavored to weaken the evidence presented by cross questioning the speakers and by making a claim that Manchester was as well treated in the matter of trolley fares as were other places in the state.

This position was ably and amply refuted by Representatives Johnson and Hyde and by Mr. Bowes.

Mr. Robinson, attorney for the Connecticut Company sought to have the present Railroad Committee take up the stenographic report of the arguments presented by the Connecticut Company two years ago when the same bill which was drafted and presented and ably defended by Representative Harry M. Burke, was before the Railroad Committee at that time.

House Chairman Andrew E. Gardie refused to grant this request saying it would be unfair to do so, as the Railroad Committee reported adversely on this same bill two years ago, and the presentation of the stenographic report of that time might have a tendency to unduly prejudice the present committee. For this decision Chairman Gardie was given enthusiastic applause by the Manchester contingent present.

Representative Hyde also pointed out action on the ground that the present representatives offered new evidence in support of the bill and The Connecticut Company should not be so favored.

Representative Johnson presented voluminous correspondence had on this bill with officials of the Connecticut Company and explained same to the committee.

Representative Hyde showed that the contents of a ten-cent trolley fare from Manchester to Hartford was the state legislature six years ago when Frank Cheney Jr. and Hewitt Coburn Jr. were representatives from Manchester. He explained that the matter was not pushed then because the status of the trolley line from the Center to Manchester Green was given precedence and prevailed.

Two years ago when this same bill was adversely reported by the Railroad Committee it was passed through the town court of Manchester for a second time.

It was as a result of the great Washingtonian movement in 1842 that 16 men banded themselves together for the purpose of mutual help and strength in their effort to overcome drunkenness, and organized the first Division in New York City. Similar Divisions were organized in adjoining towns of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

Our own State was not far behind and we have one Division located at Norwich which was chartered before the Grand Division of Connecticut was organized which was on May 10th, 1844. The Order spread across the boundary lines into Canada, and later into Great Britain, Australia and to many other parts of the globe. It may be well to mention here that the Order is at the present time the most prosperous beneficial organization in Great Britain, it having continued the benefit system while we in America have to a considerable extent abandoned it, which is the case in Connecticut just now, though attempts are being made to revive it again.

Less than six years after the original institution of the Order it had been in our health for the past five years that she has a remarkable constitution, besides having lots of credit, and in all her suffering she has great patience, and very seldom complains.

THE HALL OF FAME.

JAMES MADISON—"Father of the Constitution" and fourth president of the United States. Born at Port Conway, Va., March 16, 1751. Died at Montpelier, Va., June 28, 1836. Graduated from the College of William and Mary in 1774. Was a delegate to the Continental Congress and to the constitutional convention, in which he took a most conspicuous part. Kept a journal of the debates in the body and joined with Hamilton and Jay in publishing the Federalist. Later broke with the Hamilton faction and became associated with Jefferson. Served as secretary of state during Jefferson's administration and succeeded him as president, 1809-17. It was during Madison's administration that the war of 1812 occurred. Socially the Madison regime was brilliant.

Best Medium

The newspaper publisher has a publicity medium which cannot be equaled by any other means or method. The advertiser desiring to cover a certain section knows he cannot do it without the newspaper or newspapers of that territory. Magazines will not cover it. They will hit it only in isolated spots. And besides, magazine advertisements are generally crowded into back pages, hence very frequently never seen by the reader. But the advertisements in a newspaper, usually scattered among large pages containing reading matter, are seen and read by an immensely larger proportion of the public patronizing the publication.

The Story of Cement

No man knows the history of cement. Wander among the ruins of ancient Rome and you will find solid masonry, laid with cement made from volcanic ash mixed with lime and water. History does not tell who laid these stones and how the first mason discovered the secret of his mortar. Visit the ruined cities of Antak, in central America and you will find intact and ancient masonry laid with cement, and walls still standing made from cement and rubble. Cement, as we know it, is made from a mixture of lime-silica and alumina. These three ingredients in the right proportion, have the property of cohering until the product finally becomes as hard as stone. The lime is usually secured by burning lime stone, the silica and alumina are natural products of clay.

Boost Your Home Town

Every man ought to be a booster for his home town. If a place is good enough for him to stay in and as a place for him to make his money, it should be good enough to say a good word about. Too often we hear a dealer complaining that the "old town is dead," "it's a poor mill." If it is, who made it so? It is the men who "kick" instead of getting under the foundation of the place and lifting it. It is the fellows who inform every visitor that they wish they were birds, so that they could fly to other places more congenial. And what happens when these fellows do get money enough together to strike out to some other place? Do they forget their habits of "depression"? Not a word, notice it. They soon get to saying the same old things about the new location, and wish they were back where they came from.

Where Women Don't Like to Shop

The stranger in Korea finds that he has struck the wrong region when he learns that women do not like shopping. That the prominent merchants in these government's appointments, might be made that he should appoint Democrats and was open to no propositions to do otherwise. On Thursday Senator Penn, who had been recognized as inclined to favor Mansfield and was believed to be about to vote for him in the executive session, arose and referred to the fact that the house had voted the day before to hold Friday sessions during March and April and moved that the

REPUBLICAN SENATORS HELP

Vote Stands 19 to 14, Showing That Mansfield Got at Least Five Republican Votes—De. seats Lose Place on Labor Committee—Governor's Railroad Commissioners Also Approved—Committee Hold Many Hearings of Merit.

Special Correspondence.] Hartford, Conn., March 9.—The work of the two houses today was of the most routine nature with the exception of the senate's executive session at which the governor's nomination of Burton Mansfield of New Haven to be insurance commissioner, to succeed Colonel Theodore Macdonald, took place. The senate, by a vote of 19 to 14, approved the nomination of Mansfield, and also approved the nomination of the railroad commissioners also approved. This and some important hearings had brought a large crowd of local politicians and other prominent state affairs. The governor's nomination of Burton Mansfield of New Haven to be insurance commissioner, to succeed Colonel Theodore Macdonald, took place in the afternoon. The senate, by a vote of 19 to 14, approved the nomination of Mansfield, and also approved the nomination of the railroad commissioners also approved. This and some important hearings had brought a large crowd of local politicians and other prominent state affairs.

Majority of the cut-stone quarries have long since been abandoned and a majority of the cut-stone quarries have either been given up or turned into manufacture of crushed stone for roads and concrete work. Cement walks are cheaper and better than flagging, and concrete has taken the place of masonry. It is cheaper to handle crushed stone and cement than it is to handle blocks and slabs of stone. With concrete a new abutment for a bridge can be raised and moulded in to shape in a day where it used to take a gang of skilled masons a month to build it. Dwelling houses, apartments, offices and great factories are now made from reinforced concrete. It is predicted by no less a person than Mr. Edison that nearly all the buildings of the future will be of freeproof concrete construction, poured in place by the method of the substantial house can be made within twenty-four hours.

A great many million barrels of cement are used in this country every year. In 1902 Pennsylvania produced 3,000,000 barrels, Michigan 2,400,000 barrels, New Jersey 1,900,000 barrels, New York 950,000 barrels and Illinois 900,000 barrels.

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

The Business of Sitting Out. By LOUIS HANMAN, M.D. You must address yourself to the task of sitting outdoors day after day most faithfully. You must make it your constant occupation and stick to it as though you were paid money for it. If you do not get the idea early after breakfast and stay there all day, you will not succeed. By rest I mean lying down in a bed or chair in the fresh air. You are not to spend any time in a closed room except when bathing or dressing or eating. Rest all the time. Take no exercise or work until your doctor tells you all is well, no standing, no rambling, no riding, no driving, no housework, no office work, no chess, no trips, no visits, no knocking about, no odd jobs, no exertion of any kind. Put yourself at rest in the open air after breakfast and stay there. Do not be forever jumping up and doing little things about the house or fetching and carrying. Every morning sit out; every afternoon sit out; every evening after supper sit out or lie in your outdoor bed.

Trade School For Girls

New Britain, we are told, is preparing to open a trade school for girls, dressmaking is to be the principal study. South Manchester has had such a school for girls several years. At the closing exercises of our evening schools last week exhibitions of the work done by girl pupils in the dressmaking department were on display and showed the degree of proficiency to which the pupils had attained in this class of handicraft. Numbers of young women attend the sewing school year after year and are making satisfactory progress in the tasks assigned them. It is not the purpose of this trade school here to qualify them for positions as dressmakers, but it is the intent to train them to sell that they may be able to do all necessary plain sewing in their own homes, make their own house dresses, aprons, dusting caps, sleeve protectors, plain skirts and the like. The sewing school is the use of the needle. Learn how to cut out the cloth from the paper patterns, put the garment together and prepare it ready for use. Knowledge of this kind renders the job of dressmaker a better fit for the performance of. Every important branch of housekeeping.

McLean Men Vexed

This to some extent made the issue as to the insurance commission-ership one between the McLean and Bulkley factions in the senate. The latter party is in the majority and it is possible that there may be a session of the two houses on that day, though the senate has very definitely made it known that it does not purpose holding Friday sessions at all, or, at least, not until there is a crush of business such that there would be material advantage in doing this, and the house is highly unlikely to have a session on Friday if the senate doesn't. This afternoon was far the largest afternoon in the way of hearings that has yet come to this general assembly. The senate chamber was supplied by several hundred abolitionists from all over Connecticut who were interested in the hearings on the various automobile measures introduced. While the committee on roads, bridges and rivers, which has this matter in charge has before it only about one-third of the fifty bills which it had to consider two years ago, there are some important propositions in these bills. The most important is backed by the state grants and provides a return to an arbitrary limit for autos of twenty-five miles an hour, something which is not all their tax to the state by way of license fees and be exempt from local taxation on their machines.

senate do the same thing and commence his following day. Senators who favor the retention of office of insurance Commissioner Macdonald immediately concurred in this to be an attempt to get the Mansfield nomination considered at a Friday session when there would not be a full attendance at the senate present.

Under the statute governing this matter the senate had but ten days in which to approve, or to oppose, the governor's nominations and Friday would have been the tenth legislative day, which is what the statute means. Senator Woodruff, the Macdonald leader, was alive to the danger and knew that he wouldn't have a full quota of his men in line Friday and also that Senator Hooker, who announced some time since that, though a Republican, he should vote to confirm the governor's nomination, would be on his way to Hartford today if he carried out his expressed intention. As a result the resolution declaring for Friday sessions was defeated, and the senate adjourned today.

Trouble Over Labor Committee. On Wednesday in the senate the resignation of Senator Brinsmade from the joint committee on public health and safety and the appointment of Senator Foster to the vacancy precipitated a heated controversy between Republicans and Democrats. Senator Judson called attention to the fact that Senator Spelly had been appointed to the committee on labor and that the committee had not yet been organized. He asked to know just what was the situation. Senator Spelly said that he did not feel that he could serve on this committee because he was counsel for labor organizations which had matters going before it. Senator Judson then suggested that the committee be filled by the appointment by the senate of Senator Barnum, whose work on the incorporation of labor unions had been approved by the senate, but had not resigned, and asked to know just what was the situation. Senator Spelly said that he did not feel that he could serve on this committee because he was counsel for labor organizations which had matters going before it.

Here their days are spent until they are mated and married. But little opportunity is given them in a general way to familiarize themselves with the duties of housekeeping. The responsibilities that upon them as soon as they begin housekeeping. The work and purpose of the sewing school is intended to meet this emergency, to give the young women an opportunity—free of cost—to become skillful in the matter of plain sewing and thus to fill the requirements in this one branch at least.

SELECTMEN MEET

IN PUBLIC SESSION LAST MONDAY. THEY HOLD EXECUTIVE SESSION

Order Town Boundaries Established and Maps Prepared of West Center and Olcott Sts. For Sixty Foot Highway. New Street Name Proposed.

At the afternoon meeting of the board of selectmen last Monday Board Superintendent Ulrich presented two drawings of a proposed bridge on Prospect street near the mill of the Rogers Paper Mfg. Co. One called for a straight girder bridge with a middle support and the other a 40-foot arch span bridge of concrete construction. The two bridges would be of about equal cost. Mr. Ulrich recommended the arch bridge. He was instructed to confer with Cheney Brothers and also with the Rogers Paper Mfg. Co. and see which style of bridge they would prefer, as they are the persons most directly interested in the bridge. According to the vote of the annual town meeting a sum not to exceed $4,000 was appropriated for the purpose of erecting this bridge.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Company accepted the terms submitted by the board governing the laying of their conduits on Middle turn pike from the East Hartford town line to the Bolton town line.

The road superintendent was an authorized to procure and post the necessary legal notices about town regarding the licensing of dogs.

Charles Conroy was authorized to borrow $1,000 for the current expenses of the town.

There are $4,000 coming to the Ninth School District from the state this month consisting of $1,000, $1,000, $1,000 and $1,000. Temporary loans to date $20,000. Total $190,000.

Home Again

Frank Abbey was brought from Hartford Hospital to his home on Charter Oak street Tuesday afternoon in an automobile. It was a lovely winter afternoon and Mr. Abbey withstood the transfer as well as could be expected. He has had a severe struggle for his life. The surgeons had to resort to the scalpel several times in order to release the poison which was endeavoring to take possession of his person to a very dangerous extent. With characteristic grit and perseverance Mr. Abbey fought the good fight and so far has been victorious. It is now believed that he will win the contest. His life long ambitious habits stood him well in hand in this severe struggle for his life. At times relatives were greatly alarmed that victory might not swing in his favor. It appeared as if the scales were nearly equally divided and the odds seemed to be quite as much in favor of defeat for him as of victory. He is to be congratulated upon his success and his family are greatly relieved accordingly. It now looks as if he could "come back", as the current phrase goes. Home looks very pleasing to him at present. He feels more than ever the thrill which love of home brings to all.

Another Business Man

Albert T. Dewey of 151 Main street and discussed by him in extenso. Mr. Hohenthal gave all necessary information to the board relative to the persons who signed the petition and their desires regarding the proposed roadway.

He suggested that where land was to be taken from property owners the line be so drawn as to equalize same in so far as practicable.

In replying to an interrogatory of Mr. Hohenthal as to newspaper reports regarding double tracking Chairman Cheney stated that no order for double tracking had been issued by the Connecticut Company. He said that the Connecticut Company had never stated they would not double track all the way through to South Manchester. They never said they would not center the tracks. The papers were in error in making these statements.

Mr. Hohenthal suggested that one name should be chosen for the three streets which lead into each other, namely, West Center, Olcott and Chapin road. This multiplicity of names leads to endless confusion in locating residents there and when the thoroughfares are widened they should have this name suggested made with the others. Mr. Hohenthal suggested that it be named Broadway.

The roadmaster of the Connecticut Company asked the board of selectmen if they would agree to defacing the new guard rails at the Center mill. The question of centering the tracks and double tracking is determined by The Connecticut Company. The request was granted with the proviso that the Town of Manchester would assume no risk in case of accident or injury because of this delay.

The matter of having the tax collector furnish a suitable bond from a regular bonding company rather than the customary bonds furnished by individuals' friends was discussed at length. Chairman Cheney and Selectmen Durt and Reid were strongly in favor of this course but Selectmen Alford, Weldon, Cowles and Kenney would not agree to the proposition. Messrs. Alford and Weldon were especially opposed and debated the question with persistence and vigor. They were met with equal persistence by the gentlemen on the other side of the question. No change was made for the present.

The discussion brought out the statement that the tax collector is well paid for his services at present and should furnish the necessary bond from a bonding company, at his own expense. With the increased valuation and a grand list of more than sixteen million dollars here it was stated that a charge of one per cent. for this service was very high. It was further explained that the taxes could be collected for less money and that another year measures would be taken to have a lower sum awarded for this work. No further business appearing the meeting dissolved at 9:30.

NET WEIGHT BILL

Contest Over Having Amount Placed On Outside of Container

Considerable animus was aroused before the committee on public health and safety yesterday in a contest over the bill introduced by Representative Johnson of Manchester, making it illegal to sell food packages in the state that do not bear the weight or measure on the package.

Mr. Johnson's bill was opposed by A. R. Bradley of Bradley, Smith & Co. of New Haven, who represented various confectioners' associations, and he did not want the proposed bill to be passed for packages containing less than six ounces as it would be difficult to give the correct weight, owing to shrinkage etc.

Aaron L. Squires, lawyer, represented several extract concerns, said he was in favor of the bill with the same exception of the six ounce packages and less.

Representative Johnson produced some of the samples which he presented at the previous hearing a few weeks ago to show how the manufacturers could fool the public in the matter of quantity.

Edward J. Maroney, dealer of weights and measures in New Haven, did not believe that Mr. Squires was for the Mann bill, as the gentleman stated. He cited how certain brands of certain packing companies had decreased in weight. He said that the man opposing Mr. Johnson's bill had opposed the Mann bill at Washington, and that the department of commerce at Washington and the dealers of weights and measures in this state were for the bill as it was drawn.

Judge Arnot of Manchester also appeared for the bill.

Thomas G. Mills with the W. W. Walker Company of Hartford, and E. J. Hoadley of Hartford were among the opposers of the bill.

Wright-Lang

Joseph Wright of Pleasant street and Miss Dolly Lang, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Lang of Mather street were married by Rev. W. F. Davis last Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the South M. E. church. They were unattended. After their honeymoon they will reside in Hartford where Mr. Wright is employed at the state arsenal. The bride was employed as stenographer in the office of the American Writing Paper Company in Oakland.

The Day We Celebrate

Thursday evening March 16, the Ladies Altar Guild of St. Bridget's Church at the north end of town will entertain their patrons with supper and select entertainment. The menu will be emerald blue and those who can't find a pearl in the oyster stew will find an emerald in the coffee brew. Everything will be perfectly ripe and up to date and songs, sketches and speeches will be given by D. J. Sullivan, Edward Harrington, John Gleason, James Tooley, George Dwyer, Miss Margaret Smith, Nellie O'Connor, Annie O'Connor, Madeline Smith, Frances Ferrall, Helen Buckley, Len Donahy, Gertrude McVey, May Healy, Lena Sullivan, Ethel Ward, and others.

The St. Bridget's parish each year begins the celebration of St. Patrick's Day on the 16th and the Ancient Order of Hibernians always close on the 17th of March.

Judge Lindsey Here

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Juvenile Court, Denver, Colorado, delivered his lecture, "The Misfortunes of Micker" at High School Hall Wednesday evening, closing the series in The Popular Entertainment Course.

Judge Lindsey made a strong plea for the protection and uplift of the boy who is born into an environment which has strong natural tendencies to evil, which surrounds him with which he is surrounded as he advances through childhood, boyhood, manhood and frequently goes from bad to worse down to a dishonored grave. He showed how he had saved many boys from the fate which would inevitably be theirs did not some well disposed persons stretch forth their hands to save them.

He deprecared jail sentences for boys and favored detention institutions where their moral affairs would be securely guarded. Where they would be made to see the dangers which beset them and where they would be taught to grow up honest, sober, industrious, self-reliant.

A fairly good sized audience listened with pleasure and profit to Judge Lindsey's discourse and applauded his efforts heartily.

Mrs. Liza K. Fuller will address the ladies at the church at the South Manchester church next Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance as Mrs. Fuller is an eloquent speaker.

Rogers-McCue

Willard B. Rogers of this place and Ruth McCue of Hartford were married yesterday afternoon in Worcester, Mass. by Rev. Dr. Vincent Sullivan, pastor of the First Universalist church of that city. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage. Irving street and was witnessed by the girl college friends of the bride. Mr. Rogers is the son of Alexander Rogers, a well known business man in this city. Mr. Rogers is a graduate of the Hartford College of Business and is also a member of the Hartford Club. He is a very popular young man and is being looked forward to with interest. When it is known that Mr. Rogers has studied abroad under the best vocal teachers of earth, that he has mastered no less than twenty operas, that he sings with equal fluency in English, French, German and Italian, that besides the operas he has a treasury filled with gems of song written by the best masters it will be readily seen that a treat is in store for all who have the good fortune to hear him. As a matter of courtesy to his friends, school mates and neighbors home temporarily with the bride's parents, Mr. Rogers will continue his duties here the same as formerly and will go back and forth daily. It is the intention of Mr. Rogers to take up his abode here permanently after a time.

Song Recital

The song recital to be given this evening at High School Hall by Morenozo, familiarly known here as Paul Monnera, is the one theme foremost among music lovers hereabouts and is being looked forward to with interest. When it is known that Morenozo has studied abroad under the best vocal teachers of earth, that he has mastered no less than twenty operas, that he sings with equal fluency in English, French, German and Italian, that besides the operas he has a treasury filled with gems of song written by the best masters it will be readily seen that a treat is in store for all who have the good fortune to hear him. ### Rev. Ignatius Kost Transferred Announcement has been made that Rev. Ignatius Kost, for the past seven years pastor of St. Marys Roman Catholic church at South Coventry, is to be transferred to Dayville. During Father Kost's stay at South Coventry he has succeeded in building up the parish considerably and has reduced the church debt by several hundred dollars. The parish at South Coventry is a small one and the one at Dayville is much larger and will give Father Kost greater opportunities. During his stay at South Coventry he has endeared himself very much to his parishioners and has made many friends outside his flock who will regret his departure. Father Kost was formerly curate at St. James church in this place before being assigned to the church at South Coventry and the local people will join with his parishioners in South Coventry in extending best wishes to him in his new field of endeavor.

Died in Brooklyn

Word was received here this week of the sudden death in Brooklyn, N. Y., of L. Zechel of this city. Mr. Zechel will miss many of the summer colony of Manchester folks who gather at Lake Waugunabag, where he had a bungalow and where he spent his summers. He was very congenial and made many friends who will be surprised to learn of his death. He is survived by a widow, one daughter and one son.
