Received Commission

Baldwin as judge of the town court of Manchester for a period of two years from the first Monday in July, 1911. When Judge Arrott first took his seat as judge of the local court his term was Monday and the date July fifth, but was observed as the legal holiday for July Fourth. Last year the first anniversary celebration of the event occurred on Monday, July Fourth and this year the opening of his second term will start on Monday, July third. Judge Arrott's first commission was signed by Frank D. Weeks, acting governor after the death of Governor George L. Lilley. This is the first appointment of a Manchester town court judge to be signed by a democratic Governor.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB

Hold Annual Meeting, Hear Reports, Elect Officers, etc.

At the annual business meeting of the Educational Club held on May 3rd in the High School studio the following officers were elected to serve one year: Group 1: president, Miss Hannah Garland; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. L. St. C. Burr; treasurer, Mrs. Herbert Hoase. To serve two years, Group 2: 1st vice-president, Miss Marjory Cheney; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. F. A. Verplanck; secretary, Mrs. A. L. Kenyon.

After this year group 1 will be replaced by officers who will serve two years so that hereafter at least half of the executive committee, which is composed of these two groups, shall have had one year's experience.

The directors of the Outdoor School is to be put in the hands of a new committee of three beside the president who shall be a member ex-officio. Two members of this committee were elected yesterday—Mrs. H. O. Bower to serve one year and to be succeeded by a member to serve two years; and Mrs. E. L. G. Hobenthal to serve two years. The third member of the Outdoor School Board is to be chosen by the executive committee at their first meeting. The board will choose one of its members as treasurer.

The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted, besides the reports of Mrs. W. H. Tucker, treasurer of the Outdoor School; Miss Reynolds, school-nurse; and Miss Tarrant, teacher of the Outdoor School.

A special vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Tucker for the large amount of work which she has carefully performed as treasurer of the Outdoor School.

For Double Tracks

The Board of selectmen are this day inspecting the street lines on West Center and Olcott streets with a view to learning just where the property owners claim their street lines to be. This is the preliminary work in the matter of preparing for the making of a sixty-foot highway out as far as Main street for the purpose of enabling The Connecticut Company to double track their lines from the Center to Burnside. The property owners are cooperating with the Board of Selectmen in this matter. When this preliminary work shall have been completed a map of the streets will be prepared and stakes will be driven showing just where the sixty-foot highway will be laid. Following this action a hearing will be held and an effort will be made to amicably adjust any differences that may appear or any irregularities that may arise.

Preparing To Leave

Rev. W. P. Anderson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church on Church street is packing his household goods preparatory to leaving town. He expects to start for Stronghurst, Illinois in two weeks and assume the duties of his new pastorate in that place. His charge in July, 1911, is a rhotome at Tufts College, Boston, Mass. and will continue her studies there. It will be recalled that she was dangerously ill with a malignant type of scarlet fever last Christmas and that she was unable to resume her studies for almost two months. In spite of that fact she has worked so hard and so effectively since her return that she has caught up with her class and now hopes to be able to go to college in the fall.

ARMORY OPERA HOUSE

The Jollities Will Appear In The Townmakers Tonight

"Job's Senior Stubbs" the old English toy-maker invented a mechanical doll and by means of electricity brought the doll to life. Just how it was done and what happened after it was done is told in an exceedingly entertaining manner by The Jollities, a company of clever entertainers in The Townmakers, an original musical absurdity written by Charles Felton Pidgin. The Townmakers was written as a book first and a musical absurdity afterwards by Charles Felton Pidgin author of Quixote, Adam Sneyer, the great New England play and book. It is a clean, wholesome entertainment which everyone should not fail to see. Tickets on sale at Magnells. Admission 25c, 35c, 50c.

Milk and Cream

The special joint committee raised by the Legislature to investigate the conditions of milk and distribution of the necessities of life made a partial report to the Legislature yesterday. This special report is limited at this time to the consideration of this subject. In so far as it relates to milk and cream, the committee recommends the passage of a bill which they sent in with their report regarding this subject. They presented a list of 40 recommendations to be observed by owners of cows, keepers of dairies and distributors of milk and cream. The tendency of these recommendations is to throw more safeguards about the milk and cream which she has carefully performed as treasurer of the Outdoor School.

Who'll Be Chief? Notwithstanding the fact that Chief Sheridan has accepted the appointment as deputy sheriff at the hands of Sheriff Dewey and that he will be sworn in as deputy sheriff June first, it is his intention to round out his eleventh year on the force.

A Craft Game Here they are, read them—the names of eleven reputable men who are willing to accept $100 of the people's money, simply because a set of representatives of the people at Hartford are willing to give it to them and for what they are reporter, some of them editors of daily newspapers who go to Hartford, some of them every legislative day and others when the spirit moves, to report the Assembly's doings at more or less length for their papers for which they receive their salary.

It is along the same lines of graft that the thousands of dollars used to be squandered by the people's guardians a few years ago when they appropriated money from the state treasury to purchase for their own use pen knives, cut glass ink wells, fountain pens, etc. and which was strangled it is hoped forever, during Governor Woodruff's administration.

It will not be surprising to find that Mr. Meyer, the able representative of the Associated Press, and Frederick E. Norton of the Hartford Courant, in whom there are no better reporters at the Capital, do not appear in this list, simply for the reason that neither the men themselves nor the corporations employing them will be made parties in the game.

Header: the names—Charles W. Prickett, New Haven Leader; J. E. Elliot, Bridgeport Standard; James L. McGovern, Bridgeport Farmer; Charles Spivey, The United Press; S. F. PHENOMENAL GROWTH

Wise, Smith & Co's Store Greatly Enlarged

Five stores in New England have expanded so rapidly or as substantially as has that of Wise, Smith & Company, and as such expansion reflects the confidence of the people, the firm is of course to be congratulated.

Starting in 1897 with a store which was then considered large and well appointed this concern has gradually and with excellent judgment continued to acquire the contiguous property and to develop it in accordance with the increased needs of its business.

A few days ago a new addition, which practically doubles the capacity of the business, was opened. This is the property known as The Opera House Property, and it adds 9,000 square feet to the floor space already developed.

And these nine thousand feet give to the concern the opportunity for placing upon the floor space a variety of departments which they have taken the liberty to do in a new and a number of other departments which were formerly in quarters too small to adequately display them.

The movement has permitted the moving of the notion department to the space formerly occupied by history and underwear and given two and a half times as much space to the men's and boys' furnishing department and twice as much to their clothing. In fact the opening up of the new addition has allowed the whole store to expand and to come up to the notch its owners have long had in view for it.

It might have been expected that the owners would long ago have been satisfied with the development that they had already made but when a good thing once starts to grow there is no stopping it, even if a man's ambition is satisfied.

And that is what happened to this fourteen year old firm—it started to grow and there is no stopping it even if any one wanted to.

With moving into the new addition the firm has inaugurated a renovation sale, and following the usual custom have prepared such a string of bargains that one hardly knows how to begin to tell about it.

It should be said that the public that such a sale is on. They know what that means—to heed the announcement as to the profit greatly.

Funeral of Mrs. Wetherell The funeral of Mrs. Robert Wetherell, all of Wells street took place Sunday afternoon and attracted a very large outpouring of people to the East cemetery where interment was made.

HOUSEHOLD LETTER

A NEW DEPARTURE IN WOMEN'S CLUBS—FOODS LABOR-SAVING DEVICES—PURE FOODS—COOKERS AND CLEANERS—ELECTRICAL DEVICES.

A new movement has recently been taken by the State Federation of Women's Clubs, that promises epoch making results for women's domestic problems. Ninety per cent. of the women of this country keep no servant largely because the good general house worker has become about as extinct as the Dodo. Women of intelligence in domestic service specialize as cooks, waitresses and housemaids and go into the homes of wealth where their services command high prices.

Service and Slavery
It is perfectly useless to urge upon the wage earner the comfortable food and surroundings that the average servant enjoys. She knows that the general servant has practically no time that she can call her own, but depends upon the kindness of her mistress for her hours of rest or leisure that domestic service is practically domestic slavery, and is so regarded by other trades and therefore commands little respect.

Foods and Labor-Saving Devices

These try-out foods and mechanical devices, selected the best so that women can buy with confidence, appliances to lighten their labor, and can furnish their tables with appetizing, nourishing food without overstepping the limits of their household earnings. There are thousands of labor-saving inventions for the home, and kitchen, some excellent but too costly for average needs, many worthless, or so complicated that they rarely get out of order and become useless, and only a few that are reasonable in price, and efficient in meeting the demands made upon them. The ordinary woman has no other time money to spend in trying out the various devices. It is here that the club experiment stations come in. They test all sorts of domestic machines, and the best makers are glad to supply the appliances. Information is given to all women interested telling just what results can be secured from any desired labor saving device, with a careful estimate of cost, a most important item.

THE HALL OF FAME.

HENRY WARD BEECHER
Pulpit orator and editor. Born Litchfield, Conn., June 24, 1813; died Brooklyn, March 19, 1887. Graduated at Amherst and afterward studied law at Lane Theological Seminary, Co. Congregational pastor at Lawrenceburg and Indianapolis, Ind., and in Plymouth church, Brooklyn. Connected with an anti-slavery paper in Cincinnati, editor for two years of the Independent, New York, and for nine years of the Christian Union, New York. Made political speeches in many campaigns, lectured extensively and wrote many books. Perhaps the most popular lecturer of his day. During the civil war spoke in England in favor of the Union and modified public sentiment.

Reducing the Coal Bill.

When adding fuel to a good bed of live coal in the furnace cover one side only; the next time put coal on the other side. In this way the heat from the live coal tends to make coke of the fresh fuel by consuming the gas and smoke. Less draft is needed, too, and less of the fuel goes to waste in gas and smoke, so that there is less gas and dirt in the cellar or furnace room and in the house by way of the registers. If large lumps of coal are used a good way is to scatter what is known as "blow over" them. The black tends to hold the fire longer, and the lump coal will tend to prevent the black from forming clinkers.—Suburban Life.

LISTEN Think it Over

If you can save from $100 to $150 and secure as good shoes as you can in the regular way, isn't it up to you to at least try one pair of our sample shoes?

IF MONEY IS NO OBJECT

then this argument fails, but few people care to pay more than is really necessary. We buy direct and carry the leading manufacturers goods, but they are goods made up for other dealers who have failed to take them. This does not mean that they are last year's goods. Orders for shoes are taken in the fall for the following spring and summer stock. Between the placing of the order and the spring delivery the goods are made up, but there are failures and changes which occur leaving the goods made up on the manufacturers hands. Styles change every season so that they cannot carry them over to another season and dispose of them at an underprice in large lots. The shoes are not the worse for the change of customers, it is the manufacturers that are the losers, you are the gainers. THINK IT OVER.

FOR use from morning until the wee small hours of the next morning might be said of the two beautiful costumes pictured herewith. The house dress on the right is a charming creation, admirably suited for wear at home, while the evening costume is in the latest mode. The two illustrate admirably the vogue of black and white, the combination which always finds a certain number of devotees and this year has more followers.

probably than ever before. The house costume consists mainly of a white satin dress with over which is draped a close fitting black netting slip. The skirt is bordered with gold-mullion embroidery. It starts under the armpits the waist and hips and is partly hidden by a belting of black chiffon. The dress is trimmed with double rows of quillings of black chiffon. The material of the evening gown is heavy black net trimmed with beads and applique. The foundation of the gown is white silk. A distinctive feature of this costume, which is very smart, is the wide band over the portion of the waist, the top edge forming the décolletage.

How Old People May Prolong Their Lives

At advanced age the organs act more slowly than in youth. Circulation becomes poor, blood thin and watery, appetite fitful, and digestion weak. This condition leaves the system open to disease such as Coughs, Colds, Grippe, Pneumonia, Rheumatism, etc.

VINOL is the greatest health creator and body builder we know of for old people, as it supplies the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissue and replace weakness with strength.

A case is recorded in Albany, N. Y., of a woman who felt she was breaking up. Her system was so weak and feeble that she could not walk and she had to be carried in a chair. She had been ill for many years, and she felt ten years younger than she did before taking VINOL.

We ask every aged person in this neighborhood to try a bottle of VINOL with the understanding that we will return their money if it does not prove beneficial.

Honored Retiring Pastor

Representative Aaron Johnson of this place had the very great satisfaction last Tuesday of leaving a favorable report from the House chairman of the legislative committee on Public Health and Safety on his net weight food bill which was passed unanimously by the House on the very hearty commendation of Chairman Thompson. Mr. Thompson declared it to be one of the most meritorious and important measures that came before the committee and heartily recommended its passage. The net weight food bill is as follows: "No person shall sell or offer for sale food in package form unless the net quantity is marked on the outside of the package in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count provided, however, that reasonable variations shall be permitted, and that tolerance shall be established by rules and regulations made from time to time by the dairy and food commissioner."

Section 1. The act shall take effect from its passage, but no penalty shall be imposed for any violation of the provisions of section 1 of this act as to products prepared prior to six months after the passage of this act.

Mr. Johnson has set his heart on the passage of this bill, has worked day and night to bring it before his fellow legislators, has given of the best that was in him in order that this very far reaching measure might be placed upon the statute books of the State of Connecticut. It is known as the Johnson bill and it is the honor of the net weight food bill of the governor as it undoubtedly will, it will be the means of passing Mr. Johnson's name down to posterity with credit for his success in so important a measure in the interest of the common people.
