

More Time for Other Things When You use a "Caloric" Fireless Cook Stove

You will be amazed at the seemingly impossible, almost unbelievable things it does. BAKES and ROASTS without heat other than that supplied by our patented radiators...

It will save hours every day which can be devoted to other things. It will pay for itself in a short time from the savings in fuel and food.

It will make your work in the kitchen so much less that you can dispense with a maid. It will save your nervous energy—your temper—and make cooking a pleasure.

You can make more delicious soup than is possible by any other way. You can bake better and more wholesome bread and pastry.

You can bake pies with evenly browned, crisp crusts and of a most delicious flavor. You can bake potatoes and have them mealy throughout.

You can boil corned-beef to a degree of tenderness—it will practically melt in your mouth. You can roast an old fowl or a tough piece of meat that could hardly be made eatable by any other means...

You can cook almost everything needed for the family table better, more thoroughly, more wholesomely, more nutritiously, richer with flavor and at a less cost than is possible by any other method.

You can do all these things the year 'round, Summer and winter.

Purifying Water This method of removing "fungi" from the water in the reservoirs has been effective heretofore and doubtless may be relied upon to further produce satisfactory results of a similar sort.

The annual purification of the drinking water in the South Manchester reservoirs is now in progress. Began of the water and it is believed that good results will come therefrom.

The South Sea Finger Bowl. Civilized man did not invent the finger bowl either in form or in use. It was used in the south sea islands some hundreds of years before Europeans and Americans found out that they were necessary to their own refinement. A bowl of water is handed around to every diner in a south sea house. This south sea finger bowl is half coconut shell, beautifully useful, practically unbreakable, yet not of sufficient worth to prevent its being thrown away tomorrow at the end of a fresh one from the nearest palm.

A MAN OF MYSTERY.

Peccolus Life of Metastasio, the celebrated Italian poet, spent fifty-five years in Vienna as the Martinis family without ever learning German or wishing to do so.

Metastasio's utter indifference to all speech but Italian, Metastasio possessed of many peculiarities of character. None might mention death in his presence. Those who alluded to smallpox before him made it a point not to see again. In all his fifty-five years in Vienna he never gave away more than the equivalent of $25 to any one. He always occupied the same apartment at church, but never paid for it. He took all his meals in the most mysterious privacy. His greatest friends had never seen him eat anything but a morsel with some lemonade. Nothing would induce him to dine away from home. He never changed his wig or the cut of his hair for five far.

Metastasio was to have been presented to the pope the day he died and raved about the intended interview. Metastasio also created out of his white opponents could only pound the ball for four safe ones. ETIQUETTE IN SIAM.

On Hands and Knees Before the King Was Long the Custom There.

Perhaps the most revolutionary reform carried out by the late King of Siam was the abolition of the arbitrary rule of etiquette which forbade an inferior in rank to raise his hand above that of a superior or even level with it. The inferior must not even pass over a bridge while a superior was underneath it, nor must he enter a room in an upper story while a superior was occupying a room beneath it. Servants approached their masters on hands and knees. This custom is by no means obsolete today in spite of the royal edict, for many of the powerful nobles who live far from the capital still enforce it.

In 1874 the king held a large court, at which no one present presumed to appear without his hands and feet level with it. The inferior must not even pass over a bridge while a superior was underneath it, nor must he enter a room in an upper story while a superior was occupying a room beneath it. Servants approached their masters on hands and knees. This custom is by no means obsolete today in spite of the royal edict, for many of the powerful nobles who live far from the capital still enforce it.

SILVER WEDDING

Charles and Mrs. Schuetz observe 25th Anniversary.

Charles and Mrs. Schuetz of Cooper street observed the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of their wedding last Saturday afternoon and evening. There were 100 guests at the merry wedding feast at their cozy home on Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuetz had sent invitations to relatives and friends to unite with them in their joyous commemoration of the joyous anniversary and right willingly they did they respond.

Rev. Johann Heinemann, Wetham Jaeger, pastor of the German Lutheran church, Hartford, was present as one of the distinguished guests of the silver wedding and made a congratulatory address at the conclusion of the wedding feast while the guests were assembled about the festive board.

Mr. Zaotow of Collinsville made a silver crown which Mrs. Schuetz wore during all the festivities of the day. It was composed of silver thread woven by hand into floral designs and further decorated with fringed leaves of green. Each of the children of the family wore a bouquet of the same material all made by Mrs. Zaotow.

The material for this bridal crown and for the wedding bouquets was imported from Germany. Mrs. Schuetz intends to have the coronet set in a frame and preserve it as a precious memory of the happy event. Invited to the party were guests from Hartford, Collinsville, Glastonbury, Shelton, Addison, and Rockville, besides those from South and North Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuetz were very generously remembered by their friends who presented them with choice wedding gifts, as follows: decorated China dinner set, relatives from Hartford; silver pudding dish, Ewald Dohler and family; silver fruit basket, A. Hausmann and family; silver tea set, Alfred Kirschner and family; Stoungton; silver fruit basket, Henry Bissell and family; silver berry spoon, Otto Hampp and silver pie plate, Otto Hampp and family; Glastonbury; silver carving set, Oscar Schuetz and Miss Lena Grabbe; silver soup ladle, Mrs. Lena Felber, Hartford; silver table set up, Herman Schuetz and family; Addison; silver table spoon, Conrad Wehr; silver knives and forks, Gus Schuetz and family; silver cake basket, Britzell; silver coffee pot, Herman Miller and family; silver knives and forks, Henry Schuetz; silver cake plate, Emil Kohls and family; silver cake plate, John and Mrs. Schuetz; silver fruit basket, Hans French, Hartford; silver fruit basket, Charles A. Sperber and family; silver tea spoon, Gottfried Kiehn and family; silver fruit knife, Mrs. Gertrude H. Knehl; glass hand embroidered table spread and pillow top, Herman Kohls and family; Mystic; beautiful wedding cake, Karl Henke, Hartford; set of fancy decorated China cups and saucers, Mrs. Zaotow, Collinsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuetz are natives of Germany and have lived in South Manchester for the past 37 years. They are well and favorably known in their community and have many friends outside of their own immediate circle and nationally. Mr. Schuetz has been employed by Chesney Brothers for the past 37 years. He is presently engaged in the silk finishing room. He was married to Miss Mary Schuetz May 21, 1886 and they have six children, as follows: Otto, Paul, Richard, Fred, Hugo and Amanda. All live at home but Otto who is employed in Torrington. They also have one grandchild, Otto's daughter, Mrs. Schuetz's son, Henry and Mrs. Schuetz's daughter, Henry, Gustav and Oscar of this place. Mrs. Schuetz has five sisters, as follows: Annie Jaeger, Augusta Heiser, Bertha Pletzer, Martha Sedgewick and Edith Bryan.

Burst Auto Tire. A tire on the automobile of Charles Behnfeld burst early Wednesday morning near the residence of Mrs. Schuetz. The tire was burst down to the lake at South Coventry spending the Memorial Day holiday and were on their way home to resume business. They were lucky to escape so well from such a dangerous experience.

Patrick Hayes of West Center street is greatly distressed with a persistent attack of rheumatism and for some time past has been unable to get out of doors. Advancing age has brought him this affliction which is causing him much suffering.

EARLY FIRE

ALARM RUNG IN FROM BOX FORTY TWO AT ONE THIRTY

R. M. Blyth's Variety Store Scene of Burning—Good Work of Firemen Limits Flames To Stock and Fixtures—Partly Insured

About one-thirty o'clock this morning a fire alarm was rung in from Box 42 at the corner of Main and Charter Oak streets, because of a fire in R. M. Blyth's variety store at No. 309 South Main street. The firemen responded with alacrity and soon subdued the flames. The chief damage is to stock and fixtures as the building is not insured to any appreciable extent further than a thorough cleaning and painting will restore. Believing that the store had been entered he cautiously came down stairs by means of an outer stairway. Looking through a rear window he saw the flames which were burning in the store at the corner of the store. He gave the alarm at the top of his voice and also by firing a revolver. A fire alarm key is kept in the store and he secured this and started to ring in an alarm. Letter Carrier Louis P. Corbett who lives nearby heard Mr. Blyth's cry and also the shouting and hastened to the scene. Mr. Blyth gave him the key and he rang in the alarm. The fire department responded quickly and within a few minutes had the fire under control. The recall was sent in within a half hour after the alarm was sounded. Notwithstanding the hour people soon came to the burning store to see the fire and a large number stood forth brightly. It was not necessary to turn on the street lights.

Mr. Blyth had a
