School Visitor. It now appears that the prohibitionists are to have a representative of their party on the board of school visitors as neither the prohibition nor the democratic parties have nominated a candidate for the unexpired term of Rev. Charles N. Lovell, who has resigned from the board and left town.

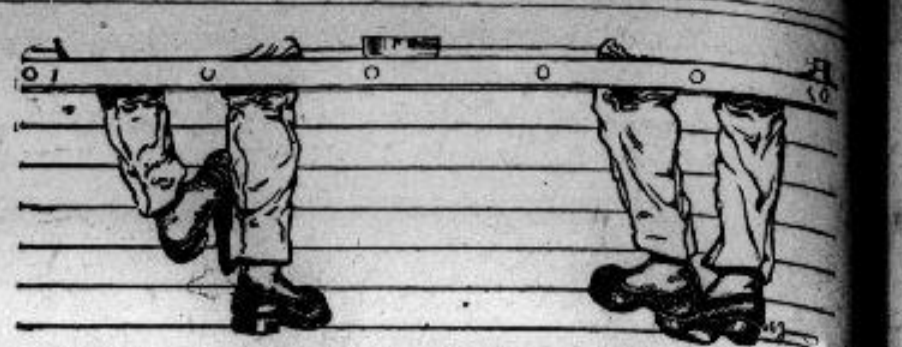

High School Notes. The Boethia was given by Miss Beis-Sheehan, teacher of Modern languages. The program for this afternoon was as follows: Piano solo, E. E. Horowitz; Monologue, Game of Bridge, Agnes Heebner, assisted by Eleanor Cheney, Bernice Johnson and Paul Lambert; Piano Duet, Mary Carter and Marlon Brown; Dialogue, Cupidship Under Difficulties, Harold Symington; Clarence Martin and Amy Collins; Piano solo, Marjorie Dunn; Dialogue, The Train to Manto, Mildred Treat, Warren Keith and Max Taylor.

Obituary. Mrs. Jane Hamill died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Peterson, 42 West Center street, last Sunday, Mrs. Peterson has been suffering for the past thirteen years and has been an invalid for several years. She was 78 years of age, and besides her daughter, is survived by her husband, John Hamill. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, Rev. M. B. Bennett officiating. Foresters To Celebrate. The fifteenth anniversary celebration of the Connecticut Foresters No. 197 Foresters of America will be held in Cheney hall Thursday evening, September 28. It is expected that numerous and grand court officials of the order will be in attendance and give short addresses. There will be refreshments served and dancing will be enjoyed. Members and their families will be present.

To Make Voters. Persons whose names appear on the "to be made" list of voters will have an opportunity to appear before the board of selectmen and town clerk tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. when their qualifications will be examined and the oath administered to those found qualified. This will be the last opportunity such persons will have this year to be made voters.

Conductor Injured. Conductor Wayland Stranghaug of the Connecticut Company is laid up at his home from the effects of injuries he sustained when he was thrown from his car last Monday. Mr. Stranghaug was on the running board of his car and in passing Wickham hill came in contact with a mail box which is close to the tracks and was thrown from his car. His shoulder and hip were badly bruised. It will be a week before he will be able to resume his duties.

Work Shoes. WHETHER you work up in the air or on the ground you want your shoes fitted perfectly. Because the work is rough and the worker is strong, there is no reason why the question of fit is not just as important as in the case of a dress shoe—they should fit snugly, as a big shoe is just as much an evil as one not big enough.

Yes Or No?

The voters of the town of Manchester will be called upon next Monday to express their wishes on the question of license. It is understood that the license and the no-license forces are fighting a bitter battle for the majority of the votes next Monday. Manchester has had experience as a license and as a no-license town and it is hard to see why the thinking people of the town would rather change our present system of no license than to have a license system of no-revenue, law breaking speakers, etc. The saloons as concluded in this town are operated on a plan that has brought them state wide reputation as models in their line.

If we change to no-license the town will lose about $6,000 in license fees.

Ten stores and three hotels would be dealt a death blow. Business men would suffer the loss of many thousands of dollars by customers who would go to the surrounding towns to purchase their liquors and at the same time buy other needs.

The saloon keepers and hotel proprietors of Manchester have endeavored during the past year to conduct an orderly and law abiding business. For those conducting their business the distribution of their liquors, the money spent for same stayed in Manchester, and its surrounding towns, and our merchants benefit of its distribution.

The best men of the state are opposed to prohibition, because it has been proven that prohibition or no-license is a theory, impractical and inoperative, and that prohibition does not prohibit, nor eliminate drinking but that it ruins the property of any town or city wherever it has been applied.

Our own experience here a few years ago is still fresh in the minds of our business interests.

Governor Simon E. Baldwin, whose judgment is unquestioned as opposed to prohibition and he publicly denounces it. When Governor Baldwin was included to deliver the address of welcome at the National convention of the Prohibitionist party held here last summer, he declined. In commenting on this refusal to address the convention, Governor Baldwin said:

"I think that a pledge of total abstenence from intoxicating liquors is in itself a safeguard of health and character, but I am not a believer in prohibiting business done everybody's throat. Prohibition in my view should be a matter of social opinion and while I am not accustomed to take anything myself I have always voted for license in New Haven, believing it to be too large a city to be governed under a rule of prohibition.

"Mr. Horthwith with whom I had my residence, is chairman of the executive committee of the prohibition party of Connecticut. I am not in sympathy with the legislative or constitutional platform of that party."

It will be well for the voters of the town to thoughtfully consider the welfare of the town when voting on this question next Monday. From past experience it would seem that Manchester is too big a town to be conducted under a no-license system. xxx

Letters From The People

To the Editor: I wish to call the attention of the voters to the failure of the Board of Selectmen to insert in the warning for the Annual Town Meeting, as an officer to be filled at that meeting, that of School Visitor, for the remainder of the term for which the Rev. Charles N.

Lovell was elected in 1909. Mr. Lovell having removed from town a vacancy was thereby created.

"Upon inquiry of the Town's Attorney, Judge Wood, the reason for the omission, effected the reply "there is no vacancy." This reply seemed rather surprising to say the least.

Our Supreme Court having decided a town office to be vacated when the incumbent of the same removes from office, the Board of Selectmen nominated Rev. W. F. Taylor, a capable man, to fill the vacancy, and as no other nomination was made, Mr. Taylor's nomination was equivalent to an election.

That the Board of Education knew a vacancy existed is proven by the fact that one of its members asked Mr. Taylor (soon after Mr. Lovell's removal) if he would accept an appointment to the vacant office.

Further proof is given on page 2 of the 1911 Town report, and on page 1 of the report of the Board of Education in the same book, in the omission of Mr. Lovell's name from the list of School Visitors when his term of office was not expiring until 1912.

It does not lack of knowledge that the Selectmen failed to include this office in the warning, as Town Clerk Benton directed their attention to our nomination for the same, and the matter was later placed in Judge Wood's care to look after. So well informed men as Judge Wood and the Selectmen cannot be ignorant of the fact that vacancies in the office of School Visitor have been filled by election at Annual Town Meetings during nearly a score of years to my recollection. At least two members, Rev. F. J.

Murphy and Dr. Sharpe of the present Board, received their initial election in that manner, the former to succeed Rev.

D. J. Haggerty in 1908, and the latter,

I think, to succeed Robert P. Bissell in 1904. Selectman Cowles was himself chosen to succeed Rev. W. J. Doolan in 1894, and Rev. C. H. Barber was chosen in 1895 to fill a vacancy while Rev. C. N. Lovell, who Rev. Mr. Taylor is named to succeed, was himself chosen in 1908 to fill a vacancy. Other instances can be cited where appointments have been made by the School

Visitors themselves to fill other vacancies.

I cannot assign any reason for this action except that Mr. Taylor has been named by the Prohibitionists, which I do not think is or should be a bar to a man being elected to office if he has the qualifications necessary for the office, and I hardly think any citizen will say Mr. Taylor is incompetent. However, I will leave the voters to determine for themselves the reason for this omission.

In my humble opinion, it seems to me that when a nomination is made in conformity with the law, and is printed on the ballot in conformity with the law, the mere refusal or neglect of the Selectmen to insert the necessary provision in the warning simply because someone says "there is no vacancy" cannot and ought not to deprive the voters of their right to fill the vacancy as the law directs.

I sincerely hope, therefore, that every voter will place his X at the left of the name of William F. Taylor for School Visitor, to fill the vacancy created by the removal of Charles N. Lovell from town, in addition to voting for other officials.

Yours respectfully,

E. I. G. HOEHNTHAL,
Chairman Prohibition Town Committee, Sept. 28th, 1911.

The fifteenth anniversary of The Court Foresters No. 107 Foresters of America, Inc. was fittingly observed at Cheney Hall last evening and was attended by a large number of members, their families and friends. The foresters orchestra furnished music for the concert and dancing. There were ten numbers on the program of which were heartily enjoyed. While the guests were assembling the orchestra rendered a concert. Past Chief Ranger Patrick G. Hayes opened the session with a few introductory remarks.

Past Chief Ranger P. G. Hayes spoke as follows:
The fifteenth anniversary of Court Manchester which we observe tonight means more to our members than an ordinary social gathering. It means that a small number of men in modest postures and without large wealth have been able to build up in a community already crowded with societies one of the largest, richest and most powerful fraternal organizations in the town. It is the custom of business firms at the close of the old year and the opening of the new to take inventory to determine their commercial standing. It is also proper for a fraternal body to do this at the close of its old year to take inventory of its fraternal standing.

THE SALOON OUGHT TO GO

FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS

The Testimony of Science, Religion, Business, Economics, Labor, The Home---Are All Against It!

Science

Across the water municipalities have taken it upon themselves to enlighten the public and are not leaving it to the brewers. Read this which the city of Liverpool, England, printed on large posters and displayed on the bill boards.

the strength and impairs the powers for work, either of mind or body." Sir Victor Horsley, M. D., F. R. S., Author of "Alcohol and the Human Body" says: "The bad effects of alcohol on persons performing muscular work is well known. The evidence is overwhelming that alcohol in small amounts has a most harmful effect on voluntary muscular work."

Religion

"Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that putteth thy bottle to him and maketh him drunken." Archbishop Keane says: "As a man and a Christian, I say, 'Damn the Saloons.' If I could cause the earth to open and swallow up every saloon in the world, I would feel that I was doing humanity a blessing. The Saloon has no redeeming feature. It is bad for the home, for humanity, for the Church and the country."

Business

Hon. Arthur H. Low, Pres. Lancaster Mills, says: "My experience with the licensed saloon is such that if I could find a place where there are no saloons I would give $100,000 if my business could be moved there. (In such a place I could pay higher wages, because there would be more and better products. There would be more comfort among the employes. I would know that the hard earned money of my help was not spent for rum in the licensed saloon.) My experience as mayor of Fitchburg, and every other position as a public official that I have ever occupied convinces me that the licensed saloon is the cause of more troubles than all other causes combined."

Economics

Of every $100 spent for liquors, only $44 goes to labor, while the average products of industry give $17.78 out of every $100 valuation to labor. If the same money that is being spent for liquor today should be spent for general products of industry instead of for drink, it would require 280 men to produce such goods for every 100 men now employed in producing liquors of equal value. The saloon hits the laboring man harder than it hits anyone else.

These figures are carefully compiled from reports of state and government officials. Truth they relate to Massachusetts cities, but the saloon always leaves the same deadly trail.

Labor

"I have been criticised for my fight against the saloon but I give notice here and now, that I will fight the traffic as long as there is a saloon left." "The labor movement stands for liberty." "The Saloon everywhere that I have seen it and know anything of its record stands for no liberty unless it is that kind which makes business for the saloon."—John Lennon, Treasurer American Federation of Labor.

"Nothing brings more misery than money spent for drink."—John Mitchell, Labor Leader. "The time has come when the labor movement and the saloon must be divorced."—Samuel Gompers, President A. F. of L.

The Home

This letter is taken from the Michigan Christian Advocate. It tells its own story. Athens, Mich., March 19, 1911. Mr. L. E. Stewart, Dear Sir:—Thirty years a drunkard—what has local option done at Athens? It has taken the liquor from under my nose, and I have not touched a drop since it has gone. I used to spend $5 a week on an average. It has been 68 weeks. At $5 a week, it amounts to $340. This I've bought clothes and shoes and food and smiles and happiness.

When I come home now to my little family I do not find them peeping out at the window or around the corner of the house. They come to me with outstretched arms. This is not a lone case. There are lots of them and if anyone thinks that I want the saloons back they can find my wish in the ballot box. GEORGE E. HARRISON. P. S. RAFTS OF GNAT EGGS.
 Floating Illustrates a Curious Property of Water.
 Many simple experiments show that a surface of water possesses a property which causes it to resist the passage of bodies either from above or below. This is true not only of soapy water but of the cleanest and purest water. A sheet of fine gauze held to float because its weight is widely distributed, each of the numerous separate wires is resisted by surface tension so that the water capillary pass through the meshes. Sheets and plates utilize this fact in many interesting ways. Some glass plates whose leaves float on water have a very simple contrivance to keep the upper surfaces of leaves dry. This consists of a great number of minute hairs covering the tops of the leaves. Water cannot penetrate among these hairs even though the leaves are forced down beneath the surface.

SOME NOVEL NOTES IN AUTUMN STYLE HARMONIES PRETTY women of course carry off such fashion novelties, but it is a question whether the slashed skirt and the hoop sleeve will be universally favored. One hopes that the lady who is thin and will wear will eschew the slashed skirt and that the one whose proportions may be most fitly described as stonemason will not take to the outside skirt. The illustration will give a very good look of the hoop sleeve, which we are assured to be most popular. It is made with tulle at the wrist, hose being used to make it. At the elbow the tulle is drawn in. In this case it is confined under a band of fringe. The gown is of a slender blue crepe. The coat shown is of havana brown velvet carried out in the oriental note which is to dominate the fashions of the winter.

The Judge's Advantage.
 One of the best stories of Judge Parry, a famous English jurist, related to a feeble looking man who was rebuked for supporting a ridiculous claim made by his wife. "I tell you candidly I don't believe a word of your wife's story," said Judge Parry. "One night sleep under an unkind epithet," was the philosophical comment of the judge.—London Globe.

His Legacy.
 The sad little old man lay dying on his hard bed. He called his family together and addressed them thus: "My children, I am about to be summoned home. I am, as you know, a poor man and have little to leave you, but all I have I give you gladly." So he beckoned them to his bedside one by one, kissed them and gave them money.—London Answer.

A Statesman's Queer Ambition.
 The great Lord Grey had an ambition far above politics. He had passed the reform bill, but that did not satisfy his soul. There was talk of Tagliani, and Grey said quite earnestly, "What would I give to dance as well as she!" The statesman who had been prime minister and had left an indelible mark on the history of his country was envious of an opera dancer.—London Saturday Review.

Go! In Scotland.
 In Scotland public golf links are made to pay for themselves at 4 cents a round.

Stood the Test.
 The hour was 1 a. m. Inside the dimly lighted hallway stood Mrs. Dorkins, with a grim smile on her face. The front door was bolted. "John," she said in cutting accents, "you have been dissipating at the club again." "Marta," spoke a voice outside rapidly, clearly and distinctly, "the blow indignantly on the blooming leg!" "Instantly she unfastened and opened the door." Mrs. Dorkins had not been dissipated.—Chicago Tribune.

ONE AMERICAN GIRL'S MARRIAGE

A Sensible Example That May Turn the Tide That Was Set So Strongly Toward Disastrous International Matches.

ALTHOUGH the democratic poet Whitman maintains that, while "rank is good and gold is good," "high and low mate" recent events have brought some very startling contradictions of this doctrine. American women of the so-called smart set do not often marry without its charmed circle, yet Miss Dorothy Whitney, the clever and original daughter of the late William C. Whitney, has preferred to choose a handsome, broad shouldered young man of no particular fortune, but one who has already made a fine record in the business world and whose capacity for achievement is regarded most favorably by that wizard of the world of finance, J. P. Morgan. It is a wholesome sign that society girls are making such sensible matches, choosing good American husbands instead of transplanting themselves into the atmosphere of foreign courts where lumps brought up in a whole some democratic atmosphere are likely to settle.

COQUETTISH CONFECTIONS FOR THE PRETTY INVALID

ARTORIAL art is devoted to making the convalescent attractive, for designers have found out that the fashionable invalid or her friend will pay liberally for novel and becoming confections. The picture shows a charming creature attired in a peignoir of white china silk with a narrow border of figured silk. The robe which is spread over her knees is a Bellagio basket of pale pink, with a border of satin in a darker shade.

CONVALESCENT'S PEIGNOIR AND ROBE.

When the fair invalid can't sit up to receive her friends she is able to arrange the lace-trimmed robe with effect—a wall of color which brings out the best in eyes, hair and skin; a dressing gown that will be in graceful lines and of a becoming tint and a pretty robe with dainty cushions whose shades carry out the color tone of her garments.

NATURE'S CURES. AN ORIGINAL SHADOWS.

Watermelon as an Aid to Good Health and Beauty.
 Watermelon is useful in forms of disease in which it is desirable to make the kidneys act. A South American physician cured eight cases of yellow fever by feeding each of them one-half of a watermelon. The body became so drained of fluids by disease that the patient became ravenous for liquids. Cabbage cut up to threnidize the bowels and eaten with good vinegar is digested in one hour. Oranges are the only food used in the cure of aggravated cases of dyspepsia, and to other food allowed. The grape cure is successfully used in a great variety of cases, especially in wasting diseases, and sometimes the same way. In all of these fruit cures no other food is used and no medicine. Turkeys, raw or cooked, stimulate a sluggish liver. According to the Panting estimate, five ounces of sugar a day will increase a man's weight one cental a week. Powdered red pepper, called capsaicin, is a great help to digestion. It stimulates the stomach, without the exciting narcotic effect.

She Provides Her Guest With Delicacies.
 A hostess who entertains a great many young people has found that her guests feel more at home when they have something to do about the house. So she suggests that they are at liberty to gather and arrange the flowers from her beautiful gardens, and for this work she has provided every possible convenience. In a small porch overlooking the garden is a long, high wooden table covered with copper. On one end of it is an assortment of vases, jars, jugs, bowls and glass-lined buckets of artistic shapes and colors, and near by is a large brown wicker hamper. Into this the debris goes. For gathering the flowers there are leather lined wicker baskets and garden shears. With all these conveniences—no outside runs to be looked up, no water to carry, no disorder to be cleaned up.

When Fruit Stains.
 Fruit stains on white fabric may be removed thus: First soak the article in plain water and then in a half pint of water that contains a teaspoonful of oxalic acid.

BEAUTY SHOWS FOR THE BELLES OF DOLL LAND

THE autumn doll show is just as important an event to the small owner of a large family of dolls as the horse show to her mother and group of grown-up sisters. Little girls evince the greatest interest in these events and if handsome prizes are offered will take pains in making their appearance all that it should be. The doll show, while a delightful social event, may be made educational by stipulating that the garments worn by the dolls shall have been designed and made by the dolls' little owners. Handsomely decorated doll carriages in which the dolls are transported are a feature of such shows and contribute to the beauty of the scene. One young girl shown here was adorned with crepe paper and strands of tulle. She sat on the cassy being wound with ribbon and capped with tulle of white ribbon.

"WE'RE GOING TO THE DOLL SHOW."

Coming Concert

In Cheney hall next Thursday evening October 6 the Swedish American Vocal and Trio Company of New York will give a concert. This organization has a reputation of national repute and they appear in this place under the auspices of Scandia Lodge. The Company is composed of five artists as follows: Miss May Cornins, coloratura soprano; Miss Selma Lind, contralto; Miss Viola Udgren, interpreter of children's songs and Miss M. Austin, pianist and accompanist. The artists are all soloists and they appear in a program of solo, duet, trio and children's songs. The program will be of interesting and varied that it will appeal to all who have the slightest taste for music. The trio proper comprises a range of voices that is rarely found in a trio of ladies voices. In Miss Udgren the management presents a novelty of unusual charm, with songs that during the past two years have won for her an enormous popularity both in this country and in Europe. The admission tickets for this concert are priced at 30 cents and the reserved seats may be procured for 50 cents. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted for 25 cents. Reserved seats may be procured from members of the lodge or at the market of Berggren & Anderson on Eldridge street.

From Golden Gate

Henry J. Brodsky of San Francisco, Cal. was the guest of his sister Mrs. William Robinson Monday and Tuesday of this week. Mr. Brodsky is a corporation lawyer at the Golden Gate where he has been located for the last three and one half years. He is a graduate of the New York University Law school and has spent the major portion of his life in the Empire City. Mr. Brodsky is an energetic young man who has worked very hard to secure an education and is now reaping the rewards of his early efforts by virtue of having acquired a lucrative position on the Pacific coast. Lack of health compelled him to leave New York City for the more congenial atmosphere of San Francisco. Mr. Brodsky is spending a few weeks in the East on business which he is combining with pleasure.

Shake Hands Bob!

"I would rather fill my purse with money and keep it safe at home than my happy days while they linger under my roof than to clutch it with a miser's hand until the happy strings are broken and its music forever dead. I would rather spend my last nickel for a striped marble to gladden the hearts of my barefooted boys than to deny them the childish pleasures and leave a bag of gold to quarrel over when I am gone. I abhor the pitiless hawk that circles the air only to swoop down and bury its talons in the heart of a dove. I despise that soulless man whose greed for gold impels him to strangle the laughter and song of his own family."—Sen. A. J. C. Taylor of Tennessee.

Editor of The News: Unbiased by acquaintances or influence of saloon proprietors, unprejudiced by any affiliation with temperance or prohibition movements, may I express an opinion on the license issue which is to confront the voters of this town at Monday's election?

A man who is credited with being a student of philosophy and who is said to be indifferent toward the liquor business originated the following adage: "It is poverty that causes drunkenness, not drunkenness that causes poverty." Study that saying carefully, voters, and ask yourselves if it is not based on some logic. Ask yourselves if drunkenness, which literally means the indulgence of a man in such an extent that the consequence is loss of control of himself mentally and physically, is not attributable to poverty. Stop to consider how few men who have least positions in society are able to hang on in a saloon. It is a fact that the majority of men who are excessive drinkers would voluntarily give up their saloon habit if it were not for the fact that they are unable to do so because of lack of money. It is not necessary to go on and on about the liquor issue, but it is a fact that the majority of men who are excessive drinkers would voluntarily give up their saloon habit if it were not for the fact that they are unable to do so because of lack of money.
