of ours have been urging us to take the agency for the VICTOR. We hesitated for two reasons. One was we did not have the room to properly display the machines. Another was we were not certain that the demand was great enough to warrant our putting so much' money into the venture.

With the recent alterations in the store the necessary space appeared. When we began to sound people we received immediate and substantial encouragement in the shape of two or three actual orders to be delivered as soon as our stock was received. These machines together with all the other models (all we could get at this time) from $15 to $200 are now on exhibition and we shall be glad to show you at any time.

The regular monthly meeting of the Manchester Business Men's Association took place last evening. The report of the banquet committee brought forth much spirited discussion. It was finally accepted, together with a set of recommendations drawn up by the secretary to be used in managing future banquets.

E. L. G. Hobentbal pleaded for the placing of large signs—electrical or other—over north in view of passengers in railroad trains, such signs to set forth facts about ome of the leading industries of the town. This was discussed at length The Committee on New Industries was asked to take the matter up and report to the Association. Unveiling Victoria Menument was a striking number which gave one ample Sewing machine demonstration at splendid machine like movements of 26th, the English battalions. The different bodies were shown in be military trappings peculiar to them. The gor geous colors of the uniforms was brought out accurately. One never sees any such military display in the United Stares This is not a military country and we do not maintain the military equipment which prevails in England. When it is remembered that the military of England is made ip entirely of volunteers one is amazed to find the vast numbers of the most physically perfect men is the realm ealisted under the colors. Certain regients require physical tests as to beight, weight and soundness of body before men can ealist. Examples of these picked regiments were shown in the parades and they certainly were beautiful to behold. They were admired for their manly proportions, for their gorgeous raiment and for their marvelous skill in marching.

Acother v. ry striking feature of the Kinemacolor pictures was the Readham Drill. This is an institution where or phan boys are cared for at public expense. These lads are brought up to a wonderful state of efficiency in the matter of drilling. The drill shown took place in the open on a level field of the wide spreading grounds of the institution. Apparently two handred boys of varying sizes but all matched in battalions executed some of the most marvelous drills ever witnessed. They formed hollow squares, circles large and small, plain and maltess crosses and the initials G. R. surmounted by the crown, the signature of King Main St. George. The boys were put through bese evolutions without a word of nmand. The signal for the change Geo. W. Smith
