Wall deliv red the memorial address, at the couclust n c1 which light reeshments were served. Mr. Wall pole is p rt as follows: It is not merely custum that brings us here to ay. It is a sense of desire and duly A. Poresters we feel that it is only right that once each year we should lay aside for a uitable period our daily routine a d , ay our tributof respect to our deceased members It is interes ing to know that as we meet here at this very hour in hundreds of Forester lodge halls throughout the country other courts of Foresters are in session for the same purpose—that of holding Forester memorial services. We : we hear our roll of membership ca led and hear the names of our deceased brothers pronounced, how clearly they are brought to our recolection. Only a little while ago they were with us many of them right bere in this hall. It is our purpose on this occasion to pay full measure of respect to their memory.

It is characteristic of a fraternity like the Foresters to do more than is expected of it-to remember its members not only during lite but afterwards. The fraternity is one of the few places where due consiteration is shown to all. We are familiar with the statement that all men are born free and equal. Free yes, there is no question as to every man's right of freedom, Equal-yes, so far as the right of personal liberty is concerned. But equal in other respects? Not always. Often the greatest inequalit'es exist; some are born to position. prosperity and power, while others, equally deserving, fi.d themselves in less for unate positions. In the fraternity all are on equal footing and the welfare of all is constantly looked out

The teaching, "Bear one ano her's burdens," receives full consideration in a fraternal organization As to how far the fra ernal societies go in this respect those who have benefited Ly their generosity are the ones who know best.

The purpose of the Foresters memorist is to pay due respect to the memory of the deceased members. Their names are still on the Court's members! constituting the Court's roil of honor. Tue sympathy of the Court goes out to the relatives and friends of the departed brothers and with it goes the assurance that each year, by its Memorail service, the society will recall their memory with honors due them. And each year will see brought & to their reeting places the Foresters offering of flowers laid there in the kindly spirit expressed by the late Mr.

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS A Winning Fight.

This is not a battle of a year or a generation. The probabilities are that it will take two or three generations at least before we have the mortality from tuberculosis reduced to the rate, say, of that of typhold fever in well regulated countries. This will probably be a matter of two or three generations. Whether tuberculosis will be finally eradicated is an open question. It is a foe that is very deeply intrenched in the human race, but when we think of what has been done in one generation, how the mertality has been reduced in some localities 50 and even 100 per cent, we at least feel that we can continue the battle with hope, and so long as we are

Frank Landry and Samuel Belsh were instantly killed at 4:40 yesterday afternoon by the west-bound New York and Boston exp ess train at a point a little east of the Oakland street cross-

Landry leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters. The bodies were viewed by Medical Examiner Dr. W. R. Tinker and Undertaker W. L. Buckland took them in charge for burial. Belsh will be buried at two o'clock this aftersoon in the Buckland cemetery and Landry will be interred at his side. The time of the Landry funeral is not known at this office at the time of this

The men were walking from Lydall ville to Manchester and in getting out of the way of an engine that was switching on a spur track leading to the Lydeli & Foul is paper mill they unluckily stepped on the west-bound tracks of the main line. The New York express was coming down the heavy grade from Vernon at a very rapid pace and in sweeping around the curve the engineer could not possibly see the men in time to avert the unfortunate accident. The m n too were evidently distracted by the neise of the switching engine which was close by and did not hear the on-rushing express train which suddenly and unexpectedly burled them into eternity.

Landry was an experienced railroad worker for many years. Belah was employed as a mason's tender by John Irish of Buckland. He was known but by few persons in this town. He leaves no relatives here in so far as known.
