Frank Landry and Samuel Belsh were instantly killed at 4:40 yesterday afternoon by the west-bound New York and Boston exp ess train at a point a little east of the Oakland street cross-

Landry leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters. The bodies were viewed by Medical Examiner Dr. W. R. Tinker and Undertaker W. L. Buckland took them in charge for burial. Belsh will be buried at two o'clock this aftersoon in the Buckland cemetery and Landry will be interred at his side. The time of the Landry funeral is not known at this office at the time of this The men were walking from Lydall ville to Manchester and in getting out of the way of an engine that was switching on a spur track leading to the Lydeli & Foul is paper mill they unluckily stepped on the west-bound tracks of the main line. The New York express was coming down the heavy grade from Vernon at a very rapid pace and in sweeping around the curve the engineer could not possibly see the men in time to avert the unfortunate accident. The m n too were evidently distracted by the neise of the switching engine which was close by and did not hear the on-rushing express train which suddenly and unexpectedly burled them into eternity.

Landry was an experienced railroad worker for many years. Belah was employed as a mason's tender by John Irish of Buckland. He was known but by few persons in this town. He leaves no relatives here in so far as known.
