Will Give All

Leo W. McFarland, proprietor of the Globe Theater on Oak street, has announced that he is giving to the entire proceeds of the proposed entertainment at his theater for the aid of the Child's Welfare Association.

Mr. McFarland will give his services in directing the stage and of the entertainment, will contribute the use of the moving picture apparatus with films, the services of his operator, also those of his pianist and of his singer. In that way every dollar taken in at the door will be turned over to the Manchester Business Men's Association when they put on the entertainment for this purpose.

Mr. McFarland says that if the business men choose to secure a call talent to aid in this entertainment they see a great liberty to do so. It is quite likely that a goodly number of volunteers can be found hereabouts who would contribute their services free of charge for this purpose. Mr. McFarland says the business men may make their own price of admission. He will leave the financial end of the affair entirely to their own good judgment and will cooperate with them to the best of his ability. He desires to have the entertainment prove a grand success and have a goodly sum of money realized as the result.

Card of Thanks

We wish to publicly express our thanks to our many friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement. We would thank in an especial manner those who contributed flowers.

EDITORS ON HIGH
HOSPITALLY ENTERTAINED IN GRAND OLD LITCHFIELD
 Personally Conducted Tour Amidst Historic Surroundings One of Chief Features—Dinner At Bantam Lake Inn—Sale On Lake
 Members of the Connecticut Editorial Association, their wives and members of their staff were invited to come to Litchfield for a most enjoyable and interesting trip. They were met at the station in Torrington shortly after nine o'clock. They were promptly bundled into a comfortable array of automobiles and enquired automobiles and whizzed merrily through the hills and valleys of this grand old town. Litchfield. Here they were hospitably entertained at the home of Editor Woodruff where they refreshed themselves and where taken on foot for a personally conducted tour of several of the Colonial residences and places which have been famous as the homes of illustrious men of world wide prominence during the Revolutionary War period and afterwards. Other buildings of much historical interest were also shown. Brother Woodruff acted as lecturer and right well did he perform the task which he set himself. The rain ceased before noon thus favoring the visitors very much. Some of the things which Brother Woodruff showed the party and some of the places which he pointed out are indicated in the following paragraph which appeared in "The Litchfield Enquirer State Editorial Association Special Edition" which Mr. Woodruff prepared for the occasion and which contained the Menus as well as a choice collection of diverting thrills at several of the editors. We quote:
 "The following are a few of the reasons why Litchfield people are so proud of the history of their town. It was founded in 1720. The first law school in the United States was established here in 1784 by Tapping Reeve. Pierce's school for girls was one of the very first girls seminaries in this country and the first temperance society in the world was organized here. It was the birthplace of James M. Smith, Henry Ward Beecher, Oliver Wolcott, signer of the Declaration of Independence and governor of Connecticut; Oliver Wolcott, its second Secretary of the Treasury of the U. S. and Governor of Connecticut; Ephraim Kirby, who wrote the first law reports in the United States; Chief Justice Andrew Adams, Tapping Reeve, Origen S. Seymour and Charles B. Andrews, who was also governor. Litchfield has been the home of many judges of our higher courts, besides those mentioned above, and nine representatives in the lower House of Congress. It was here that the famous equestrian statue of King George the Third, which was torn down by the 'Sons of Liberty' was melted into bullets and the Tory Governor of New Jersey, a son of Benjamin Franklin, and the Tory Mayor Matthews of New York were both sent here for safe keeping during the early part of the Revolutionary War.
 A visit to the Historical Society Building proves of much interest. It is here all were asked to sign the register, which they did.
 A visit to the office of the Litchfield Enquirer was one of the enjoyable features for the editors. Most of the visitors were more or less shocked upon looking about the streets to see a perch over the door like Poe's gloomy Raven, what at first glance appeared to be an illustration of a Bull Moose, but which Brother Woodruff assured his fellow editors was nothing more formidable than a full fedded Bull Buffalo. Not even the most ardent supporter of the Third Term would venture to charge Brother Woodruff with harboring Bull Moose tendencies. The charge was promptly withdrawn and the incident closed. After "seeing things" under Brother Woodruff's guidance for as much time as was permitted under the program which he arranged the party again returned to the Woodruff home where automobiles were in waiting to take the party to the Bantam Lake Inn. On the way out to the lake a bumper accident occurred the highway admonished the fact that "This is no place to M. R. Gridley, the P. N." Arrived at the Bantam Lake Inn the party was cordially greeted by Landlord Louis Hemmway and in due course of time the following choice menu was served to Mr. Hemmway's best style: Cream of tomato soup, Scotch brood, Fried potatoes, Lamb chops, Fried potatoes, sliced, broiled lobster, stuffed mushrooms, broiled spring chicken, mashed potatoes, lettuce and tomato salad, chocolate ice cream, coffee, tea.
 The food was excellently cooked and of superior quality was supplied in simple and attractive and was served by a waiter of exceptional capabilities. He did not talking but was an indefatigable and intelligent and an experienced workman in his chosen occupation.

 After dinner most of the party took a sail on the lake and one small but nicely stocked party boat to take an automobile drive about the town and surrounding country under the skillful and entertaining piloting of James P. Woodruff. To this group this was one of the notable features of the trip. The scenery in old Litchfield is of surprising beauty.
 After the sail on the lake the party was again assembled in automobiles and returned to the railroad stations at Torrington and at East Litchfield.
 It was a day enjoyably spent and one that will linger long and pleasantly in the memories of all who had the good fortune to attend. The stormy forenoon doubtless deterred many from attending. There were 27 present even at that.
 Litchfield is not readily accessible and many of our members could not make the trip and return home on the same day. There are no trolley lines in or out of the borough of Litchfield. The eastern terminus of the Shepaug railroad is at East Litchfield and that is the only railroad entering the town.
 Litchfield is not mean borough. Its sons and daughters have a goodly heritage. To those in Litchfield may in general terms be translated as to well born. They have just and ample reasons to be proud of their grand old Connecticut commonwealth. Patriotism springs eternal in Litchfield. All honor to the men and women who made it what it is. Litchfield was certainly up to the air the day the editors invaded its parlous. Many of the editors had not been so near heaven in many a day.
MARK OF DISTINCTION
 The organist of the Litchfield Episcopal church had just written a new march which he had not named. On learning of the invasion of the editors he promptly named his composition "The Connecticut Editorial March." Brother Woodruff brought the right name to the party and the organist very graciously played his new march for the enraptured visitors, who were delighted and charmed by this signal mark of distinction. It was the first time the march was played before an audience. The citizens of Litchfield responded very cheerfully and very generously to Brother Woodruff's call for volunteers to supply the visiting editorial party with automobiles. The many courtesies and hospitalities extended on all sides were heartily appreciated.

Lucky Escape
 William C. Tucker of the New England hotel in Bolton had a narrow escape from serious injury last Friday morning. Mr. Tucker was going from the hotel to the Bolton depot in his automobile. When descending the hill west of the hotel he turned to the right to allow an approaching team to pass him. The highway had just received a coat of oil and as the auto turned to the side of the road the machine slipped on the oil and was overturned. Mr. Tucker managed to crawl out from under the auto, and his only injury was a bruised hip and a few scratches. The top of the auto was up and this no doubt saved him from serious injury. The wind shield was broken and the top was badly bent and twisted. No other damage resulted, however.

BUSINESS MEN MEET

RECEIVE REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LAWN FESTIVAL AND CONCERT

Goodly Sum Realized and Turned Over To Proper Authorities—Milk Station and Public Playgrounds Well Patronized—Movement Fine Success

A regular monthly meeting of the Manchester Business Men's Association took place at Oxford House Company's headquarters last evening. In the absence of the president, W. E. Hubbard, Vice President Charles E. House presided. Clarence W. Johnson of Wapping was elected a member of the association.

As there is a number of other applications for membership in the hands of members who were absent last evening and consequently did not present them.

Robt. V. Treat for the committee on the Child's Welfare Movement reported the total receipts of the recent lawn festival on the Cheney hall lawn as being $535.75. The total expenses were $236.11, leaving a net balance of $299.64. This sum was turned over to the treasurer of the Manchester Business Men's Association and in turn will be forwarded to the committee having the Child's Welfare Movement in charge.

The committee in their report extended their thanks on behalf of the Manchester Business Men's Association, to the Educational Club, to Mrs. Ednah D. Cheney, to the Boy Scouts and to all others who contributed toward making the lawn festival and concert such a fine success.

O. F. Toop for the outgoing committee made a partial report saying that the annual outing had been very enjoyable and successful and that there was a small cash balance left after paying all expenses. He did not have the details but these will be produced at the next meeting.

O. F. Toop reported for the Child's Welfare Movement that the committee of the Manchester Business Men's Association met a committee of the Educational Club last evening and the joint committee organized by electing the following officers: O. F. Toop, chairman; Mrs. H. O. Bowers, secretary; R. LaMotte Russell, treasurer. Mr. Toop said that the project was meeting with fine success, that the public playgrounds are well patronized, that the milk station is growing in popular favor day by day, and that the nurses find plenty of work caring for babies. This branch has increased to such an extent that it became necessary to employ an additional nurse, which has been done. Provision is being made to care for infants at the Open Air school ground building in cases where they have not suitable accommodations at their homes. Cots and other appliances will be provided and every possible done for the care of the little ones until they recover sufficiently to be returned to their homes and placed in charge of their mothers.

The matter of the proposed entertainment at the Circle Theater for the fund of the Child's Welfare Movement was brought up. It was explained that action would be taken upon this proposal on within the next ten days.

POLITICAL

SOME MEN WHO ARE LOOKING FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS HERE

Tax Collector, Representatives, Selectmen To Lead Just Now, Others To Follow. Men Who Want Office Are Going After Same. Those Higher Up Are Doing Likewise.

The question of local political nominations to come quickly to the fore hereabouts, where there are four men gathered together they will be found giving their views more or less of their situation.

As there is a vacancy in the office of tax collector at the present time, and furthermore, as this is the next legislative election in town, there are a number of persons who are willing to enter the Direct Primary on the Republican side and try to secure the nomination for this important position. The following persons have announced their candidacy for the office of tax collector: George H. Howe, Arthur B. Keeney, A. W. Greene, James F. Lyman and J. Watson Galee.

For representative the following persons have declared their intentions of entering the Republican line for the nomination: Representative William S. Hyde, Selectman Arthur Cook, and O. F. Toop. On being questioned this morning, as to whether he would be a candidate again for nomination as Republican representative at the coming direct primary, Representative Aaron Johnson replied: "I won't say anything at the present time as I am too busy to think of politics."

A. Willard Rogers is going to enter the Direct Primary as a Republican candidate for selectman. There is a possibility that all the same box category may not be left to the Socialists as has been the case heretofore. Mr. Rogers

Assaulted in Park

While passing through the Center park recently, a resident and property owner of the town was stopped in a shaded portion of the park by some unknown person who inquired if the man desired a transfer. He replied that he did not and thereupon someone struck him a hard blow on the back. He turned quickly and saw two other men. He immediately took to his heels and got out of that vicinity as fast as his legs could carry him. In as far as known at this office the matter was not reported to the police. The man who was assaulted was unable to give a description of his assailants.
