BUSINESS MEN

HEAR REPORT OF BANQUET COMMITTEE AND BY LAWS REVISION COMMITTEE

Coming Lecture On Locating Shoe Industry Here. Side-Walk Question Revived. Interesting Figures Presented. Additions to Membership List

The regular monthly meeting of the Manchester Business Men's Association took place last evening. The banquet committee report was read by Chairman O. F. Toop and the bills were ordered paid.

In the absence of any member of the committee on new industries an invitation was received, read and accepted as a report of this committee. The invitation set forth that Thomas F. Anderson of Boston, Mass. will deliver a lecture in the town hall Thursday evening, February 27th, under the auspices of the Manchester Improvement Association and of the Manchester Business Men's Association. His topic will be "The Twentieth Century Shoe Industry and Its Application to Our Community." All members of both associations are invited to attend this lecture. The document was signed by a joint committee from both associations. An effort is being made to have a shoe manufacturing company locate at Manchester and Mr. Anderson's lecture will deal with the subject for the purpose of demonstrating the desirability of such an industry being established here.

The following were elected to membership in the association: Walter and William Sarr, James H. and Charles J. Woodhouse, Nathan Marlow, Reinhardt Lehmann, Thomas Brennao, Frank G. Balkner, A. A. Chesney, John Mahoney, G. H. Miller, E. L. Dauchy, Angelo Bossi, Harold Acard, and William S. McCann.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the following persons for special favors granted the association in conducting the annual banquet: Chesney & Co. here, Frank D. Chesney, L. N. Heebner, Lawrence W. Coe, John H. Chesney, Rev. S. E. Ellis and E. Martin Ogdin. R. LaMonte Russell made a preliminary report for the committee on revision of by-laws, suggesting several changes which were discussed informally by the meeting. It was but a rough draft of the proposed by-laws. The suggestions made will be incorporated in a more carefully prepared paper and submitted to the association for formal action at another meeting. No votes were taken on the matter. The report was one of progress.

W. J. Flood reported for the committee on securing a telegraph office in the business section setting forth formally that the duties assigned the committee had been successfully carried out. The report of the committee was accepted and the committee discharged with thanks.

SIDEWALKS DISCUSSED

John Cairns stated that he was greatly opposed to the recent action of a special town meeting in the vote passed regarding the construction of sidewalks in the town of Manchester. He held that the recommendations of the Committee on Charter Revision to whom the matter had been assigned should have been adopted whereby it was planned to have the property owner pay two-thirds of the cost of constructing sidewalks and the town the other third.

It will be recalled that the vote of the special town meeting was to the effect that the entire cost of constructing sidewalks be borne by the town.

In order to strengthen his position Mr. Cairns presented the following statement which he asserted had been verified from the town records. He quotes: "There are 150 miles of highways in the town of Manchester, 52.0 feet to the mile. At $1.10 the running foot it would cost $5,808 a mile for laying a five-foot sidewalk and suitable gutters. To lay sidewalks on the 150 miles of streets would mean laying 800 miles of sidewalks, which figured at the rate named above would cost the town $1,742,400. A two-mile tax would pay for laying 5 miles of such sidewalks each year. At this rate it would require 37 1-3 years to lay all the sidewalks in town, by which time the sidewalks first laid would be worn out and would have to be replaced."

According to the plan proposed by the Charter Revision Committee the small property owner would have paid for his sidewalks in 7 years with a two-mill tax. The average cost to the small property owner having 30 feet of sidewalks to pay would not exceed $68 for his two-thirds of the sidewalk construction expense. He would be justified in borrowing money at 6 per cent for this providing he could not produce the ready cash otherwise.

"Under the plan just voted of having the town pay the entire cost he would have to continue paying for 30 years after his own sidewalk had been laid." No action was taken upon this problem but it was submitted by Mr. Cairns for the most earnest study and consideration by the taxpayers of this town. An interesting discussion followed, E. J. Hill taking the leading part in the opposition and Mr. Cairns defending his proposition.

Persons desiring to discuss the sidewalk question or any other of like public interest may have the free use of our columns for this purpose.

May Widen Hewitt Avenue

The attention of the board of selectmen was called this week to the fact that William Hewitt had transferred the deed of his house on Hewitt avenue to his wife and there is a possibility that she could be prevailed upon to have the cottage moved so that the street could be widened to forty feet and then accepted by the town. When Mr. Hewitt built his house he built it close to the street line and as the street was only twenty-eight feet wide at that point it held up the whole street from acceptance as a town street. Several efforts have been made to buy the house and land but Mr. Hewitt always placed too high a premium on the property. Now that Mrs. Hewitt owns the property there may be a chance to have the house set back and the street widened to a forty foot width and be accepted. There are a number of new houses on the street and more will be built if the street is accepted by the town.

Maple Street Extension

At the regular meeting of the board of selectmen held last Monday evening the board voted to take the initial steps to forward the extension of the east end of Maple street. It will be remembered that at the annual town meeting the selectmen were authorized to proceed with the extension of the street, some opposition developed afterwards and the board has cleared away some of the obstacles in the path of the improvement, but there is still one property holder who dissents from donating a portion of land for the proposed extension. At the last special town meeting an effort was made to have the town re-consider its former vote but the meeting refused to do so.

Chairman Chesney of the board informed the members that the town's counsel had instructed him that the first step will be to interview Miss Annie Dwyer, who is understood to be the only one opposing the extension now, and get from her a decided answer as to whether she will oppose the extension or not. If Miss Dwyer does not oppose the extension it can be carried through with little difficulty, but if she still holds out against it the board will have to resort to condemnation proceedings. This will be done by applying to the courts for a committee of appraisers, and after they have appraised the land, the town can take it by condemnation proceedings. This will cost some money, but as the town has instructed the board to go ahead with the project there is now no other alternative.

An Auto For Town Use

The selectmen at their meeting last Monday evening discussed the advisability of procuring an automobile for town use. It was figured that the town could own and operate its own machine cheaper than by paying the road superintendent $600 a year for the use of his machine. As it is now the town is paying for the use of an auto, but the machine is not in use. Much time could be saved in transporting the engineers and town laborers of the town from job to job and in other ways it is thought it would prove a money saver. The committee having this matter in charge is composed of Selectmen Willis and Case and they will report to a later meeting of the board.

Thomas R. Hayes, the well known real estate man has returned from New York City and is once more busily engaged to sell farms. He enjoyed the night in the big city and reports having had a jolly good time.

Stewart Finlay of Park street has been confined to his home this week with an attack of tonsillitis. He is recovering now however.

A son has been born to David and Mrs. Krane of Orchard street.

"Chappie" In Hospital

John G. Pentland, who recently signed in an accident when the trolley car collided with the milk wagon in which he was riding is now at the St. Francis Hospital. As a result of the accident Mr. Pentland was being treated for a broken collar bone. He suffered much pain later and last Saturday went to Hartford and had an X-ray taken of the break. The picture showed that the collar bone had not been set and also that one rib had been fractured. Mr. Pentland entered St. Francis hospital Tuesday and on Wednesday morning the two fractures were set. Mr. Pentland demonstrated that he was possessed of considerable nerve and will power as he refused to take any anaesthetic when the operation was performed. It is now thought that the injured member will knit all right and that he will continue to improve from now on.

The youngster resided here in time to be received as a valentine. This is their first-born and the young couple are very happy.

Still Alarm
 A chimney fire in the Hansmann block on Spruce last Wednesday morning was the cause of a little excitement in that locality and a still alarm was sent to the headquarters of Hose & Ladder Co. No. 1. Captain L. N. Hoebner and George Smith responded with the Searaves auto chemical and hose truck. Part of the contents of a hand chemical extinguisher put the fire out.

CHAPTER VI

The Confidence of Edith Varney. Mr. Varney had, of course, divined from Mrs. Varney's suspicious glances, that she had been entirely captivated before he had mentioned the name that she had called her daughter's name. It was, indeed, it would not be surprising to say that Thorne was her friend as well as her daughter's, and her own mother's will was not without suspicion that if he were left to himself he would be permitted to follow his own inclination, the relation between himself and the two women might have been a nearer one still and a dearer one, yet, nevertheless, the shocking announcement came to her with sudden sharpness.

"What is it, mamma?" said Edith Varney. "A man has been trusted as a friend has shown himself a conspirator. I have been betrayed."

"Who is it?" cried the girl, at the same time fastidiously divining—how or why she could not tell, and that thought she would be most likely to find Thorne guilty of anything, and she would have eloquently any arbitrary accusation that he brought against him, but the truth of the circumstances was so complete in this case and the confidence so unexplainable under any other theory, the evidence so convincing, that she was forced to admit that Arnold was fully justified in his suspicion, and that without regard to the fact that he was a rejected suitor of her daughter.

"Where are you going?" asked Arnold. "I am going to see Mr. Varney."

"Not now," he said peremptorily. "The color flamed in the girl's cheek again. Arnold, who had said something to her about Captain Thorne. "You are afraid to say it to him?"

"I don't know," she said. "I am not sure."
