

Twelve Thousand Satisfied Customers

I believe that I am right in the conclusion that thinking people do not want bargain glasses any more than they would want nature to endow them with a bargain pair of eyes. My work is, and always will be, just as good as I know how to make it. I must give satisfaction in order that my business may grow.

If you will favor me with your patronage, I will see to it that you pay only a fair price and will also promise you satisfaction, so much so that you will be perfectly willing to recommend my office as a safe and reliable place for your friends to come in search of eye help.

Scene From "The Country Boy" at Polaris Next Week.

POLIS THEATER

As next week's attraction, the Polaris Players will present at Polaris Theater, Hartford, Edgar Selwyn's success, "The Country Boy," a play that has scored a tremendous success both in New York City and on its road travels. The Country Boy is one of those homely plays that takes the audience back to the days when he decided to leave his rural home to make his way in the city; the experience which he encountered, the mountains of trouble which he was forced to scale and the ultimate success which came his way. Its character is as true to life and the scenes of the play are typical of any boarding house in a city like New York. The story of the play is one of direct appeal for its audience that lives of so many men. The hero of Mr. Selwyn's play encounters difficulties which one might imagine to be insurmountable, but the country boy finds that his ultimate help of labor is not in the city but the country town from which he is sent. The experience in the city however has not been worth the loss he has found himself even if he has not found his fortune. The scenes in the New York boarding house in which the country boy here are depicted with a keen sense of the comical. One sees the landlady who is ever mindful of the fact that her boarders have not squandered their accounts with her; the piano and vocal part, the traveling salesman and his wife, the theater manager, the ever-present man whose business it is to make the way easy for choruses, the chorus girl herself and the newspaper crowd who is on the study of all to see nothing of other characters which one might expect to find in such a cosmopolitan place.

th. playboys of Hartford a d. It will be mounted in a manner which will reflect credit upon the producing department. The whole play furnishes an entertainment of the most interesting and sympathetic appeal of far more than ordinary merit and that it will draw thousands of people to Polaris theater next week goes without saying. The regular scale of popular prices will prevail—10 and 20 cents at matinees with 1,000 seats for ladies and children for 10 cents and 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents at the evening performances. There will be no extra performances daily after Monday. Mail orders will receive prompt and careful attention.

The Pop-Hartford model recently advertised some special bargains in the local papers and evidence they received a rating response for the sight outlay which they made in this direction. There is ample room for more of the family out on the highway and the number of automobile users is growing apace in this town and persons having automobiles to sell should take advantage of this fact and advertise accordingly. It has been observed many years ago that it is advisable to make hay while the sun shines.

TIME TO KEEP BUSY

CHIEFS VACATION NOT A PERIOD OF REST FOR THE OTHERS.

Several Mistake All Too Frequently Made and Just as Often Bitterly Repented Of.

Most business girls look forward to the chief's vacation as a period of more liberty, less hurry and less work, in short, a kind of annual restup from the personal hardships.

If one of the popular office employees is commissioned to take the chief's place, much the better.

There will be less work, less worry, less anxiety, less of the old hands who have a good standing with their regular chief's position.

There is a personal satisfaction for keeping your record clean even when no one is watching.

TROOP OF SHORTENING BASEBALL GAMES

HOW MCGRAW GOT HIS START BROOKLYN IS BIG SURPRISE

Chris von der Ahe, Third President of St. Louis Browns, Didn't Want Liffbrant Player.

New York Times has known the important part that the late Chris von der Ahe played in the career of John J. McGraw. Chris, who then was "Big Ed" president of the St. Louis Browns, had a chance to line up McGraw as a member of his team about three years before the Browns last season in the late '90s.

Bill Gleason, brother of Kid Gleason, assistant manager of the Browns, recommended McGraw to Chris while "Little Mac" was then in the Cedar Rapids, Ia. team. Chris had sent Gleason out to scout for the Browns. Bill continued the story and suggested that Van der Ahe give him a trial. McGraw looked like a mid-

"There did you get dot Liffbrant?" inquired Van der Ahe of Gleason. "He's all there as a ball player, even if he is no bigger than a mite," replied Gleason.

"Take him across the street and have him ride horses," ordered Chris. "I don't want any saved off, hammered down player on my team."

Gleason led McGraw outside, introduced him to Billy Barnie, manager of the Baltimore Orioles. Barnie signed McGraw on Gleason's recommendation.

that they have been regarded as a job, the same as the Washingtons were before the McGraws. Barnie's proposition last year. Bill Dahlen's men started off this season at that point and they have kept on with speedy work to the present time. Some of the baseball wisemen think that the Dodgers have been playing better than their real speed, but Dahlen avers that his men will be putting up just as fast a game two months from now as they are at the present writing.

club that beats them out will be able to land the pennant.

This year's season is the best that has represented Brooklyn in several seasons without a doubt. The addition of the present writing, the McGraws made the Dodgers a winning aggregation. This player has put up a sensational game since joining the team and has infused new life into the entire team. Dahlen and Zack Wheat, the two heavy hitters of the Browns, are swinging their war clubs with a vengeance this year. Cutshaw, South, Pfenning and Miller are coming into their own. What is more, the others who are giving a good account of themselves. The pitching staff, led by the great ace, Ed Bradley, is doing the best it can do.

Manager John McGraw.

That was McGraw's start in his big league ball. After a brilliant debut as player, he came to the Browns and was an almost instant success.

Manager of Washington Club Tells Stories of Heavy Hitting by "Doc" and Fast Running by Clarence Beaumont.

BY CLARENCE GIBBERT. Big Ed Delehanly always had something on me as a batter, and I can't recall any hitter that did me any harm. I remember one time who compared with him. Bill Terry was playing against the Phillies that afternoon and "Del," swatting like a veritable demon, tore off four home runs and a single in five times at bat. That meant a total of seventeen bases. "Del" didn't depend upon speed to do his work. He was a power hitter. On the contrary, he made every one of them that he hit. He was a power hitter. He was a power hitter. He was a power hitter.

On the day of his interview with Judge Gilbert, Kerr had called on Dr. Hayes to meet him at Judge Gilbert's office directly after lunch. At this conference he had learned that they would have to acquire the News. The transfer of the property was not made until after the election, but he wanted to know at once that it was his.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

WILL CHANCES FOR PROMOTERS TO MAKE MONEY.

Blindfold Ownership Sentiment Has Not Seemed to Have Very Great Vitality.

There are still plenty of chances for making money in public utility enterprises. The wave of municipal ownership sentiment that passed over the country several years ago did not accomplish a great deal in the way of public utility enterprises.

The cost of the various plants and equipment is given as $1,064,824.78, while the public plants cost only $47,479.47. This would be only 4.5 per cent of the whole investment.

It is evident, therefore, that a man with a set of teeth is not to be regarded as a public utility promoter and that some public utility need not be concerned by the possibility of municipal interference and municipal control.

The present trend of public opinion seems to be more toward regulation. Five years ago there were two states in which public utility plants were under the supervision of commissions.

Some Business Rules. The following list was compiled by Arthur S. Hisey, vice-president of a large public utility organization, and includes what he considers to be the obligations of a service company.

Remembering good, adequate and continuous service. Fair and reasonable rate schedules. No discrimination among customers.

Hardest endeavor to market the greatest possible volume of service. Adoption of approved methods and developments in machinery and equipment.

Public spirited attitude in all matters concerning the general welfare and advancement of the community. Broad and liberal business administration.

Keenest faith with the people in all agreements, promises and announcements. Strict obedience to law and no participation in politics.

Entertainment: A Business Asset. ENTERTAINMENT is the greatest business asset in the world. It binds money and power and influence. Single-handed the entertainment industry dominates where the wealth accumulated by a small army of workers would scarcely raise a tremor of interest.

Good Appearance Counts. "If you have twenty-five dollars, and want a job, it is better to spend twenty for clothes, four dollars for shoes, and the rest for a shave, a hair-cut and a clean collar, and walk in the place, than go with the money in the pockets of a dirty suit."

Three Dainty and Charming Frocks for Indoor Wear

The black champagne frock is made with a front drape of "pique" lace opening into a series of white stripes.

The pink and white frock is made with a front drape of "pique" lace opening into a series of white stripes.

Men's for a Spinner. Several weeks ago I had several requests for ideas for "spinning" of fabric of brotherly mads' parties.
