

REMEMBER OUR AGE

And the Inevitable Night That is Coming When "No Man Can Work."

PREPARE FOR IT IN YOUTH

By Resolutely Choosing the Higher Pleasures These Life's Closing Days Will Come to a Man as the Golden Privilege of Existence.

In youth one finds himself full of many forces, physical, intellectual and emotional. He is a bundle of desires.

He wants to give himself to the varied activities. By gratifying all these wants he becomes somewhat in the world.

But whether he is a real success or not depends not upon how he gives way to these desires, but upon how he controls them.

All these pleasures of getting and doing have their place, but the real object of them is that they shall enter into the higher values of character.

It is pitiful to see the old man who was once a successful and vigorous merchant, a political leader, and who now has nothing left but regret.

He has no more of the things he does and the things he gets that make him a great man; it is the memory of them that he shall cherish over into the higher values of character.

OLD QUESTION TO THE FRONT

Just How Much Women Should Spend on Dress Matters as Much of a Puzzle as Ever

A Parisian woman ran up a bill in one year amounting to $2,750 for dresses and furs. Her husband was good. He stated that his net cost him $200 a year, therefore credit to his wife for over $2,500 was unreasonable.

The court decided that a married woman could not spend as much on dress as a single woman. The court reduced the bill to $800.

It is a saying that the rent should not exceed one-fourth of the income. The case now opens in the court of chancery, Jersey City. Vice-Chancellor Garrison stated there that it should be called to give a man who is asked to go in supplying his wife with "outer clothing" was as follows:

Two suits, $20; coat, $12; pair of shoes, $4; one pair of corsets, $1. "It is common, the court knows, for women to spend $75 to $100 a year on dress."

A little smile wrinkled the corners of Lydia's red lips. She had heard from Biddy of the importation of Mickey Ford's pretty maid. Biddy was quite fascinated by André, who was like a magnet to her.

Lydia smiled and looked at her husband. He was looking at her with a smile. "I'll take you up to the store," she said.

Lydia's eyes were fixed on the beautiful woman who was walking with her. "That is all over," said Lydia.

"T'WAS BY TELEPHONE"

BY CLARISSA MACKIE

Lydia sat in the library alert to hear the doorbell that would announce Dick Fallow's arrival or the shrill whir of the telephone that might defer his coming.

Something he had whispered last evening had hinted at his errand and she was aglow with her honest love for him; and charming in her favorite pale blue gown with a pink rose at her waist.

The telephone bell whirred and she heard Biddy's light step as she went through the hall to answer it. Then she heard the girl's musical Irish voice.

"You? What—now, Mick Doyle? Not if I never married all my days!" and Biddy slammed up the receiver, and Lydia heard her heels clicking down the very next evening.

A little smile wrinkled the corners of Lydia's red lips. She had heard from Biddy of the importation of Mickey Ford's pretty maid. Biddy was quite fascinated by André, who was like a magnet to her.

Lydia smiled and looked at her husband. He was looking at her with a smile. "I'll take you up to the store," she said.

NOVEL IDEA THAT SEEMS GOOD

"Twenty a Letter" Makes an Amusing Commission for Use in Vacation Period.

A telephone letter is a novelty in the way of vacation correspondence. All that is necessary in order to get into the right train of mind for such a letter is to imagine yourself at one end of the wire with your correspondent at the other. Write the letter as you would talk.

If you are addicted to the telephone habit you will unconsciously fall into the right train of mind for such a letter is to imagine yourself at one end of the wire with your correspondent at the other. Write the letter as you would talk.

Common sense occasionally paralyzes with "Yes" or "No" in answer to an imaginary remark of your correspondent. This makes the conversational style more apparent. With a little ingenuity, however, you may incorporate in one of these letters and it can be made interesting as well as amusing.

The preliminary paragraph may be a supposed conversation with "central" as to trouble in getting the right number for the vacation home. It is a self put by mistake on a busy wire, and have difficulty in ringing off. Any one who is in the habit of making such a letter a thing to be remembered by the one who is fortunate enough to receive it.

German State Employment Bureau Take Care of Workmen Throughout the Empire.

SYSTEM AN ELABORATE ONE

Men Are Classified According to Age and Degree of Ability, and Result Has Been Greatly Increased

Periods of Enforced Idleness.

One of the recommendations of the Chicago commission on unemployment comprehends the establishing in Chicago and other Illinois cities of a bureau of labor exchanges similar to those maintained in Berlin and other German cities.

Berlin's public labor bureau has reached a high state of development. The work of finding employment has been highly systematized, classified and subdivided. There are 25 different departments, 12 for men, nine for women, indexed according to the various trades. Skilled workers are separated from unskilled. There is a department for older and younger men. In 1924 this bureau found positions for 8,848 men. In 1926 jobs were found by the bureau for 12,827 men and 15,182 women. Its activity has shown a steady increase.

One of the reasons for the success of the Berlin bureau, which is the largest in the empire, is the fact that similar bureaus exist throughout Germany. The relations between these bureaus are close. Information is interchanged almost daily, so that the needs for labor in all sections of the country are kept continually known. Further, a monthly publication is issued which serves to knit the bureaus into a close working system.

Germany not only makes a distinction between the employable and the unemployable, varying treatment according to the needs, but also keeps an eye on individual workers. By means of records it knows their history of each worker virtually throughout his career. If he is less than 21 years old no German may enter employment without getting from the police his labor book. It contains his age, past history, his education and place of employment. When he leaves this place for another his employer returns the book after deducting the amount of his wages for the job. The book must be stamped, and its owner may obtain another job.

After the age of 21, records are kept which show what the workman is, what he has done and what he is capable of doing. Much information of this character is derived from returns of the state industrial insurance office, which provide a card for each worker, which bears essential facts as to occupation, place of employment, wages, and the state of health economy in any degree.

"It has been only within the last few years that the system of the falls themselves have been utilized. There have been efforts made to use the surplus of water in the falls. The only exception made to this rule is the case of the falls on the Canadian side, where the water is used for power.

LATE SESSION

BOARD OF SELECTMEN NOT OBSERVING UNION HOURS OF LABOR

Worked Until 11.30 Monday Night Preparing Warnings for Annual Town Meeting and Discussing Other Important Matters

The meeting of the selectmen last Monday evening at the hall of Records brought out a large gallery of spectators interested in the board's handling of the acceptance of layouts of several streets. There was in the opposition to the acceptance of any of the layouts with the exception of Church street where developed opposition because of the difference in the two corners at the south end of the street. The corner on the east end from the St. Marys church property is almost square while on the opposite corner, which is owned by the St. James church corporation, there is a large angle. Rev. W. J. McGuck, Harry M. Burke and Charles O. Treat spoke in opposition to the acceptance of the street unless the two corners are made uniform and there was a desire on the part of those opposed to the acceptance of the street on that account that the St. Marys corner be made to conform to the corner on the opposite side.

Pratt street, from Main to Chestnut, and from Main to Myrtle, Linden and Laurel streets were the other streets noted upon. In the morning for the annual town meeting are classes calling for the acceptance of all of the above streets with the exception of Church which will be held up for the time being. Regarding the latter street it is thought that an agreement would be reached with the St. Marys parish to have their corner conform with that on the opposite side.

Cherry brook, presented maps and descriptions which were signed by the board. They included St. James street, Windsor, Walnut and Park from Main to Chestnut.

F. M. Tyler presented a petition signed by the property owners on Highland street asking that the town let permanent walk and curbing on both sides of that street. He was instructed to have the property owners sign the blank forms for that purpose and the board would then take action.

Because of opposition to the board's decision to lay a five-foot walk between Church and Winter streets on Chestnut, the board decided in favor of the latter and to lay a six-foot walk between these two points. This will make the width of walk on Chestnut as usual.

The secretary of the board was instructed to have the F. A. James Engineering and Contracting Company file a bond in the sum of $5,000 to protect the town in the work which that firm is now doing for the town and which is called for in their contract.

The board then took up the call for the annual town meeting and after making corrections in the draft which was submitted signed the call as correct and a notice appears in our advertising columns today.

There were a number of other matters to be brought before the meeting but as it is January Secretary Taylor started on a hunt for the minutes of the meeting which had been misplaced. After a half-hour's search with no result and it was finally voted to adjourn and a reporter who came in late to the meeting and was taking some notes from the minutes of Secretary Taylor left the meeting was accused of unintentionally appropriating the last record. The board voted to hold a special session this evening when it will prepare the votes and resolutions which are to be presented at the annual town meeting next Monday. It was 11.30 when the meeting adjourned.

Card of Thanks

WALLINGFORD WINS

Conquered Winsted In Masterly Struggle Last Saturday

The deciding game in the struggle for state league championship took place at Winsted Saturday afternoon in the presence of a large number of enthusiastic baseball lovers the size of which had never been equaled in the bustling town as it stretched in the heart of the picturesque Litchfield country hills. The final score was 11 to 9 and the Wallingford won the flag and with it the title of "State Champions."

For two hours the teams fought like hungry tigers with first one and then the other on top, but at the end the score stood Wallingford 11, Winsted 9. Game to the last ditch, but broken at last, the Winsted players joined with the Wallingford b's vs. opposing to Winsted using Pope, the New Haven short-p, but the protest was forgotten as was Winsted's protest last week when Wallingford pitched a curve ball and a man appears in our advertising columns today.

From start to finish the game was one of terrific hitting. A line of which had not been seen this season. Both Gilmore and the veteran Haines were pounded without mercy, last Gilmore was the steepler of the two and is entitled to the honor. Wallingford's batting record was two hits, two home runs, two two-baggers and six singles. Haines struck out six, walked one and hit so low that five, while Gilmore fanned thirteen, walked one, hit three and smothered one with pitch. But Wallingford got all the breaks of a game, as well as all the close decisions and so far as this particular season is concerned it is the better team.

The star performers of the afternoon were Salover and Pope of Winsted and Barry and Corbett for Wallingford, but the work of Salover far outshone the others. He made five trips to the plate, was hit by a pitched ball, smothered three two-baggers and a single, and scored five of Winsted's eight runs. The score:

Street Lines All Right

The complaint of Timothy Kelleher that the town was encroaching upon his property on Edgerton street in Wallingford by the highway department and it is found that the lines as defined by Engineer Bowen are substantially correct. When the land was sold out by E. C. Hilliard the street was surveyed and staked out by Engineer Olmstead of East Hartford. At a public hearing a map that was made from the same survey as furnished by Engineer Olmstead was used with Mr. Olmstead's description of same. Mr. Kelleher had no objection to this but now finds himself in a peculiar position as he has had a dwelling constructed at West Center and Edgerton streets and the rear end of the house is three feet closer to the street than he had agreed. He was of the opinion that the town was in error in defining the lines, but the engineering department and Mr. Olmstead in view of the fact that the street was staked and agreed that the lines are correct. According to the lines established Mr. Kelleher's house will be very close to the highway but it is rather late to do anything about it now or to make any changes.

Salvation Army

Saturday and Sunday week-end meetings will be in charge of Staff Captain Walter Mabie assisted by Captain White. Captain Mabie has traveled and done evangelistic work in twelve different countries. At the present time he is editorial secretary of the Army's publications in this country. Captain White comes from one of the best New England families, that of the Mabie family, and has been a member of which have been United States Army officers. He had both his blood and wealth on his side when he started. He was appointed by President McKinley to West Point Academy where he studied for a couple of years. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war he was appointed second and first lieutenant of Volunteers, being in active service in both Cuba and Porto Rico. At the close of the West Indian campaign he was sent to the Philippines as captain in the regular army. He went through two active engagements and was wounded several times. He started to drink in college and continued through all his other days until he was ordered to attend the military school and during the time of his confinement in the Philippines he was confined in the military hospital.

Why do you let that pollock public your passport? "I don't want to be arrested," answered the New York vendor, with a grin.

Two Forms of Eugenic

Eugenic takes two forms—positive and negative. The negative would prevent the bad marriage and the positive promote the good, but the first is easier than the second. We do not know yet what qualities can be transmitted, nor how they mix. It is best to trust to the people themselves and get the new idea instilled; then they will live in the right direction, if not at first sight.

Old Hand (to new ticket seller at state fair)—"Ever been on the ticket before in a crowd?" New Hand—"Nope." Old Hand—"Thought not?" New Hand—"Why not?" Old Hand—"You give change first, and tickets afterward." New Hand—"What is the difference?" Old Hand—"Hundreds of dollars, my boy. No one ever passes to and forgets his tickets."—Judge.

Joyous Route

Successfully put to sleep by certain blossom extract, the most unobtrusive woman can clearly distinguish a bridal chorus, even visualizing the strains of honor's gown and all the other stage properties to go to set the birthday festival of every woman's life. Embroidered by orange blossoms, the dress should come. Paradise is approached by a route more essentially feminine!

Fast Periods a Necessity

The importance of rest periods in school work and of such fresh air as possible is emphasized by recent scientific investigations, which have shown that the condition of the blood corpuscles in children is far less favorable after mental exertion in school than after hard physical effort.

Love, Love, Love

Love is watchful, and sleeping slumbereth not. Though wearied, it is not tired; though pressed, it is not straggled; though alarmed, it is not confounded; but as a living flame and burning torch, it forces its way upward and securely passes through all.—Thomas a Kempis.

Remarkable Coincidence!

The thirty German proprietor of a circulating library charged for recent scientific investigations, which have shown that the condition of the blood corpuscles in children is far less favorable after mental exertion in school than after hard physical effort.

VOTERS OF MANCHESTER

Reasons Why You Should VOTE LICENSE next MONDAY

The welfare of your town is best protected by having well regulated licensed saloons, instead of illicit non-revenue paying dens.

The property owner, the tax payer, in fact everybody is the sufferer under no-license. All the important neighboring cities and towns have license and no-license would simply drive the commerce to these towns where the citizens can purchase stimulants and where they purchase these purchase other articles also, a consequent loss of many thousands of dollars to the town.

The citizens of Manchester well remember how the trolley cars were crowded nights carrying people to Hartford during the one year of No-License in our town, returning with jugs and flasks of whiskey in their pockets, because the drinking of even a milder beverage, such as beer and ale was denied them in their home town.

All the cities and towns where the prohibitionists, after enormous efforts, succeeded in carrying no-license for a year, quickly saw their mistake, and voted back to license, Worcester, Mass. having returned to the license column only a few years ago. Liquor drinking goes on just the same in no-license towns, except that whiskey and strong liquors take the place of the lighter beverages. The licensed saloon keeps the strong drink out of the homes and families, while under no-license conditions men, women and children can and do purchase whiskey under the guise of soft drinks or in "speak easies," causing a condition of depravity and immorality which cannot be stated in statistics.

Eminent clergymen all over the country advocate license regulated by law. Empty stores, men thrown out of employment, thousands of dollars of loss in revenues and otherwise to our town, and undesirable moral conditions in our community are some of the results of no-license.

The only results shown by the prohibitionists are increased drunkenness, and the sale of the vilest liquors and drugs, and those who really and sincerely oppose drunkenness should be the open opponents of mistaken prohibition and its supporters.

Arthur Brisbane in the New York Evening Journal speaking to the editors of the United States has this to say: "You can solve the temperance question if you will, by compelling your readers to think upon it with concentration and to discuss it sanely. It is all very well to have total abstinence as the ideal if that be desired. But the editor at least is a man who knows the world and who doesn't dream comfortably nor push aside facts. He knows well the difference between the drinks that are poisons and the drinks that are taken every day by entire nations."

While The Nations Remain Sober

The editor knows what the sincere but misguided prohibitionist does not know

That There is as Much Difference Between Whiskey and Beer or Light Wine as There is Between Opium and Tobacco.

The world has struggled for years, the prohibitionist sincere at heart and the professional temperance people in particular try to make the world believe that total abstinence is possible and that prohibition by law—

The CONTROL of a MAJORITY By The MINORITY—Will Work

IT WILL NOT WORK. IT HAS NOT WORKED IT CANNOT WORK, and the so-called temperance states are the most dangerously drunken states. The editors know that and do not fear to say so, although it may hurt the feelings of good and earnest people."
