Shortstop Bridwell of St. Louis Federal league shortstop was born on a farm near Portsmouth, O., on January 3, 1884. Bridwell is known as the rolling stone of baseball. After playing with amateur teams in and around Portsmouth "Brid" was given a trial in 1903 by the Columbus tram of the American association. He falled to stick with the Senators and was farmed to Atlanta to finish the season The next year he was recalled by the Columbus Club. He made good on his second trial and was sold to the Cincinnati Reds at the close of the season. He continued with the Reds in 1905. Boston found use for him in 1906 and the following season he

Anniversary Dance

The anniverary dance given by the Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. H. at Cheney Hall Wednesday evening attracted but a small attendance. As usual there were more women than men. A pleasant social time was enjoyed nevertheless. The Lyric orchestra furnished music and all round dancing prevailed. Each member of the division pays for one ticket in any case. In addition to this a goodly number of tickets were purchased by persons who were not present.
