CHAPTER I—Jackson Jones, nicknamed "Broadway," because of his continual giorification of New Tork's great thoroughfare, is anxious to get away from his home town of Jonesville. Abner Jones, his uncle, is very angry because Broadway refuses to settle down and take a place in the gum factory in which he succeeded to his father's interest. "Do you?"

CHAPTER III—With his New York friend. Robert Wallace, Broadway creates a sensation by his extravagance on the White Way. Four years pass and Broadway suddenly discovers that he is not only broke, but heavily in debt. He applies to his uncle for a loan and receives a package of chewing gum with the advice to chew it and forget his troubles. He quietly seeks work without success.

CHAPTER III—With his New York friends, what he really was saying.

"You know, I think I shall become a model country gentleman in time," he added.
"It must seem strange to you, after the life you've been living."

He learns that Broadway is broke and offers him a position with his father's advertising firm, but it is declined. Wallace takes charge of Broadway's affairs.

She was not in the least suspicious. CHAPTER VI—Broadway receives a telegram announcing the death of his Uncle Abner in Europe. Broadway is his sole heir. Peter Pembreke of the Consolidated Chewing Gum company offers Broadway 1,200,000 for his gum plant and Broadway agrees to sell. Wallace takes the affair in hand and insists that Broadway agrees to sell. Wallace takes the affair in hand and insists that Broadway agrees to sell.
