An Old Debt

In the town report of the town of East Hartford is an item setting forth that there is due from the town of Manchester the sum of $17. Just what the item was for has interested Selectman Taylor of the board of selectmen and after many months he charge. Along some moons back when of selectmen the town of East Hartford and the town of Manchester enhalf each of the advertising cost of advertising for bids on the construction of macadam readway through Woodland to the top of Wickham hill. Mr. Keeney has forgotten the promise if he ever made it but the East Hartford officials claim that was the agreement. The bill will be paid,

House Numbering

Selectman Arthur E. Bowers has about completed his plan for renumbering the houses about town and made a report to the board of select-Inno- men last Monday evening. The report was accepted as one of progress Seven Keys to Baldpate. Chicago and is practically the same as was outlined in these columns two weeks ago. Mr. Bowers will make a finished report and turn it in to the secretary of the board. It is doubtful if the house numbering can be carried out by the engineering department of the town before cold weather sets in.

When we say a ship is bound for certain port or homeward bound, we are using, not the past particle, as we might think, of the English verb to bind, but of a Scandinavian word meaning to prepare, to get ready—a word which in the form of "boun" still ives on in northern dialects.

in a literary standing by its use by Spenser and Shakespeare, "Wake" for the track of a chip is another Scandinavian word preserved in dialect. Its original meaning, as Professor Skeat tells us, was that of an opening in the ice, especially the passage cut for a ship in a frozen lake or sea, and then, from being applied to the smooth watery track left by the ship after its passage through the ice, it came to be used when there was no ice at all. This useful word is one of the nautical terms which the French have borrowed from the English, alough it is not easy to recognize it a first in its French form of qualche, and it is still used on the Norfolk broads with its original meaning of an open place in the ice.-English Review.

STRONGEST TRAIT IN NATURE Motherhood Most Highly Develope Among the Creatures of the Lower Creation.

The contention that the hen is the most compassionate thing in creation is strikingly illustrated by a case of motherhood in nature related in Country Life. A correspondent tells how in a farmyard were two puppies for whom the mother had no affection, so an old hen took pity on them, and when she went to roost they followed her. - Squatting in a corner of a cart shed, she lifted a wing and the two youngsters crawled under for the night, her chicks clumbering on the backs of the pupples.

As a proof of how strongly motherhood is developed in the lower creation, two incidents occurred recently. A cat, having carried away a young crow from its nest, was attacked by six older birds and killed. The other incident was where a hen blackbird held at bay a cat. The cat hid behind some bushes, and not three yards in front of the bush the bird stood clucking most indignantly. The cat lay quiet for a time, the bird still holding its ground. When it quieted down Outfielder Max Carey of the Pirates establish a record, even in the majors, somewhat, the cat crouched forward turned in one of baseball's most re- the high mark being six passes, is- as if to spring, but the bird set up performances at Forbes field sued to Walter Wilmot on August 22, again a defiant clucking and the cat nber of the withdrew. bases on balls. His four walks came in succession. Carey stole second base twice and third twice, a total of four steals, a feat in itself worthy of spesteals, a feat in itself worthy of special mention.

In the first inning Carey reached first on Knape's fumble, moved up to second on Kommer's walk, to third when Wagner was hit with a pitched ball, and scored on a passed ball by Catcher Killifer. In the second round the second Max walked, took third on a wild time, but Carey did not approach the pitch, and crossed the plate on Kommajor league record when he pitfered tion. Chicago critics, in trying to discover a reason for the sudden fall of the White Sox from first place to the second division, blame the injury to Ray Schalk. This youngster is a wonderful catcher, and all the twirlers work better with him behind the bat than any of the other catchers Callahan can boast of, it is claimed. But that is hardly the cause of the slump, for Callahan's pitchers have been doing good work; but the team has played poorly, and neither hits nor fields up to a high standard.
