VOTING CONTEST TERMIN ATES WITH MANY ENTAN-GLEMENTS FOR JUDGES

McVeigh Boy, Who Had Largest Vote, Eliminated From Contest Merchants and Judges Will Not Be Pulled Into Another Such Contest.

Mrs. Rogers of Garden street, is the winner of the pony and outfit that was hung up as a trophy by ten business men for the boy or girl getting the greatest number of votes from sales made in the different stores during a contest which was brought to close July 17. This decision was arrived at Friday afternoon at a meeting of

The closing of the contest and awarding of the pony outfit has wrought much dissension about town and the merchants who conducted the contest are far from pleased with it as a paying advertisement for their business. It goes without saying that they will steer shy of any more contests in the future. Many entanglements were met with during the contest and after the ballot boxes had been closed and the votes counted the worst feature of the whole contest developed.
