LARGE TAXPAYERS
THOSE WHO BEAR HEAVIEST BURDENS IN NINTH SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Cheney Brothers Pay on List of Over Eight and One-Half Millions Out of Total of Over Fourteen and One-Third Millions.

The collection of taxes in the Ninth School District, which is laid on the list of October 1, 1914, ownership as of June 28, 1915, is now being made by Willard B. Rogers, the collector for the district. It is no small task to collect the tax in the district as about two-thirds of all the taxpayers in the town reside in the Ninth School District. There are about 1,000 names on the list and the following is the list of those paying on $10,000 or over. Cheney Brothers being the largest taxpayers, as they are to pay on a list of $8,228,092. The estate of Susan J. Cheney is the next largest, paying on $162,330. The largest non-resident taxpayer is the Purnell estate, which pays on a list of $118,225.

POLIS THEATER
"THE SHEPHERD KING"
 All next week twice daily, the Poli Players will present "The Shepherd King". The production of The Shepherd King by the Poli players will be one of the greatest efforts ever attempted by any stock company. This famous Biblical play achieved a triumph in New York where the critics acclaimed it equal to Ben Hur. The Shepherd King is a wonderful spectacle drama containing the employment of a huge cast and an outlay of many thousands of dollars. This unusual outlay is made possible only by the fact that Mr. Poli intends sending this remarkable production on tour through his chain of stock houses, otherwise it would be impossible for a single stock organization to attempt so stupendous an undertaking. The Shepherd King is one of the most beautiful and inspiring figures in the Old Testament. In all history, the bible, there is no more compelling character than that of David. The tender of flocks in Judah, the second King of Israel and the greatest ruler of his race. The splendid prowess of the slayer of Goliath, the material grandson of this kingly man born to reign, the wonderful achievements of David, the general—all these are softened by the halo of simple faith that surrounds him, and are given their true significance and far worthier meaning by the reserve side of a man who was a poet and a dreamer even when clothed in his shepherd skin. Every Monday is Souvenir Day at Poli.

Don't miss any of our Monday matinees. Mr. Poli has arranged a series of surprise souveniers beyond anything heretofore distributed. Many of them of greater value than the price of your ticket. You simply can't afford to miss one. Tell your friends and your friends' friends. Every Monday a box of chocolates.—Advt.

Students At Town Meeting
 A large number of pupils presented themselves at the business session of the town meeting in order that they might make a study of the various questions. They were given an opportunity to note the parliamentary procedure, to take cognizance of how the debates were conducted, and in a general way to acquaint themselves with the proceedings of an animated New England town meeting. It was a good school and the session as a whole provided with information for the observing student. The young people took ample notes both mental and physical and it is their purpose to make use of same in their progress through the schools and elsewhere.

Will Help P. M.
 In carrying out the new method of systematizing their business the Light Power & Traction Co. will send out bills monthly instead of quarterly as in the past. The new method will aid considerably in the receipts of the South Manchester post office. It will be recalled that during the present year Postmaster Thomas J. Quinn suffered a reduction of $100 per annum in his salary because of the shrinking of business in the South Manchester post office. This condition was brought about through the operation of this new billing system adopted by the South Manchester Light, Power & Traction Co. The work of laying gas mains

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

TOWN BUSINESS DISCUSSED IN ORDERLY MANNER LAST MONDAY
 Fixing Tax Rate Deferred—Cheney Gave Center Springs Property to Town—New Grade for Main Street Ordered—Authority to Borrow $200,000

The annual business meeting of the town was held at the town hall last Monday afternoon, and while discussions were not very spirited as at some previous meetings, nevertheless there was considerable interest shown. The meeting was presided over by the selectmen, and the first business was the reading of the report of the selectmen for the year. The report was read by Mr. Taylor, and was a very interesting one. It covered the financial condition of the town, the state of the roads, and the progress of the various departments. The report was well received, and the selectmen were complimented on their efficient management of the town's affairs.

ADDITIONAL POLICE
 Howard I. Taylor, chairman of the board of selectmen presented a resolution that the meeting authorize the appointment of seven policemen for the coming year. He said that the selectmen recommended this action and that the board was also agreed on the resolutions or motions which he would present covering the other sections of the call. Mr. Taylor said that the police during the coming year would be under the direction of a board of police commissioners for the first time in the town's history. He said that at the present time there is urgent need for a regular policeman on Spruce street and under the present arrangement the policeman who does duty on that street has to divide his time between doing traffic duty at the center and covering the Spruce street. The appropriation was an increase over last year. Mr. Taylor said that the increase would pay for an additional officer, would cover the cost of a motorcycle, as was proposed, and would also take care of any increase in salaries. He said that Chief of Police Samuel G. Gordon had made it known to him that he would petition the commissioners for an increase in pay. At night he presented the resolution for the appointment of seven policemen. The motion was not seconded, and the number of police to be appointed was limited to six and that the appropriation be kept at last year's figure, $9,800. The motion was not seconded, and the number of police to be appointed was limited to six and that the appropriation be kept at last year's figure, $9,800.

REPORTS ACCEPTED
 On motion of Selectman Taylor the reports of the several town officers as appearing in the printed annual report were accepted with few and minor alterations which were read and approved. The report was a very interesting one, and the selectmen were complimented on their efficient management of the town's affairs.

TOWN GETS LAND

Favorable action was taken upon the acceptance of a deed of land from William Mason and George L. Betts for a strip of land on the east side of Spruce street at the junction of Birch street. Messrs. Mason and Betts tendered the land to the town for the widening of Spruce street and on motion of Selectman Holenthal the town was to receive the thanks of the town for their generous offer.

The acceptance of a deed of land at Cooper, West Center and Center streets from Miss Mary Cheney was approved by the meeting and it too carried a vote of appreciation. Cheney Brothers presented a deed of land at Garden, Row and Chestnut streets for land to be used for parking other vehicles at the meeting accepted the same with thanks.

The matter of accepting a deed from Cheney Brothers for land north of the Center Congregational church, south of Bigelow street and West of Main street was then taken up. Selectman Taylor said that the deed for the land had not been made out owing to the fact that a re-survey of the property was necessary and until this was made the deed could not be completed. He said the land would be offered to the town with certain restrictions which would be explained by other members at the meeting. Selectman Taylor then offered a resolution empowering the selectmen to accept the deed in the name of the town.

William G. Cheney, speaking for Cheney Brothers, said that the firm had held the land for several years, thinking that at some time it might be used as a "breathing spot" by the townpeople. The tract comprises upwards of 60 acres, is centrally located and is very accessible. It is enclosed with many natural beauties and should make an ideal place for public use. He spoke of the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and other bodies to get suitable centrally located properties for public use and the firm of Cheney Brothers thought this the proper time to turn the land over to town use. If the town was willing to receive it, regarding the restrictions which would be placed in the deed Mr. Cheney said they would be slight. They had not been worked out as

REPORT ON SOMERS SYSTEM

Under Section Nine of the call Selectman Taylor presented a resolution that the meeting hear and act upon the report of the committee appointed to investigate the Somers system of fixing land values. The system which they found very interesting and of considerable value. The system is adapted more to fixing land values than to arriving at the value of buildings, factories or of stock in trade. The system could be made operative in thickly settled portions of any community, but would not be so good for portions on the outskirts. One of the first requisites is a careful mapping of the territory in which the system is to be applied. This point made it impossible for the installation in this town in time for the revaluation work, which is about completed by the assessors. The Somers system has been tried out to advantage in the West but has not been used to any extent in the East. The committee recommended that Manchester be not pioneers in establishing the system, but recommended the postponement until a full man of the committee made the report. The substance of the report was published in these columns several months ago. It was to the effect that the committee found the town sadly in need of larger and more adequate quarters for its official family. Another essential was a suitable assembly hall seating about one thousand persons, where town and public meetings could be held. The assembly hall was the first consideration, and if this was built it would be practical to find ample rooms in the building for all of its town officials, with the exception of the town clerk, which the committee recommended remain in the Hall of Records. No committee had not so very carefully looked into the cost of a proposed building, but roughly figured the same might cost $125,000. They recommended that an appropriation of $200 are time, perhaps upon the next revaluation is contemplated. Five years from this time. The committee also recommended that the town proceed with its map-making as fast as possible, as they believed the maps were very valuable to the town. The report of the committee was accepted together with their recommendations.

FOR NEW TOWN BUILDING
 The report of the committee on a proposed new town hall was then taken up. George H. Miller, chairman of the committee made the report. The substance of the report was published in these columns several months ago. It was to the effect that the committee found the town sadly in need of larger and more adequate quarters for its official family. Another essential was a suitable assembly hall seating about one thousand persons, where town and public meetings could be held. The assembly hall was the first consideration, and if this was built it would be practical to find ample rooms in the building for all of its town officials, with the exception of the town clerk, which the committee recommended remain in the Hall of Records. No committee had not so very carefully looked into the cost of a proposed building, but roughly figured the same might cost $125,000. They recommended that an appropriation of $200

DEATH CLAIMS BISHOP CODMAN

Maine Prelate Passes Away In a Boston Hospital

HE STARTED AS A LAWYER

Death of Brother Who Had Prepared For Episcopal Ministry Led Him to Desert Law For Theology—Had Acquired Great Wealth—Married Less Than a Month

Boston, Oct. 8.—Bishop Robert Codman died at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital without regaining consciousness.

He had been unconscious and hovering between life and death since Monday, when an operation was performed to relieve his trouble. At that time a small piece of bone was removed from his skull at the temple. His bride was at the bedside.

Robert Codman started out in life as a lawyer. His father, John Codman, was member of the Boston bar, his family had wide connections, and a brother was president of the Fitchburg railroad.

Then it happened that another brother, Archibald Codman, who had prepared for the Episcopal ministry, died. This death changed the course of Robert Codman's life.

Codman was consecrated the following year. He was a high church man and a member of the cathedral at Portland.

His resignation Codman was made in 1893. He was a member of the Episcopal ministry in Philadelphia, later being transferred to All Saints' church, Ashmont, a Roxbury suburb.

School Events

A little word of advice to all classes and especially to the freshmen. The stairways of the school are not to be used as chute-chutes. No greater speed should be maintained in leaving by way of the stairs than is maintained in coming into the building.

Senior exercises are to be begun within two weeks. Those scheduled to speak in the first assembly are Mildred Benson, Sherwood Bowen and Ralph Burns.

The athletic season is well advanced. The basketball team will begin next Friday. The tennis club will hold its social and dance in the Assembly hall next Friday evening.
