A Thrill in Every Paragraph

That is what that most capable of all writers of railroad stories, Frank H. Spearman, has put into his latest and best work.

A Story of Mountain Railroad Life.

The Girl and the Game

It is a story of a young girl's struggle for success in the face of adversity—the revelation of Wall Street's control of America's railroad systems - the explanation of so-called "high society" with its pam-pered daughters, its financial trickery, its defeats and its victories. Never before has such an interesting subject been presented in a newspaper serial. You can read this remarkable story in these columns, and also
