PUBLIC CONFERENCE EN LIVENED BY FRANK AT-TITUDE OF FORMER SELECTMAN

Howell Cheney Upholds Plan of Textile Training Which Has Been His Dream Profitable Evening's Discussion of Community Interests.

The special conference called at the assembly hall of the high school last evening to discuss public affairs did not attract a very large andience, but those who attended had an opportunity to get in close touch with what civic bodies are trying to de I for the better being of the townspeople as a whole. Reports were received from the Educational club on denta hygiene, from the school board on the needs of the outlying districts, from the board of health, and from the State Board of Education as regards the vocational schools and from the Ninth School District recreation committee.

The meeting was enlivened when the discussion of the aims of the trade school were being touched upon by J. R. Trindar, state superintendent of trade school education. Mr. Trindar had told of the interest in other places regarding the pictures which have been shown illustrating the several processes in the manufacture of silk. He said that it was beyond his anderstanding why more of our townspeople did not interest themselves in the methods employed in the manufacture of silk. He said we do not have to look at pictures, we can go right into the mills and see a first band the different processes employed in the manufacture of silk. Yet he finds that there are a great many people who have never been in the mills even to get a glimpse of the work for their own education. Continuing he said that the textile branch of the vocational school in this town was unique in the state and he hoped

After the graves had been attended He intends to make it an exclusive neighborhood and attract people of the better class to that vicinity. Shade trees will fringe the side-walks, green sward will be found on sither side and the neighborhood be made very ornate in appearance. Mr. Holl has made a splendid success of his Pinehurst venture in this place and has no doubt whatever but that he can do equally well in the capital city. The invasion of Hartford by Mr. Holl should be found to be a distinct advantage to that city. He brings with him, capital, brains, energy, experience and good will. This combination is bound to bring success anywhere and there need be no doubt whatevers as to the fine success which will crown his efforts in the capital city.
