ELECTING A PRESIDENT

Election. JACKSON.

THE Democrats nominated Andrew Jackson of Tennessee in 1828, and John Quincy Adams again opposed him. The election occurred on Nov. 4, and the vote, counted on Feb. 11 1829, was: Jackson, 178; Adams, St. Calboun was elected vice president. The popular vote that year was: Jackson, 647,231; Adams, 509,097.

Jackson was again elected in 1832. The first national convention was held that eyear, and the platform was adopted setting forth the policies of the Democratic party. Jackson was renominated and

Laurel Park No more delightful place than

Laurel park could be found to spend a summer's day, offering as it does varied attractions for young and old, There are swings and a merry-goround and boating under the most ideal conditions, in fine steel craft. There is dancing in the pavilion every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening and Saturday afternoon and display of fireworks every Thursday night. When the weather interferes on Thursday night the freworks go over to the following Saturday night. A band concert in the afternoon and a free moving picture show with orchestral accompaniments in the evening are the headline attractions on the Sunday program. The management is always glad to assist in arranging for private dance parties. South Manchester is always well represented at Laurel Park Tuesday. Thursday and Saturday evenings as we have a large body of young people who are very fond of dancing. The fireworks on Thursday evenings attract an unusually large number from here week after week, -Advt.

Through the efforts of Selectman A. B. Bowers this town will have another visit from the Chautauqua next year. all this being made possible by a big list of guarantors for next season, there being 105 names on the list who have contracted to guarantee the Chautanqua an advance sale of $1500 worth of season tickets. The guarantee is already half complied with as here has been an advance sale of over fifty per cent of the required number of tickets to date. The Chautauqua was run through this year at a finan-cial loss to the local guarantors, mainly through improper manage-ment following the death of George W. Finlay who had all the details in charge. After Mr. Finlay's death no one seemed to know anything about the arrangements and there was considerable mismanagement as a result. Better things are expected for next year. Of the 29 guarantors who backed the enterprise this year, twenty-five have signed again for a return engagement. About ten per cent, of the signers are women and the list includes people from every section of the town. The list of signers furnished by Mr. Bowers is as

Vastness of Grand Canyon

Few persons can realize on a fire view of the Grand Canyon that it is more than a mile deep and from 8 to 10 miles wide. The cliffs descending to its depths form a succession huge steps, each 300 feet to 500 feet high, with steep rocky slopes between. The cliffs are the edges of hard beds of limestone or sandstone; the intervening slopes mark the outcrops of softer beds. This series of beds is more than 8,800 feet thick, and the beds lie nearly horizontal. Far down in the canyon is a broad shelf caused by the hard sandstone at the base of this series, deeply tremched by a narrow inner canyon cut a thousand feet or more into the underlying "granite.". The rocks vary in color from white and buff to red and pale green. They present a marvelous variety of picturesque forms, mostly on a titanic scale, fashioned mainly by erosion by running water, the agent which has excavated the canyon, -U. S. Geological Sur-
