"Mooseheart" consists of over 1,000 acres of the richest farming land in the United States. It is situated 35 miles from Chicago, at Mooseheart, Illinois. It is a town within itself, having its own postoffice and other public conveniences. At present there are upwards of 400 boys and girls in Mooseheart, all orphans of deceased members. Mooseheart is built upon a permanent structure and already over one million dollars have been expended there. There are several miles of water and sewer mains, a large central heating and power plant and many other big features.

On July 27, 1913 Honorable Thomas D. Marshall, vice president of the last United States and a member of the the care of widows, orphans and aged "We face dark days. Our citizens members of the Loyal Order of Moose. have been slain upon the high seas. It will have the largest vocational
