vicarious memory to most of us, it is inevitable that the celebration f Memorial day should take on an entirely different character as the years go by than was the case at the moment of its institution, when a poignant sense of personal losses pervaded the ceremonies and determined their place, the cemetery, and the drift of the addresses, says the Philadelphia Ledger. This is a natural change, and, with the assuaging of gricf, the day has become one of glorious rather than sorrow fraught memories, in which the sacrifice of the individual on both sides has been merged into the general significance of the day as a commemora-

> a searching of the hearts as to whether we understand the lessons of the past while enjoying, in peace, those hings won by the men who were willing to do and die that the Union might The frank transformation of Memorial day from a "holy day" to a "holiday" has been a marked feature of such commemorative occasions in all times. Owing to a misunderstanding of national as well as human psychology, however, some complaint over this phase of Memorial day celebrations historic analogies are all one way The Greeks and the Romans glorified their heroes by funeral games. This was also a Scandinavian custom and is rooted deeply in all human experence in all peoples, primitive and ciilized. Hence the fact that Memorial day surpasses all others as a "day of sports" is not at all inconsistent with true and abiding realization of its ea sential solemnities. Youth, glorifying in its strength, rep resenting the physical prowess of the nation, can consecrate itself in no bet ter way to those principles for which the heroes of the civil war fought than by its recourse to field and track and water course at a time of the year when nature itself is signifying its rebirth and is in the full flush of its original and sessonal vigor. The lessons of the day are not curtailed by the fact that the holiday character of the occasion brings out millions to celebrate in merrymaking its giorious memories. They also serve who are cheerfully adding to the vital resources of the living nation as well as they who sor-

Details As To How Huge Task Is To Be Accomplished First Selectmen Town Clerks and Registrars of Voters To Have Charge of Work In Town

President of the United States issued under act of the Congress of the United States entitled "an art to authorize the President to increase temporarily the miltary establishment of the United States" requires all men not now in the military or paval service of the United States, who on June 5, 1917, have attained their twenty arst birthday and who have not attained their thirty-first birthday, to appear at the registration place in the precinct wherein they have their permanent homes on said 5th day of June, 1917, between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. and register, the penalty for failure so to do being imprisonment,

Now therefore in compliance with said proclamation and the instructions given thereunder, the mayors in the cities of Bridgeport, Hartford, New Britain, New Haven, Stamford and Waterbury, shall appoint registration boards; in the cities of Ansonia, Bristol, Derby, Norwalk, New London and Shelton the registration boards shall consist of the mayor, the city clerk and the registrars of voters; in all other towns of the state the registration boards shall consist of the first selectmen, the town clerk and the registrars of voters; the mayors and the first selectmen shall be the executive officers of their respective boards; said executive officer shall appoint all registrars necessary to execute such registration, and shall provide places for registration in every voting precinct in their respective jurisdiction. Those who through sickness shall be unable to present themselves for registration shall apply to the clerk of the instruction as to how they may be registered by agent. These who expect to be absent on the day named from the city or town in which they egistration cards must reach the laces where they have their permanent homes by said 5th day of June, 1917. They should apply as soon as practicable to the clerk of the city or town wherein they may be for instruction as to how they may accomplish their registration by

On the day set for registration, al sheriffs and their deputies, police officers, constables, and all members of the Home Guard will render whatever assistance may be necessary in preserving order at the place of egistration and in assisting the conmmmation of the registration.

I trust that the services required to accomplish this registration will be rendered voluntarily and without expense to the government and I carnestly urge all persons and organizations within the state to co-operate in every way possible to insure a full ompliance with the President's proc-
