IN HEN Uncle Sam took down his gun Way back in Father George's day, He hesitated ere 'twas done. With no desire for the fray Sam surely loved the quiet life,

But loved his independence more. He plunged right boldly into strife And won his freedom in the war.

A GAIN in eighteen-twelve it came-A The call to fight or back right down. The course he took was just the same-He braved the awful war god's frown. That time he showed he'd guard his men And ships from Britain's bold attacks. We were an infant country then, But took and gave some awful whacks.

GAINST Mexico, in forty-six—
A neighbor who's a wayward child— We had to send a force to fix Conditions that most drove us wild. We marched through Mexico and won. Our victory was ne'er in doubt. We sought the use of force to shun, But that was then the one way out.

THE civil war we'd better skip-A grewsome family affair-And speak about our Cuban trip And ending Spanish chaos there. The Filipinos, too, we freed And made them all our uncle's kin. It took the men of fighting breed The war of ninety-eight to win.

A GAIN the trumpet call rings strong—
It summons us to Freedom's fight! We strove to keep the peace so long. But now we battle for the right! Humanity in anguish cried. Democracy stretched forth her hands-When Germany our might defied, See, Uncle Sam's proud figure stands CHARLES N. LURIE.

HAIL, Columbia, happy land! Who fought and bled in freedom's cause, Who fought and bled in freedom's cause. And when the storm of war was gone Enjoyed the peace your valor won; Let Independence be your boast, Ever mindful what it cost, Ever grateful for the prize, Let its altar reach the skies.

Firm, united, let us be. Rallying round our liberty. Peace and safety we shall find. MMORTAL Patriots, rise once more!

Let no rude foe, with impious hand, Let no rude foe, with impious hand, Invade the shrine where sacred lies, Of toil and blood, the well carned prizes While off ring peace, sincere and just, in heav'n we place a manly trust, That truth and justice may prevail, And ev'ry scheme of bondage fail!
