Health Hint for Today

Care of the Hair. More important, perhaps, than the washing is the drying of the hair. This should be done with warm, soft towels. Never use Turkish towels, as they are very apt to tangle the hair and catch it in their meshes, thus pulling it out. They are more apt also to leave lint on the hair than are towels with a smooth surface. Always dry your hair in the sun, or in a glass and above that to leave lint on the hair than are towels with a smooth surface. Let the hair dry naturally. If you have a good hair brush, use it upon it and never put it up until it is as dry as it was before you washed it.

Wetting the hair to make it smooth is very apt to cause dandruff, and the roots are it is a very bad practice. Water is not a good dressing for the hair. In drying the hair it is well to brush it by the ends and shake it in this way the moisture is more quickly evaporated. The use of the scalp during the process of drying is also beneficial.

If your hair is inclined to be very dry rub into the scalp a little bland oil, such as oil of almond. This must be perfectly sweet, as rancid oil is injurious to the scalp.

A skeptic is a man who wouldn't trust the wheel of fortune until he had equipped it with a mousetrap.—Pittsburgh Record.

The Way to Success

It is the man who carefully page his way up step by step, with his mind becoming wider and progressively better able to grasp any situation, persevering in what he knows to be practical and concentrating his thought upon it, who is bound to succeed in the greatest degree.—Alexander Graham Bell.

FIGHTING THE CLOUDS.

It was a Lasting Lesson and Killed His Taste For Sugar.

Once there was a little boy who stole sugar. So strong was his craving for sugar that half his mother's time was taken up watching the sugar level. One morning, however, she filled the big tumbler full of sugar and gave it to the little boy and told him to eat it all. The boy took a spoon and started in. He ate about a third of it before he got enough. His mother insisted that he eat some more—it was all his to eat and she'd box his ears if he didn't eat it. She did box his ears, and he ate a little more, but presently he slipped the tumbler under his chair and slipped out to play.

When he came back, though, the tumbler was there waiting for him. He ate a little, but it wasn't good. He said it was "too sweet." Every day for a month that tumbler was by his bedside on the table, on a chair by his bedside in the closet with his playthings—everywhere he found that tumbler. The sweetest sweetest feeling of being came, but still it was "too sweet."

That tumbler never was finished up. The boy is an old man now and still his coffee straight. Gooseberry pie is the only kind he likes. All other kinds are "too sweet."—Kansas City Star.

ENEMIES AS AN ASSET.

Without Them Nobody Ever Accomplishes Anything.

No man can accomplish any great thing without making enemies. It is said a man may be "known by the enemies he makes." Observe the kind of enemies one makes and their reasons for making them. The man who makes no enemies is comparatively worthless. The Bible says, "Who unto you when all men shall speak well of you, that man is not necessary to court enemies, but if you encounter hostility in the course of pursuing your duty honestly and in the face of real enemies, do not allow it to disturb you. He who has no enemies is not likely to have real friends. If you would measure your worth by the length of your enemies, or what character say they? What are their reasons for being at enmity? While you are at enmity with your enemy, be sure you are not doing him wrong. If possible, but never fawn on him or strive to be his friend. It is better to have a real friend. This will win his confidence.

One evening, when I was yet in my nurse's arms, I wanted to touch the tip of my nose to the tip of my mother's nose. "No, my little boy, do not do that," she said. "It is not polite to touch noses. It is unbecomingly childish." So I touched it, and that was my first lesson in the meaning of the word "politeness." It was the first piece of liberty I got the last day that for some time I asked for.—Tooth's Companion.

An army officer speaks of the necessity for the rigid training of recruits, said: "I don't delude myself with the idea that a man won't be frightened under fire, because he will be. He'll be badly frightened if he is a normal human being. The only way to get him over it is to let him see that a soldier has been made out of him."

"But if you succeed in teaching men not only to bring the weapons to their shoulders, but to take a proper sight if hard training accomplishes this, they will be better than any other soldiers that are unbreakable."—Saturday Evening Post.

Heigland.

Centuries ago Heigland, in the North sea, was at least five times its present size, and a place of its importance. Like so many islands, it had a peculiar attraction for the people of the surrounding mainland. They came to it in great numbers, and they stayed in it for their own. Here the forest, the place of justice, had a temple, as had also, according to another tradition, the goddess Heigland. It is about the size of the common pigeon. It nests in holes in rotten trees, which it enlarges with its bill, so as to make a nest of three feet. It is the fact that it is a hermit among the feathered creatures, delighting in the silence and the length of three feet. It is the queen of the islands. Its nest is a brilliant scarlet, while its green tail feathers are like the wings of a butterfly. The young are hatched totally devoid of feathers.

Impromptu Replies.

McCready, who threw himself into his acting hat and soul, used to tell a story of a man who was in a hurry, colloquial manner upon the play-facts collected for his company in small provincial theaters in the play "The Sign of the Cross." He was to do one of these stupid rustic and put the question, "The apostle Jesus?" so naturally that the man who threw up his hands and said to his lover, replied, "A little, sir, but I've never had to go with one of these rustic fellows in 'Virginia.'" He asked, "Do you want me to lead Virginia in, or will you do so?" only to be greeted indignantly by the actor who played Jellu with, "Why, really, sir, I don't care just as you do it in London."

Not So Smart.

Mr. Flatbush—"It's the same old story Mrs. Flatbush—"That's wrong now, it's 'I passed the front gate and had my sign on it.' Fresh Paint."

"The first man who came along put his hand on it to see if the paint was really fresh."

"How so smart?"

"That wasn't a man that put his hand on the paint to see if it was fresh; that was me."—Yonkers Statesman.

Doubtful Now.

Jones—"Our contract began in a most romantic way. My wife saved me from drowning. She's a magnificent swimmer. Smith—"I notice you don't go out very far now. Jones—"So I don't know if she would save me again."—Pittsburgh Press.

Penalty of Liberty.

A Lesson John Ruskin Learned in His Early Childhood.

In the matter of discipline John Ruskin's mother was a Spencerian before Spencer. "Let your penitents," says the early child, "be known by the penalties inflicted by inanimate nature, inevitable. The hot cinder burns a child the first time he seizes it. It burns him every time, and he very soon learns not to touch the hot cinder." That was Mrs. Ruskin's method. To illustrate her way of teaching lessons, Ruskin used to tell the following incident of his early childhood, which his mother was fond of relating.

"One evening, when I was yet in my nurse's arms, I wanted to touch the tip of my nose to the tip of my mother's nose. 'No, my little boy, do not do that,' she said. 'It is not polite to touch noses. It is unbecomingly childish.' So I touched it, and that was my first lesson in the meaning of the word 'politeness.' It was the first piece of liberty I got the last day that for some time I asked for.—Tooth's Companion.

Training Raw Recruits.

He'll be badly frightened if he is a normal human being. The only way to get him over it is to let him see that a soldier has been made out of him."

Join Our Christmas Victrola Club

You remember what a time we had last year trying to get victrolas for Christmas. Despite our preparations made weeks in advance, when Christmas came we were short a great number of machines, and consequently several people were disappointed.

The Christmas Victrola Club Offers a plan to obviate this difficulty. Beginning with this week or next week at the latest, you can pay $50.00 or $1.30 a week for ten weeks. Immediately upon receipt of the first payment we will mark and lay aside for you the victrola you want, and deliver it the day before Christmas.

$25 a week from now until Christmas entitles you to any machine from $45 to $75.

$30 a week from now until Christmas entitles you to any machine from $45 to $95.

$1.00 a week from now until Christmas entitles you to any machine from $75 to $100, or to any piano up to $250.

How Do You Profit By This Arrangement?

In the first place, you are absolutely sure of your machine. If we have not one in stock when you make your first payment, we will at once set on foot plans to get it for you.

In the second place, it calls for very little outlay during the next two months when the demands on your purse are the heaviest.

After the first of January you can take up regular payments of $1.00 a week on the smaller machines, and from $7.50 to $10.00 a month on the larger machines.

The Advantages To Us Are Apparent

With a number of signed orders in our possession, we can put it up to the manufacturers that a certain number of machines are sold and we absolutely must have them.

Please note, as mentioned above, that a payment of $1.00 a week from now until Christmas constitutes a first payment on any piano in our store up to $250. Pianos are going to be so hard to get as victrolas in a short time, and we know nothing about future prices. However, if you begin payments now, we will guarantee the price even though we ourselves have to pay a higher price in order to supply you.

Insure getting your victrola or piano for Christmas by joining the club at once.

$25 a week from now until Christmas entitles you to any machine from $45 to $75.

$30 a week from now until Christmas entitles you to any machine from $45 to $95.

$1.00 a week from now until Christmas entitles you to any machine from $75 to $100, or to any piano up to $250.

How Do You Profit By This Arrangement?

In the first place, you are absolutely sure of your machine. If we have not one in stock when you make your first payment, we will at once set on foot plans to get it for you.

In the second place, it calls for very little outlay during the next two months when the demands on your purse are the heaviest.

After the first of January you can take up regular payments of $1.00 a week on the smaller machines, and from $7.50 to $10.00 a month on the larger machines.

The Advantages To Us Are Apparent

With a number of signed orders in our possession, we can put it up to the manufacturers that a certain number of machines are sold and we absolutely must have them.

Please note, as mentioned above, that a payment of $1.00 a week from now until Christmas constitutes a first payment on any piano in our store up to $250. Pianos are going to be so hard to get as victrolas in a short time, and we know nothing about future prices. However, if you begin payments now, we will guarantee the price even though we ourselves have to pay a higher price in order to supply you.

Insure getting your victrola or piano for Christmas by joining the club at once.

Health Hint for Today

Care of the Hair. More important, perhaps, than the washing is the drying of the hair. This should be done with warm, soft towels. Never use Turkish towels, as they are very apt to tangle the hair and catch it in their meshes, thus pulling it out. They are more apt also to leave lint on the hair than are towels with a smooth surface. Always dry your hair in the sun, or in a glass and above that to leave lint on the hair than are towels with a smooth surface. Let the hair dry naturally. If you have a good hair brush, use it upon it and never put it up until it is as dry as it was before you washed it.

Wetting the hair to make it smooth is very apt to cause dandruff, and the roots are it is a very bad practice. Water is not a good dressing for the hair. In drying the hair it is well to brush it by the ends and shake it in this way the moisture is more quickly evaporated. The use of the scalp during the process of drying is also beneficial.

If your hair is inclined to be very dry rub into the scalp a little bland oil, such as oil of almond. This must be perfectly sweet, as rancid oil is injurious to the scalp.

The Way to Success

It is the man who carefully page his way up step by step, with his mind becoming wider and progressively better able to grasp any situation, persevering in what he knows to be practical and concentrating his thought upon it, who is bound to succeed in the greatest degree.—Alexander Graham Bell.

POWER

To get out of your motor all the power that was built into it requires a gasoline that is not only pure but uniform.

It is because every gallon of SOCONY Motor Gasoline is like every other gallon, no matter where you buy it, that SOCONY runs a motor so much more efficiently than the best of unidentified gasolines. A carburetor once adjusted to SOCONY is adjusted for keeps.

You will find that SOCONY gives more miles to the gallon and more power to the mile. Say So-CO-ny and look for the Red, White and Blue sign.

Harris-Stave

Miss Ruth Augusta Stave, daughter of Charles A. and Mrs. Stave of East Center street, and Rodney W. Harris of Westford, were married last Saturday afternoon at the Center Congregational church by Rev. Dr. George W. Reynolds of West Hartford, assisted by Rev. Dr. C. E. Hesselgrave of the Center church.

Miss Jessie E. Stave, sister of the bride was maid of honor and Dorothy Stave and Dorothy Norris were flower girls. George M. Harris, brother of the bridegroom was best man and the others were Leon Griswold and Ralph Center street, and Rodney W. Harris of Westford, and Harold Rogers of Southington.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and georgette crepe with court train and a veil caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal and sweetest roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of orchid silk net with gray hat and slippers and carried a gray chiffon muff trimmed with white orchids. Flower girls wore apricot satin dresses with bonnets to match and carried baskets of Wail roses.

The bridal party formed in the parish hall, which adjoins the church, and entered to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played on the organ by E. Clapp of Westford. The recessional was the Mendelssohn wedding march. The bride was given away by her father.

The church was prettily decorated with asparagus fern, oak leaves, Easter lilies and lavender chrysanthemums.

The color scheme at the State house, where a reception was held was lavender and yellow. The ca-

Supervisors Investigate

Dr. T. H. Weldon and Willard B. Rogers of the charity committee of the board of selectmen, and Fred Shippee, newly appointed charity superintendent, have visited all of the people who are partially or wholly dependent upon the town, and secured a detailed statement of their income, aside from expenses. As a result of this investigation, there will be a re-adjustment of the charity work and some of the families will receive less, while others will receive a little more varied than that which the town has been distributing.

Only four families were found by the charity committee of the board of selectmen to be receiving aid from the town and as a result of their investigation it is probable that the number will be reduced to two. In order to get an idea of what was the number of cases in town receiving aid and just what was the need of each family, the board of selectmen, Dr. Weldon and Mr. Rogers and Dr. Weldon, visited those who are getting aid. They were surprised to find that there were only four families that were being aided by the town and when they investigated the cases they learned that two of the families were getting the chief support of the family had been drafted into the army. As there are cases in town where discharges have been received because of dependents it is the intention of these two members of the board of selectmen to take up with the selectmen the question of the discharge of the two men so as to allow them to support their families.

A card record is being kept of each case where the town families aid and in the future every case that comes to the charity department for assistance will be investigated and proper records kept so that all South Manchester cases are kept who is receiving aid, the number and all causes.

UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION WHAT YOU CAN DO TO HELP WIN THIS WAR. See other side showing why you should do it.

Our problem is to feed our Allies this winter by sending them as much food as we can of the most concentrated nutritive value in the least shipping space. These foods are wheat, beef, pork, dairy products, and sugar.

Bread and cereals—Have at least one wheatmeal meal a day. Use corn, oat, rye, barley, or mixed cereal flours, muffins, and breads in place of white bread only as required. Use the following: for two. Eat less cake and pastry.

Meat—Use the most poultry, rabbits, and especially fish and sea food in place of beef, mutton, and pork. Do not use either beef, mutton, or pork more than once daily, and then serve smaller portions. Use all left-over meat and, at the same time, are healthy. Use potatoes abundantly. Freeze nearly the same food value as meat.

Milk—Use all of the milk, waste no part of it. The children must have whole milk; therefore, use cream. There is a great waste of food by not using all skim and sour milk; both milk can be used in cooking and in making cottage cheese. Use butter milk and cheese freely.

Fats (butter, lard, etc.)—Dairy butter has food value vital to children. Therefore, use it on the table as usual, especially for children. Use as little margarine as possible. Reduce the use of fried foods to reduce the consumption of lard and other fats. Use vegetable oils, as olive and cottonseed oil, save daily one-third of an ounce of animal fat. Waste no soap; it contains fat and the glycerine necessary for soap. You can make scrubbing soap and use it in some localities, you can sell your saved fat to the soap maker, who will thus secure our needed glycerine.

Sugar—Use less candy and sweet drinks. Use less sugar in tea and coffee. Use honey, maple syrup, and dark syrups first in cakes and waffles instead of sugar. Do not eat or use ice cream. Do not put the use of sugar in putting up fruits and jams. They may be used in place of butter.

Vegetables and fruits—We have a superabundance of vegetables. Double the use of vegetables. They take the place of part of the wheat and meat, and, at the same time, are healthy. Use potatoes abundantly. Freeze potatoes and crops properly and they will keep. Use fruits generously.

Food—Coal comes from a distance, and our railway facilities are needed for war purposes. Turn lower fires if you can get good work, use it.

GENERAL SUGGESTION Do not look for more than one cup of coffee per day. Do not eat between meals. Do not eat after meals. Do not eat before meals. Do not eat during meals. Do not eat after meals. Do not eat before meals. Do not eat during meals. Do not eat after meals.

This is the first of a series of free concerts which will be put on by Watkins Brothers. Samuel Kemp, who is in line at Hall & Record this evening charge of the music department will provide a program of rare merit. It will include a number of the new and popular selections that are being made so popular by the war.

LOCAL POLICE HAVE WAGE INCREASE

The board of police commissioners at its meeting last night decided to grant an additional 10 per cent wage to members of the police force, which will come to the men in the form of a bonus for all who were on the payroll January 1. The bonus, it was announced after the meeting of over two hours duration, would continue as long as the conditions warrant it being paid. The increase is dated back two weeks of the time that the men petitioned for the advance, which was not made until last week.

Another matter that was taken into consideration was the charge that would be made for the services of a policeman provided for private work. The charge which will be made in the future will be 10 per cent above the wages paid to the men doing duty, this additional 10 per cent to go to the town.

LOCAL TRADE SCHOOL NOW BUSY PLACE

Evening as well as day classes being filled with eager students

Varied Trades Attracts Good Can Be Accomplished by Plan of Pre-Vocational Studies Students Started Right In Early Life.

Director J. C. Tucker of the trade school finds that the opening of the fall and winter seasons for evening studies brings new life to the shop and that the students are entering upon the study with a very gratifying zest. He is much encouraged to note the development of this spirit. It has been more or less lacking in certain portions in the past, but now it seems to be taking deep and promising root and is likely to bring forth good results.

It is noted that more than 100 applicants have already been received this fall for instruction at the evening trade school classes.

There is a waiting list in the machine shop class, which now has 150 members, divided into two sections. The interest in this branch of the school is increasing.

The class in the study of electricity is showing increasing activity and is showing a very practical nature. They have been taken care of in this branch at the present time is 24. This number is secured and there is a waiting list.

Carpentry and cabinet making classes are enthusiastically at work and there are more applications than can be served as things now stand.

The pupils of the carpentry class have been doing excellent work on a very practical nature. They have constructed a double tenement house on Eldridge street from cellar to attic, carrying out every bit of detail.

As soon as the members of the carpentry class close their apprenticeship in the local trade school it is found that they are fit to take their places among journeymen, and are able to earn their own wages.

There is room for several more students in the class of mechanical drawing. There are seventeen enrolled there now, but more can be accommodated. This is a lucrative branch of industry and should appeal to the student who is interested in natural abilities tending to that line of work.

Director Tucker has introduced a system of pre-vocational study in the trade school here that should be of very great benefit to pupils and parents alike. This consists, in giving boys who are in the seventh and eighth grades the privilege of spending three hours a week for six weeks in each of the six departments of the state chamber of commerce, and in each of the six departments of the state chamber of commerce, and in each of the six departments of the state chamber of commerce.

The deciding of this problem is one of the most trying and unsatisfactory that presents itself to the average parent and also to the pupil. By being given a tryout in this way however, the natural traits are likely to be revealed and the pupil started upon the road that will ultimately lead to success.

Most men drift along in early life from pillar to post with no guiding hand.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNUAL CONVENTION

At the annual meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce held in Hartford yesterday, C. E. House of South Manchester subscribed $3,000 for the Second Liberty Loan, and A. E. Rogers of Manchester $2,500. Mr. House was elected one of the directors of the state chamber of commerce, and A. E. Rogers was elected as treasurer of that body. The slogan "Somewhere in Germany July 1" was adopted by the convention.

In this manner it is possible to discover whether the pupil displays special aptitude for any particular study in the trade school. If such a tendency is disclosed it then rests with the parents and pupil to do the most that is possible to develop that talent to the point where it can be put to use in the occupation nature adapted to him.

Is Supreme President

Selectman Willard B. Rogers of South Manchester, supreme vice-president of the Fraternal Renaissance League, is now advanced to the position of president of that body because of the accidental death of President Avery E. Ford of New Haven, who was killed in a railroad accident this week.

The advance in position of Mr. Rogers comes to him automatically under the laws of the order and holds good until next May when the annual convention of the order is to choose a successor to the office. Mr. Rogers went to New Haven yesterday and took charge of the office. He is there now and will remain until tomorrow night. The funeral of Mr. Ford is to take place tomorrow, and Mr. Rogers will attend.

Temporary Solution

Owners of the property between Russell and Birch streets, on the east side of Main street, have agreed to permit the town to grade back on the property several feet and place a hedge instead of the proposed garage. This is in accordance with a suggestion made by Selectman Aaron Johnson some weeks ago. Previous to coming to S. Manchester Mr. Johnson attended a Swedish club in which he took up various phases of laying out towns and highways, and is well qualified to pass upon all such questions.

Will Not Be Ready
