You Buy Dining Room Furniture But Once in a Lifetime

—or at least you should buy it only once in a lifetime if you make the proper selections when you purchase your original outfit. And then, you cannot change your dining room furniture from one room to another as you can do with other parts of your household equipment.

For these reasons you should furnish the dining room with one complete suite, and not with odds and ends that you may happen to pick up here and there and everywhere. Such a suite will last as long as you care to use it and will always be in good style and taste.

LOWER PRICES ON CANNED GOODS

The effect of the new licensing system of the Food Administration should be felt immediately in lower prices in many stores in canned corn, tomatoes and peas.

It is expected that goods which were bought early will be sold on a lower margin under the licensing regulations than has prevailed up to the present, and also in accordance with voluntary assurances given to the Food Administration by them.

The Food Administration is hopeful of the patriotic operation of retailers in this regard. At a meeting recently held in Washington, representatives of the retail grocery trade passed resolutions in which was included the following:

SALVATION ARMY SETTING GOOD EXAMPLE

Following out the slogan "No Candy Till Christmas," the Sunday school members of the Salvation Army have decided to put the money usually collected by them for Christmas gifts, candies, etc. for themselves into a fund to buy Christmas gifts for the war orphans in Europe. The Salvation Army as an organization is right on the ground in the foreign field with the necessary organization, officers, workers and equipment to see to it that the poor war orphans of Europe will be given Christmas gifts from America and elsewhere. This is a thoughtful, self-sacrificing and commendable undertaking for the Sunday school members of the Salvation Army, and they are to be heartily encouraged and assisted in the good and charitable work. They are setting an excellent example that is worthy of emulation, and they are blazoning the trail.

GOOD SUGGESTION ON SAVING COAL

The average American's love of fresh air when he sleeps has been cooled to the point of a serious danger in coal which Thomas W. Russell, Federal Fuel Administrator and chairman of the coal committee of the Connecticut State Council of Defense, is trying to eliminate. Mr. Russell has had printed and is distributing a card which bears the slogan, "Don't Try to Heat All Ourselves," and warns people who open their windows at night that they should first shut off their radiators or registers.

Apartment house owners, hotel proprietors and other people who heat buildings used by more than one tenant have complained that their efforts to save coal are hampered by people who go to bed early in the evening and close the windows of their bedrooms without shutting off the heat. For the rest of the evening the heat thrown off by the radiators is wasted on the outdoor air and the radiators are cooled so rapidly by the cold air which enters the bedrooms that a larger amount of coal than usual is needed to keep the other radiators in the building up to a satisfactory temperature. It has been estimated that many tons of coal could be saved every day in Connecticut alone if the heat were abolished.

The cards issued by Mr. Russell are to be distributed throughout the State and the first allotment will be sent to the hotels, which will be asked to post one card in each of its rooms or suites. Later cards will be sent to owners of apartment and rooming houses. The card says: "DON'T TRY TO HEAT ALL OURSELVES. When you open your windows at night shut off the radiators and registers. Help your government in its efforts to wage a successful war and save coal."

The Army and Navy needs coal more than you. Its needs must come first. Do your bit and be satisfied with less heat and less light. Thomas W. Russell, U. S. Fuel Administrator for Connecticut.

Women Workers
An all-day rally of women workers of the State will be held at the Convention Hall on Friday, December 6, under the auspices of the committee on Women's Activities of the Connecticut State Council of Defense. All the local county chairmen of the women workers are as many delegates as care to come have been invited. There will be a morning session at 11 o'clock at which refreshments will be served. At the afternoon session it is expected that either Governor Marcus H. Holcomb or Richard M. Bissell, chairman of the Council, will be present. An address on the work of women in Europe will be given by Dr. Rosalie S. Morton, head of the first woman's medical unit to be organized in this country. Dr. Morton was decorated for medical work she did in Serbia. Miss Caroline Rosta-Ross, state chairman of the Women's Committee, will tell the delegates how they can serve the State and the Nation through the Committee.

Between the two sessions luncheon will be served at the Capitol at 75 cents a plate. A divisional meeting of the Connecticut Division, Women's Committee of the Council of National Defense, will meet Wednesday, December 5, at 2:30 P. M. in Room 66, State Capitol.

At a recent meeting of the Committee on Women's Activities of the Council of National Defense were appointed: Bethel, Mrs. Robert Wickenden; Bridgewater, Mrs. Louis Northrop; Cornwall, Mrs. Charles L. Gold; East Lyme, Mrs. Thomas Board of Sturges; Franklin, Mrs. L. P. Ayer; Lebanon, Mrs. H. W. Sweet; Roxbury, Mrs. Wilbur McIntyre; Salem, Mrs. Charles I. Beebe; Sherman, Miss Margaret Johnson; Wethersfield, Mrs. Robert H. Fenton of Williamstown.

FAVORS CONSERVATION OF MECHANICAL POWER
Editor News: The great war in which our Nation engaged will be won not alone for the superior mechanical power as well. Without mechanical power we could not make or move the weapons with which we fight—guns, ammunition, ships, and supplies. Our national resources are not equal, whether from coal, oil or waterpower, are National War necessities. We need them to win the war.

In this gigantic struggle our security requires us to use all these great resources, and to use them wisely and well. The people of the United States own some fifty million undeveloped water horsepower, or more than enough to run every train, trolley, factory, mill, mine, and electric power plant we have.

For ten years the friends of Conservation have urged the development of public waterpower in the public interest. But development has been held back by a little group of waterpower magnates and their friends in Congress who have blocked all legislation which would give them these valuable properties forever and for nothing.

Today when the Nation needs all its resources, the men who have been blocking reasonable waterpower legislation now are holding millions of water horsepower undeveloped and out of use while clamoring for more.

The time has come when such obstruction threatens the Nation's safety and success. We need the development of these powers in War even more than in peace. At the present session of Congress some waterpower legislation should be enacted as a War measure, based upon principles fair to all sides. The principles I believe to be briefly as follows:

1. The thing to do with waterpower is to develop it. Whatever restraints or restrictions the development of public waterpower may be placed upon, the public interest requires that the public interest against public policy and hostile to the general welfare.
2. Waterpower belongs to the people. The sites where it is produced should be held in public hands, for only so can effective control in the general interest be secured.
