

Local Paragraphs

Mrs. Archibald Dougan of School street is with her son, Ernest Moses Dougan, who is critically ill with pneumonia at the Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I.

Archibald Dougan of School street is undergoing treatment at the Hartford hospital.

A daughter has been born to Thomas and Mrs. Leemon of Lilly street.

A special meeting of the Ulster Women's Club is to take place at Orange Hall next Monday afternoon.

Paul Domel of West street has enlisted this week in the United States navy.

Captain G. Calvin Hunter of Camp Devens came to South Manchester last Monday and is spending a few hours here.

Clifford South of Foster street has been called to the colors and is now at Pelham Bay, N. Y. He is a member of the Naval Reserve and is enlisted in that branch of the service.

Tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock there will be an auction sale of the bankrupt estate of the Harry F. Hills Lumber Company at Main and Hilliard streets, Manchester.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce is to take place at the South Manchester building on Monday evening, January 21 at eight o'clock.

The installation of officers of the Court Manchester No. 107 Foresters of America took place at Foresters hall last Tuesday evening.

Thomas and Mrs. Donnan of South Manchester are all this week at the bedside of Mr. Donnan's brother, Ernest Moses Donnan, who is critically ill with pneumonia at the Naval Training Station in Newport, R. I.

Charles E. House was in Boston on a business trip this week.

William Rubino was in New York last Sunday and Monday making purchases for his specialty shop.

Rev. Eric Lindh of East Boston will occupy the pulpit in the Center Congregational church next Sunday and regularly thereafter for at least one year or during the absence in France of the pastor, Rev. Dr. C. E. Hesselgrave, who is doing Red Cross work among the soldiers abroad.

Owing to the fuel shortage two of the electric lights on each of the white way standards are now out of commission each night in South Manchester. It has been the custom since the system was installed to have all three lights burn each evening except Sundays, when only one was used. The street lights about town generally are kept burning until one o'clock in the morning.

Subscriber for The News $1.50 for one year

Save Your Cash and Your Health

CASCARA QUININE

The standard sold over 50 years ago...

Use My Explanations

"What's the matter with you?"

"I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?"

"I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?"

"I'm looking for work, sir."

TRICKS THAT KILL

Germans Use Barbarous Schemes to Harm Enemy.

Bats Left in Evacuated Positions Prove Disastrous to Tommy, Who Would Investigate.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

"Don't fool with the enemies' evacuated positions, especially the dugouts, until you have experienced them with your own eyes," said the Canadian officer.

"The game of baiting the other fellow which the German soldiers really taught the allied troops is still in vogue in the western zone at the present time," said a wounded Canadian officer who was telling some friends about the tricks which men played on one another in trench warfare.

KICKS A $500-JOB AROUND

Actor Finally Discovers Mysterious Cable, Long Ignored, Refused by Others, Belonged to Him.

"Who is Leo Robinson?" asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

"I have not opened it yet," asked Tomerlin of the clerk of a Tenderloin club in one of the large cities, when the clerk in return, "I forwarded it to J. C. Robinson in San Francisco and he returned it saying it did not belong to him. Next I forwarded it to H. D. Robinson in New Orleans. He said it did not belong to him. I did not think of asking you to open it because you have such a reputation for being a detective."

NERVE OF BOBBIES

Police Display Thoroughness That Astonishes Colonial.

London of Today a Marvel, Forming One of the Most Important War Centers of Entire World.

A Rhodesian who has arrived in England to "join up" after service in the three campaigns undertaken by the South Africans, assures me of his astonishment at the neat and thorough fighting methods which the British military police, says a writer in Westminster Gazette, the London of today is, indeed, a marvel-forming one of the most important war centers of the world. It is inhabited by a floating population drawn from every one of the most cosmopolitan armies in history—an army, too, that is in no way remarkable for the gentleness of its fighting methods when the game's afoot. Yet, as my South African friend phrased it, "the whole mob goes about in a small flock of well-trained dogs behind them."

"Things were not always managed that way in the early days of the first year of war. My informant illustrated the contrast with an incident that came under his notice while his regiment lay entrenched at Swakopmund during the German South-West campaign. One morning the men of the Union advanced posts saw approaching them a group of three living skeletons who staggered like drunken men as they dropped their hands blindly through the furze and sand. A comrade laid the first one on his back and he fell dead. The second man was still standing, and on the threshold, very much surprised, stood Amos. He had supposed that of course the wedding would be postponed.

"Well, now, when I woke up 'twas pouring rain and pitchforks, so to speak, and I says to myself, says I, 'I don't know what that's all about.' After breakfast 'twas worse; and says I to myself: 'I must know they'll try to off, I must know they will.' I had my eye on the meetin' house steeple, and I could see 'twas awaying considerable. 'I kerp my eye on the meetin' house steeple, and says I, 'If she goes, I don't care if the world's in a flap.' 'She swung and she swayed and she kind of hung in the wind, and then, just as I was getting my boots on, she went! And, says I to myself: 'That's a clear shaver, if ever there was one; and here I stay! I give a woman a couple of years, and my nighther stand up agin a game like a meetin' house steeple can't. I says I to myself, 'There ain't a mile of British war with the weather is countable for weddings!'

Nevertheless, he was imperatively persuaded to come and see the wedding without waiting for to clear up.

"Pink Tea Workers Barred. The head of the cantons department of the National League for Women's Service has requested all "pink tea" members to resign from her division. "It was our intention to have a dependable woman than one thousand who can't work because they have an engagement to play golf or because they are out at home," she remarked, according to the Worcester Post.

Red Cross workers and war workers of all types are up against the old-age problems of organizers—how to weed out the indifferent and inefficient worker, the one who has been recruited only to attend every new banner, attend a few meetings, throw a monkey-wrench or two into the organization machinery, and disappear until a new "cause" or a brighter banner flutters into view.

Such women are obstacles in the progress of a cause with which they see fit to play.

Gas May Help Win War. Our illuminating gas plants may win the war for us, according to the American Chemical Society. These experts say that the only way of quickly increasing the world's available supply of toluol is to extract it from the nation's gas. Toluol is the basis of trinitrotoluol, the famous British high explosive, T. N. T. The production in this country is confined largely to by-product coke oven gas and the entire present output is conserved for. However, by quick and energetic action we can secure an immense supplementary supply of this vitally necessary substance by treating illuminating gas without affecting the quality of the gas appreciably.

Saving Tea for Soldiers. In England tea has advanced in price to such an extent and it is at the same time so necessary an accessory of the army that the British are considering an act of patriotic economy to drink tea as late for breakfast instead of the usual cup of tea, notes a London correspondent. Of course, any coffee that is diluted with milk is gas a lait, but the term is usually applied to the tea. The French take it for breakfast. That is a mixture of clear coffee infusion with milk is added a liberal amount of hot milk.

A Wise Fish. "I wonder why this goldfish never grows old?" "The intelligent little creature knows there would be no room for him in that small globe."

Had a Good Star. Made—Let's start a secret society! Also—All right, I'll see you at midnight at the bridge club this afternoon.—The Lamb.

Time Will Tell. Nora—Do you think marriage is always a failure? Ada—Always a failure! Well, I should say not. Why, I know a case where a wife failed her husband, and—why, he can't keep away from her a minute.

Nora—Bless me, how long have they been married? Ada—Nearly a week.

Cheer. "Cheer, isn't he?" "Very. He can't even persuade his manly boy who wakes at seven o'clock Sunday morning, ready for play, to go back to sleep for another hour or two."

Use My Explanations. "What's the matter with you?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

WEATHER CHANGED HIS VIEWS

New Englander Allowed Blowing Over of Church Steeple by Hurricane to Influence His Wedding Plans.

The recent destruction by fire of a certain ancient New England meeting house has set the villagers to relating a amusing anecdote connected with its partial demolition nearly a century ago, when it lost its steeple in a hurricane, says the Youth's Companion.

Deliberate and cautious looting figures in many tales of rural New England; but surely in none of them does the hero show less impetuosity than in the story of this steeple. For ten years he had courted his patient Eliza; at last he had proposed, had been accepted, and the wedding day was set. It dawned unpropitiously, with a howling gale blowing, which increased hourly in violence. At the appointed hour, nevertheless, the guests gathered at the home of the bride and waited for the bridegroom, who did not appear.

At last a party of anxious volunteers started forth, in the teeth of the tempest, to investigate. When they reached the farm the story was still standing, and on the threshold, very much surprised, stood Amos. He had supposed that of course the wedding would be postponed.

"Well, now, when I woke up 'twas pouring rain and pitchforks, so to speak, and I says to myself, says I, 'I don't know what that's all about.' After breakfast 'twas worse; and says I to myself: 'I must know they'll try to off, I must know they will.' I had my eye on the meetin' house steeple, and I could see 'twas awaying considerable. 'I kerp my eye on the meetin' house steeple, and says I, 'If she goes, I don't care if the world's in a flap.' 'She swung and she swayed and she kind of hung in the wind, and then, just as I was getting my boots on, she went! And, says I to myself: 'That's a clear shaver, if ever there was one; and here I stay! I give a woman a couple of years, and my nighther stand up agin a game like a meetin' house steeple can't. I says I to myself, 'There ain't a mile of British war with the weather is countable for weddings!'

Nevertheless, he was imperatively persuaded to come and see the wedding without waiting for to clear up.

"Pink Tea Workers Barred. The head of the cantons department of the National League for Women's Service has requested all "pink tea" members to resign from her division. "It was our intention to have a dependable woman than one thousand who can't work because they have an engagement to play golf or because they are out at home," she remarked, according to the Worcester Post.

Red Cross workers and war workers of all types are up against the old-age problems of organizers—how to weed out the indifferent and inefficient worker, the one who has been recruited only to attend every new banner, attend a few meetings, throw a monkey-wrench or two into the organization machinery, and disappear until a new "cause" or a brighter banner flutters into view.

Such women are obstacles in the progress of a cause with which they see fit to play.

Gas May Help Win War. Our illuminating gas plants may win the war for us, according to the American Chemical Society. These experts say that the only way of quickly increasing the world's available supply of toluol is to extract it from the nation's gas. Toluol is the basis of trinitrotoluol, the famous British high explosive, T. N. T. The production in this country is confined largely to by-product coke oven gas and the entire present output is conserved for. However, by quick and energetic action we can secure an immense supplementary supply of this vitally necessary substance by treating illuminating gas without affecting the quality of the gas appreciably.

Saving Tea for Soldiers. In England tea has advanced in price to such an extent and it is at the same time so necessary an accessory of the army that the British are considering an act of patriotic economy to drink tea as late for breakfast instead of the usual cup of tea, notes a London correspondent. Of course, any coffee that is diluted with milk is gas a lait, but the term is usually applied to the tea. The French take it for breakfast. That is a mixture of clear coffee infusion with milk is added a liberal amount of hot milk.

A Wise Fish. "I wonder why this goldfish never grows old?" "The intelligent little creature knows there would be no room for him in that small globe."

Had a Good Star. Made—Let's start a secret society! Also—All right, I'll see you at midnight at the bridge club this afternoon.—The Lamb.

Time Will Tell. Nora—Do you think marriage is always a failure? Ada—Always a failure! Well, I should say not. Why, I know a case where a wife failed her husband, and—why, he can't keep away from her a minute.

Nora—Bless me, how long have they been married? Ada—Nearly a week.

Cheer. "Cheer, isn't he?" "Very. He can't even persuade his manly boy who wakes at seven o'clock Sunday morning, ready for play, to go back to sleep for another hour or two."

Use My Explanations. "What's the matter with you?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to give you a chance, but you mustn't boast in public of the advantages you have enjoyed."

"What can you do?" "I'm looking for work, sir."

"What can you do?" "I'm willing to

W. J. Flood: Pub. and Prop. Issued Every Friday Afternoon $1.50 Per Year 3 Cents Copy FOR SALE BY NEWSBOYS MURPHY BROTHERS THE MAGNELL NEWS CO.

THIS IS IMPORTANT SELECTIVES GIVE HEED There are still appearing additional names to be added to the exemption board's delinquency list. Failure to make proper delivery of the questionnaire automatically places the registrant's name on the delinquent list and by the same process his name is at once placed in Class I.

LATEST THINGS IN LAWSUITS Italian Officer Claimed That He Shot and Got Heavily Injured. The case was heard before Judge J. S. Neill. The officer claimed that he was shot while on duty in London.

REV. J. S. NEILL, PRESIDENT OF ST. MARYS CLUB Refreshments and Social Hour Follow Annual Session The annual meeting of St. Marys Young Men's Club last Saturday evening had a two-fold purpose.

AVOID DEMURRAGE BY UNLOADING CARS AT RECREATION CENTER During the present congested condition the railroad officials are receiving complaints to do work to cooperate with the U. S. Government.

IT WILL SAVE FUEL AT RECREATION CENTER Present fuel shortage throughout the New England states and elsewhere, has caused the amount of coal and electricity used at the Recreation Center to be a matter of great concern.

INDICATIONS POINT VERY STRONGLY TO CONSTANTLY INCREASING COSTS ON MUSLIN UNDERWEAR. PRICES OF COTTON MATERIALS AND ON ACCOUNT OF CURTAILED LABOR IN ALL MANUFACTURING PLANTS.

Such a Flurry in Fine Muslin Underwear Was Never Seen Before As At This Jan. Sale of Ours. INDICATIONS POINT VERY STRONGLY TO CONSTANTLY INCREASING COSTS ON MUSLIN UNDERWEAR.

FOR MEN Showers and swimming pool on Monday, Thursday and Saturday evenings as heretofore, 7:30 p. m. to 10:00 p. m.

FOR WOMEN Showers and swimming pool Tuesday and Friday evenings as heretofore, 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND INCOME TAX The principal feature of the meeting of the chamber of commerce at the Recreation building last Monday was the election of Edgar G. Hellyer as president.

A Good Chance to Save a Dollar BY BUYING THE FAMOUS NEMO "WONDERLIFT" COATS. which are so advanced in price on Monday, February 4th.

Freight Shipments By Rail and Boat To All Concerned: The undersigned Committee on Transportation of the Connecticut State Council of Defense has arranged for the Hartford and New York Transportation Company.

OUT IN MICHIGAN WORSE WEATHER C. Elmore Watkins has returned from a business trip to Grand Rapids, Michigan. On the trip he encountered heavy snow drifts which delayed him over 34 hours.

RELACTIONS WITH GERMANY AFTER WAR A referendum on the subject of relations with Germany after the war was held in the city of New York on Friday, January 19.

ORDER OBEYED Here Practically all the stores in South Manchester were closed last Monday in compliance with the fee saving order which was issued by the United States clerk of the Mississippi.

Wilson-Peterson Ernest Wilson, son of Arthur and Mrs. Wilson of Starkechester street and Miss Julia Peterson of the South side were married at the Sixth Methodist parson last Saturday by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Bask.

Meat or Shucks. Slightly soiled. The best part of cracking butters is that they are never mind if they are not fresh. Never mind if there are some maggots in it, they will be eaten.

Bible Healthier Newdays. The death tolling has been in the larger American cities as recorded 10 per cent since 1910, according to the infant mortality survey just completed by the New York State committee.

PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL REPORT TO SECRETARY OF WAR A copy of the report of Provost Marshal General Crowder to the secretary of war on the first draft upon the selective act of 1917 has been received by the New York State committee.

Connecticut Military Census Proves Its Value to Nation List of Enemy Aliens Made Available to Authorities When Needed—Other Uses to Which Registration Has Been Put.

Government Calls Upon Men Prominent in Work to Aid in Draft Details—First Statement of Results Gained From Survey.

British Subjects Disclosed. In addition, lists of Canadians and subjects of Great Britain have been furnished to the Canadian and British consuls.

Aid in Recruiting. In addition to its value in connection with the draft the census enabled the War Department to secure names of military service and other recruiting agencies lists.

WANTED—You to take up, repair and sell window glass. Any size order to order. Put, paints, etc. Manchester Wall Paper Co., 559 Main Street, 401

50,000 INCOMES WILL BE TAXED IN CONNECTICUT Estimates Made by Collector of Internal Revenue for This District.

MARRIED MEN WHO EARN $2,000 OR MORE A YEAR MUST PAY PAYMENTS COMPUTED ON ANNUAL NET INCOME FOR 1917—LAW WILL BE COMPLETED WITH HEAVY FINE.

ANOTHER "LAST WAR." An interesting illustration of the fact that this present war is not the first one in our country.

RIFE RANGE INDUSTRY BRISK. The rifle range industry has taken on a wonderful impetus all over the city of New York.

WANTED—You to take up, repair and sell window glass. Any size order to order. Put, paints, etc. Manchester Wall Paper Co., 559 Main Street, 401

FUEL COMMITTEE GIVES HINTS ON CHECKING WASTE Householders Urged to Make Careful Study of Heating Problems.

CARELESSNESS NOW MAY RESULT IN WANT LATER People Who Have Plenty of Coal for This Winter's Needs Are Asked to Help the Fuel Conservation Committee.

CHURCH GIVES EVERY MAN. There is a little French church in the heart of Philadelphia which has given to the world the great work of the Rev. R. H. Baskin.

WAR CURBS SUICIDES. Sir Bernard Mollath, registrar general of the British empire, announced recently that suicide had fallen off during the war.

Wanted Glass Eye Back. Paul Gary of Anderson, Ind., is all American, with the exception of a glass eye.

Wanted to Buy Glass Eye Back. Paul Gary of Anderson, Ind., is all American, with the exception of a glass eye.

Wanted to Buy Glass Eye Back. Paul Gary of Anderson, Ind., is all American, with the exception of a glass eye.

USED STRING TO STIR ANGER. Twice Grown in Air, London. Began Explaining Indicated Other Cabinet Members Were Hungry.

"Sea Jitneys" Suggested for Attack on German Bases. Canadian Naval Airplane Fighter, Home to Recover From Straggle. Wounds Express an Opinion.

GERMAN SCHOOLING. German schooling has proved antagonistic to co-operation, although demanding unity of action through mass action.

THE MYSTERY OF LOVE. Love is the great mystery of life. It may be the growth of roses, moonlight or an instant, says the Christian Scientist.

THE MYSTERY OF LOVE. Love is the great mystery of life. It may be the growth of roses, moonlight or an instant, says the Christian Scientist.

THE MYSTERY OF LOVE. Love is the great mystery of life. It may be the growth of roses, moonlight or an instant, says the Christian Scientist.

THE MYSTERY OF LOVE. Love is the great mystery of life. It may be the growth of roses, moonlight or an instant, says the Christian Scientist.

Local Paragraphs

INTERESTING ITEMS BOILED DOWN FOR BUSY READERS

Peter K. Larson has returned from a trip to New York City.

Private John Kerr of Camp Deven spent Sunday at his home on Garden street.

Private John Fitzgerald of Camp Deven spent the week-end with his parents on Barnard place.

The headquarters of Hose Four South Manchester Fire Department on School street is displaying a service flag containing three stars. It was placed in position last week Friday.

The local Knights of Columbus service flag now contains 12 stars. Four were added recently. This badge of honor is displayed at their headquarters on Main street.

King David Lodge of Odd Fellows will install officers this evening. At the conclusion of the ritualistic work light refreshment will be served and a social stirloped.

Ernest G. and Agnes Gagnon sold their two family farms on School street to Guglielmo Bergin of Charter Oak street. Mr. Gagnon's farm was made through the agency of Robert J. Smith.

Last week Friday Scandia Lodge Order of Waa held out a service flag at Tinker Hall containing 12 stars. There are 12 of their young men who have joined the army and are willing to do their bit in favor of the world war for the overthrow of Autocracy and the universal reign of Democracy. Their fellow members here intend to keep green the memory of their brothers in war.

A number of Hartford factories working on war munitions were granted exemptions from the five-day shutting down period ordered by the United States government for last week and this. As a result a considerable number of mechanics from South Manchester were called to their benches and set at work the same as usual. These men will lose no time because of the factory shut down or the Monday holidays included in the order.

Orford Parish Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will hold their meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Hosse. The committee in charge has decided for patriotic reasons, to omit refreshments and trust that all members will prove their loyalty and patriotism by attending.

Special services are being continued in Gospel Hall, Spruce street, Leeds day at 3 p. m., subject, "The Sabbath Day, and the first day of the Week." Also at 7:00 and each week night at 8:00. Preachers, H. G. McKinstry of Philadelphia and J. T. Dickson, day of Belfast.

While passing through Center Park last Saturday, Mrs. James Veitch of Church street, slipped on the ice and falling heavily to the ground broke two ribs. She did not realize the extent of the damage at the time of the accident and did not learn of the broken ribs until last Tuesday. The pain became more and more distressing day by day and she was taken to a physician. Upon examination the broken ribs were discovered.

Howe & Laddor Company No. 4 has hung out a service flag for three of their members who are in the United States service, as follows: John H. Darling, Henry Bickford and Frank A. Edgar.

In letters received in town this week it is stated that Frank Eggert, Robert Brown, William H. Moore and Samuel Hynds four South Manchester men, who recently enlisted with the Canadian forces, are being promoted to the rank of sergeant. Miss Hildur Corneil is the permanent organist of the church, and also leader of the church, chorus, junior chorus and children's chorus. Alfred C. Anderson was elected delegate to the annual N. B. Conference. Adolph Bergton was chosen as alternate.

Don't forget the annual masquerade ball of the St. Marys Young Men's Club at the Chalmers hall, Thursday evening, February 1, -Advt.

Harold Hosse of Hamlin street has secured a position with the Connecticut Trust Company.

Warren Keith has resigned his position as an instructor at the Greenwich academy and is awaiting his call to the colors. He has enlisted in the aviation corps.

Dr. J. L. Bonham has been in Baltimore this week attending the annual reunion of his class at the University of Maryland.

John Noble of Wadsworth street left Tuesday for Fort Stoom, N. Y. to enter the regular army service.

John Boyle of Walnut street fell on the ice last week Thursday evening and broke his collar bone. The lad is 12 years old.

Town Clerk Sanford M. Bonton has resumed his duties at the hall of records after an absence of several weeks. He is in charge of the town's official family in the building.

The large service flag of the South End Lodge of Moose is attracting considerable attention these days. It contains twenty-six stars and is fastened from a window in Foresters hall.

There will be no more open forum meetings under the auspices of the Manchester Single Tax Club until the coal situation is somewhat relieved.

The recently elected officers of the Manchester Tribe of Red Men were installed at a meeting in Tinker hall last Monday evening. District Deputy John J. Doyle and staff of Hartford, were in charge of the ceremony. A snowstorm followed the installation.

The day and evening schools and the state trade school were operated the same as usual during the shutting down period ordered by the U. S. government. There is plenty of coal here to keep the schools warm until "the rubins rest again."

Thomas Fittgenau of Ford street is now chief of a submarine chaser. He took a special course in gas engineering at Columbia University and successfully passed the necessary examinations. He enjoyed a four-day furlough at his home here this week, and is now in the service.

Robert Downey of Boston was a visitor in town this week and was much surprised at the changes which have taken place in South Manchester since he left here eight years ago. Mr. Downey is now the proprietor of a fifty-room hotel in Boston and he says it keeps him busy looking after his interests.

He arrived in town Monday evening and alighted from a Hartford car at Oak street. He said he was taken very much by surprise to find that there was a white way on Main street and would not believe he was in the right place until he looked across the street and saw St. James church and then he was sure he was in the right town. The many business blocks which have arisen since his departure was also a big surprise to him.

In speaking of old times he said he recalled the many mornings he used to heat a hot foot over the Forest street hill in his work in Cheney Brothers mill where he received the "salary" of $1.25 per day and at the same time remarked that "things have changed since those days". He says it is some step from a silk worker to a hotel manager, but the change came around so gradually that he did not notice the transition until it had been completed. Mr. Downey attended a convention of hotel men in New Haven this week and it was while making this return trip to Boston that he decided to visit this place.

Despite his long absence from town he was able to call many former acquaintances by their first names, and to pick them out on the street.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SWEDISH CHURCH The annual meeting of the Swedish Lutheran church on Church street took place last Monday and officers for the ensuing year were chosen as follows: Secretary, A. Theodore Anderson. Deacons, Oscar E. Johnson, John A. Olson.

William Newman, formerly second lieutenant in Company G has been promoted to first lieutenant. Lieutenant Newman was with Company G at the Mexican border and when the company was split up in New Haven before going overseas, he was transferred to Company A of Headquarters. He is married and has a wife and one child who reside in South Manchester.

Moyzihan-Wright ALL PHYSICIANS AS TOWN DOCTORS Dependents Can Have Services of Own Physician

A meeting of the practicing physicians of the town was held last Monday evening and it was voted to accept the offer of the board of selectmen regarding furnishing aid to the town dependents. The physicians, however, do not agree with the selectmen that the medical services should be included with the town doctors of the town furnish to a greater or lesser degree a considerable portion of services to town dependents, but hold out that this last should not be varied to prescriptions. Some weeks ago the selectmen decided to appoint all practicing physicians as "town doctors" to furnish medical treatment to the town dependents. Under this plan a town dependent could have the privilege of calling in his own family physician. In asking the physicians to accept the appointment the selectmen also provided that the physicians should furnish all prescriptions without charge and the physicians take exception to this part of the plan. As a result of the meeting the following letter which they have forwarded to the town fathers:

South Manchester, Conn., Jan 22, 1918. To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Manchester: We, the undersigned physicians of the Town of Manchester, assembled for the purpose of discussing and taking action in regard to a letter received from the Honorable Board of Selectmen, do decide, individually to accept the appointment as town physicians on conditions as per your letter of Jan. 8, 1918.

We do, however, feel that it is unjust to require us to pay for medicines furnished on prescriptions to patients whom we are rendering services free of charge, and especially so when we already furnish a very large part of the medicine to these patients without charge.

We realize that the amount of money involved is small, but feel that it is a matter of principle, and especially so when we already furnish a very large part of the medicine to these patients without charge.

W. H. Tucker, M. D. Dr. J. G. Moore, M. D. T. G. Sloan, M. D. H. W. Nungesser, M. D. Harry R. Sharpe, M. D. R. W. Rice, M. D. N. A. Barr, M. D.

WOODMEN INSTALL AND ALSO ENTERTAIN The installation of officers of South Manchester Camp Modern Woodmen of America took place at Foresters Hall last evening.

The installation was open to the public on invitation and a goodly number who were not members of the order enjoyed the exercises of the evening. An exhibition drill was given by the degree team. The entertainment part of the proceedings took the form of a minstrel overture with the following performers and selections:

Opening Overture - Keep the Home Fires Burning. John Mennie. Goin' Up - Miss Edith Dowd. Mason-Dixon Line - William Dillon. Sweet Evalina - Miss Rosalind Crawford. You'll Remember Me - Miss Edythe Carlisle. Down South Everybody's Happy - Arthur Anderson. Somewhere in France is Daddy - The following quartet, consisting of the chorus: Miss Helen McCarthy, Miss Florence Lewis, Miss Ruby Gardner, Miss Grace Crawford, Miss Ruby Matchett, James Sargent, James Grimson, James Torrance and Charles Barrett.

The minstrel overture was put on under the direction of Herman Monte, who also acted as interactor, and "put it over" in a very satisfactory manner.

Benefit This Evening Orford Hose Co. No. 3 South Manchester, Fire Department will give a moving picture and vaudeville entertainment at the Park theater this evening. An attractive program is to be presented and the public who go there will be well entertained. There are many who will not miss the show for the event and not miss the entertainment.

Uncle Sam's First Fuel Conservation Sign. Keep Your Rooms at 68° Uncle Sam NEEDS it. Save Coal.

South Manchester News

VOL. XXV NO. 49 SOUTH MANCHESTER CONN., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1918

WATKINS BROS. ANNUAL February FURNITURE SALE Started This Friday Morning

By Preparing Far Enough in Advance, We Have Overcome Shipping Delays And The Difficulties Of Getting Furniture Due To Factory Shut Downs, Shortage Of Material, Labor And Advancing Prices, And Are Pleased To Announce That This Semi-Annual Event Looked Forward To By So Many Manchester People Will Occur As Usual. Please Note That There Will Be Only Nineteen Business Days During February On Account Of The Four Monday Holidays. Therefore We Urge You To Do Your Shopping Promptly So That You May Not Be Disappointed Either In Obtaining Things You Want Or In Having Them Delivered At The Time You Want Them.

Dressers $7.98. This is one of the most astonishing values in our sale. Regular size dresser with three drawers and French plate mirror. Sell for $11.75. Now $7.98. Golden oak dresser with shapely top and mirror and divided top drawers. Regular price $18.00. Now $13.75. Golden Oak Chiffoniers with shapely French bevel plate, mirrors and divided top drawers. Regular price $44.00. Eight only. Now $16.75.

Guaranteed Brass Beds $22.95. These beds have 2 1/2 inch construction with five 1 1/4 inch pillars. If bought at today's price would cost you $55.00. At our February furniture sale $22.95. Chamber Suites. Two piece mahogany suite, Adam style consisting of bed and chiffonier. Dresser has been sold and cannot be secured. Regular price for the two pieces $48.00. At our February Furniture Sale $37.50.

Special Cribs $5.98. These cribs are made out of odds and ends left from former sales. Many of the parts used formerly went into the manufacture of a fifteen dollar crib. This crib has the narrow spaced between the spindles and adjustable sides like the very best styles. We are sorry to say we could only buy eight of these and when they are gone there will be no duplicates. See us this week if interested.

4 Piece Jacobean Parlor Suite $69.00. This suite consists of a 3 foot 6 inch sofa in dull mahogany with automatic cushions and chair and rocker to match with library table. Regular price for the four pieces $110.00. At our February furniture sale $69.00. Special Pedestals $2.25. Here is a most substantial pedestal with heavy plank top finished in oak or mahogany. Regular price $3.00. At our February furniture sale $2.25.

Morris Chairs $17.98. Choice of six different styles of adjustable Morris chairs, mostly the famous Royal Oak Boston kind in oak or mahogany frames and upholstered in brown or green velour or a variety of tapestry. Regular price from $21.00 to $28.50. At our February furniture sale $17.98. Genuine Leather Upholstered Easy Chairs $23.75. This chair represents another fortunate purchase made several months ago. These chairs are strictly high-grade throughout and are covered with brown Spanish leather. They sell regularly for $34.00. February sale price $23.75.

3-Piece Upholstered Suite $147.50. This suite consists of a six-foot divan with three loose spring cushions, chair and rocker, all covered in a good quality of tapestry, regular price $185.00. At our February furniture sale $147.50. 3 Special Values in Rugs. The three rugs below represent a very fortunate purchase made last summer. The patterns are all very desirable being almost all plain all-over effects suitable for any room in the house. Plain seamless tapestry Brussels rug, present value $35.00. At our February furniture sale $19.75. Best grade heavy seamless tapestry Brussels rug in a variety of patterns, present value $35.00. At our February furniture sale $23.75. Seamless Wilton velvet rug, present value $75.00. At our February furniture sale $27.75.

Catarrh of Stomach Did Not Know It Nearly Starved PERUNA Made Me Well

SEVERAL WAYS TO SAVE SUGAR WHICH IS YOUR WAY

Present this ad to your doctor and you will be allowed FULL SET $5.00 NO PAIN

The Manchester Directory 1917 EDITION RECENTLY ISSUED

The Herald Printing Co. Publishers

UNCLE SAM'S FIRST FUEL CONSERVATION SIGN

Benefit This Evening Orford Hose Co. No. 3 South Manchester, Fire Department will give a moving picture and vaudeville entertainment at the Park theater this evening.

WATKINS BROS. ANNUAL February FURNITURE SALE Started This Friday Morning

Dressers $7.98. Golden oak dresser with shapely top and mirror and divided top drawers. Regular price $18.00. Now $13.75.

Guaranteed Brass Beds $22.95. These beds have 2 1/2 inch construction with five 1 1/4 inch pillars. If bought at today's price would cost you $55.00.

4 Piece Jacobean Parlor Suite $69.00. This suite consists of a 3 foot 6 inch sofa in dull mahogany with automatic cushions and chair and rocker to match with library table.

Morris Chairs $17.98. Choice of six different styles of adjustable Morris chairs, mostly the famous Royal Oak Boston kind in oak or mahogany frames and upholstered in brown or green velour or a variety of tapestry.

3-Piece Upholstered Suite $147.50. This suite consists of a six-foot divan with three loose spring cushions, chair and rocker, all covered in a good quality of tapestry.

3 Special Values in Rugs. The three rugs below represent a very fortunate purchase made last summer. The patterns are all very desirable being almost all plain all-over effects suitable for any room in the house.

EXAMINE SELECTIVES NEXT MONDAY Persons who have received white cards this week from the Exemption Board, notifying them that under such conditions they have been placed in Class One, Division A, must be at the Recreation building on School street for physical examination next Monday.

CLOSING OUT SALE OF ALL STOCKS OF Women's and Misses Silk and Cotton Waists At Prices That Will Quickly Move Them

RUBINOW'S SPECIALTY SHOP

OVERCOATS at REDUCED PRICES See Coats And Prices In Windows.

Geo. W. Smith Ladies Furs

Reception To Pastor The people of St. Marys parish are to give a reception to their pastor, Rev. J. S. Neill and to his wife next Monday evening.

3-Piece Upholstered Suite $147.50. This suite consists of a six-foot divan with three loose spring cushions, chair and rocker, all covered in a good quality of tapestry.

3 Special Values in Rugs. The three rugs below represent a very fortunate purchase made last summer. The patterns are all very desirable being almost all plain all-over effects suitable for any room in the house.