What is a Branch House?

The Branch House is the place in the packing organization where what the packing plant does for you is put where you can use it.

Both are the natural result of growth and development in the living thing they belong to.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are located in distributing centers all over the country.

Each one is in personal charge of a man who believes in what Swift & Company is doing for people and wants to help do it.

They are directed by men who have spent years learning how to get better meat cheaper to the places where it is needed.

Meat is shipped to the branch houses direct from the packing plants in Swift & Company's refrigerator cars, in such quantities that it can be disposed of while fresh and sweet.

Your meat dealer comes here to buy your meat for you—unless someone else can treat him better than we can.

So you need the branch house in order to live well; and the branch house and the packing plant need each other, in order to be useful to you.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

Advertisement for Crawford Ranges, featuring a large illustration of a range and text describing its features: 'A Million Breakfasts Cooked This Morning on Crawford Ranges. Was Yours One? Among the exclusive Crawford features that have made this range preferred above all others are: A convenient gas end oven, equipped with new and improved gas burner. This burner is instantly adjustable to hold the food at any required distance from the flame without touching the pan, without bending over. It folds away when not in use. Two separate ovens, both large and roomy—one for coal, the other for gas—both are perfect. Five center heat gas burners of a new and efficient type bring the heat directly under the center of utensils without wasting gas. Guarded gas cocks which eliminate danger of accidental opening. Perfection of design and finish, long service and utility. Distinctive Crawford coal ranges—or gas combinations. SOLD BY Watkins Brothers Inc.

WHITE SOX NO MATCH FOR ATHLETICS

In the opening game for the town championship between the Athletics and White Sox on the Adams street grounds last Sunday afternoon the Athletics won an easy victory by a score of 10 to 0. The White Sox were a little bit too anxious and were nervous throughout the game. The season Athletics on the other hand played consistent ball and won several games by breaking in his hitting Slippa and sent in the Sox players to bench on strikes. Tom was also there with the stick getting two safe walks, one of which was for an extra base. The Athletics captured a pitched lineup. Captain Ketchum was laid up by a kick. Brannan was brought in from front-field to cover that station. Brannan accepted his two chances in the service. The Athletics were the first two weeks to play the game and was drafted into playing right field. Cole loomed a long drive into right field in the closing inning which netted him two runs. The proceeds of the game over expenses amounted to $47.00 which was turned over to the Overseas Smoke Fund. The second game in the series was played at Mt. Noho next Sunday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. If the Athletics take this game the series will be brought to a close, but if the White Sox win the series will be changed often, in order that the pen always may be kept. Lack of action in the game will be the result of the various old defenses. If the calves are kept together in a large pen, it is very difficult to feed them by hand unless they are tied. When they are loose the milk often is spilled, and the larger calves get most of the milk. A small paddock or pasture adjoining the calf stables is excellent for this purpose. Except for the very young calves, a short period each day when the weather is not too cold or stormy, the calves are kept together in a large pen it is very difficult to feed them by hand unless they are tied. When they are loose the milk often is spilled, and the larger calves get most of the milk.

Looking Backward Twenty-Five Years

To Happenings Then Recorded in The News
The family of C. D. Cheney returned from York Harbor, Me. Wells W. Cheney was at the Columbian Exposition, Chicago. Charles F. Parsons of Manchester Green was visiting with friends in Livingston, Montana. Byron Darling returned from the World Fair. Clarence S. Watkins was among the numerous people attending the World Fair. Edward L. Taylor told his lively version in Willamantia and returned to South Manchester. Edward Tinker of Los Angeles, California was visiting his brother Dr. W. H. Tinker of South Manchester. Richard Worwick, engraver at the silk mills closed his services with Cheney Brothers. Mrs. Mary Jackson of Winter street died, aged 45 years. A Wells Case of Highland Park started for trial in the far West. Miss Blanche P. Bidwell died, aged 21 years. John Carlson and Miss Mary Johnson were married by Rev. Augustus Olson.

QUARTERS FOR DAIRY CALVES

To Prevent Bumping and Jostling of Young Animals, Small Pens Should Be Provided.
(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Small calves should not be bunched and jostled about. An easy way to prevent this is to provide small pens, not less than four by six feet in size, in each of which a calf may be kept for the first two weeks. These pens should be fitted with feed boxes for grain and racks for hay. After the calf is old enough to walk with them in a larger pen. Stanchions are fixed on one side of the pen to provide for the separate feeding of the calves, so as to insure that each receives its proper care. Racks for hay should also be provided for the calves. Two much emphasis cannot be laid upon the necessity of having light, dry quarters for the calves. Bedding always should be abundant and should be changed often, in order that the pen always may be kept. Lack of action in the game will be the result of the various old defenses. If the calves are kept together in a large pen, it is very difficult to feed them by hand unless they are tied. When they are loose the milk often is spilled, and the larger calves get most of the milk.

WILLARD B. ROGERS THANKS FRIENDS

Willard B. Rogers, successful nominee for selectman and for representative to the state legislature at the direct primary here last Tuesday, took occasion yesterday to express his appreciation to the friends who had so generously and enthusiastically supported him.
The widespread interest in the result of the primary was shown in the attendance at the voting on Tuesday evening when the results were being tabulated on the machines. The first voting machine showed that the "big four" were counted in the nomination and also that Arthur E. Bowers, William C. Cheney and Howard J. Taylor were practically sure of their nomination. George Davidson and George E. Keith, the other candidates for selectman were seen to be running hard.

Poland Now Has Opportunity to Strike Off Her Shackles

Poland Now Has Opportunity to Strike Off Her Shackles.
Every Pole, and there are many thousands of Americans of Polish descent, knows Prussia is the hereditary enemy of Poland. Ever since the tenth century, when the Polish king, Boleslaw, known as the Brave, was forced to abandon his territories from the legend of the Polish people, that Poland has been completely a part of Prussia today. Poland existed, at the end of this world war, only as a puppet state in the hands of Prussia, Austria and Russia.
The Prussian government, in the early part of the present century that Prussia united with the elector of Brandenburg. All Prussian alliances have been offensive purposes, and this early alliance with the Hohenzollern family marked the first determined effort by Prussia to dominate the world. Prussia, under the Hohenzollern family of Prussia that Saxony, Bavaria, Austria and the old Russia engaged in secret treaties and alliances that eventually brought about the murder of the true estate aristocracy.
The murder of a state took place under Frederick the Great. The one king of Prussia in the world, the son of the present Wilhelm II, did more than any other Prussian king to embroil Europe in war in the name of his own people's political aims and the enlargement of its territory. Wilhelm II, direct line of the Hohenzollern family, is today no more kindly disposed toward the Poles than was his crafty and suspicious ancestor, the great George I. Poland; and Wilhelm II has no more intention of giving the Poles a free political and national freedom than did Frederick the Great when he robbed them of their precious heritage.
The Prussian government engaged in a war against this line of disturbers of the peace of Europe, these Hohenzollern plotters against the Polish people. The Prussian government has pledged this nation to an autonomy of Poland. The thousands of Polish people who have been driven out of their homes and who have been subjected to centuries of oppression, have devoted their lives to the cause of democracy. They are now in a position to do service toward the cause of freedom and democracy.

THAT TOWN BUDGET GIVEN IN FULL

TAXPAYERS MAY STUDY SAME AND SEE WHAT IS AHEAD

Estimates Made By Selectmen For Probable Running Expenses During Coming Year—Items Will Be Carefully Discussed at Annual Town Meeting

Selectman Howard I. Taylor and George H. Waddell, clerk of the board of selectmen have completed the summary of estimates and income for the town budget which will be printed in the annual town report. The tables show increased appropriations in many of the town departments for the coming year. These appropriations will be submitted at the annual town meeting and the table is printed herewith for the perusal of the taxpayers.

The net cost of each appropriation for the fiscal year just closed and the amount estimated as needed for the requirements during the coming year are given. The selectmen are not recommending any tax rate this year. The rate of taxation will be automatically fixed when the appropriations are made at the annual town meeting. In other words, as soon as the taxpayers make an appropriation at the annual meeting a rate sufficient to cover all appropriations goes into effect.

It will be noted that in the estimates for the coming year is an item calling for $10,714.56, which is a deficit from the year just closed and which will have to be provided for at the annual town meeting. This was due in large part to additional appropriations made by a special town meeting held during the early summer, and was a matter over which the Board of Selectmen has no control. The estimates are somewhat higher than was called for a year ago and may mean that a high rate of tax will be necessary unless some of the appropriations are reduced. The figures follow:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Charities, Cemeteries, Memorial Day, Highway, Main Street, Grade, Oiling, Walks and Curbs, Parks, Tree Wad and Spraying, Lights, Police, Schools, Memorial Day, Building Inspector, Taxes, Hall and Hall of Records, Miscellaneous, Way Fund, Child Welfare, Deficit in Appropriations last year.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Total of Selectmen's orders, Paid directly by Town Treasurer, County Commissioners, Conn. River Bridge, Bond Payment, Interest, Day Tax, 75 per cent Paid State, 8th Dist. Stock, 9th Dist. Stock, Tax, So. Man. Fire Dist., Military Tax, State Tax, Library, Town Court, Total Disbursements, Balance.

INCOME

Table with 3 columns: Item, 1917, 1918. Includes Bal. Cash, Money Due, Dog Licenses, Dog Licenses un-expended, Dog tags, Peddlers Licenses, Pool Room, Licenses, Liquor Licenses, Court Orders, Int. on Deposits, State Penalty, Tax, Stock Tax, State Common, Schools, State Evening, School's, State Super-vision, State, Ninth Dist., South Windsor, Antitoxin, Selectmen's Cash, State and County expense for Forest Fire, Town Deposit, Fund, F. T. Blish, Personal Tax, Town Tax.

Changed Occupation

Oliver Minor of Highland Park entered the employ of the U. S. Railroad administration at the East Hartford car shop yesterday. Mr. Minor used to carry the Highland Park mails. Lately this task has devolved upon John J. McCann. Mr. Minor meanwhile conducted a taxicab business. The recent order of the fuel administration prohibiting automobile joy riding on Sundays left Mr. Minor with a considerable portion of his patronage gone. Sunday was his harvest day. In this dilemma he turned his attention to the car shops.

No Damage Done

A light frost visited some of the valleys in this section Tuesday night, but in so far as leaved at this office no serious damage was inflicted upon growing crops. The selectmen are of the opinion that if the performance might be repeated Wednesday night with more intensity. Luckily clouds intervened and averted the destroying agency. There are many acres of corn, general garden and farm produce which would have been destroyed by a killing frost. It is now hoped that the danger is passed and that the maturing of the crops will be permitted to advance to full ripeness without the intervention of any destructive agency whatsoever.

Large Tobacco Crop

The tobacco growers in the Connecticut Valley have housed the largest crop of the season ever seen in this section. Enormous prices are also being paid. It comes about that the farmers are abundantly able to pay high wages for workers in their fields and still have a handsome margin of profit for themselves. The laborer is surely worthy of his hire and should be rewarded as greatly as circumstances permit.

Show Is Starving

The autumn leaves are beginning to put forth their fall colorings and soon will be adorning the forests and fields with their varying and attractive hues. There is a small oak shrub in James W. Chesney's lawn, nearly opposite the bark which is growing in all the crimson beauty of fully decolorated autumn foliage. It stands alone in a field of neutral green, and although small, and nestling at the base of a lofty and wide spreading sturdy oak, it shows its colors most attractively to the admiring gaze of all who, having eyes see such things. Many there are who do not ever stop to look upon or admire the beauty of the autumn foliage. Nevertheless, they are well worthy of the most ardent admiration of every lover of the beautiful in nature.

Likes Soldier Life

Alwyns and James Campbell came down from Camp Devens last Saturday for a week-end visit at their homes on Locust street. They had returned Sunday evening. Alwyns is feeling fine and hearty and is becoming accustomed to the life of a soldier. Furthermore, he is learning to like it. He finds that his bodily vigor is greatly stimulated, and that his powers of endurance are amazingly increased, that he is capable of performing vastly more physical work than ever before. The outdoor life has a lure for him and he clearly sees its benefits. This is the experience of practically every soldier from South Manchester with whom we have spoken.

SOLDIERS LETTER FROM A STAVNISKY

Formerly Employed With Madden Brothers

Hello— I just got my second knock and they gave us forty-eight hours rest so I thought it would be a good time to let you know where I am. I would have written sooner but they don't give us much time. They keep us on the go about eight hours a day but that's nothing hard. A few exercises and drilling are just what a fellow wants if he has a pair of good legs and arms. I went up looking for the Manchester boys Saturday night, September 7 but could not locate them. I see by the papers that some of them were sent up here but I could not find them. Chances are they had them under guard somewhere. I know when we got in we couldn't go anywhere. Excuse my writing as I am no writer.

I suppose the town is getting dazed every day. They're coming in here like a bunch of bees and going out just as fast. Shipped 2,000 last week and there are about double that many getting ready for another shipment—all "shiners", "biggers" you know, but that's what we all call them up here. Well the whole lot for mess will blow soon so I will close and get this letter to the post office. It seems to me that I am on my vacation—nothing to it. Best regards to all I know. A Stavnisky.

INSULT TO SOLDIER HOTLY RESENTED

Some one created trouble at the primary last Tuesday afternoon by making uncomplimentary remarks about Sergeant John Pentland who is on detached duty in this country at present and was visiting in town. Sergeant Pentland was enjoying the pleasure of automobile in one of the machines used by the "big four". Some of the political opponents of this faction did not like the looks of a soldier riding in a car of the opposition and it was decided to make a scene. The man who was very friendly with Sergeant Pentland made an effort to find the source of the remarks, but without success. He however made some threatening remarks to another of the political office seekers and it looked for a few minutes as though things were to be messed up a bit. No shots were fired and no bodily harm was done, but it is very probable that the remarks will not be forgotten and when the boys come home from overseas the incident will be used against those who started the mix-up.

Holloran Brothers ambulance, which was badly scorched in the fire which destroyed the Holloran garage again, apparently now the worse for the experience. For nineteen days the ambulance was in Peter A. Baldwin's paintshop on South Main street. The entire body of the ambulance was badly scorched and it was necessary to paint and varnish the whole outfit inside and out. The body is now a shining gray, while the frame work around the windows is finished in natural wood color. In fitting up the ambulance Mr. Baldwin had to sidetrack much of his other work in order that the ambulance might be placed in commission as soon as possible.

THE WOMAN'S PART

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGON

Perhaps because my life has been very much occupied with children and their various needs and interests, the child always looms large in my horizon—the child—that brings hope with it, and forward looking thoughts.

God knows how many war babies bring fear with them in place of hope, and the "forward-looking thoughts" must often be fraught with misgiving. One thing is certain, however, that though individual mothers here and there must of necessity have hearts laden with doubts of the immediate future, there never was a time when child life ought to be so carefully protected, nourished, guarded, and guided.

This is presently woman's part! Not her only one, for she is proving again and again her ability to take a man's work when he is needed, and to do it with an unexpected strength and skill and staying power. There are few things left indeed, that she cannot do, and her activities might be practically boundless were it not for the fact that in the shuffle of the sexes men cannot get their feet out from under the womanhood and become mothers!

What Women Are Doing. A great many of our tasks are performed as they are being done here in the background, though we are more or less dragged into the limelight of responsibility now and then. I almost hope that we shall not be kept in the office. It seems to me that I am on my vacation—nothing to it. Best regards to all I know. A Stavnisky.
