BOARD OF HEALTH VERY GRATEFUL

Dr. D. G. Y. Moore, president of the Board of Health requests the News to express through its columns the appreciation of that body for the excellent cooperation given by the public during the epidemic of influenza which wrought so much distress and suffering and death in this community. The board notes the fact that the public complied with every request. It did not become necessary to issue a single order. A simple appeal met in every instance with cheerful compliance. The board feels that this cooperation did much to curb the epidemic and restrict its disastrous operations. It was not necessary to call in any outside doctors. The local physicians buckled on their armor and braced their loins to the strenuous tasks set before them. It was a matter of heroic sacrifice upon the part of the doctors to meet as best they could the numerous calls made upon them, but they arose to the situation in every instance. They gave the public the best attention possible under the very trying circumstances.

The board of health therefore desires to express its appreciation of the very great assistance given in this effort by Cheney Brothers, the Red Cross, the men and women who gave their services as nurses, or nurses assistants, as orderlies, as operating the community kitchen, as doing household work for those who had none to do it for them, and for every person who in any way did his bit for the alleviation of suffering and the general welfare of the community.

Dr. Moore requests that visitations to the Emergency Hospital be restricted as much as possible to near relatives and not more than one or two of these at any single time. The space at the Emergency Hospital is greatly limited and the cooperation of the public is asked in this important particular.

MAILING XMAS PACKAGES FOR ARMY NOT FOR NAVY

Hundreds of persons who misinterpreted the regulations concerning the mailing of Christmas packages to soldiers overseas have been calling daily at Red Cross headquarters inquiring about the Christmas labels distributed to the men in the Expeditionary Forces.

to everyone, the Atlantic Division of the American Red Cross, today issued a statement setting forth that the Red Cross has no part in the issuance of these labels.

The War Department has arranged the system for distributing the labels. They are supplied to the soldiers in France and in no other way. Commanding officers give them to the men. The soldiers are ordered to address them to themselves and then mail them to the one person in the country from whom they wish to receive gifts.

In no other way is it possible to get labels. Contrary to the seemingly general idea, the Red Cross has no supply of them and will receive none.

If a person has received no label, but wishes to forward a gift to a man in France, he must find the sole possessor of the label sent to this country by that man. It is possible that the local chapter can aid in the search, if the label was sent to a person in his town, but in no other way can the organization be of assistance.

The local chapter's responsibility begins when the label is brought to its office. Then it will give out a carton. After the carton has been filled and returned, it will inspect the contents and see that it is wrapped correctly. The organization will then forward the package to the transportation point for shipment overseas, the sender paying the postage.

The Red Cross has announced that it is following War Department and Post Office Regulations in handling the Christmas packages. The rules must be obeyed to the letter. No infringement, however trivial, can be permitted, and infringement of the rules will probably lead to the sacrifice of the parcel itself.

The Red Cross also announces that it has no jurisdiction concerning packages for the Navy department. These packages are not to be inspected by the Red Cross. All express parcels for the Navy should be addressed to the Supply Base, Twenty-ninth street and Third Avenue, South Brooklyn, N. Y.

Vote for Bowers
If there is one reason more than another why voters of Manchester should see to it that Mr. E. Bowers is elected senator, it is that he is already working for the interests of the people of Manchester. For the last five years Mr. Bowers has given his time to the various causes which have helped to make Manchester a better place of abode. Every cent he has earned in the way of salary from the town or state has been given to worthy causes. He has earned promotion and is entitled to the vote of every thinking man in the Fourth Senatorial district.

Local Paragraphs
James Kilpatrick, the Charter Oak street blacksmith, was able to get out of doors Sunday for the first time in two weeks. He was very weak. The day was so warm that he ventured out in the sunshine and staid out for a short time. He could not stand or walk long or far, because of the weakness of his legs. He had been starving during the period of his illness and earnestly longed for the return of the time when he would be permitted to eat a satisfactory meal.

We Must Keep the Home Bright and Cheery

When you think of "our boys over there" living under all the discomforts of war, footsore and weary—what most home men to them even though it is far away? Each man bears in his mind a picture of the home he left and time and again he urns to it as the end of his task draws nearer.

We should not let the home run down while he is away, but rather replace and renew the home furnishings, and write him letters filled to the brim with the things we are doing in preparation to his homecoming, which is the greatest pleasure of his life and we must be ready.

Fifteen Applications

Lieutenant William Whitney, of the regular army, who has been in town for the past few days looking for recruits for the officers training camp at Camp Fremont, Ok., closed his office at the town hall last evening. Before going he appeared before the meeting of the board of selectmen and thanked the town fathers for the many courtesies extended him. He left town this morning at 6:30 for Williamsport, where he will open a recruiting office. He will go from Williamsport to Worcester and then to Webster. He is to report at the Boston headquarters on November 20. Lieutenant Whitney said last evening that he had received fifteen applications from local young men who are desirous of joining the officers training course. He expected more application to be mailed to him today. He says that there are several candidates from Manchester who will probably be chosen, although he could not state positively how many would be called. The matter has been referred to the Boston headquarters and applicants will next hear from Boston as to whether they are accepted or not.

Dr. Thomas H. Weldon and Mrs. Weldon have returned from a few days at Crescent Beach. The doctor sought a few days respite from his strenuous duties caused by the influenza epidemic in this place. He was kept busy for a time almost day and night and did very good work in caring for the influenza patients in this place.

WAR DISPATCH FROM WASHINGTON AT NOON TODAY

The German envoys have been passed through the French lines and are now in conference with Marshall Foch and other representatives of the Allies. Washington says that a decision must be reached within 72 hours. This may probably continue the conference over to Monday. The question of the German navy situation is a stumbling block. It is declared that Revolutionists have taken control of that arm of the German war forces.

We celebrated the ending of the world war yesterday afternoon and last evening and just because the war hasn't ended it will be necessary to do the job over again. Yesterday noon when the news came from Hartford that the war would end at two o'clock, it was quickly flashed throughout the town. The local telephone exchange was besieged with calls and the operators made a heroic effort to meet the demands but despite their best efforts this could not be done. Hundreds of calls for Hartford were put in but there was considerable delay in serving them owing to the enormous demands made for the service.

Notable Speakers, Community Singing, Band Music—All for Well of Our Fighting Men—Town's Quota of $60,000 Should Be Raised Quickly

Again the town is placarded with appeals for funds with which to carry on the war work of the seven big organizations interested in the welfare of our fighting men and the townspeople will have an opportunity of contributing to this worthy work in the United War Work campaign which will open throughout the country next Monday morning and continue for one week. This town, through its executive committee, has been working on the plans for the local drive for some weeks, and while other people have been pursuing their business and social activities these workers have been striving to get everything in readiness for the opening of the campaign. The campaign will get a boost this evening at the high school assembly hall where a monster rally will be staged. There will be speaking by men of national reputation, there will be community singing and the Salvation Army Band has offered its services tonight.

WANTS BOARD OF HEALTH APPOINTMENTS CHANGED

At the meeting of the board of selectmen last evening Dr. D. C. Y. Moore, chairman of the board of health made a timely suggestion as to the appointment of members of the board of health, which found favor with the selectmen. Dr. Moore would have the board of health a continuing body of at least two members of the board. He suggested that when the board of health be named for next year one member have a three-year term one a two-year term and one be chosen for a single year. Yearly thereafter he would have one member appointed for a three-year term. In this way there would be at least two members of the board who had previous experience with the workings of the health department. In order to do this it will be necessary to have legislative action and it is probable that the matter will be brought before the incoming legislature. The selectmen have voted to pay J. R. Foster of Porter street $3 on account of the killing of a female rabbit by a dog.

The highway committee of the board of selectmen are considering raising the pay of the highway employees. It is reported that laborers and teamsters are being paid higher wages elsewhere than prevail in the highway department here and it is difficult to get workers at the wages the town is paying.

Americanization Rally

The Americanization rally held at High School assembly hall last Sunday afternoon was well attended and proved to be a fine success. A procession having the Italian band in line marked the gathering of the clans. A detachment of the Home Guard served as color bearers carrying flags of America, Great Britain, France and Italy. The parade was divided into three groups, Italian Poles and Lithuanians. Costumes of the several nationalities were worn in the parade. Mrs. Florence Hillsburg was in charge of the meeting. Patriotic songs of America and of the Allied countries were sung. Superintendent F. A. Verplank delivered the principal address. Speakers in the several foreign tongues were also heard.

Get Together Social

Last Friday evening a large number of persons assembled at the Recreation center and enjoyed a social of the get-together sort. It was intended as an introductory for the big drive which is being made by teams of the United War Work Campaign. Addresses were made by Director William H. Whiting, by William C. Chaney, and by Edward F. Taylor chairman of the United War Work Campaign Drive. Music was furnished by an orchestra. There were vocal soloists and the festivities concluded with dancing. The event as a whole was a fine success. Mr. Taylor explained that the purpose of this effort is to collect at least $50,000 in this town for the Y. M. C. A., the National Catholic War Council—K. of C., the Jewish

Welfare Board, the Salvation Army, the American Library Association, the War Community Service and the Y. W. C. A. There is a total of $170,000,000 to be collected in this drive all over the United States. Of this our town is to have $100,000,000 and the other six bodies the remainder, in such proportion as their respective needs require. The big drive is to be an November 11-15.

Trolleys Come Together

During the excitement of the celebration last evening two trolley cars met head on at Linden and Main streets, but fortunately no one was seriously hurt. The cars were running off schedule and the Hartford car which left the South terminus at 7:45 was followed by a trailer. After the regular car passed the crossover car came down the hill before in trailer had arrived at the Center. The street was thronged with people and there were many automobiles on the street. An accident of the trolleys the motorman evidently did not notice the second trolley car until it was too late and they came together. Several of the passengers were injured by broken glass and had their wounds treated by local surgeons. The mishap further tended to delay traffic.

Salvation Army Notes

Captain Ernest D. Higgins and wife have been appointed to take command of the Hartford corps. Salvation Army and a reception to the new officers was held at the Salvation Army headquarters on Tremball street, Hartford last Sunday evening. Lieutenant William S. Adley, formerly of the local Salvation Army corps, has been appointed as assistant to Captain and Mrs. Higgins. There is to be opened a new Salvation Army hall in Hartford and the new officers are to have charge of same. Brigadier William Andrews of Hartford is the divisional officer for this district. The other new officers for the Hartford corps are: The Salvation Army Training College in New York City last year. Lieutenant Adley is a native of Ireland and has been engaged in Salvation Army work 17 years in Ireland and America. He claims South Manchester as his home town. His brother, David Adley, was deputy headmaster of the local corps, Salvation Army, but he is now in training with the Naval Reserves at Pelham Bay, N. Y.

The many friends of Lieutenant Adley are congratulating him on his appointment at the Capitol City of Connecticut. He is in close touch with the local corps and will be able to visit back and forth at will. He will be always welcome here and will send a warm spot in the hearts of South Manchester Salvationists, as well as to those of many other who are not members of the army.

RESOLUTIONS

JOSEPH W. FLOOD, GEORGE E. HUNT, FRANK A. MONTIE, Committee on Resolutions, South Manchester, Conn., November 1, 1918.

Bellini Taylor Reed, son of R. M. Reed of Main and Charter Oak streets came down from Cambridge, Mass. election day on a voting furlough. It so chanced that the young man was not in a position to be made a voter when the time for that duty arrived. Although he could not vote, he accepted the opportunity to visit his home in South Manchester. He is presently located at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he is a student in the Naval Aviation branch of study. He served in the Naval Reserves and has been across the Atlantic on convoy duty several times. His chances for advancement are likely to be enhanced by the opportunities for study which are now being placed at his disposal. Dr. T. G. Sloan and family are one of town for the remainder of the week.

"Flu" May Come Back

Miss Florence Lytle of Eldridge street is suffering from a second attack of influenza. There is a general belief that one having had an attack of this dread disease may not have a renewal of the disturbance. This is evidently not the case. Immunity from the scourge is not obtained by having passed safely through one assault. This being proven true it behooves persons to do all they can to avoid exposure to the complaint. People should avoid as much as is practicable entering homes where the disease prevails. Too close contact with persons who are recovering from the "flu" should also be avoided. It is an established fact that a person having but a slight attack of the "flu" may impart to another a case that may prove fatal. The physical condition of the person visited by the scourge has much to do with chances of throwing it off or recovering. Then too the complications which arise vary in as many different cases and forms as there are persons assailed. All in all it is the part of prudence for everyone to exercise the most care possible to maintain the general health condition at as high a standard as possible, and to take early measures to combat the disease as soon as it is suspected or at conditions present themselves which are generally attributed to the "flu". It is better to be over cautious than indifferent. Avoid exposure rather than run the danger. If by taking these precautions one averts the malady, all the better.

Dinner for Selectives

The local selectives who are to leave next Friday for Garden City, N. Y. will be given a God-speed dinner at St. Marys parish house next Wednesday evening at six o'clock. There are 12 men on the list. O. E. Toop will have charge of the mess tent that evening and will be assisted by a corps of willing workers who will serve the departing soldiers with good things to eat. This contingent of departing selectives comprises all those remaining from Class One, as of June 5, 1917, and of June 5, 1918, except such Class One men as have been given deferred classifications. David Hubbard, chairman of the citizens committee, will make arrangements to provide suitable entertainment for the occasion. Speakers will be secured and the general arrangements will be in keeping with plans carried out heretofore for these God-speed dinners to departing selectives. Necessary kits and other equipments will be supplied the departing soldiers as heretofore. They will be made to know that they have the hearty and substantial backing of their friends here at home and will be prepared for departure with a cheery word, heavy handshake and a smile of approval and admiration.

"Ben Hur"

Hon. J. Wilder Fairbanks will present his famous entertainment entitled "Ben Hur, in Picture, Song and Story," at the North Methodist church next Wednesday evening, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. Admission is placed at 25 cents and tickets for the entertainment are now on sale. This is said to be an entertainment that is meeting with much approbation by press and public wherever presented. Persons who are familiar with the world's popular story of "Ben Hur" will be privileged to have the stirring scenes of that great "Tale of the Christ, presented in pictures, song and story. It promises to be an entertainment of rare merit. Recent views of the Holy Land will be shown.

Corporal Raymond D. Mahoney of the 8th Battalion, 1st Depot Brigade, Camp Devens, has been advanced to the rank of sergeant. Sergeant Mahoney is the son of Captain and Mrs. Mahoney of Walnut street. He is one of four brothers of the Mahoney family now in the service of the United States.

Private J. Hampton died of pneumonia in France, September 10. An official telegram has just been received by the young soldier's father, William Hampton, 11st Depot street, bringing information of the untimely taking away of the young man as noted above. He was a member of the Military Police.

Asst. Chas. Wolf of South Manchester, who has been employed by the Norfolk, Va., where he has entered an Officers Training School for the Heavy Artillery. Fred A. Johnson of Backus street accompanied him on the trip. Mr. Johnson was employed as a draftsman with Cheney Brothers. Both young men hope to qualify for commissions as officers in the Heavy Artillery. Mr. Johnson was a member of Yale Battery, and was an inspector of small arms, with the rank of captain. He also held the rank of lieutenant in Troop B.

Looking Backward Twenty-Five Years

To Happenings Then Recorded in The News

James Crooks was having a blacksmith shop built at Backland corner. Patrick Clane entered the employ of James M. Burke as a grocery clerk. Patrick Gorman had a gang of men laying cobble gutters on Garden street. Major Charles Cheney served as inspecting officer of the Home Guard companies of South Manchester of Hartford and New Britain. George Rich traded his bay station, York, Jr., for George H. Allen's gray mare, Kate Holston. Thomas F. Aikin placed a Greenwood hot air furnace in the residence of Judge Olin B. Wood. William J. Burke opened a pool room in T. O'Gorman's brick block on Charter Oak street. Rev. W. J. Doolan, pastor of St. Bridget's church was making arrangements to conduct a church festival during Thanksgiving week. Miss Annie Ellison opened dressmaking parlors on the ground floor, west side of T. O'Gorman's brick block on Charter Oak street. The Knitting mill at Manchester Green started up on three-quarters time. Owing to general business depression the mill had been shut down. John and Thomas Gorman opened a confectionery store in the Childs block on School street. Funeral services for Mrs. W. S. Berk were held at the residence and burial was at the East cemetery. Rev. J. M. Taber of the South Methodist church officiated. Mrs. Taber, soprano, Miss Belle Smith, alto, Ezra Kendall, tenor and Louis Montgomery, bass sang "Book of Ages" and "Reckoning Book". The bearers were Fred and Bert Goss, E. T. and George W. Ferris. Manager F. Ernest Watkins opened the Army Opera House on Wells street with the popular comic opera, "The Mikado". It was capably presented by "The Hartford Ideal Opera Company", in the presence of a large and appreciative audience. Mrs. S. J. Hastings of Bolton was preparing to open a bakery and lunch room at Spruce and Birch streets. A sewer water motor was installed at St. James church on Spruce street, died at Willwood Saturday night. She was a native of Italy, 33 years old. Besides her husband she leaves three children. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at St. James church. Burial was in St. James cemetery.

Letter Carrier Ernest Anderson, who is presently a private at Camp Devens came to town Tuesday for the purpose of casting his ballot at the general election. He was cordially greeted by many friends. Pasquale Vendrille, proprietor of the Popular Barber Shop in the Magell building has been on the sick list this week and for a few days his shop was closed. He is feeling much better now and is back on the job again. Private James Schaub of Camp Devens spent a few days in town this week. He passed safely through an attack of Spanish influenza at the camp, but is very weak physically. Miss Minnie Peterson of Ridge street entertained the members of the Durus Society of the Swedish Lutheran church at her home last Wednesday evening. At a meeting of the selectmen last evening the board gave its approval to the extension of the street lighting system to the new streets which Cheney Brothers have opened on the west side of the town. The extension calls for the addition of nine new lights.

Obituary

MISS ANN KEATING Mrs. Ann Keating, 78 years old, a resident of Manchester for sixty-five years, died Saturday night at the home of her niece, Mrs. John Cairns of Middle township, with whom she has lived for many years. She was born in Ireland, coming to this country when a girl of 15 years and early in her life entered the employ of the family of Frank Cheney, Sr. She continued in the employ of that family until she went to live with Mrs. Cairns, as heath Mrs. Michael Carney, also lived with Mrs. Cairns. Besides her sister she leaves two nieces. The funeral was held at St. James church Monday morning at nine o'clock with burial in St. Bridget's cemetery.

MRS. MARY LUBECK Mrs. Mary Lubeck, wife of Anthony Lubeck of Spruce street, died at Willwood Saturday night. She was a native of Italy, 33 years old. Besides her husband she leaves three children. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at St. James church. Burial was in St. James cemetery.

Pelle's McEvitt of Walnut street has entered the Officers Training school for his artillery at Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky. He is a graduate of the South Manchester High School and of Trinity College. He has been employed as construction engineer. For some time past he has been engaged by the W. F. Keurss Company at Boston, Mass., in the construction of a $20,000,000 army supply base.

Power of the Buzzard The power of the buzzard to sail through the air for long periods with little or no apparent movement of the wings is due to its expanse of the wing surface. Birds with smaller wing make up for this by rapidity of the motion of the wings.

Explained. "Willie—'What caused the row between Bump and his wife?' Gills—'They went out to a theater last night and Bump hired a taxi to take them home. When the driver asked him where to make up for this by rapidity of the motion of the wings.'"

What They Left Behind. We know of a lot of men who didn't leave much behind them in the way of actual cash. They accumulated but they did leave families rich in the memories of the happiness they had while they were alive.

Alfred C. J. Williams 38 Allyn street Hartford, Conn. Mrs. John Egan of Birch street is recovering from an attack of Spanish influenza. Her case was taken early and necessary measures were employed to stay the advance of the dread epidemic. Her daughter is a trained nurse at the St. Francis hospital. She was released temporarily for the purpose of caring for her mother. This she did effectively. Mrs. Egan is now considered to have passed safely through the crisis and is on the road to recovery. She is fortunate to have made such a good record.

Private Stephen Foley came down from Camp Devens to spend the week-end with relatives here. He returned Monday evening.

How your boys changed Peaceville

IT was just a quiet little city in the Middle West a few months ago. Let's call it Peaceville, because it was just like dozens of other cities before the war came along and changed them overnight.

In normal times, Peaceville's population was about 10,000. Life ran smoothly and there was plenty of leisure for everybody.

Then came the war. And with it came a camp of 50,000 men at the very outskirts of Peaceville. Soon the soldiers came pouring into town—20,000 at a time—looking for something to do.

Every hotel, every restaurant, every candy store, every movie show, the one small theatre—all these put up the "Standing Room Only" sign. The sidewalks and the streets were packed. The men were on leave, entitled to have a good time, and there was nowhere to go!

A call went out from Peaceville—a call for help. It went to one of these organizations which called in some of the others and shoulder to shoulder they went to work.

And look at Peaceville now! See the Soldiers' Clubs, the cafeterias, the sanitary barber shops, the information booths, the homes where soldiers are invited to come for dinner, the good theatrical attractions free to men in uniform, the dances where the nicest girls in town can meet the boys upon a wholesome, friendly ground.

See the hostess houses at the camps where the mothers, fathers, sisters and sweethearts can meet their boys in surroundings that seem like home.

See the way the automobile owners give a lift to every man they meet upon the road. Go to entertainments organized and sponsored by the churches and civilian clubs and fraternal societies and public institutions. See how profiteering has been run clear out of Peaceville.

Up and down this country, wherever troops are gathered in the great cantonments, this problem of Peaceville is being met. Even in the biggest cities where a few thousand soldiers more or less hardly seem to make much difference, this work has been and is quietly going on—to find diversion for the men on leave, to open up the great big heart of cities, to organize their hospitality.

This problem of morale begins at home. Right at our doors our fighters must be started right. Morale will hasten victory. Give, to let these organizations help your boy every step of the way from home to battle-line and back again.

Such Women Just Have to "Give Up"

"Man may work from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done." That's why women are overworked, nervous, all run down, no appetite, and can "hardly drag around." Vinol creates a hearty appetite, strengthens the digestive organs, induces sound sleep, invigorates the nerves, and in this natural manner creates working strength.

"I was all run-down, back ached, and tired all the time. I kept house for my husband and four children and could hardly keep around. Finally I tried Vinol and it has restored my health and helped me wonderfully. I recommend it to others who are in this condition." Mrs. Hannah Randall, Jacksonville, Ill.

NATIONAL ELECTION TOOK PLACE TUESDAY

REPUBLICANS CARRIED EVERY CONTEST HERE BY SUBSTANTIAL MAJORITIES

Differences At Primary Set Aside among Republicans by Mutual Agreement—"Wets" Not To Be Appeared Showed Their Hand—Apparent In Vote

The national election took place here last Tuesday without any undue excitement of any sort. Activity among politicians was reduced to a minimum. The only candidate in evidence pushing his campaign was Dr. Edward G. Dolan, Democratic candidate for representative. He stood near the entrance to the town hall grounds all the day long, greeted voters with a cheery smile, passed out cards introducing himself and asking electors to vote for him if they could. His efforts were rewarded by receiving an unusually large vote from the stand point of a Democrat in this rock-ribbed Republican stronghold. There were but two Democratic candidates on the entire ticket here who received as many votes under competition as Dr. Dolan. These were Augustine Lonergan, Democratic candidate for representative in Congress from the First Connecticut district, and Olooff F. King, Democratic candidate for the Fourth Senatorial district in the Connecticut Legislature.

It was to be expected that Congressman Lonergan would "lead the rest" on the Democratic ticket here, because of his well known popularity, his efficient service as congressman for two terms, and his undying and never failing faithfulness and dependability with and among his friends. Congressman Lonergan was absolutely true to his friends. He recognizes their needs after election as well as before. He never hesitates to give them a favor if it is within his power to grant it. He is an indefatigable worker and sticks closely to the tasks which the exalted office brings to him. These are some of the reasons why he is always assured of a large complimentary vote in his constituency.

The morning started raw and chilly, but later the sun shone most of the day. The polls opened at six o'clock in the morning. The contest was given over to the voters, and they came to vote and also to reach their places of employment in time. The Connecticut Company held therolley cars back for a few minutes in each case during the time of the election, thus enabling the voters to register

Knoffa-Gallagher: Albert F. Knoffa of Middle turnpike and Mrs. Ethel Gallagher, daughter of Arthur and Mrs. Gallagher of Laurel Street, were married at the home of the bride Monday evening by Eric L. Lindh, acting pastor of the Central Congregational church. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The home was tastefully decorated with cut flowers, palms ferns and chrysanthemums. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch of chrysanthemums, ferns and green twigs. Miss Esther Cernan was bridesmaid and William Knoffa, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride wore a blue traveling suit with hat to match and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore a grey suit and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The best man who is in the service of Uncle Sam, wore his army uniform. The ceremony was witnessed by about thirty-five relatives and friends and was followed by a reception and luncheon. The couple have gone on a short wedding trip and on their return will reside with the bride's parents. The bridegroom is in the draft and expects his call for service soon.

Harold Skinner of Frederickburg, Va., spent a few days with his father, A. H. Skinner of Church street this week. Mr. Skinner left town yesterday for Camp Devens, where he will enter an officers training school.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Williams started for Los Angeles, California, last Monday afternoon. They intend to make their home in that city. It is probable that they have reached their destination now. Mr. and Mrs. Williams were in charge of the Home & Hale block in South Manchester for a goodly number of years. They were accompanied on their transcontinental trip by Harry and Mrs. Olooff of Glastonbury. Mrs. Olooff is sister to Mr. Williams.

The town was so remonstrant against the granting of liquor licenses to any of the liquor dealers in this town. It was simply a case of going before the county commission, answering the customary questions, making the usual entries, paying over the $150 in each case and receiving the license. These licenses would permit next June.

Owing to the remonstrances that were raised recently against the proposed advance in the price of milk to twenty cents the quart, the milk peddlers here have decided to continue to sell fifteen cent quarts as heretofore. As Pitkin & Calhoun of the Waranoke Farm are milk producers and maintain a costly registered herd of prize cows, the distributor contractor makes an exception in their case and permits them to charge twenty cents the quart.

The employees of The J. W. Hale Company, twenty-one in all, were invited to attend the annual picnic at East Garden in Hartford last evening. Miss Maude E. Tryon, who is leaving soon for Y. M. C. A. work in France, was the guest of honor and in token of their esteem and good will Miss Tryon was presented with a substantial sum of money. David E. Landers making the presentation. After the dinner the party enjoyed a presentation of "Daddy Long Legs" at the Palace Theater.

War Work Rally Tonight

Lake has but recently returned from France, where he was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work and will have some interesting addresses to make. Mr. Lake was in the thick of some of the fighting in which the 101st Machine Gun Battalion and the 100th Infantry went part. Company G of this place forms a part of the 101st Infantry and there are several local men in the 101st machine gun battalion. Mr. Lake has a very vivid story to tell of some of the hard battles through which our boys have fought their way. His information is first hand and his story is interesting to all. There will be no speakers who will tell of the plans for the local drive.

For some weeks past a force of clerical workers has been engaged in sorting out cards as to names, street numbers and in other ways getting a card index system of every prospective contributor arranged so that every one can do their work intelligently. There will be ten teams, comprising ten captains and ten lieutenants. Men and women will be divided equally between the captains and team workers. The team captains and their workers are as follows:

Team No. 1, Mrs. James Shearer, captain; Mrs. H. H. Hutton, lieutenant; Ethel Ward, Mrs. Paul Chartier, Miss Lillian E. Young, W. S. Hyde, Herman Montie, Maurice Hosen, Samuel Kemp, George E. Parise, J. N. Hehner, E. L. Knight.

Team No. 3, Dr. E. G. Dolan, captain; Mrs. E. J. Seaman, Miss Harriet Treat, Miss Charlotte Treat, Mrs. S. S. O'Brien, Mrs. Fred H. Bartlett, R. A. Johnson, Charles McCall, George Marshall, John Goldman.

Team No. 4, Miss Hazel Tobin, captain; Mrs. James Robinson, Mrs. Marjorie Cheney, Mrs. C. Cheney, Miss Jessie Steves, Herbert E. Hayes, Raymond Pillsbury, Rev. J. S. Neill, G. E. Keith, Henry Nettleton.

Team No. 5, Com. Fred Bartlett, captain; E. Bowers, N. E. Richards, Rev. Eric Lindh, Michael Moriarty, Mrs. Patrick F. Hanson, Mrs. T. L. Cheney, Mrs. James Munnis, Mrs. Arthur J. Kittle, Miss Anna Turkington, Mrs. F. E. Bligh, E. J. Hall, Charles H. Hathaway, Fred T. Bligh, George H. Waddell, Samuel Crowell.

Team No. 6, Mrs. S. B. Smith, captain; Miss Sadie Curran, Miss Lillian Flanagan, Mrs. William Clegg, Miss Eva Thornthorn, Miss Bessie Logan, Albert Foy, William Keenan, William Taylor, Stewart Atkinson.

Team No. 7, Mrs. W. H. Cheney, captain; Mrs. Henry Bryant, Mrs. Luigi Pola, Mrs. Harry Trotter, Miss Elizabeth Dean, J. C. Tucker, T. A. Branson, E. W. Post, H. L. Knapp, Thomas J. Quish.

Team No. 8, John Tournand, captain; Miss Helen Jondt, Miss Helen Maloney, Mrs. Michael J. Moriarty, Mrs. Bell Johnson, Miss Thomas Prentiss, Frank G. Balkner, Thomas Nelson, Charles J. Strickland, P. J. O'Leary.

The team captains will be called together later and will be assigned certain sections of the town to cover. The present plan is to assign a certain number of streets to each team, thus doing away with the loss of duplication in the way of different teams members canvassing certain streets.

The house to house canvass will start Tuesday morning and it is expected that the work will be covered by the canvassers in three days. There will be noonday lunches at the Recreation Center on Tuesday and Wednesday and a short report will be made at a luncheon to be served Thursday evening.

In passing it might do no harm to repeat that the United War Work campaign is intended to raise $200,000,000 throughout the country to carry on the war work of the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, National Catholic War Council, Knights of Columbus, Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and the Salvation Army.

The amount of money raised is to be apportioned to the seven organizations in proportion to the amount of work they do in the way of relief. Connecticut has been assigned to raise $3,000,000 and the local committee has accepted a quota of $60,000. It is the duty of every citizen to do his share of the fund. Let everyone give as liberally as he can.

Military Training By so doing this young man was declared in the great world war, and that general efforts are likely to be made to establish a league of nations for the purpose of preserving peace among the leading powers of the world. The great question is forcing itself to the front as to whether it is wiser to drop the tendency towards universal training which has been fostered so strongly in the United States during the past few years.
