Welcome Home Parade

The Manchester War Bureau—made possible by the generosity of the people of Manchester, expressed its appreciation of the parade by a liberal donation from the funds of our local Red Cross. The Manchester chapter of the American Red Cross has more than done its part in this war, but owing to local conditions it has had practically no call for the usual Red Cross work and a large part of its soldiers and sailors home service work has been taken care of by the war bureau. The chapter had, therefore, a considerable fund, mostly accumulated by subscriptions, definitely given for local use. It was asked by the Atlantic division headquarters to give a part of this fund to help make up shortage in contributions from certain places which had failed to raise their expected quotas. This suggestion did not meet the favor of our executive committee and it was decided that a far better use would be to devote a part of it to the construction of this building. The Red Cross gave for this $5,000 and felt it was a very practical way of doing something for you men.

QUICKLY CONSTRUCTED
"In this way though has this building been made possible. It has been constructed in less than two weeks by the enthusiastic efforts of men who were interested in doing their duty. These men have given the use of the land and you have organized the Army and Navy Club to use the building.

REFUTES CHARGE AGAINST UNIONS

"Life and Labor" Shows That Assertion Inefficiency is Protected is False.

ACCUSATION IS OLD STORY
But Merely Superficial Observation of Conditions Will Prove the Absurdity of Such Charges, Made Only by the Enemies of Organization.

PARADE UNDERWAY
Promptly at 2:30 o'clock the parade got underway headed by a platoon of police under Captain William F. Campbell. Following the police came a color guard with the following showing: forty-five gold stars, escorted by men from the different branches of the service in which Manchester was represented. They were followed by Clifford D. Cheney as marshal and his aides, the Salvation Army of Manchester, the American War Veterans, Captain E. M. Ogden; the Spanish-American War Veterans with Thomas Murphy in command, and John Wadell as color bearer. Following the Spanish-American War Veterans were the members of the G. A. R. in automobiles. Wounded soldiers of the world war were also in automobiles. The Manchester Band was next followed by organized men with gold service stripes on one arm and many a gold one showing wounds on the other.

Belgians Unable to Forget Courtesies Though Death in Appalling Form was Imminent.
The Belgians are the most polite people in the world. Yesterday seven correspondents traveled to Aunderden. We were informed that we might cross the border in the direction of Ghent. As our two motor cars came over the ridge before entering the town they were spotted by an eagle-eyed observer in the German lines, and as we reached the entrance of the town and left from our cars, preparing to enter on foot, a shell crashed over our heads and exploded fully in a rain-soaked field 50 yards beyond the road. Another followed about the same distance short. The second car was occupied by Dr. Crane, dentist Aceto-Smith Company, contractors, and living apartments of E. W. Post and Benjamin Wilson. The third car was occupied by Mr. Parrell building to the north is one of the best business blocks on Main street, being the last building to be constructed by the Parrell estate. It is situated on the ground owned by the F. T. Blish Hardware Company and the G. E. Keith Furniture Company. The second floor is occupied by E. M. Ogden as a photograph gallery and living apartments in the rear. The property purchased by Mr. Hol has a Main street frontage of 200 feet and is 210 feet deep to Kenney place. On the east side of Kenney place are several tenements owned by the Parrell estate. In disposing of his holdings to Mr. Hol, Mr. Burke retained the double house at Oak street and Kenney Court. This is the only western style house in the best neighborhood in Manchester. The best real estate agents come from Canada, in India, from Ceylon, Persia and Siberia. They are also large smeltfish mines in Greenland. The war, which curtails imports of all goods to the United States, gave American smeltfish a wider market than they ever had before.

Good Reason for Leaving.
"Have you had any experience in newspaper work?" said the editor of a large paper to an agitated little man who had applied for a job. "I should just think so. I was editor of the Middlebury Mail until yesterday."

See Revolutionary Movement.
Recent strikes at Seattle, Butte, and Lawrence, Mass., were instituted by "the bolshevik" and the Industrial Workers of the World for the sake of forcing a nation-wide industrial revolution in the United States. William B. Wilson, secretary of the I. W. O. was in an address at New York.

Wage Board Proposed.
A bill providing for a permanent state minimum wage commission has been presented to the Rhode Island house. The bill has special reference to women and children. An investigation under the provisions of the measure, would be made of conditions, and then a minimum wage would be proposed to employers. The commission would be empowered to enforce the results of its investigations, but would endeavor to gain the same end through publicity.

Bothwiner in Australia.
The bolshevik section of the labor party has met with considerable success in its organization of a big union in Australia. Complete realization of the organizers' purpose depends largely on the attitude of the general public. The outcome of the project is anxiously awaited, in view of the political character still have the same political opinion at the next election.

TAKES OVER MAIN STREET PROPERTY FORMERLY KNOWN AS PURNELL ESTATE
Mr. Burke Cleans Up Approximately Fifty Thousand Dollars Within One Year On This Real Estate Transaction. Some Availing Eh?

A big real estate deal which had been in the works for four days was closed last Friday night when Harry M. Burke, who bought the Purnell property last fall, disposed of the real estate to E. J. Holl, a young real estate dealer. The sale included three business blocks on Main street, three storehouses, nine double tenements, and several smaller buildings. The credit of engineering the transfer goes to Charles Sloan, a young real estate dealer, who starts in business only a few months ago.

SELECTMEN ORDER BUILDING ORDER ENCROACHMENTS REMOVED

PARK STREET LINES TO BE REESTABLISHED
The petition of the St. James church corporation for modification of the twenty-five foot building line on the north side of Park street between Church and Chestnut was not granted at the meeting of the selectmen Tuesday evening. The petition to the change in the building line was expressed by William Graham and Charles W. Wauswick two property owners on the street. The opinion was expressed that there would be no objection to a veranda line being established on the street with a frontage of nineteen feet but the idea of having the building line set at nineteen feet did not meet the approval of Messrs. Graham and Wauswick.

Mr. LaPointe is the inventor of the new device which is said to revolutionize the art of broaching. An illustration it is said that the new machine will broach a universal joint on an automobile in four minutes. With working tools now employed generally in the automobile factories it requires a skilled mechanic 36 hours to do that piece of work.

Tests for Tuberculosis Made at Waranoke Farm Reveal Healthy Condition—Thirty Nine Cows Examined All Declared Free From Tuberculin Taint
A United States inspector called at the Waranoke Farm last week for the purpose of making a physical examination of the herd of Jersey cows owned by Messrs. Fred W. Pitkin and Charles Calhoun. The herd consisted of 39 cows and one bull. Out of the entire drove all were in perfect physical condition with the single exception of the handsome black and white cow named Sammel. It was found to be in perfect health, was fat and sleek and well groomed; the tuberculin test revealed a tubercular condition in that splendid animal. As a result of the examination the animal to be killed forthwith and buried. The government paid Messrs. Pitkin & Calhoun the sum of $120 because of the killing of the animal. MR. SKUNK'S STORY. "Listen, children and I will tell you a story," said Mr. Skunk.

"You have often heard folks complain of us," said Papa Skunk. "No, we never have," said the little skunks.

"Then you haven't heard any horrid gossip," said Papa Skunk. "Well, I'm glad to hear that my children don't keep their ears open for gossip, though in this case what is said about us is true.

"How can one add to things one hears?" asked one of the young skunks. "That gives me great pleasure," said Papa Skunk.

"I'll manage some way, dear," said Papa Skunk. "It's great to have these little rooms to occupy, but I'll try to get along. You mustn't worry beyond that for the present, dear. You are so young a houseboat that it's a question if even nursing and rest will help you, but we'll try. For one good thing we can't lift your finger, not even this."

"The fact was that Caroline had, as she said, seen very much better days than the years when she and Caroline, Babette and her father, had been together. It was a real nice—hard, for one brief season mingled in a society that never found any pleasure in her life."

EMPLOYERS DO THEIR DUTY

Charge That They Are Not Taking Back Men Released From Army Service—Work for Employment Service.

There is nothing to be gloomy about in the labor situation at the present time, Mark L. Crawford, director of the United States employment service for the state of Illinois, was saying today.

In Illinois, Mr. Crawford said, 40,778 individuals were placed in employment by the government service during the month of December. During that month there were placed, through the employment office, 451,202 individuals.

He said the problem of employment of returning soldiers could be solved if the various government employment offices will work hard. He said there were a lot more soldiers to come, however, and urged that if there are no jobs in sight for the returned soldier, the employment office should find places for them if possible.

Mr. Crawford denied the charge that has been made that employers would not take back the men who were released from army service. He said that employers who have been released from army service.
