Every working day of the year 75,000,000 pounds of meat are required to supply home and export needs-and only 10 per cent of this is exported.

These facts must be kept in mind when considering the U.S. Bureau of Markets report that on June 1, 1919, there were 1,348,000,000 pounds of meats in cold storage. If the meat in storage was placed on the market it would only be 20 days' supply.

This meat is not artificially withheld from trade channels to maintain or advance prices.

Meats in storage consist of-

- 65 per cent (approximate) hams, bacon, etc., in process of curing. It takes 30 to 90 days in pickle or salt to complete the Drocess.
- 10 per cant is frozen pork that is to be cured later in the year.
- 6 per cent is lard. This is only four-fifths of a pound per capita, and much of it will have to go to supply European needs.
- 19 per cent is frozen beef and lamb, part of which is owned by the Government and was intended chiefly for over-seas shipment. If this were all diverted to domestrade channels, it would be only 11/2 lbs. per capita-a 3 days' supply.

From this it will be seen that "meats in storage" represent merely unfinished goods in process of curing and the working supply necessary to assure the consumer a steady flow of finished product.

TRIBUNE EDITOR GOT HIS SALARY

PLOYES WHO ENTERED SERVICE BUT TOOK HIS OWN

GAINST WAR LYITH GERMANY

Joseph Medill Patterson and Writer of "Million Dollar Editorial" Testify in Defense of Paper In the Ford Case.

Mt. Clemens, Mich .- Witnesses for The Chicago Tribune in its defense of its action in labelling Henry Ford an "anarchist" included Joseph Medill Patterson, one of the editors of The Tribune and Clifford S. Raymond writer of what is now known as the "million dollar editorial."

In the course of the testimony i was developed that Mr. Patterson is sued an order when Tribune men began to enter the service of the country after the United States entered the war, that no wages were to be paid to the departing men, whether they had dependants or not, but that he personally continued to draw his salary of $20,000 a year after he went Both Mr. Patterson and Mr. Raymand also testified that they knew Germany wanted to see the United States at war with Mexico but that despite this fact The Tribune continued to urge intervention in Mexico and to oppose war with Germany. This was drawn out on cross-examination by counsel for Mr. Ford in an endeavor to show that The Tribune was pro-German up to the time the United States entered the war.

Counsel for Mr. Ford asked Mr. Patterson if it was not true that he had gone to Germany during the early days of the world war for the purpose of writing the German side of the controversy. Mr. Patterson denied this and counsel then introduced a copy of The Tribune in which the announcement was made that Mr. Patterson was being sent to Germany to get the German point of view. The witness admitted having been arrested in Belgium, on leaving Germany, on a charge that he had written pro-German articles.

"In The Tribune you opposed and denounced war with Germany, didn't von?" asked Ford counsel. "We did not oppose war, we di:

couraged it," answered Mr. Patterson. "We had been at close quarters and we knew what an awful thing it was." "But you advocated war with Mex-"We advocated intervention." "Well, doesn't intervention mean Advocated Taking Mexico "You advocated the taking of Mexico too, didn't you?" The witness was inclined to deny this until shown a copy of The Tribune in which the seizure of Mexico was urged editorially and then aswered "Yes." Mr. Raymond, when asked by counsel on cross-examination why The Tribune exceriated Theodore Roosevelt because of his utterances following the sinking of the Lusitania, said he believed such talk was not helpful to the government in reaching a decision, and that valuness was "Did you ever argue for calmness when a border difficulty arose?" asked Ford counsel. "I think not," answered the witness. "You used some pretty violent language yourself, didn't you?" "I believe we did." Upon direct examination Mr. Raymond denied knowledge of the International Harvester Co., and Standard Oil Co., stocks held by relatives of the editors and publishers of The Tribune and also denied interference with his editorial utterances. Mr. Patterson likewise denied that Standard Off or the International Harvester have had any effect on The Tribune's editorial policies.

Mr. Patterson admitted having once been a member of the socialist party. Ford counsel offered in evidence Mr. Patterson's book, "A Little Brother of the Rich" in an effort to prove that Mr. Patterson once held views similar to those attributed to Henry Ford. It was not admitted.

Writer Too "Pro-British"

The witness admitted having dis charged Frederick Wm. Well, The Tribune's London correspondent, be fore the United States entered the war. Counsel for Ford asked if Weil was told that his articles were too "Too pro-British is what I probably said," returned the editor. Col. Henry J. Reilly, commander of the famous artillery regiment fro Chicago, known as "Raffly's Buc's took the stand and testified as a mil Hary export to the necessity for intervention in Mexico. A long deposition was also read from James W. Gerard, former U. S. Ambassador to Germany, Discing the blame for Mexican bles at Germany's door.
